

Unitarian Universalist Congregation of Salem

5090 Center St NE Salem, OR 97317 503-364-0932

publicity@uusalem.org

Diverse people. Diverse beliefs. One community.

PRESS RELEASE

To: Calendar Editors

From: Vicki Cunningham, Publicity Team, UUCS

RE: Concert: Julianne Jackson

(#4 in the nine- concert series "Celebrating Diversity" in the Salem area.)

Date: Live! Tuesday, January 11, 2022 at 7:00 pm (Live stream available)

Join us for Julianne Jackson in concert on January 11, 2022 at 7:00 pm. Julianne has smoky vocals, acoustic soul, and a lot of heart. With a solid mix of originals and covers she will leave the biggest skeptic a believer.

Julianne is a mom, survivor, and racial justice advocate who uses her voice to speak up for change. She is the founder of Black Joy Oregon, a grassroots advocacy group that promotes Black joy, female leadership development, and culture throughout Oregon.

Tickets and concert information are available at uusalem.org/celebratingdiversity/

Tickets for attending in person are $20/$15 students or seniors, with a discount for a series pass. Masks and proof of vaccination or OHA exemption will be required at the door.

The Unitarian Universalist Congregation of Salem (UUCS) is at 5090 Center Street NE, Salem 97317.

If you prefer to live-stream, single concert tickets are $5, or become a season ticket holder for $43, with the links to look back at any previously performed concert.

More information: music@uusalem.org