Fighting a new battle

CONTRIBUTED PHOTO

After fighting and defeating a battle with neuroblastoma, 5-year-old Brayden Cole Guy was diagnosed with acute myeloid leukemia right before his birthday in early July. Brayden and his family need your help in finding him a bone marrow donor. Brayden and his family reside in Locust Grove, Georgia, and Brayden is currently receiving treatments at Children's Healthcare of Atlanta.

Breanna Guy, Brayden's mom, is a native of Bolivar, graduating from Bolivar High School in 2010.

If you want to follow Brayden's story, follow him on Facebook, Brayden's Fight Against Neuroblastoma and Acute Myeloid Leukemia.

You can also donate to Brayden's Treatment Related to Acute Myeloid Leukemia Fund through gofundme.com.

There are so many ways the community can support Brayden and his family through this second journey with cancer, but the most important support is through your prayers for this family

John Parks serving the community for 21 l/2 years

Bolivar Technical College Celebrates ABHES Accreditation Renewal

Bolivar Technical College (BTC) is proud to announce the renewal of its accreditation by the Accrediting Bureau of Health Education Schools (ABHES). This significant achievement extends BTC's accreditation status until February 2030, the maximum period granted by ABHES.

The renewal of BTC's accreditation highlights the hard work, dedication, and teamwork of the entire BTC community. Meeting the rigorous standards set by various governing agencies requires a collective effort and a strong commitment to excellence in education. BTC's faculty, staff and administration have demonstrated their unwavering dedication to helping their students succeed by offering support in every area – from admissions to financial aid to individualized support in the classroom and labs.

Morrisville couple injured in two-car wreck

At 12:22 p.m. on Tuesday, July 30, Green County Highway Patrol officer R.G. Watkins responded to a two-car accident 3 miles east of Walnut Grove.

A 2005 Ford F350, driven by Walnut Grove resident Terry Hohensee, 53, was heading west on Route BB. Matthew Bloom, 56, and Stacy Bloom, 48, of Morrisville, were traveling east in a 2002 Lexus SE300 when they crossed the center lane while going over a hill. They struck Hohensee head-on.

Hehensee was not injured in the accident and his truck sustained moderate damage. However, both of the Blooms were severely injured and had to be transported to Mercy Springfield by ambulance. Their Lexus was totaled and the report states the car was not insured. Both vehicles were towed from the scene by Pro Tow of Willard. All parties involved were wearing seat belts.

Bolivar Chamber Accepting Nominations for 2024 Business Awards

The Bolivar Area Chamber of Commerce is now accepting nominations for the 2024 Business of the Year and Community Partner of the Year along with new business awards, including a People's Choice selection.

Chamber President Daniel Leith emphasizes the crucial role of local businesses and community partners in enhancing the quality of life in the Bolivar area. Leith says each chamber member business contributes to enhance our community by giving their time, skills, and resources to make Bolivar a vibrant place to live, work, stay and play.

"After being approached by many community members with the idea, we have added a BoMo's Best People's Choice component to the awards being presented this year," Leith says. "We have organized our membership list into eleven different categories for voting by community members. The Chamber's Selection Committee is very excited to see more businesses recognized for their outstanding achievements. When community members actively participate in recognizing those who exceed expectations, it reinforces the community spirit that is fundamental to Bolivar's success."

Leith adds the Chamber's Selection Committee will present two additional awards at the Chamber Awards Banquet this fall. "The Chamber Selection Committee will select and recognize a 2024 New Chamber Member Business of the Year and Bolivar Area Chamber of Commerce Legacy Award," says Leith.

All nominations for Business of the Year and Community Partner of the Year are due by Friday, September 27 at 3 p.m. Any chamber member business or organization in good standing is eligible except for those who have received the award in the past five years.

Award recipients from the past five years include Stellar Real Estate Co., Polk County Library, The Flower Patch & More, Bolivar Parks and Recreation, Craig Lehman Agency, Shelter Insurance, Community Outreach Ministries, Bolivar Schools, Polk County Health Center, Walmart, and Comfort Inn.

