While there, Carlock said he performed with several different local Mexican rock bands showing how AC/DC is done in America. Since he performs in the St. Louis tribute band AZ/DZ it was easy, he already knew the words to the songs. The photo above was taken outside Cabo Wabo, while Sammy Hagar was onstage performing one of his four sold out shows. ## HSHS St. Francis Hospital Celebrates Pastoral Care Week

The ancient wisdom of Proverbs 17:22 remind us "A joyful heart is good medicine." HSHS St. Francis Hospital will celebrate Pastoral Care Week on Sunday, Oct. 22 through Saturday, Oct. 28, in honor of those who serve in various ministries and provide spiritual healing to others in need.

Held first in 1984, Pastoral Care Week is sponsored by the Coalition on Ministry in Specialized Settings Network, a national organization of pastoral care providers, professionals, chaplains and faith group endorser.

Now in the 33rd year, the week-long observance recognizes the importance of spirituality and spiritual leaders as a part of the healing process.

"Pastoral caregivers make rounds to visit patients every day and are on-call after hours to provide spiritual assistance to patients and their families," said Joanne Van Leer, director of radiology and mission integration at the hospital. "During times of illness, knowing someone cares brings a sense of healing and hope to the sick and their families. They make frequent visits, offer support, share prayers and simply listen to patients."

Each day pastoral caregivers are invited into the life experiences of women, men, children and organizations. Pastoral Care Week provides an opportunity for the community to celebrate with chaplains and pastoral care counselors, educators and providers for bringing many gifts to the process of restoration to patients, young and old.

Van Leer said that Pastoral Care Week is a time to recognize those providing spiritual care within the community. "We want to celebrate the work of the many clergy and spiritual leaders throughout the area who faithfully visit their parishioners during hospital stays."

All those who provide pastoral care to others, regardless of faith tradition, whether clergy or not, those who give pastoral care in specialized settings such as hospitals, prisons, businesses, industries, long term care facilities, pastoral counseling centers, hospices, military settings, nursing homes, congregations of sisters, priests and brothers, schools, universities, seminaries and many more. HSHS St. Francis Hospital celebrates pastors and appreciates all they do for their patients and the community.

For more information, contact Becky Bishop at 217-324-8497 or email her at Becky.Bishop@HSHS.org

All are invited to join in as they honor and recognize the work and gifts of pastoral caregivers who daily lift their arms to share joy, who stretch out their arms to embrace pain and who reach down to lift others up.

EPA Announces Revisions to Cleanup Plan for the Eagle Zinc Site Hillsboro, Illinois

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has changed the Eagle Zinc Superfund site cleanup plan. The revised plan calls for cleanup of lead-contaminated soil in a residential area that was discovered during remedial design sampling. Residential soil cleanup will conform with the current national lead policy. U.S. EPA is also establishing a third operable unit for the site because further studies have determined that affected sediment in off-site streams and Lake Hillsboro will require additional evaluation.

Illinois Environmental Protection Agency agrees with these changes, which are summarized in a document called an "Explanation of Significant Differences." The ESD is available at <http://www.epa.gov/superfund/eagle-zinc>. Additional site-related documents are available on the web and at Hillsboro Public Library, 214 School St.

Order Of The Eastern Star Names Dalhaus State Officer

Judy Dalhaus of Litchfield has been appointed Grand Electa, one of ten statewide appointed officers of the Order of the Eastern Star (OES) of Illinois. She was installed to this new post on Wednesday, Oct. 4 at the organization's statewide convention in Springfield.

Dalhaus was appointed by Janet Schmidt of Springfield, the incoming Worthy Grand Matron, or chief executive officer, of the Order of the Eastern Star. The newly installed officers will serve through the next statewide meeting in October 2018.

"I am looking forward to meeting the members of Illinois as we travel the state this year," Dalhaus said. "The Order of the Eastern Star of Illinois supports many worthwhile causes, and part of my responsibility will be to spread the word about the great work done by our order."

The Order of the Eastern Star is the world's largest philanthropic fraternal organization that admits both men and women to membership. In Illinois, more than 13,000 members belong to more than 120 local chapters throughout the state. Each year, OES members raise money to support senior care, youth development, support for first responders and a variety of health care issues. The Order of the Eastern Star also operates a life care facility for members in Macon.

Dalhaus served as an accountant for 30 years, and also served for eight years as executive secretary to the warden of Graham Correctional Center in Hillsboro. She earned her doctor of chiropractic degree in St. Louis in 1968, four days before the birth of her youngest child. She has two children, a daughter, and a son who is deceased, and is the grandmother of twins. In her free time, Dalhaus enjoys crocheting, reading, genealogy and volunteering.

A member of the Order of the Eastern Star since 1984, Dalhaus was initiated into LaVonne Chapter and later became a member of Gillespie Chapter. She served as the leader (Worthy Matron) of her chapter in 1988 and again in 2016. In 2016, she was appointed Grand Representative of Indiana in Illinois, representing that state in relations with OES members in Illinois.

"Judy is a dedicated member of our order, who has also been a leader in her community for many years," said Worthy Grand Matron Schmidt. "I was thrilled when she agreed to serve our state this year."

Hiltoppers Plan Public Blood Drive Friday

Wednesday, Oct. 18, was the beginning of the second quarter here at HHS. All students scheduled for CDT 2 and PDT 2 will report to those classes instead of study hall. PDT 2 students must have their permits and will meet in the back of the gym by the soda machine. Visit the guidance office for any questions.

