Tee Off At Camren's Mini Greens This Weekend

by Mary (Galer) Herschelmann

"Camren loved golf. It was one of his passions," said his mom, Brandy Chausse. "I'm hoping this course will help get other kids excited about golf too."

Camren's Mini Greens, a free, nine-hole miniature golf course, will be officially unveiled at Shane Cole Park in Nokomis this Sunday, Sept. 8, from noon to 4 p.m. in memory of Camren Neisler.

The son of Tim Neisler and Brandy Chausse, Neisler was a 2018 graduate of Nokomis High School and member of the Ramsey-Nokomis co-op golf team, who passed away on Oct. 25, 2018. A group of volunteers helped Chausse host the inaugural Camren's on the Green golf tournament in March of this year, and part of the proceeds from that tournament helped with the construction of the new miniature golf course.

"One of the things we wanted to do is better our community in Camren's memory," said Chausse.

She said two different members of her committee suggested building a miniature golf course, so they started looking into it and found a place where they could buy the holes.

Each of the nine holes has been lovingly planned to keep Camren's memory alive with help from some of his closest friends.

Grace Race Raises $13,000 For Research

Runners and walkers all over the world helped to raise $13,000 for INAD research as part of the third A Grace-Filled Journey 5K Run and One-Mile Walk, held Saturday, Aug. 31, in Hillsboro.

"We are so honored by the continued love and support in honor of our beautiful daughter, Grace," said Mary Herschelmann of Hillsboro. "This is such a special place to call home."

More than 500 participated in this year's event, including about 100 virtual runners and walkers representing more than 30 states in the United States. This year's race also included participants in Australia.

"While we didn't reach our goal of having runners in all 50 states, we did have some really great participation in helping us to raise awareness for INAD," Herschelmann said.

This is the third time the event has been held with previous races in 2015 and 2017, in honor of seven-year-old Grace Herschelmann of Hillsboro, who was diagnosed with INAD in November 2014.