A link to vote for Business of the Year and Community Partner of the Year, along with BoMo's Best People's Choice selections can be found on the chamber's Facebook page www.facebook.com/bolivarchamber.

FINALLY FIRST

Landon Duchscherer finished his high school track career with a silver medal in the 3200m and a state championship title in the 1600m. CONTRIBUTED PHOTOS

By Annie Thomas

When cross country season opens this fall, incoming SBU freshman and recent Marion C. Early graduate, Landon Duchscherer, will join his older brother Gavin as a Bearcat runner for Coach Corey McElhaney. In his years running both cross country and track at MCE High School, Duchscherer earned multiple school records, post season honors, and state medals in distance races. But before making the jump to the collegiate level, Duchscherer added one last achievement that had eluded him until the final race of his high school career last spring.

In four years, Duchscherer made four appearances at the MSHSAA State Cross Country Championships, taking 10th as a sophomore in 2021 and improving to earn 5th his junior season in fall 2022. The following spring, Duchscherer finished his junior track season with three class 1 state silver medals, placing 2nd in the 1600 meter, 3200 meter, and 4x800 meter events.

Duchscherer entered his senior season last fall eyeing gold and a spot at the top of the podium. With a time of 15:55.2 at the 2023 Cross Country State Championships, Duchscherer beat a previous state course record, along with Riley Blay of West Nodaway. But the two-time state champion, Blay, bested Duchscherer by seven seconds leaving the MCE runner with his fourth silver medal.

As spring 2024 track season approached, Duchscherer still hoped for a final shot at gold but was met with injuries that limited both training and competition.

"After dealing with an injury in the winter leading up to the track season, and then having another injury that took me out for the majority of the season, I knew I wasn't going to be able to perform as well as I had hoped," said Duchscherer. "I only raced at one meet before post-season began, and I was met with the harsh reality of defeat, placing 5th in the 1600m with a time of 4:39. I thought my goal of winning the state 1600m was over."

Shaving two seconds off at districts, Duchscherer was still ranked 9th in class 2 when he entered sectionals, making his goal of a state championship look like a longshot.

"At sectionals, everything changed when I somehow ran a 4:29, beating my personal best and catapulting myself to rank 1 by over 4 seconds," said Duchscherer.

With this improvement, Duchscherer was certain he could earn gold in the 1600 meter race and confident that a 3200 meter medal was also in reach.

"On the first day of state, I ended up placing 2nd in the 3200m, getting my 5th silver medal," said Duchscherer. "I had constantly come in 2nd at state the past few years, and with one final high school race, I had one last chance to get a gold medal. The 1600m the next day went extremely well and after leading the whole race, I won and finished my high school career exactly how I had hoped."

Duchscherer credits his older brother, Gavin, for much of his motivation to pursue distance running and his training in the sport. After two years together at MCE, Duchscherer is looking forward to running alongside his brother as a teammate again when he joins him at SBU this season.

"I'm super excited to compete at SBU and continue my running career under Coach McElhaney."

Coach spotlight – Wyketha Harrell

Wyketha Harrell enters her second season at the helm of the SBU women's basketball team. She began her head coaching career as a Bearcat and made significant impact right away defeating rival and #12 ranked Drury University.

In year one as a Bearcat, she led the team to significant wins including a four-game win streak during the month of December. In that win streak, her and the Bearcats dominated the Hawks of Rockhurst University, an eventual GLVC tournament team, 71-50. Just two days later Coach Harrell etched her name in SBU history defeating the Panthers from down South 66-65. This was women's basketball's first win against their rival since 2017 and first in Springfield since 2010.

Coach Harrell looks to bring last years' momentum into the '24-'25 season as she returns seven players from last season. She is also bringing in more than five student-athletes as a mix of freshman and transfers.