The $500 Student of the Month Scholarship application (due Friday, Oct. 20) is available on Mr. Morford's website, along with more important scholarship information for seniors.

The online store for playoff shirts is open until Friday, Oct. 20, at 10 a.m. at Hillsborosportsboosters.itemorder.com.

Friday, Oct. 20, at HHS, there will be a blood drive open to the public from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. This drive is also open to students.

Makeup pictures will be taken on Tuesday, Oct. 24, in the morning. If you did not get your picture taken the first time you will need to get a picture taken on the 24th. Packets are available in the main office.

The annual HHS Variety Show will be Thursday, Oct. 26, at 7 p.m. in the gym. All students are invited to audition for the show. Acts can be skits, magic, singing, dancing or whatever hidden talent you might have. Cash prizes are awarded to the three winners by our celebrity guest judges.

Winner of the Sucker Wars were the juniors with first place, followed by the second place seniors, third place sophomores and fourth place freshmen. The sophomores won 100 extra Topper Points, the seniors won 150 extra, and the juniors won an extra 250 Topper Points. Nice work, students.

The student spotlights last week were Garrett Stritzel and Maggie Huber. If money weren't an issue, Stritzel would be an architect. His favorite drink is unsweetened tea. His spirit animal is a sloth. Finally, if he could have any name, he would be called lemon Jello. Huber would own a doggy day care if money weren't an issue. Her favorite drink is sweet tea. Her spirit animal is a tired squirrel, and she would change her name to Shakira.

The athletes of the week for week eight are Maddie Mizera for volleyball and Liam Dugan for football. Keep up the great work.

Speaking of athletes, I'd like to congratulate the boys golf team on their runner up title at state this past Friday and Saturday. All of their hard work and dedication has paid off nicely.

Furthermore in sports, the varsity football team will finish their regular season Friday, Oct. 20, in Litchfield, starting at 7 p.m.

The volleyball girls will compete in the IHSA Regional Semi-final at Dupo on Tuesday, Oct. 24, at 6:30 p.m. Then on Thursday, Oct. 26, they will play in the IHSA Regional Final at Dupo at 6 p.m.

I wish the best of luck to the football and volleyball teams.

As we finish out the week, remember that "Tough times never last, but tough people do." -Robert H. Schuller

4-H Gathers Supplies For Hurricane Victims

Montgomery County 4-H members collected supplies to donate to hurricane victims this fall.

4-H members donated "flood buckets" through an Illinois based non-profit organization to get supplies to victims of hurricanes this fall.

The flood buckets are filled with supplies needed to clean up after a flood. The buckets contain items like gloves, cleaners, masks and of course the bucket itself.

Four county clubs participated in the community service project: Country Roots of Raymond, Starr Shooters of Witt, Clovers of Hillsboro and Voyagers Homeschool Club in Hillsboro.

"We were able to collect enough to make 19 buckets which is valued around $1,100," said 4-H Coordinator, Elisha Hughes.

The buckets will be delivered to hurricane victims as they are returning to their flooded homes.

If anyone is interested in programs offered by 4-H, visit the 4-H website at <http://web.extension.illinois.edu/cjmm/montgomery4h/> or call the Montgomery County Extension office at 217-532-3941 or by emailing ehugh2@illinois.edu.

St. Paul's Plans 185th, Reformation Services

St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Hillsboro has planned special services and events in October and November to celebrate the 500th anniversary of the reformation and the church's 185th anniversary.

On Sunday, Oct. 29, St. Paul's will celebrate the 500th anniversary of the protestant reformation with a special service at 10:15 a.m. followed by a meal. The service will celebrate the 500th anniversary of the day German monk Martin Luther nailed 95 theses on the door of All Saints' Church in Wittenburg on Oct. 31, 1517.

The church has planned a Harvest Home Service set for 10:15 a.m. on Sunday, Nov. 11, and on Sunday evening, Nov. 19, the church will celebrate its 185th anniversary with a candlelight vespers historical play, beginning at 6:30 p.m., followed by desserts.

Established on April 12, 1832, St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Hillsboro was the second Lutheran congregation formed in the state and remains the oldest active Lutheran church in Illinois.

The Rev. Daniel Scherer, a circuit-riding minister who had traveled 1,700 miles on horseback to preach to pioneer Lutherans in Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois, was the founding father. He visited Hillsboro in 1830 and found several families of Lutherans from Carrabus, NC, his home state. They persuaded him to form a church in the county seat and he became the first pastor. The Rev. Scherer returned to his home in North Carolina, sold his property there, and returned to Hillsboro in early 1832.

For two years, services were held at the courthouse and in 1834 the first frame Lutheran church in Illinois was built on the lot just north of the present house of worship.

In 1846, the 10-year-old Hillsboro Academy was transferred to the church and became the first Lutheran college in the state. The school is still in existence, albeit now called Carthage College in Kenosha, WI. Music students from Carthage College periodically perform at St. Paul's in Hillsboro in recognition of their school's roots.

The first frame church was replaced with a brick structure in 1856 at a cost of $7,000 and the present church was dedicated on April 4, 1897, built and furnished for about $15,000. The current education wing was built in 1978 at a cost of $400,000.