Hillsboro Library District Expands Area

by Mike Plunkett

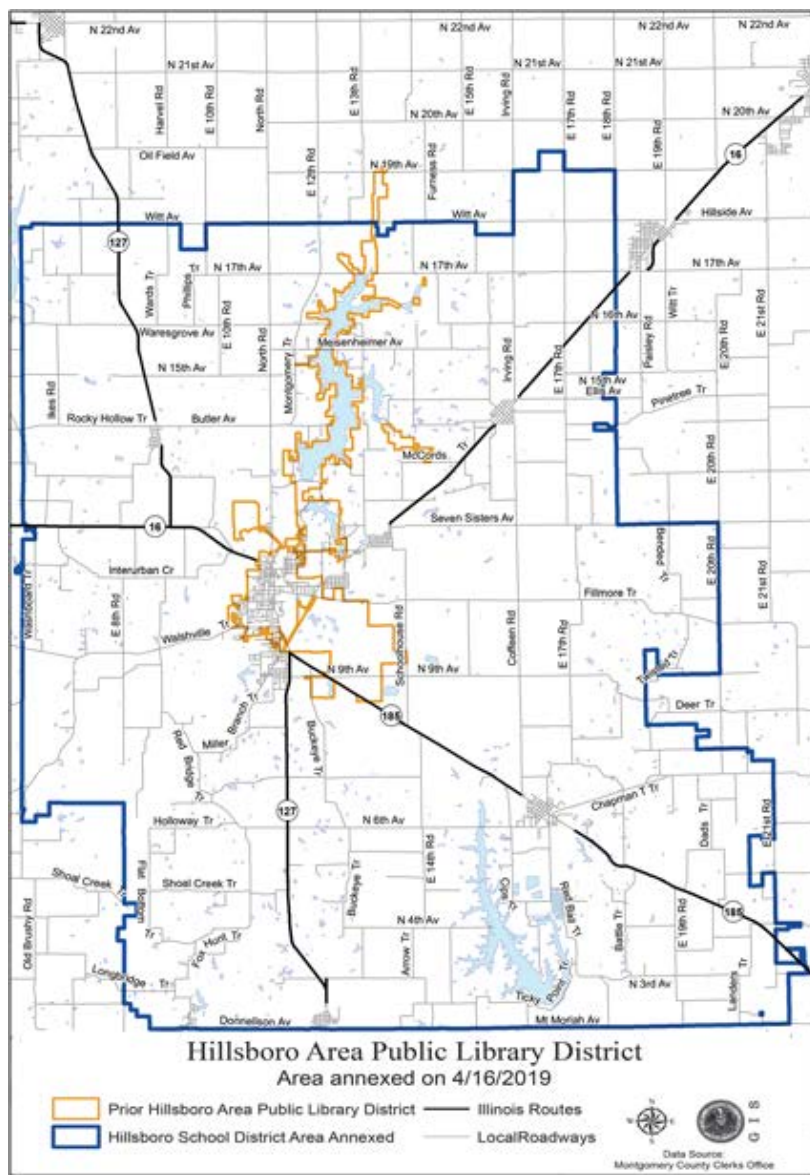

"The goal is to get a library card in the hands of the kids in the school district," library director Shelly Kolb said of an expansion of the Hillsboro Area Public Library District to nearly all of the Hillsboro School District over the summer.

That expansion was approved by the library board on April 16, and after a legal notice published in the April 22 issue of The Journal-News and a 30-day period during which voters could have petitioned the expansion onto the ballot, the new district was recorded in the Montgomery County Clerk's office on June 28.

Now, due to the expansion, families outside of Hillsboro city limits plus those who live in Taylor Springs, Schram City, Butler, Irving, Coffeen, Panama and Donnellson are entitled to the services of the Hillsboro Public Library without paying in the neighborhood of $30 for a library card. Instead, those who are new to the library district may get a library card by simply furnishing two proofs of residency.

"We used to hear the complaint, 'My kid goes to school here in Hillsboro but can't get a library card,'" Kolb said. "If you felt left out before, now you don't have to."

The library director said that the majority of library districts have annexed the territory in their school districts—like the Litchfield Public Library District and others have done. The new boundaries of the Hillsboro Area Public Library

District do not include all of the Hillsboro School District, however—and for good reason. It can't.

Lawson Earns NewWave Scholarship For $3,000

NewWave Communications has selected Mackenzi Lawson, daughter of Jim and Kim Lawson of Hillsboro, as one of three winners of its Going Places social media campaign.

Lawson was presented a check for $3,000 at the Litchfield office on Saturday, Aug. 31, to help cover the cost of her Fall 2019 tuition at Indiana University-Purdue University-Indianapolis.

"After my undergraduate career, I plan to go to medical school and become a pediatric endocrinologist," said Lawson, who is currently a sophomore at IUPUI double majoring in biochemistry and Spanish. "My junior year of high school, I was diagnosed with Type 1 diabetes and had to start seeing my own pediatric endocrinologist. She helped me so much throughout the process of learning how to live in what would be my new normal. She inspired me so much that I completely changed my plans for after college and I decided to be a doctor."

Lawson acknowledges that while it will take a number of years to reach her goal, the idea of being able to help kids in the future makes the effort worthwhile.

"I'm so incredibly grateful for this scholarship, which will enable me to continue to pursue my dream of becoming a physician," she said. "I can't wait for the day when I can begin to repay this community for all of their help and for the kindness that they've shown me."

NewWave Regional General Manager Reid Morgan said Lawson's entry was impressive and the award is well-deserved.

"We admire Mackenzi's goals and her commitment to serve the children in our community as a pediatric endocrinologist," Morgan said. "We wish her well on her educational journey and look forward to seeing her career progress."

Coffeen native Summer Robbins earned several awards at the E. Earle Zehmer Moot Court Competition in Orlando, FL, this August.

Summer Robbins Receives Moot Court Honors In Florida

Coffeen native Summer Robbins competed in the E. Earle Zehmer Moot Court Competition in Orlando, FL as an oral advocate Aug. 10-12.

Each year, this particular competition tests law school teams' knowledge of workers' compensation laws both orally through oral advocates and through written briefs.

Moot Court competitions are unique in that they test oral advocates' ability to research and convey arguments both efficiently and effectively. These competitions are especially challenging because they force advocates to argue on behalf of both parties in a proceeding in back to back rounds.

Under these conditions, Robbins had the opportunity to argue in two preliminary rounds and then all the way to the Sweet 16 round where she and her co-counsel were kicked out of the round by the team that eventually won the competition.

"I argued with co-counsel Holly Southworth and with the help of brief writer Katie Jacobs," Robbins said. "My teammates and I put in countless hours over the course of about two months until the competition, where we argued at our best and gave it our all."

Robbins and her teammates were fortunate to make it through to the Sweet 16 round. She was also awarded the two individual awards from the competition: the NAWCJ Professionalism Award and the Individual Oral Advocate Award.