"I am excited about all of our newcomers and talent that they are bringing." Harrell said, "I'm really excited for all of our returners and my assistant coach, just to see what growth we all have from year one to year two. I think that we are going to be really good and do some really good things. I'm excited to see how everyone grows"

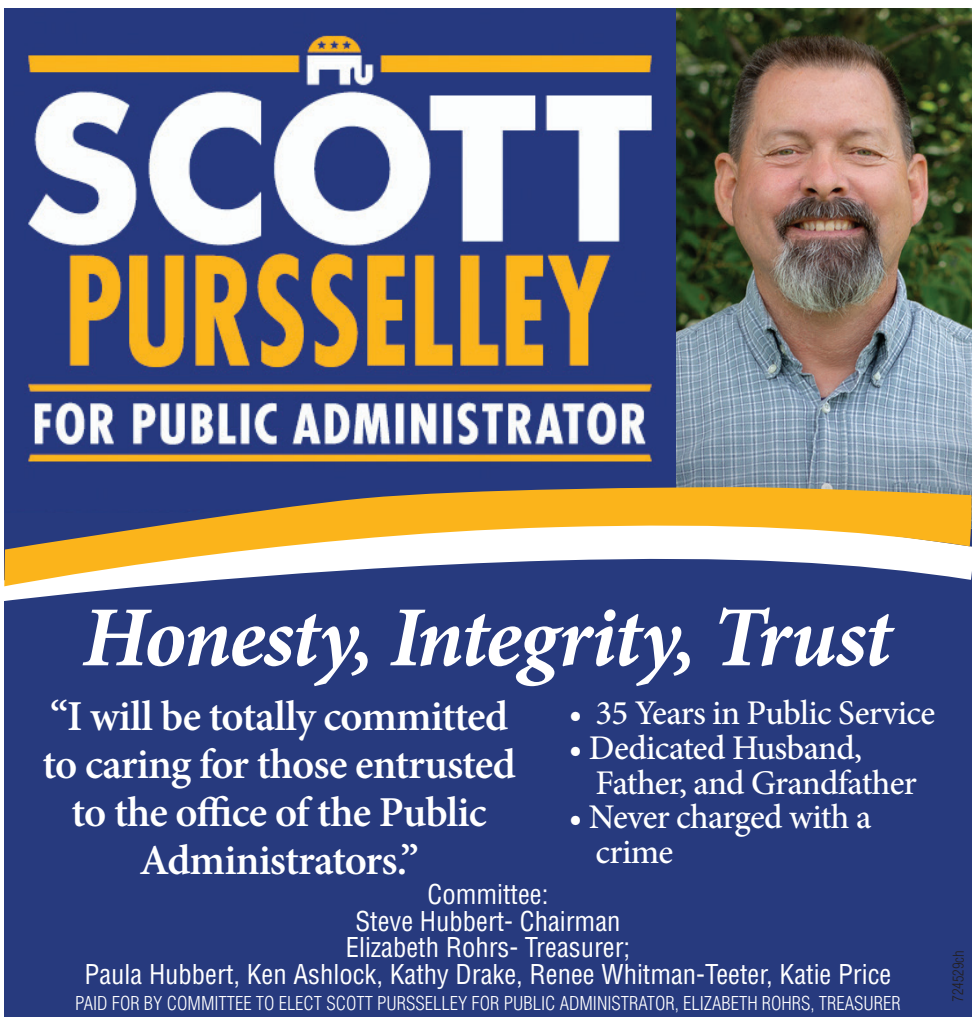

Prior to joining the Bearcats she was an associate head coach for University of New Orleans for eight seasons. One of her highlights on the Lakefront was in the 2019-20 season, advancing to the Southland Conference Tournament for the fourth straight year while defeating Ole Miss and Memphis in the same season.

Coach Harrell also spent time at Kent State as an assistant coach for three years, playing a vital role in the program's academic success. She also was an assistant at University of Missouri-Kansas City for five years assisting them to the only two postseason appearances in school history.