A central figure in St. Paul's long history is Dr. Ezra Keller, who was invited to serve as a supply pastor before completing his last year at seminary. He was extended a call to become the regular pastor of the church as soon as he completed his theological training and was officially installed on Oct. 20, 1895. He remained pastor of the church for 60 years before retiring in 1955, a year before his death. From 1945 to 1950, Dr. Hugh Paton, a son of the church, served as assistant pastor.

Youngsters Participate In Firefighters Event Activities

The Litchfield McDonald's restaurant held its 23rd annual Volunteer Firefighters Night on Wednesday evening, Oct. 11, with several activities and opportunities to climb aboard fire trucks and learn about their equipment. The Litchfield firefighters dedicated two hours to assist McDonald's employees in serving food, both in store and drive thru, with a percentage of the proceeds donated directly to the fire department. A silent auction and various drawings were also conducted throughout the evening. In the left picture, children tried their best to extinguish the "fire" placed before them. In the right picture, from the left are brothers Elijah and Barrett Moore, who climbed into one of the fire trucks to learn more about specific gear used to help fight fires.

CEO students learned skills about etiquette in dining when hosting a dinner or eating at a restaurant. They also toured All Precision Manufacturing Company. These hands-on drills will help them to succeed in the future when meeting with people and owning their own business.

CEO Learns Etiquette In Dining, Tour All Precision Mfg. Co.

A special thanks to Dwight Erskine for visiting Montgomery CEO to discuss professional etiquette while fine dining. Erskine spoke about the subtle details when eating with or hosting guests such as where to place the napkin, where to place silverware and how to decide when to sit or be excused from the table.

Melody Sailsbury was very impressed by the experience. She said, "I knew professional dress was required, but Erskine highlighted all the reasons why, such as how much of an impact simply shining one's shoes may have. I purchased a kit to shine up my shoes over the weekend, in fact, because I learned that it will not matter how nice my dress is if my footwear is of poor quality. People will form opinions based on the smallest details as to what we wear to represent ourselves. Mealtime is also more than eating food. It is a time people use for entertainment with elegance. I knew, for example, to keep the knife turned inward toward the plate, but now I know why. Also, Erskine mentioned a specific rule when dining professionally. If I invite someone to a business lunch I should expect to pay for it as well. The same applies if I were to be invited and expect the host to pay. Common courtesy suggests I should offer to pay or pitch in or be prepared to do so. Simply put, professionalism includes an awareness to social norms and dining etiquette."

Jeff Howell, of All Precision Manufacturing, explained the processes involved in running a manufacturing company. Howell discussed a broad range of topics from purchase orders to ordering and storing raw materials to buying, operating and updating sophisticated machinery.

APM invited CEO into the conversation to explore systems strategies and logistical efficiencies. The team learned that growing a successful business does not happen overnight.

"APM interested me because they manufacture a lot of parts for various companies. What started as a small company twenty years ago has grown throughout the years. I predict that my business will most likely start small, and hopefully grow larger through the years as well. I have been watching leadership videos, reading books about starting a business and I have learned that it is common not to make a profit for a while when starting out. Admittedly, I had dreamed that my business would be an overnight success, but from what I have learned from all the businesses that we have toured so far it is very rare to become an overnight success. Usually a business will take many years to become large and prosperous," said Andrew DeLaCruz.

The King and I, directed by Tony Award-winner Bartlett Sher, won four 2015 Tony Awards including Best Revival of a Musical. Hailed as "first-rate, sumptuous" (The New York Times) and "too beautiful to miss" (New York Magazine), the production played 538 performances on Broadway at the Vivian Beaumont Theater.

Bartlett Sher is reunited with the award-winning creative team from Rodgers and Hammerstein's South Pacific and The Light in the Piazza. The King and I has music direction by Ted Sperling, sets by Michael Yeargan, costumes by Catherine Zuber (Tony Award-winner for The King and I), lighting by Donald Holder, sound by Scott Lehrer and casting by Telsey + Company/Abbie Brady-Dalton, CSA. The King and I features choreography by Christopher Gattelli based on the original choreography by Jerome Robbins.

One of Rodgers and Hammerstein's finest works, The King and I boasts a score that features such beloved classics as "Getting To Know You," "Hello Young Lovers," "Shall We Dance," "I Have Dreamed" and "Something Wonderful."

Set in 1860's Bangkok, Thailand, the musical tells the story of the unconventional and tempestuous relationship that develops between the King of Siam and Anna Leonowens, a British schoolteacher, whom the modernist king, in an imperialistic world, brings to Siam to teach his many wives and children.

Lady Panthers Second At SCC Meet

The Litchfield girls cross country team put three runners in the top ten and took second place as a team in the 2017 South Central Conference Cross Country Championships, held Monday, Oct. 16, at Schneider Park in Brighton.

The Lady Panthers, who scored 57 points, would be beat out by Staunton for the title, who had 34 points and also put three runners in the top ten, including first place finisher Lydia Roller, who ran a 18:47. Carlinville would finish third with 63 points, followed by Roxana with 78 and Southwestern with 119.

While the Lady Bulldogs took the top spot, Litchfield would have the number two and three finishers on the day. Caroline Quarton finished in a time of 19:44 to finish second, while teammate Madi Throne was just behind her in third with a time of 19:54.

Andrea Priddle would give Litchfield a third member of the all-conference team, which went to the top ten individual finishers, as she finished ninth with a time of 22:14.

Anna Baugher would finish 21st with a 23:55, while Brittnay Komor had the fifth scoring time for the Panthers, a 24:19, which was good for 26th place. Summer Beckham also ran for Litchfield, finishing in 32nd with a time of 25:04.

