City shifts from water tanks to well reserves

By Kathryn Penrose
news@gonzalesinquirer.com

GONZALES — On Friday, Dec. 15, the City of Gonzales shifted water delivery from the city's water supply tanks to the city's water well system.

According to city officials, this measure has been taken to address residents' concerns over particulate in the water supply.

According to City Manager Sean Lally, the water has been tested and particles were found in the water supply. The samples have been sent to Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ).

"There has not yet been a confirmation from TCEQ on what the particulate is, but we suspect the matter may be coming from a filtration mat in one of the city's water supply tanks," Lally said. "We are hoping for an answer this week."

Until Lally receives the answers he is looking for, the city has shut down the supply tank in question.

"I have had no reports or citizen calls about particles, since switching away from that tank," Lally said. "So that's a good sign."

With the change of delivery, there are some restrictions. The City is asking residents to conserve water by not watering shrubs or lawns.

The city's water supply is

GEDC seeking applications

By Kathryn Penrose
news@gonzalesinquirer.com

A couple of unexpected events have changed the structure of Gonzales Economic Development Corporation Board of Directors. The untimely death of Board Treasurer Keith Brown has left one vacancy while Board President Crissy O'Neal leaving Gonzales left another vacancy.

City Councilman Dan Blakemore promptly filled O'Neal's position, but another opening still remains.

GEDC CEO Genora Young said Brown was a valued member of the GEDC Board.

"He was proud to serve as Treasurer of the Organization and was a strong supporter of the BYK USA expansion project," Young said. "He will sincerely be missed."

O'Neal said she made the decision to leave the board only after her employer, Sage Capital Bank, purchased a new banking location in Spring Branch, where she was promoted

HELLO! WHO'S CALLING?

It's difficult to imagine life without the telephone. It not only helps us keep in touch. It is also one of our most important safety tools.

But sometimes people use the telephone to play jokes and say scary things. Whenever this happens, remember:

- Hang up if you don't like what you hear. Then tell your parents or another adult.
- If you are home alone, never tell the caller your parents aren't there. Instead, say, "He can't come to the phone right now." Then ask the caller to call back or offer to take a message.

Something else to remember: The telephone is not a toy. Don't play pranks on other people. And don't ever call 911 unless it is a true emergency.

Sometimes it's easy to get separated from your mom, dad, or other adult when you're in a crowded place. If it happens to you, don't panic! Instead:

- Stay in the store or in the general area where you became lost.
- Go to a cashier, security guard, or other nearby employee.
- Ask him or her to help you find the person you are with.

GARDENING Q&A

Poinsettias can last four months with proper care

Q. We received some beautiful poinsettia for gifts this Christmas. What is the recommended way to care for them?

A. Poinsettias will look great for 4 months if you follow a few care procedures. Keep them in an environment where the temperature is above freezing. Even a few minutes in temperatures below freezing will cause defoliation. Also place them in locations where they are not subjected to cold or hot drafts. In front of heat vents is a special problem. Poinsettias require moist soil. Don’t let them dry out. Applying five or six ice cubes everyday will work if you soak them in the sink every weekend. Poinsettia can tolerate placement in areas with limited light if they are alternately shifted to spots where they are near a bright window or in front of a window that receives morning sun.

Q. Our snapdragons are in full bloom. Can we cut some for bouquets in the house without hurting the plants? We want them to continue to decorate our flower bed.

A. Yes, snapdragons are one of the best plants for providing cut flowers. If you cut off the existing blooms, they will send out new flower buds. Be alert to the fact that snapdragons usually quit blooming for a five or six-week period in January and February if we experience our usual cold weather. They have another bloom period March through May.

Q. When can we plant potatoes in the garden? How about onions?

A. It is a good time to plant onion transplants right now. Plant seed potatoes about Feb. 1. You can also still plant lettuce, radish, carrot, beet,

Calvin Finch

English pea, and turnip seed. Plant broccoli, chard, cabbage, kale, and collards by transplants. Prepare the soil by spreading 2 inches of compost and 10 cups of lawn fertilizer over every 100-sq. ft. of new plantings.

Q. We have Mexican lime and Meyer lemon in containers again this year. Last year they froze. What guidance can you give us for protecting them from cold?

A. I use a combination of “Plankets” and agricultural fiber or old blankets. If temperatures are forecast to be under 30 degrees cover them with the fiber and “Plankets”. If the forecast is for temperatures to be under 26 degrees provide a heat source under the covering. A mechanics light or poultry heat lamp work well for the heat source.

Q. Cucumber beetles seem to be ravaging our spinach and chard. We know Bt does not work for beetles, what would work? Is it also possible that slugs and snails are active despite the cold?

A. Malathion and Sevin work for me for cucumber and other beetles. Use Bt products for caterpillars such as cabbage loopers. Slugs and snails are definitely active. They prosper in the cool, moist weather like we have been experiencing. Use slug and snail bait to control them. Follow the label instructions for all pesticides, organic or manufactured.

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

There are a number of projects that I am proud of, but I believe the most unifying project was the Come and Take It Flag and flag pole,” O’Neal said. “There was some opposition, but we pressed forward and got the job done. The citizens and visitors love it. I still believe that it is a huge draw for our downtown.”