She was a four-year collegiate player beginning at Rockhurst University, starting in 14 of the teams' 24 games. Her sophomore season, she transferred to Missouri Southern where she averaged 12.2 points and 6.7 rebounds per contest en route to an All-MIAA Accolade. Harrell received her Bachelor of Arts degree in psychology with an emphasis in Kinesiology from Missouri Southern in 2004. Later she earned her Master of Arts in Sport Administration from Kent State in May 2021.

MEMORIALS

The following are paid memorials provided by family and friends.

Devin James Inglis

April 20, 1993-July 22, 2024

Devin James Inglis, 31, of Bolivar, passed away Sunday, July 22, 2024, at Mercy Hospital in Springfield.

Devin was born April 20, 1993, to the late Dennis Inglis and Theresa Adams. He was a 2011 graduate of Bolivar High School, where he played football through his junior year. Devin was a member of FFA all four years of high school.

Devin was a member of Lakeside Assembly in Pittsburg, where he was saved at the age of 12. He was baptized in Lake Pomme De Terre with his grandma Wanda right there in the lake beside him.

After graduation, he worked for a fiber optics company for a while before heading to North Dakota with his dad, Dennis, and working in the oil field industry. Devin later acquired his CDL license and alongside his dad, drove as an over-the-road truck driver.

Devin enjoyed time spent with all his family but some of his favorite moments were riding dirt bikes, 4-wheelers, and motorcycles with his dad Dennis, and his uncle Darrin. They often went to ride the sand dunes in Waynoka, Oklahoma.

When deer season arrived, you could find Devin at deer camp with his dad, Uncle Darrin, and other friends and family.

Devin had a close bond with his grandma Wanda, the two were best buddies, and always on the go together, whether it be pontooning down at the lake, riding the tube, or pulling his dad skiing. He loved riding around the neighborhood on a scooter or bicycles, Wanda often pulling a cart behind her bike with Devin in it.

She took him to church and taught him how important it was to pray and to love Jesus.

Later on in years, Devin frequently drove his grandma around running errands as Wanda's eyesight deteriorated over time. She was not only his grandma, she was one of his very best friends.

Devin is survived by his mother Theresa Adams-Baker and stepfather Scott Baker; two sisters, Alley Charlize and Samantha Jordin Riley Baker, Devin was excited for the arrival of both sisters, before Sammie was born he went to mom and asked if one of Sammies middle names could be Jordin, so Devin got to name his little sister. He is also survived by his son Dracen Lane Inglis, who he loved with all of his heart; aunts and uncles, Darrin Inglis (Abby), Alma Lindsay and uncle Matt, Lisa Scott, Donnie Scott (Rebecca); grandparents Curtis and Joann Adams, and uncle John Adams; cousins, Dani and Denny Inglis, Payten Lindsay, Derek and Sierra Scott and Billy and Gracie Martin, Collin and Charla Scott and a host of great-aunts, -uncles, cousins, extended family and many friends.

Devin was preceded in death by his father Dennis Inglis, his grandparents Denny and Wanda Inglis, and grandmother Charla Mae Scott.

Graveside services were Wednesday, July 31, at Mt. View Cemetery in Polk.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to Mt. View Cemetery.

David Alan Loetel

Aug. 28, 1946-July 28, 2024

David Alan Loetel peacefully passed away on Sunday, July 28, 2024, at age 77, surrounded by his wife, daughter, stepson, and amazing CMH CNA staff. David was born in Kansas City, Kansas on Aug. 28, 1946. He was a lifelong Chiefs and Royals fan and had a passion for all things golf. David worked for Trans World Airlines (TWA) for most of his adult life and stayed on to aid the American Airlines merger until he retired.

David married the love of his life Jeannette Loetel on March 3, 2003, and the pair moved to Bolivar to run their storage business. David became a fixture in the local community while he ran the day-to-day operations at the storage units. He was always very social and friendly with those he came into contact with. David and Jeannette built a house on the Silo Ridge Golf Course, marking a lifelong dream of his. In his spare time, David was on the golf course enjoying his passion for the sport; he even created a "golf room" in their new house to showcase his love of the sport. However much he may have loved golf, the Chiefs and Royals, none compared to the love he had for his family. David was a loving husband, father, grandfather, brother and son.