Carlinville Invitational

Litchfield senior Andrea Priddle crosses the finish line at the South Central Conference Cross Country Championships on Monday, Oct. 16, in Brighton. Priddle finished ninth at the meet, joining teammates Caroline Quarton (second) and Madi Throne (third) as all-conference honorees.

Poggenpohl Leads Litchfield At SCC Meet

Ryan Poggenpohl saved his best for last at the South Central Conference Cross Country Championships on Monday, Oct. 16, as the Lincolnwood senior posted his best time and finish ever at the conference championships at Schneider Park in Brighton.

Poggenpohl, who runs for the Lancers' co-op partner Litchfield, finished second overall with a time of 17:09, just three seconds behind long-time foe Jason Landon of Carlinville, who took this year's title. Landon's brother Cory was a four-time winner of the race between 2012 and 2015.

Poggenpohl's time was 48 seconds faster than his previous best at the conference meet, in 2015, when he finished fourth with a time of 17:57. Poggenpohl also finished fourth as a freshman (18:16) and sixth as a junior (18:12) as he earned all-conference status in each of his four trips to Brighton.

The senior's finish helped Litchfield to a third place finish, where they finished just five points behind Roxana, 78 to 73. Carlinville would claim their fifth consecutive South Central Conference title, accumulating 26 points with six runners earning all-conference status by finishing in the top 10.

In addition to Poggenpohl, Litchfield's Cam Lee just missed making the all-conference list as he finished 12th with a time of 18:37. Sean Dearing, Bailey Powell and Tanner Odle would also contribute scoring times for the Panthers, with Dearing finishing 18th with a time of 19:11, Powell finishing 22nd with a time of 19:26 and Odle finishing 24th with a time of 19:30.

Tucker Lemon (26th, 19:42), Carter Powell (35th, 20:58), Will Carlile (37th, 21:02), Matt Leitschuh (45th, 21:49), Colton Wall (47th, 21:55) and Seth McGill (52nd, 23:21) also ran for the Panthers on Monday.

Carlinville Invitational

The week before the conference meet, Litchfield ran in the Carlinville Invitational, held at the Macoupin County Fairgrounds on Wednesday, Oct. 11.

The Panthers would finish seventh in the 14 team meet with 165 points. Carlinville would take first overall with 54 points, followed by Father McGivney and Breese Mater Dei with 73 each.

Again Ryan Poggenpohl would post the best time for the Panthers as he ran a 16:25.02 to take fifth overall. Luke Goebel of Breese Mater Dei would be the meet winner with a time of 15:15.34.

Cam Lee would finish 29th with a time of 17:55.05, while Tucker Lemon was 45th with a time of 18:37.87. Sean Dearing would also make the top 50 with a time of 18:48.11, while Bailey Powell finished 51st with a time of 18:51.24.

Others running at Carlinville from Litchfield included Tanner Odle (67th, 19:20.18), Will Carlile (84th, 19:55.08), Carter Powell (91st, 20:12.68), Colton Wall (95th, 20:21.08), Matt Leitschuh (103rd, 21:03.27), and Seth McGill (115th, 21:53.30).

Litchfield's next meet will be on Saturday, Oct. 21, at Dacey Trail for the Shelbyville Regional, at 10:45 a.m.

After months of rehabilitation, four surgeries and enough doctors, visits to earn employee parking, Nokomis senior Connor Engelman completed his long journey back from injury when he took the field for the Redskins against East Alton-Wood River. The game was the three-sport standout's first game back since suffering a gruesome arm injury on March 19, 2017.

CENTER AND GUARD • by Kyle Herschelmann

Armed And Ready: Engelman Makes Long Journey Back

I hate lying. Lying destroys relationships. It breeds mistrust. It makes people cynical in a world where there is already too much cynicism going around.

Baltasar Gracián, who was either a Spanish writer and philosopher or a character on Game of Thrones, said that, "A single lie destroys a whole reputation of integrity."

That pretty much says it all.

With all of this in mind, I'm going to give Connor Engelman a free pass for the fib he told me on Aug. 1. The day before I asked Nokomis' first team all-conference running back and defensive back on the gridiron for the Redskins for the 2017 season.

"No. Football is a definite no and basketball is a maybe," Connor said via a Twitter message. "That's what the doctor says. I'm guessing I'll be fine for basketball season."

Two and a half months later, Engelman sent me another message, this one a little more upbeat. "Well I lied lol. I'll be playing tonight!"

I knew that Connor had injured his right arm during baseball season and that the injury was serious enough to sideline the Redskins starting centerfielder and pitcher from seeing the field for much of the year, but that was about the extent of it.

What I didn't know was all that Connor and his parents, Brent and Tanya, had been going through since the initial injury occurred when Connor fractured his arm late in the 2016 baseball season.

The fracture affected his throwing, but he still played in the regionals his sophomore year, running the ball to a corner outfielder after making a catch. According to doctors the injury was supposed to heal in about eight weeks, but almost a year later, it hadn't.

Connor, who played football and basketball with the fracture with few ill affects, said that his doctor had scheduled surgery for May 30, right after the 2017 baseball season would be complete, but fate had other plans.

"On March 19, I dove back into a base at Morrisonville," Connor explained. "There is a little bone that is connected to your triceps and my triceps pulled that bone off."