To win both awards, Robbins was separately chosen by preliminary round judges who scored her as the most professional of the preliminary rounds and then also recognized her for having the highest score of all 48 oral advocates at the competition as well.

A graduate of Hillsboro High School, Robbins is the daughter of Rick and Julie Robbins of Coffeen.

"I am consistently grateful to have been raised in Montgomery County when I see so much support pouring out of my hometown crew," Robbins said. "It means the world to have school teachers, mentors, family and friends still reaching out in support after so much time away from home."

Litchfield Middle School seventh graders, Laynie Wyatt, at left, and Emma Rae Bone, are excited to help the Moms on a Mission group prepare care packets for young ladies in the community.

Moms On A Mission Help Young Ladies

A group of moms in the Litchfield community is working hard to brighten the school year for young ladies across the area.

Led by volunteer Stacey Bone of Litchfield, the group is creating "care packages" for young ladies in the community in preparation for their menstrual cycles.

"I've learned through my 12-year-old daughter that a lot of girls are unprepared at school when their periods come, and they have no idea what to do," Bone said.

With donations from the community, they put together a "care package" in used Ipsy (make-up bags to help the transition seem easier at school. The bags include a pair of underwear, four pads, tampons (high school only), two pantliners, feminine wipes, hand sanitizer and chocolate.

"It can be terrifying as a young woman to begin this change in life, so our mission is to make it a little less traumatic," Bone said. "We also include a little note in each that reads, 'Always remember you are braver than you believe, stronger than you seem and smarter than you think!'"

To date, they have delivered 80 "care packages" to Litchfield Middle School, Litchfield High School, Russell Elementary School and Zion Lutheran School, all in Litchfield, 50 to schools in Hillsboro and 50 to schools in Mt. Olive.

"Our goal is to continue to put together these bags throughout our community and others," Bone said. "I'm hoping these little bags will help girls know that there are people out there who love them and who are going through the same thing as them. It takes a village to raise all these kids, and I love being part of that village."

Donations to continue this mission may be dropped off to Bone at Petal Pushers, located at 305 N. State Street in Litchfield.

CEO Students Tour Journal-News Office

Students in the Montgomery County CEO (Creating Entrepreneurial Opportunities) program toured The Journal-News office in downtown Hillsboro on Thursday, Aug. 29, with Publisher Mike Plunkett, pictured above at left. Plunkett explained how the newspaper started in the late 1800s, and how he started with the paper in the 1980s. Over the years, Plunkett has seen journalism transform and change with technology. Maintaining subscriptions is difficult when competing with online media outlets. But as Plunkett put it, "I'm not just writing news articles, I'm writing the history of the community."

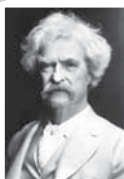

Owner John Galer also shared his insight about the financial responsibilities of owning and operating the newspaper. "If I were to give you one piece of advice, you have to keep track of your cash flow. It is the blood flow at the heart of your business," Galer explained that many good businesses with good products and services go out of business because they struggle to manage their monthly expenses through the difficult seasons. "Being able to consistently pay staff, manage the overhead, cover repairs and buy your raw materials is what keeps a good business going."

'Beard Free' Event Raises Nearly $4,000 For Paxton

Opera House Brewing Company was the place to be on Aug. 16, for the "Beard Free for Charity" event, which raised $3,800 to benefit five-year-old Paxton Sarsany and his family. The fundraiser was organized by Jenny Dunn of Century 21 with help from Jennifer Milanos, and Tony and Jennifer Marcolini provided the space for the event at Opera House Brewing Company. Five lucky participants agreed to shave their beards if each raised at least $500 to help the Sarsany family offset medical expenses. Those shaving their beards included Brandon Greenwood, Lyle Polus, Mike Theriac, JD Combs and SIUE professor Corey Ragsdale. Don Downs served as emcee for the event, and his wife, Gail, did all the hair shaving. Organizers give special thanks to all those who donated to the fundraiser and to the businesses who allowed them to put donation tubs there. Sarsany continues to fight Methylmalonic Acidemia, and in addition to ongoing medical expenses, he is also in need of a liver and kidney transplant to improve his quality of life.

TCCU Opens Registration For Scholarship Program

Student registration in Taylorville Community Credit Union's sixth annual "Stop. SHOP. VOTE!" Scholarship Program has begun, and will run through Friday, Oct. 11.

Eight area high school students will each receive $1,000 awards to continue their education at a trade school, community college or 4-year university.