O’Neal is proud of the many accomplishments of the board. “I think our recent participation in the BYK expansion will have great benefit for the city as a whole,” O’Neal said. “Genora’s leadership on this project was second to none.”

O’Neal said the board members she worked with over the years all have their strengths and are great people. “I appreciate their service to our community,” she said. “I also appreciate the city council for trusting in and giving me the opportunity to serve my hometown. and a whole star is $60. Funds realizes go for beautification projects within the city. For more information on how to donate, contact members of the Spade and Trowel Garden Club.

Sesame Study Club talks library history

It was fitting that a very interesting program on the history of libraries was presented by Swann Reid on Nov. 15 in the meeting room of the beautiful new Robert Brothers Memorial Library in Gonzales. A former library, Reid grew up in Gonzales and following her education served in California and Colorado, now serves on the Gonzales Library Board. Libraries date as far back as 30 B.C. The first library in the United States was formed by Benjamin Franklin and the first Andrew Carnegie library was formed in 1889. Most libraries today have their book lists computerized, replacing the old card catalog references. Support of the library is the main purpose of the Sesame Study Club. If you have not visited the new library, please do so, as it is well worth the time.

Apaches split games in home tournament

Trevion McNeil (10) had a big tournament, according to head coach A.J. Irwin. McNeil is one of many players the Apaches will lean on toward the district season.

Gonzales shows improvement with tough competition

By José Torres
sports@gonzalesinquirer.com

GONZALES — The Gonzales Apaches hosted the Runnin' Apaches Winter Invitational over the weekend, as 15 teams were scheduled to participate in the tournament. Gonzales knocked off Woodsboro and TMI Episcopal, reaching the gold bracket. On Saturday, the Apaches lost to their rivals, the Cuero Gobblers and then lost their final game of the tournament against the state-ranked Moulton Bobkatz.

“The overall goal of the tournament was we wanted to get better,” Gonzales Head Coach A.J. Irwin said. “That was the objective. Let's get better. I think we did that. You can see that [the kids] saw a glimpse of the vision we have within our program right now.” The Apaches looked to be aggressive both on offense and defense this season and it showed during the tournament.

“We play ‘offensively’ both sides of the ball,” Irwin explained.

In their first game of the tournament, the Apaches played a close one against Woodsboro, winning 47-46. The Apaches were able to outscore the Eagles 12-3 in the final quarter.

“We had some slips here and there, we weren't getting to where we needed to be on rotations,” Irwin noted. “But then we started seeing it, we started to get steals in the third quarter, we actually started getting the picks. We came back from the deficit.”

“We did a much better job of communicating,” he continued, “and looking up the floor to score in transition. We got a lot of transition points. Probably the most that we've had all season.”

Gonzales' second game of the tournament was a blow out against TMI Episcopal.

“You can really see our guys figure the rotation stuff out,” Irwin said.

On Saturday, the Apaches opened up the gold bracket with a game against the Cuero Gobblers, losing 50-40. The team ended the quarter down 13-4. By the end of the half, the Apaches were down 13 points. Near the end of the third, Gonzales would be down 40-20 before a last second basket brought the deficit to 18 points.

“This has been a deal with us, it's like we just dig a hole,” Irwin said. “We don't start the way we finish, we always finish strong, but it takes us a quarter — maybe two — to get going.”

The Apaches would end the game on a 20-10 run, to lose 50-40.

“We have to start the way we finish. Even I say, it's not how you start it's how you finish, but we can't start like we're starting,” Irwin said. “The problem is we start so slow. And I have to do a better job of getting them mentality prepared to warm up properly, to do the little things like that correctly. It all starts in practice.”

The team's final game was against Moulton, currently a state-ranked team in Class 1A. Again, the Apaches were plagued with a slow start, going down 12-2 early on before ending the quarter down 26-12. The closest the Apaches got was down 14 late in the third, but

Scenes from the Gonzales Tournament

The Gonzales Apaches boys’ basketball team hosted a three-day tournament over the weekend, winning the consolation in the gold bracket. The Apaches won two games and lost two games during the process.

ultimately the team could not dig themselves out of the hole they left, losing 62-45.

“That’s a sound 1A team,” Irwin said of Moulton. “I expect them to be at the state tournament. We played a good ball club.”

The head coach highlighted a few players who played well in the tournament.

“Trevion [McNeil] has a great tournament. First time he had a dunk in the game, and he got two [Friday],” Irwin said. “Matthew [Velasquez-Banda] is really coming around in terms of his ability to be the floor general. Jose Niño is being a great ‘small’ power forward, because he’s a shorter guy, but he is muscle. “I.G.” [Isiah Franklin] had a great day, he had a great Friday.”

Irwin went deep in the bench during the tournament, mainly because of the amount of games, but the head coach isn’t opposed to going that deep during district play.

“I’m playing everybody with a jersey,” Irwin said. “If you can go, I’m putting you in. my big thing on that is guys who play will have to produce. I don’t want you to just exist, you have to produce. When guys are producing, they are going to play.”

The Apaches took on Waelder at the AT&T Center in San Antonio Monday afternoon, though results were unavailable before deadline. Gonzales will be on winter break until the Bay City Holiday Tournament from Dec. 29-30.