That sped up the timetable for surgery, with a plate and screws inserted into his arm. It would take 12 weeks to recover from. After about eight weeks, the doctor told Connor that he could begin to swim and lift weights, but to take it easy.

"That night I went home and I stumbled and put my hand on my bed and the same thing happened again," Connor said. "The next day, I had another surgery where he put in a bigger plate and eight screws. It was two days before prom... and I still went to prom."

Two weeks later, the doctors found another problem. The skin around the area where the plate was had died, which required a skin graft to fix. After the first skin graft didn't do the trick, Connor had another one done, this time with doctors taking a tendon from his wrist to cover up part of the area.

The second graft took, but left behind a gruesome reminder.

"If you get a chance, have him show you his arm," Brent Engelman told me before I met with his son. "Looks like he survived a shark attack."

And it does. Connor said he's used the line a few times. It should make for some great stories down the road.

The road map of scars and reminders of the surgery is nothing compared to the two months that Connor had to wait until he was able to put his reconstructed arm through its paces, an eternity for a sports crazed 17-year-old. All he could do was sit in bed, go to school and do physical therapy at home, including some torture device in the form of a brace that allowed him to turn a dial and force his arm to bend.

"It was so tight, after about 30 seconds, I couldn't feel my hand," Connor said.

Despite the setbacks, Connor didn't let the injury get him down.

"Yeah it hurt, but my whole thought process was to not let it define me," he explained. "I love football, I love basketball, I love baseball and I want to be able to do those things my senior year. What happened sucks, but I can still do those things if I work hard."

Lady Lancers Get To 25-Win Mark With Victory Over Pawnee

For the 13th time in 32 years, the Lincolnwood volleyball team has reached the 25-win plateau. The Lancers, who have just 13 losing seasons in their 43 years of existence, reached the milestone on Monday, Oct. 16, against Pawnee, marking the third time in the last four years they have won at least 25 games (last year they won 24).

The Indians wouldn't go down easy though as Lincolnwood clawed out a 25-23 victory in the opening game. Game two wouldn't be quite as close as the Lancers defeated their MSM rivals 25-15 to take the match.

Cassie Krager served up a team-best nine aces and had 13 service points in the win over the Indians.

Lincolnwood would have nine more aces, giving them 18 for the night, from four other players as Haidyn Glick served up three aces and Karly Bruntjen, Emily Hopper and Morgan Byers added two aces each.

Glick would lead the team in kills with 10 on the night, followed by Bruntjen with seven, Hopper and Katelyn Payne with two each and Kensey Armour with one. Bruntjen would be honored prior to the start of the game for surpassing the 1,000 kill mark for her career during the Lancers' win over Hillsboro on Oct. 2. Byers would pace the team in assists with 12, while Hopper would also have four assists.

Defensively, Krager and Bruntjen had nine and eight digs to lead the team, while Lexie Millburg had three and Kensey Armour and Haidyn Glick had two each. Armour and Katelyn Payne also had a block each in the win, which improved Lincolnwood's record to 25-4 on the season.

Lincolnwood will play Staunton on senior night on Thursday, Oct. 19, followed by a trip to the Pawnee Tournament on Saturday, Oct. 21.

The Lancers will be tested at the tourney, with Montgomery County Invitational champion Auburn, perennial power Carlinville and the Rochester JV team in their pool. Play begins at 8:15 p.m., with the medal round starting at 2:15 p.m.

Toppers Rebound With Back-To-Back Victories

After a strong showing in a loss to conference champion Pana on Thursday, Oct. 12, the Hillsboro volleyball team rebounded with back-to-back victories to start the final week of the regular season.

On Monday, Oct. 16, the Toppers defeated Morrisonville on senior night at Hillsboro in two games, 25-13, 25-17.

Prior to the game, seniors Morgan Arkebauer, Sami Moore, Makenzie Bellaver, Brooke Roemelin, Maddie Mizera and Kelsey Calvert were honored for their contributions to the Hillsboro volleyball program. They then went out and demonstrated some of those contributions in the win over the Mohawks as seniors led all six stat categories.

Brooke Roemelin led the team in service points, with 10, and aces, with four, while also posting three kills, one assist, three digs and one block.

Sami Moore would lead the team in kills with 11, while also posting a block, a dig and an assist.

Maddie Mizera led the team in assists, with 16, and co-led the Toppers with eight digs. She also had four service points and two aces.

Makenzie Bellaver also had a pair of aces and eight service points while leading the team in digs with Mizera, with eight.

Morgan Arkebauer would contribute three digs to the cause, while Kelsey Calvert had five points, two aces, one kill and two digs.

After the win over Morrisonville, Hillsboro picked up a conference win over Southwestern. The Lady Hiltoppers survived a close 30-28 decision in game one, then upped their game in the second set to beat the Piasa Birds 25-15.

Sami Moore once again led the team in kills with 15, while Mizera had 15 assists. On the serving line, Emily Reynolds had nine points, while Brooke Roemelin had seven points and a team-high two assists. Jordan Jacobs also got a point, a dig and an assist in her first varsity appearance.

Defensively, Makenzie Bellaver had a team-best 16 digs, while Brooke Roemelin also had double digit digs with 10. Sami Moore posted three blocks closer to the net, with Kayli Ward adding one.

The victories took the sting off a loss to Pana, who improved to 8-0 to earn at least a share of the South Central Conference title (they can win it outright if they beat Vandalia on Oct. 19).