"The number of $1,000 awards has increased to eight this year, with the recent opening of our new office in Pana," said TCCU President Wil Perkins.

"The program is available to senior students at Taylorville, Hillsboro, Litchfield and Pana high schools who are graduating in May, 2020, and who plan to continue their education. Two students from each of these high schools will receive $1,000 next May."

The winners are determined by votes cast in participating businesses. Shoppers can cast one vote for every $10 they spend at a participating business. Voting will begin in early November and run through February, 2020.

"The program encourages residents to shop locally and support our small business owners. This in turn benefits our communities, because sales tax revenue is kept local," Perkins said.

Registration is fast and easy. Students simply provide the credit union with their name, a good quality photo, their school I.D. is perfect, and a signed parental permission slip. The permission slip is available online at www.taylorvillecommunitycreditunion.com, and in the credit union's four local offices.

Students have until end-of-day Friday, Oct. 11, 2019, to register.

"Each year, we see an increase in the number of students participating, as well as the number of businesses. This really is a community-wide program, all to help our students pursue their dreams," Perkins said.

Families who have a senior student this year, or know a friend or neighbor who have a senior, are encouraged to get those students to register by Friday, Oct. 11. Registration can be completed at any local TCCU office.

Participating businesses in their respective communities will display a poster of registered students' photos, as well as have ballots and ballot boxes on hand.

For more information regarding TCCU's "Stop. SHOP. VOTE!" Scholarship Program, or for students to register, please stop in or call a local TCCU location, 422 W. Main Cross, Taylorville at 217-824-9658; 138 E. Wood St., Hillsboro at 217-532-5300; 801 W. Union Ave., Litchfield at 217-324-7496; 308 S. Poplar St., Pana at 217-562-2516.

TCCU is a not-for-profit financial institution, founded in 1956 to serve the needs of residents throughout the tri-county area of Christian, Shelby and Montgomery counties.

Membership is open to anyone who lives or works within that area.

For more information about how to join or the credit union's full range of services, visit www.taylorvillecommunitycreditunion.com, or any of its local offices.

Camren's Mini Greens

One hole features a Farmer's Oil building, built by Chausse's dad and painted by Julia Crowe. Another will feature the letters of his name as an obstacle for golfers. And still others will feature some of his other hobbies, like fishing and baseball.

Chausse said her dad did most of the woodwork for the course, while two former CEO (Creating Entrepreneurial Opportunities) program students helped out as well with some of the metal hole signs and the landscaping. Some of Neisler's friends built the fishing spot, "Bing Bong's Bait Shop."

Chausse added that C&C Heating in Nokomis created the metal sign for the entrance to the course, and it was painted by Pat Jachino.

"Everywhere I go, people have just donated their time and talents to this cause," Chausse said. "People are very generous."

The nine-hole course will be open the same hours as Shane Cole Park, and a deck box will hold the golf clubs and balls. Chausse said golfers are welcome to bring their own clubs as well, but only putters. They will have cameras installed to deter vandalism as well, and children 12 and under should have an adult golfing with them. Chausse also hopes eventually to have some benches installed near the course.

At the grand reveal this Sunday, there will be a few food vendors starting at noon, and the course will be officially unveiled at 1 p.m. Festivities last until 4 p.m.

Volunteers with Camren's Causes will also be selling Queen of Hearts raffle tickets that day to benefit fundraising efforts for Nokomis Memorial Pool. The first drawing will be Sept. 19, at 7 p.m. at The Depot in Nokomis. Chausse said they plan to continue the drawing to benefit other causes in the future.

For now, she's anxious for some of Neisler's friends to see the hard work at the golf course and hopes the community will enjoy it for many years to come.

"I would like to see families come together and utilize the course," Chausse said. "Hope that the ones who knew Camren will tell stories about him while they golf, because he was really quite a character. We're very excited to have this course in his memory."

Grace Race Raises $13,000

INAD is an ultra-rare genetic disorder affecting around 100 children worldwide. It creates a loss of nerve function leaving children unable to walk and talk, and most do not live to see their tenth birthday.

The event was started by avid runners John and Emily Galer of Alexandria, VA, aunt and uncle of Grace Herschelman.

At the starting line of this year's event, John Galer said there have been a total of more than 1,500 participants in all three races, and a total of $60,000 has been raised for INAD research. Proceeds from this year's race will be donated to the INAD Cure Foundation in honor of Herschelman.