Jeannette was by his side everyday taking care of him and advocating for the best care possible. The family would like to thank the amazing CNA's and staff of CMH for their kindness, compassion, and care they provided David over the last few years. The staff went above and beyond to ensure David was cared for and making him comfortable in his last few days.

David was preceded in death by his parents Nadine and Alfred, daughter Christine, and brother Jim. He is survived by his wife Jeannette, daughter Stephanie and her husband Allen, grandchildren Olivia, Harrison, and Gabriela, sister Susan and her husband Dennis Davis, and brother Eddie and his wife Deirdre.

The Rosary for David will begin at 1 p.m. and visitation will follow from 1:30 — 3 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 16, at the Butler Funeral Home in Bolivar.

SUDOKU

Here's how it works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box.

THE ROCKWOOD FILES

Burgers, baths, and bombs – Oh my!

Three summertime stories

GWEN ROCKWOOD
COLUMNIST

In most homes, the kitchen is the family's nerve center, the party place, and the situation room. It's also where the best stories happen. Here's what has been cookin' in ours lately.

Oh, burger, where art thou?

On July 4th, as six of us buzzed in and out of the kitchen to prep burgers, hot dogs, side dishes, and desserts, we were victims of a crime. One minute, we were an average American family about to gather around the backyard grill. The next minute, we'd been robbed.

Our middle son, Jack, had just seasoned the ground beef patties and stepped out of the room for what he claims was "just a few seconds." But that's all it took. When he returned to the tray of raw burgers, two and a half were gone. Upon hearing the kitchen commotion, we all went to investigate. Jack pointed to the empty spot where the burgers had been and reported the theft.

We looked around the room and found that only one of us had guilty eyes and was – at that precise moment – licking his lips. And wagging his tail. Our four-legged burger burglar probably thought he looked innocent, but we know him. He's got a rap sheet a mile long filled with not-so-petty theft – a cheese slice here, a chunk of watermelon there, not to mention the Great Brisket Burglary of 2021.

With a collective shoulder shrug, Tom and I lamented the loss but carried on. We reminded Jack that you can't leave food on a counter when you've got a counter-height dog in the house who's always looking for his next meaty opportunity.

Hot tub meat machine

In our house, Tom is the adventurous one. He's always looking for the best way to cook a steak. Or make a marinade. He's a carnivore on a mission, and I admire this about him even when I don't understand it. All I need is pasta and the occasional grilled chicken breast. Sadly, I have the culinary palate of your average 10-year-old, so I don't bother with foodie gymnastics.

But I appreciate Tom's experiments because sometimes they turn out great. His current obsession is cooking "sous vide" (pronounced soo-VEED), which means "under vacuum." When you cook something sous vide, you put it in a vacuum-sealed bag inside a pot with an attachable water circulator that heats the water to an exact temperature for a long time.

In other words, Tom bought a hot tub for steaks. When I hear the large pot humming on the counter, I peek over the edge, half-expecting to see the slabs of meat smoking cigars and ordering martinis as they soak in the tub. Little do they know that this spa experience designed to soften them up will not end well for them.

Egg on his face

Speaking of things that go sideways, Tom made salads for dinner recently when the kids were out at a movie. He often boils an egg and cuts it on the salad to add color and protein. Earlier that day, I'd spotted a small bag of boiled eggs in a refrigerated case at the grocery store, so I brought them home to save a step of meal prep. Tom is a good man who knows I usually like things warm, so he put two of those boiled eggs in the microwave. A few seconds later? POP!

We both flinched, and he raced to jerk open the microwave door, revealing the carnage of an exploded egg blown to smithereens. It took nearly 10 minutes to clean up the mess, but he was glad the second egg had somehow survived the experience – until he put it on a plate and cut into it.