Hillsboro had the Panthers down 20-13 in the first set, before Pana charged back to take a 28-26 victory. The SCC power then road that momentum to a 25-13 win in game two to win the match.

The Toppers did well on the attack on Thursday, with Sami Moore putting down 12 kills and Chloe Beck (three) and Kayli Ward (two) also contributing at the net. Maddie Mizera led the team with 12 assists.

Makenzie Bellaver would have four points and an ace from the serving line, while Moore added in three points and two aces.

Center & Guard

After two months, Connor got the ok to get back to the weight room, where he started off with a PVC pipe, followed by a 15 pound bar, a 45 pound bar, then eventually more weight. Within about two weeks, he was already up to 135 pounds once. The next week, he was able to do 155 once.

The whole time he was rehabilitating, Connor was also on the sidelines with his team, pushing them, encouraging them, trying to be the leader that he was when he was on the field, but it wasn't the same.

"Standing on the sidelines, whenever I say stuff, they listen, but it doesn't mean as much," Connor said. "I try to be a leader but it doesn't work from the sidelines."

His progress and his drive to return to the field led Connor to take a chance when he visited his doctor last week.

"He was saying how I should be able to play basketball and I should be able to play baseball. And I was kind of scared of his answer, because I knew he would think I was crazy, but I said 'We have two football games left, can I play?'" Connor remembered. "He kind of looked around the room for a couple seconds and said yup. He didn't even argue with me. I was prepared to argue, I was ready to go. As he walked out of the room he told the nurse practitioner that I needed my head examined. I think he's going to be at the game Friday. He told me he just got rid of the stomach ulcer I gave him."

Just stepping foot on the field would be enough for most people, but Connor did more than that. In the Redskins' loss to East Alton-Wood River, Connor caught five passes for 104 yards and a touchdown, a bittersweet moment due to his competitive nature.

"I caught it and immediately I was excited and I turned to jump up as some of my teammates were coming to congratulate me," he said of Nokomis' lone score with a grin. "When I turned, I saw the scoreboard and realized that we were still losing 41-6 and I wasn't as excited anymore."

Despite the final score, the game was a memorable one for Connor, who had to shake off the shock of just being on the field once again.

"It was kind of surreal standing there. I think on the first play, I didn't totally take off right away. I couldn't believe that I'd actually done it," he said. "I flashed back through everything. Two months ago, I was in a sling not doing anything and now I'm here. It felt awesome."

So after seven months, 11 screws, two plates, 100-plus stitches, two skin grafts, more than 50 physical therapy appointments, 15 doctors visits, two ER visits and 36 days of school missed, Connor Engelman is back where he belongs, on the playing field.

He has earned the respect of his coaches, his teammates, his community and his parents, who were understandably a little nervous about his return.

"He has listened to his parents say 'be careful' more times than any one individual should ever hear in a lifetime," Brent Engelman said prior to last Friday's game. "When he takes the field this Friday, even before he catches a single pass, this will be the single most proud moment for me as a parent and not for any sports accomplishments, but instead for the resilience, self-motivated drive, and positive attitude he has shown through an unfair amount of adversity."

And he still has some adversity to contend with. He can't extend his right arm completely or rotate his right wrist, making shooting a basketball problematic. Baseball is also going to be a different experience in his senior year than it was as a freshman and sophomore.

Adversity hasn't stopped Connor though. If anything, it has made him appreciate every single moment he gets to step on the football field, the basketball court and the baseball diamond for the red and black of Nokomis High School, something he's tried to instill into his younger teammates.

"A lot of people say that this game doesn't mean anything, but for me it means everything," Connor said of his final high school game against Pawnee on Friday, a game between two teams that won't be making the playoffs. "You want to be able to say that you won your last game. I want to be able to say that I won my last game. All the underclassmen, we've been trying to preach that to them, but they don't understand because they have next year. But the seniors don't have next year."

It's a great life lesson for anyone. No one is promised tomorrow, so we should all treasure every moment we have. Connor for sure will.

"You appreciate every second. I've tried to drill that into the younger guys. I'd say, 'If that was your last game, would you be satisfied?' And a lot of times I got no. 'That's what burnt me,'" he said. "Last year, in our last game, we lost and I don't think I played that well. So this whole time, through the injury and everything, I'm thinking I didn't play very well. And that won't happen this year."

I know he lied to me once, but something tells me I can trust him on this one.

Crossbows Back In For Archery

As I sit here and write this column this morning, I'm drinking a nice cup of coffee with the windows open while Maynard Hartke shells corn in the field next door. This is one of those mornings when you feel glad to be alive. I love this time of year. This is when you see good ole' fashion American made labor hard at work.

It's one of the few instances where we get to appreciate something that has stayed in our country for hundreds of years due to the hard work of families who have carried the farming torch from generation to generation. I've always said if I wasn't a cop I'd be a farmer, though I'm not sure my tomato growing skills could support a family.

With the harvest season comes a few more exciting things this time of year. Illinois archery bow season started Oct. 1 and is in full swing. The unusually warm October temperatures have kept a lot of guys out of the woods thus far though we are supposed to see some cooling next week.

One thing I should add is that hunters in Illinois may now use crossbows any time during archery hunting seasons, including the Illinois archery deer season and the Illinois fall turkey archery season, which began on Oct. 1.

Illinois law previously allowed the use of crossbows for archery hunting by persons age 62 or older and those persons with disabilities who qualified for a crossbow permit issued by the Illinois Department of Natural Resources (IDNR).