Their donation will continue to support the work of Dr. Paul Kotzbauer at Washington University in St. Louis, MO, who has studied INAD for the past 12 years. Dr. Kotzbauer, along with Lynda Wilcott and Dhruva Dhavale from his lab, attended this year's event. Dr. Kotzbauer thanked the community for its continued support of his work and provided an update on his gene therapy approach to INAD research.

This year's race was officially started by the Ice Queen and the Wayfinder Princess of Britain's Princess Parties in Litchfield, who also provided meet and greet opportunities with young race participants. Ken Meade Photography provided the backdrop for the princesses.

Other family-friendly activities included snow cones from Sweet Addictions, a petting zoo by the Hillsboro High School FFA, face painting with the Topper Art Club, kids' games with the Hillsboro Area Hospital Junior Board and balloon animals and magic tricks with Professor Longhair. Members of the Hillsboro Breakfast Sertoma Club grilled pork patties and the M&M Multisport Club provided this year's starting line, as well as a $300 donation. Thrivent Financial provided water and fruit for runners and Casey's General Store donated water.

"We are so grateful to all of our sponsors for providing funding for this year's event," said Herschelman. "We couldn't do it without them. INAD is a devastating disease, but we are so grateful to everyone who participated or donated to this year's race in celebration of Grace. It was such a special day for our family, and we love you all."

Raymond Board Discusses Proper Lawn Maintenance

Raymond Village Board met at 7 p.m. on Monday, Sept. 2, for a regularly scheduled meeting.

In Streets and Alleys, Trustee Poggenpohl reported two places in Raymond that are having issues with junk accumulation and grass/weeds not being maintained. The board directed letters to be issued to the property owners. Trustee Poggenpohl also mentioned that weeds needed to be sprayed at the Greenwalt building.

In Water and Sewer, Trustee Hough stated that it appears as if muskrats have tunneled through the dam at the southwest corner of the Gun Club. The board discussed the issue at length. In additional news, Trustee Hough reported that Scott Hunt will attend the next meeting to give an update on well #7.

In Police, Officer Grove provided her report for the month of August. The report included warnings against blowing grass clippings onto public highways and village streets. Residents are advised to keep grass clippings off public highways and village streets for everyone's safety. Officer Grove also provided the board with two plans on the purchase of a body camera, which can be funded in part through grants.

In Golf, Trustee Krager stated that the new grass is coming in well. Superintendent Eilerman reported that one of the older mowers may need a new heat exchanger and that he will look into cost.

The board then discussed alternate burn sites.

The meeting was adjourned at 8 p.m.

Born and raised in various Chicago suburbs, Mathien began releasing homemade tracks while in high school, eventually moving his lo-fi production studio into the resident halls of Southern Illinois University in Carbondale.

After much regional success as a live act, he was signed to Midwest Music Group and relocated to Chicago where he embarked on several US tours and recorded three albums.

Hillsboro Library Annexation

The Hillsboro School District territory most notably absent from the new, expanded Hillsboro Area Public Library District is Witt, an area already served by the Witt Township Library. One library district can't snatch territory from another any more than one school district, fire protection district, or any other taxing body can. There are also small parts of the Hillsboro School District to the northwest that are already served by the Doyle Public Library

In need of change, Mathien recorded, "Unique Man" in 2014, and moved to Tennessee, dropping the album as his first independent release since 2006's, "Head Heart and Hands."

The years that followed proved to be exceedingly productive for the artist, releasing several albums and beat tapes including, C.A.L.M., DoWhutNah?!, and The Freedom Tapes, which produced the infectious underground hit "Wurlitzer Crowley," which just hit 1,000,000 plays on Spotify this summer.

Also this summer, Mathien released his latest album "Burn the Friendly."

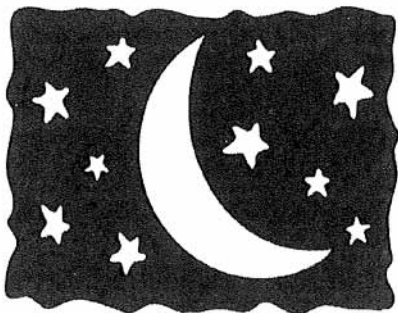

Today, Mathien works as a composer for film and television, while continuing to release albums and perform internationally.