POP!

I looked up and saw the yellow guts of the second egg all over Tom's face and neck. It turns out that a boiled egg is far too moist to be microwaved, where it can build up steam and explode like egg artillery.

Did I rush to his aide? Did I laugh until my sides hurt? Yes, to both questions, though unfortunately not in the right order.

Book Signing at Art Sync Gallery

Deby Gilley, a Bolivar artist, has a new book titled "A Visual Voice In The Wilderness", and will have a book signing from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 3, at Art Sync Gallery on the Bolivar square. Gilley is a talented linocut and woodcut relief artist, and this is her second book.

AT THE MOVIES

"Deadpool & Wolverine"

By Bob Garver

If nothing else, "Deadpool & Wolverine" is Disney taking a victory lap for acquiring 20th Century Fox and the Marvel properties it controlled. We got a taste of this last year in "Doctor Strange and the Multiverse of Madness" when the advertising bragged about bringing in Patrick Stewart's Professor X from the X-Men and then the movie threw in John Krasinski as Reed "Mr. Fantastic" Richards from the Fantastic Four just because it could. This time, two former Fox characters are front and center for a Disney release, and they're bringing some very un-Disneylike mannerisms with them.

Wade "Deadpool" Wilson has fallen into a funk since we last saw him. He was turned down for a job with The Avengers, broke up with his girlfriend Vanessa (Morena Baccarin), and now does a lousy job selling cars. It's hard to believe that a highly-skilled assassin with regenerative superpowers wouldn't be able to get a better job even without The Avengers, but whatever, he's in need of a comeback. He's sought out by Mr. Paradox (Matthew Macfadyen), who runs a clandestine organization dedicated to preserving timelines. Wade's timeline is about to end because of the death of Wolverine (Hugh Jackman) in 2017's "Logan." In fact, Paradox is just a few days away from deleting the timeline himself with a device that will erase the world painlessly.

Wade isn't giving up on preserving his universe, so he kidnaps a Wolverine from another timeline to replace the one that his world is missing. Paradox finds the replacement insufficient and banishes both Deadpool and the new Wolverine to The Void, a desert world reserved for entities that Paradox and his organization want to sweep under the rug. The Void is ruled by Nova (Emma Corrin), the heretofore unknown twin sister of Professor X. She wants to kill the heroes, and they ironically need her help to return to Wade's timeline to stop Paradox.

The bad news is that neither Deadpool nor Wolverine can hope to succeed on their own, or even together for that matter. It doesn't help that the two don't like each other, with this version of Wolverine wanting nothing more than to wallow in self-pity and Deadpool insisting that he put aside his failures and help save a timeline that isn't his own.

The good news is that there's help out there in The Void. Remember, multiple-timeline and multiverse rules are in effect here. I will say that there are other versions of Deadpool played by Reynolds and other versions of Wolverine played by Jackman. Are there versions of these characters not played by Reynolds and Jackman? Will anyone else from the "X-Men" universe show up? Maybe some even stranger bedfellows?

The appeal of "Deadpool & Wolverine" lies in its ability to elicit laughter and gasps. The kind of gasps I can talk about here relate to crude humor and creative violence, which tie into the laughter anyway, so really the appeal of this film is its humor. Obviously this movie isn't going to appeal to audiences that want their Marvel movies at the PG-13 level or tamer. But it also isn't going to appeal to people that don't like Deadpool or are sick of Deadpool. It's hard to imagine anybody not falling for the charm that Reynolds and Jackman bring to their characters. It's easier to imagine that people are tired of this schtick after eight years, with all the "shock" and meta-humor and excitement over silly things like ill-fitting pop songs. For me, there was just enough juice left in the tank for me to give this movie a recommendation, but I suggest seeing this movie early while the screenings are still a party, because I don't think this movie is going to age well once the novelty wears off.

Grade: B- "Deadpool & Wolverine" is rated R for strong bloody violence and language throughout, gore and sexual references. Its running time is 128 minutes.