In addition, the previous law allowed certain youth hunters to use crossbows and allowed all archery hunters to use crossbows beginning the Monday after the second firearm deer season.

The 2017-18 season dates for archery deer and fall turkey archery hunting in Illinois are Oct. 1, through Jan. 14, 2018. Archery seasons will be closed Nov. 17 through 19 and Nov. 30 through Dec. 3 during the firearm deer season in those counties open to firearm deer hunting.

The youth firearm deer season was Oct. 7 through Oct. 9. As seen in the pictures, a lot of young guns were successful. I saw a lot of pictures on social media of moms, dads and grandparents sharing a seat alongside in the deer stand. Take that time and keep those pictures coming. It seems our youth are getting outside less and less and spending their time on electronic gadgets. Remember the old saying, "If your kid is out hunting, you won't be hunting for your kid."

Shotgun deer season is scheduled for Nov. 17 through Nov. 19 and second season is scheduled for Nov. 30 through Dec. 3. Seasons for rabbit, quail, pheasant and other game animals come in on Nov. 4 as well.

Reports show the numbers are up on small game but the hunters are down. Coyotes are definitely on the increase. So are armadillos. Wait....Armadillos? In Montgomery County? Yes, they are. But that's a story for the next column.

My friend Devin Jenkins and some of the Raymond crew shared a story with me about the "hot pursuit" they had of an armadillo in the Raymond area, right in the middle of town. They were able to catch the critter and release it in a safer place. I was able to see it as well, ugly little critter, long black chest hair, tiny little feet and a pig shaped snout. Stay tuned.

I will leave you with a good piece of advice for the upcoming seasons; a few deer seasons ago I did something I rarely do and got myself turned around and lost in the vast woodlot I was hunting in. So last year before the season began, my hunting partner and I made a plan that if either one of us got lost we would fire three shots in the air every hour on the hour.

Well sure enough I got lost again and did everything I was supposed to do but no one came to my rescue. Late that night my hunting partner came with a crew and found me and asked why I didn't stick to the plan. I said "Buddy I fired three shots in the air every hour on the hour, until I ran out of arrows...."

Happy hunting friends. Find us on Facebook at "Outdoors With Braz."

Machine Evaluates Soybean At Harvest For Quality

When a field of soybeans is ready to harvest, speed is of the essence. But harvesting grinds to a halt every time the combine operator has to climb down out of the cab to manually check for quality, whole, un-split beans without stray husk material.

Researchers from Kyoto University and University of Illinois recently developed a machine to automate the process, evaluating bean quality on the fly, so harvesting can go on uninterrupted.

“The main objective was to develop an efficient, compact, on-board quality-monitoring system to evaluate soybeans as they are harvested, providing the combine operator with real-time grain quality information,” said Md Abdul Momin, lead scientist on the project.

Momin explains that when the threshing speed is too high, the soybeans split or break as they are harvested. This is undesirable because whole beans are considered to be higher quality and bring a higher price.

“Without this machine, operators need to periodically stop threshing and manually check the tank to evaluate the quality and make adjustments,” Momin said. “With this machine, operators can look at a screen and make adjustments as they go, without stopping.”

The machine, which includes a high-speed camera, is mounted inside the tank of the harvester. It takes images of the beans as they pass by and a computer program analyzes the beans in real time. One key is that it is a double-imaging system. It uses a combination of both front and back lighting so the camera can see the complete shape of the beans, making it possible to identify those that are truly split.

Momin tested the system first in the laboratory and then in field conditions. The prototype is currently in the hands of a Japanese company that is working to develop a higher-speed camera and ultimately to produce the machine.

“The same system can be used in the processing industry with a $100 web camera, making it very affordable,” Momin said. “Mounting it inside of the combine is more ambitious because it needs a super high-speed camera to evaluate the soybeans as they pass rapidly by.”

Momin said soybean growers in Japan are eager to use this new technology to evaluate beans during the harvest. They believe it will improve the process by doing much of the sorting and cleaning of the soybeans before they reach the processing plant.

The study, “Machine Vision Based Soybean Quality Evaluation,” is published in Computers and Electronics in Agriculture. The research was conducted by Md Abdul Momin, Kazuya Yamamoto, Munenori Miyamoto, Naoshi Kondo and Tony Grift.

Financial support and field experiment facilities were provided by Yanmar Co. Ltd. in Okayama, Japan. A patent has been awarded as well.

Md Abdul Momin is a postdoctoral research associate in the Institute for Genomic Biology at U of I. Tony Grift is an associate professor in the Department of Agricultural and Biological Engineering in the College of Agricultural, Consumer and Environmental Sciences at the University of Illinois.

Accidents

Asleep At The Wheel
Kyle J. Clark, 28, of Fillmore, was southbound on Nokomis Road, approximately a tenth of a mile south of North 19th Avenue in Nokomis Township at 3:30 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 30, when the driver fell asleep, ran off the roadway and struck a ditch, causing damage to the front of the vehicle.

Bicycle Struck
Two vehicles were involved in an accident at 11:03 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 11, at the intersection of West Martin and South Jefferson in Litchfield.

Nancy J. Robinson, of Litchfield, was westbound on Martin in a 2007 Chevrolet Cobalt, when she stopped at the intersection and saw a person on a bicycle at the west side of the intersection traveling south. Robinson thought that the bicycle operator had slowed and was waiting for her to cross the intersection. As Robinson proceeded through the intersection, the bicycle operator, Patricia R. Lemaster, of Litchfield, continued on and Robinson's vehicle struck the bicycle.