Saturday's show starts at 6 p.m., and guests are encouraged to bring a chair or blanket to sit on, and they may also bring a cooler. Food will also be for sale as Imagine Hillsboro will be grilling out. Merchandise for the Summer in Raymond, and small parts to the northeast that are served by the Nokomis Public Library. The part of the school district that extends into Bond County is also absent from the expanded library district; that decision was made to keep the tax levy from crossing county lines.

Concert Series will also be for sale at a discounted price to help get rid of this year's inventory.

Those who have valid cards from those neighboring library districts—like Witt, Litchfield, Doyle and Greenville—may still borrow from the Hillsboro Public Library and vice versa.

"This is called reciprocal borrowing," Kolb said. "We will ask to make a copy of your card, make sure you are in good standing, then you can check out materials."

Those new to the library district will be able to enjoy the existing programs for pre-K children age 3-5 the second Friday of each month, children grades K-4 on Tuesday the last week of the month, "tweens and teens" the last Thursday of the month, and the adult book club that meets the third Thursday of each month.

Plus, "we will no longer ask for a $2 donation to use the computers," the library director said. Those who need one-on-one assistance doing computer work may call ahead to make an appointment.

Housed in a building that opened on Oct. 10, 1905, the Hillsboro Public Library continues to march toward the future while paying respect to a history that dates back even further.

The Public Library and Reading Room opened on the second floor of the Corner Block Building in downtown Hillsboro on Nov. 14, 1895, but the history of the library really began with the establishment of the Hillsboro Lyceum and Library Association in September 1837 when early community leaders financed the construction of a one-story building on the southeast corner of Main and School to be used as a lyceum and rental library.

That rental-fee-based library eventually moved to the Hillsboro Academy on the same property and ceased to exist when the academy did.

Efforts to establish a free public library began in February 1895 when the Ladies Reading Circle formed the Hillsboro Reading Room and Library Association. They soon raised enough to establish the first free public library, hired Ottie Gannon as first librarian for a salary of $1 a week, and opened on Nov. 14, 1895, for one day a week.

The following spring, the Hillsboro city council agreed to provide financial support up to $500 a year and appointed the first nine library trustees.

Six years later, members of the library board asked and were granted $10,000 from Andrew Carnegie, wealthy steel merchant who had endowed more than 3,000 libraries around the world, to build a new public library. In 1903, the citizens voted to accept the grant and the city council chose the site of the present library at Rountree and School streets.

Fundraising began in 1976 for renovations, and that work was begun in 1979. In recent years, the library has purchased the vacated bank building downtown, become a library district in July 2018, and elected its first trustees on April 2, 2019. Now friends of the library are trying to raise $600,000 to remodel the former bank building into a new home for the library.

Future plans in the new downtown library space include a DVD library, movie nights, special events, and expanded evening and Saturday hours.

"I think our library does want to be a part of the good things that are going on in Hillsboro," Kolb said. "Moving forward, libraries are not only for education, but also for a cultural experience and socializing."

Annual Model A Ford Day Set For Sept. 14

Model A Fords from around the southern Illinois area will cruise into Nokomis for the 11th annual Model A Ford Day on Saturday, Sept. 14. This event is celebrated nationally and encourages Model A drivers to get their beautiful antique vehicles out for a drive and join with other enthusiasts in fun events. Model A drivers are asked to gather at 9:30 a.m. at the Fred B. Johnson Park at 200 S. Spruce Street in Nokomis. There is no registration fee. The first 25 Model A Ford drivers to check-in will receive a dash magnet to memorialize the event. There will be a people's choice award presented at 2 p.m. The award is provided by McKay NAPA Auto Parts in Nokomis. The Model A's will then depart around 2:30 p.m. for home. Model A Fords were built between 1928 and 1931, during the industrial revolution, prior to and after the great American stock market crash.

Many of their cars and trucks are still running, being driven and enjoyed by today's owners. Parts for these old cars are easily available, making this a wonderful hobby. Visitors are welcome to come talk with drivers, learn about the ways Model A Fords were built and be amazed with the technology of the day. Bourne's Seizure Smart Act Coming To Schools

A new law sponsored by State Representative Avery Bourne (R-Raymond), the Seizure Smart Act, will require a plan of action for students who live with epilepsy. "It's important for educators to be able to recognize the signs and symptoms of seizures, and to know what to do if a child experiences a seizure while in their care," said Representative Bourne. "With these plans in place, students will feel safer and both parents and schools can have some peace of mind." House Bill 1475 requires a parent or guardian of a student with epilepsy to submit a seizure action plan with the student's school so they can properly respond to any incidents. A delegated care aide shall perform the activities and tasks necessary to assist a student in accordance with the seizure action plan. In addition, all school employees will receive training in the basics of seizure recognition and first aid. School employees won't be liable for civil or other damages as a result of conduct, other than willful or wanton misconduct, related to the care of a student with epilepsy. Epilepsy is the fourth most common neurological problem and is most likely to onset during childhood. As of 2015, 1.2 percent of the U.S. population has active epilepsy and an estimated 18,600 children under the age of 18 in Illinois have epilepsy. Under the federal Individuals with Disabilities Act (IDEA), public schools are not allowed to place children with disabilities, including epilepsy, in a special education classroom setting away from all other students, just because the student requires special services. HB 1475 goes a step further and also forbids a school district from denying a student access to the school or any school-related activity on the basis that the student has epilepsy. HB 1475 was signed into law on Friday, July 12, and is effective Wednesday, July 1, 2020.

Lincolnwood's Maggie McClelland provides some resistance to Greenfield's Kersty Gibbs during the Lancers' home game on Tuesday, Sept. 3. The Lancers would hold the Tigers to just three service points in the match as they picked up a 25-10, 25-11 win, their third of the season.

Lady Lancers Serve Up Loss To Greenfield-Northwestern

by Kyle Herschelmann

If the Lincolnwood volleyball team plays the way they did on Sept. 3 the rest of the season, it'll be a good year for the Lady Lancers.

Playing on their home court in Raymond, the Lancers' service receive was on point as they allowed just three service points in a two set win over Greenfield-Northwestern on Tuesday night.

Two of the three points came in the opening set, but did little to slow the Lancers' momentum. Time after time, Lincolnwood was able to snuff out a Greenfield rally, with the Lancers leading by double digits for most of the second half of the game before taking a 25-10 win.

In game two, Sidney Glick got the Lancers out to a quick 5-0 start from the service line, with Maggie McClelland knocking down a kill on a free ball in the run.

The streak set the tone for Lincolnwood, who never led by fewer than four points before taking a 25-11 win to improve their record to 3-0.

Glick, McClelland and Avery Pope led Lincolnwood's serving game with eight points apiece, while Lexie Millburg was close behind with six points. McClelland led the team with four aces, while Millburg had two and Glick and Kyra Shull, who had two points, added one ace each.

Defensively, four players had a half dozen digs or more, with Glick leading the way with eight. Cassie Krager would chip in seven, with Madison Krager and Millburg contributing six apiece. Pope would have four digs and one of two Lincolnwood blocks, with Katelyn Payne providing the other.

On the attack, Cassie Krager had six kills, followed by Maggie McClelland with six, Madison Krager with four, Katelyn Payne with three and Avery Pope with one. Pope would lead the team in assists with 14, but four others also dished out helpers to the hitters: Cassie Krager (four), Glick (two), Millburg (one) and McClelland (one).

The Lady Lancers would also pick up a win in the junior varsity contest, beating the Tigers 25-22, 25-15.

Lincolnwood will have a break until their next game, on Sept. 12, at Morrisonville, but the contest with the Mohawks will begin a busy stretch for the Lady Lancers as they play in the Montgomery County Invitational on Sept. 13-14 and the New Berlin Tournament on Sept. 20-21.

Toppers Will Play For Third At Carlinville

After a win and a tie on Saturday in opening round action of the Carlinville Kickoff Classic, the Hillsboro High School boys soccer team returned to Loveless Park Tuesday evening, Sept. 3, to resume pool play, this time against the host Cavaliers.

With crucial points to be had in terms of advancing to a top spot in Pool A, and even then needing a little help in terms of a tiebreaker, the Toppers knew they had work to do against a Cavie team who was much better than their record showed.

Quite simply, the orange and black were in a must win situation if they hoped to even have a whiff at advancing to the championship game on Thursday.

But after 60 minutes of intense soccer, a never say die attitude on the part of the Toppers and two timely goals from senior midfielder Joe Mattson, Hillsboro did what they needed to do, picking up the 2-1 victory and three more points in pool play.

The Toppers, who all season have focused on being patient with the ball and spreading the offense, did just that as they controlled the rock early and looked for quick passing lanes in favor of long, over the top passing. In addition, the ball movement allowed Hillsboro to switch fields on Carlinville very quickly forcing the Cavaliers to play catch up early.

This movement would pay dividends just 2:40 into the first as sophomore forward Ethan Lentz found Mattson just outside the 18 yard box. Mattson would lose the ball on his initial dribble but hard work to recover the handle resulted in a terrific look on frame.