The collision caused dents and scratches to the hood of Robinson's vehicle and bent pieces around the pedal area of Lemaster's bicycle. Lemaster was taken to St. Francis Hospital by Litchfield Ambulance. Robinson was cited for failure to yield.

Hydrant Hit
A Litchfield man struck a fire hydrant then left the scene of the accident, which occurred at 11:29 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 14, at the intersection of East South Street and South Van Buren Street in Litchfield.

Richard W. Wendel, of Litchfield, was northbound on Van Buren in a 2005 Ford Focus when his vehicle went to the right of the roadway and sideswiped a fire hydrant with the passenger doors. The collision damaged the passenger side of Wendel's vehicle and minor damage to the hydrant.

After the accident, Wendel left the scene and continued a block north, where the car stalled.

Wendel then left the scene on foot, but was later located at his residence. The vehicle was towed by Curt's Towing due to the abandonment and being a road hazard. Wendel was cited for failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident, for failure to report an accident to police and for operating an uninsured vehicle.

Struck Stairs
A Litchfield woman struck a set of stairs in a single vehicle accident at 12:20 p.m. Monday, Oct. 16, at East Union Avenue near North Chestnut in Litchfield.

Nicole J. Timo, of Litchfield, had turned onto westbound Union Avenue in a 1996 Buick Park Avenue. As she made the turn, Timo lost the ability to steer her car, causing it to veer right, go up onto the boulevard and strike some concrete stairs.

The collision caused the transmission to break apart and leak fluid all over the stairs, grass and roadway, with the car coming to rest in the oncoming traffic lane. Upon investigating the crash, a piece of the car's tie-rod was found in the boulevard before impacting the stairs. Timo's vehicle was towed from the scene by Curt's Towing.

Missed Red Light
Two vehicles were involved in an accident at 3:54 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 17, at the intersection of West Union Avenue and Corvette Drive in Litchfield.

Nona L. Brown, of Carlinville. Cuppett told Litchfield Police that her eye was watering and she was having trouble seeing at the time of the accident.

The collision caused damage to the front end of Cuppett's vehicle and the passenger side of Brown's vehicle. Cuppett was cited for operation of an uninsured vehicle and for disobeying a traffic control device.

Fillmore Woman Publishes Children's Book

A Fillmore woman has published her first children's book, about turning negative thoughts into positives. Negative Soup, written by Debra Gray of Fillmore, was published in October. Each page features colorful illustrations by Joe Rollins of Carlinville, whose cartoons are published weekly in The Journal-News. A note before the story begins dedicates it "to my grandson Wyatt, who inspired me to write this book." "I wrote the book for him," the author said of her eight-year-old grandson from Jacksonville who has a diagnosis on the autism spectrum. "It's a little encouragement book." The book tells a story of a visit by an eight-year-old named Wyatt to his grandparents in Fillmore. When Wyatt uses negative words to describe when things don't go as well as he would like, his grandmother suggests putting those words into papa's

Hoo-lio Released At Bremer Owl Prowl

Bremer Sanctuary in Hillsboro hosted around 150 guests on Saturday, Oct. 14, for their annual Owl Prowl. Guests included a large group of Boy Scouts from Staunton Pack 34, as well as their families, all enjoying a hot dog roast prior to the program. Pam Lippert from the TreeHouse Wildlife Center in Dow not only brought an owl for release, but also treated the crowd to several other species she already had with her from an earlier event in the afternoon. A Barn Owl, Barred Owl, Eastern Screech Owl and Great Horned Owl were the focus of the informative speech before the release. Lippert explained how each owl came to permanently reside at the TreeHouse along with other facts about each species. One of the highlights of the evening was the release of a rehabilitated Great Horned Owl. Lippert explained the owl was checked in with an injury, probably from a car collision, and had sustained some head injury. After some care, the staff believed the owl was ready to return to the wild. Due to its size, Lippert believed it was a fairly young male. Over the last few years, the Owl Prowl crowd has enjoyed naming the owl prior to release. Several names are submitted by individuals and then, by a show of hands, the crowd votes on the name they like best. The winning name this year was Hoo-lio and was submitted by the 2017 Miss Montgomery County Fair Queen, Robin Randle and accompanied by the 2017 Jr. Miss Montgomery County Jaci Hrabusicky. A 3-2-1 countdown ensued and Hoo-lio was tossed to the wind and flew in a northerly direction. Immediately following the release, Bremer volunteer Nancy Redman broadcast the call of a Barred Owl in an attempt to lure a sighting or response. To the pleasure of the crowd, a Barred Owl made several fly-overs and perched in a nearby tree, complete with hoots and caterwauling. The Bremer volunteers invite the public to their annual potluck meeting with guest speaker, set for Saturday, Nov. 4, beginning at 5 p.m. Returning this year is Mark H.X. Glenshaw, an award-winning naturalist who has closely observed and documented the lives of Great Horned Owls in Forest Park in St. Louis since December 2005. His talk this year will be, "Forest Park Owls: Mating, Nesting & Owlets," and will be a continuation of last year's program, "Hiding in Plain Sight." The TreeHouse Wildlife Center will be hosting their Owl Fest and open house on Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 21-22, from noon to 5.