From there, Mattson let his left foot do the work as he let loose with a rocket into the upper 90, giving Hillsboro the early 1-0 lead.

The Toppers would have more chances after the tally, first in terms of a Lentz corner kick that just missed the mark, followed by an arching free kick from freshman Will Christian that the Carlinville keeper was able to corral.

With 14 minutes left in the half, the Cavies would answer though on a bang-bang play that initially appeared to be a shot off of the outside of the net that rolled under and into the goal. It was deemed a goal however and upon review of those involved, it in fact was as the ball rolled just off of the outstretched hands of Hillsboro keeper Shaw Riggs and into the corner of the net.

The Toppers would nearly answer back on their ensuing possession as Bauman took control of the ball at mid-field and put a shot on net. His shot was true, but directly into the waiting hands of the Cavalier keeper who would send it back up the other way.

Hillsboro continued to pepper away at the net with Bauman once again putting a shot on, freshman midfielder Adison Pollard nailing one off of the outside of the net, and Mattson once again creating space and a look on net, but each time the shot would be just over or just wide and the score stayed knotted at 1-1 at the break.

When play resumed in the second, the Toppers were definitely the more aggressive group as they kept the ball in the Cavalier half of the field for much of the opening minutes, but as was the case with the closing minutes of the first half, each time Hillsboro attacked, the Cavaliers were there to stymie the advance.

Finally, with 7:16 left in the contest, the Toppers would strike gold again, this time as senior midfielder Hunter Beecher, using his speed to keep the play alive, found Mattson waiting just inside the 18 yard box.

Beecher would thread the pass past two Carlinville defenders and onto the foot of Mattson, who once again buried his shot giving Hillsboro the 2-1 advantage.

From there, the Toppers went into shutdown mode, tightening up on defense and never allowing the Cavies any more decent looks on net as they held on for the 2-1 win.

The win gave Hillsboro a very much needed three points leaving them with seven total and in a tie with Springfield Lutheran who was idle.

The Toppers followed that win up with another one as they knocked off Athens in a 2-0 shut-out. Ethan Lentz would pick up the first goal for Hillsboro, followed by Wes Stockstill's first career goal to give his team some breathing room.

Despite their unbeaten record in four games at Carlinville, the Toppers have to settle for a shot at third place. Springfield Lutheran, who also went 3-0-1 at Carlinville, will play for first by virtue of the second tie breaker, fewest goals allowed. The Crusaders allowed one goal, to Hillsboro, while the Toppers allowed two goals, one to Hillsboro and one to Carlinville.

The third place game will be at 5:45 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 5, with Hillsboro taking on East Alton-Wood River.

Greenville Gets Past Tennis Toppers In Conference Clash

It was a tough Tuesday for the Hillsboro girls tennis team as the Lady Hiltoppers fell to Greenville 8-1 at the Hillsboro Sports Complex on Sept. 3.

The Toppers' lone win came in singles play, where number five Torrence Clark defeated Emma Siefken 6-0, 6-3. There would be several other close matches, including a three set match between Hillsboro's Chloe Smail and Greenville's Heidi Summers, but Hillsboro would trail 5-1 entering doubles play.

While Greenville would sweep doubles as well, the Toppers' top team of Sheridan Schreiber and Lauren Lucykow challenged the Comets, leading early before falling 12-10 to Sarah Brannon and Summers.

With a loss to Triad added in from last Thursday, the Toppers were 0-3 entering Wednesday's match with Highland. Hillsboro will be back at home on Thursday, Sept. 5, when they take on East Alton-Wood River.

Carlyle Sneaks
Past Lady Toppers
In Two Games

After a three-set loss to Pana in their opening game, the Hillsboro volleyball team was hoping to get back on track on Tuesday, Sept. 3, in Carlyle. Unfortunately, the Indians had other ideas and handed the Lady Hiltoppers an excruciatingly close 25-23, 25-23 loss.

The attack would be a battle between two senior hitters, Hillsboro's Kayli Ward and Carlyle's Molly Diekemper. Ward would put down 12 kills for the Toppers, while Diekemper had 11 kills in Carlyle's winning effort.

Kaci Papin also had four kills for Hillsboro, while Haley Major added one. Reagan DeVashier led the team in assists, with nine, while Jordan Jacobs added four.

Defensively, Ally Devore led the way with five digs, while Maria Hernandez had two digs. Both Ward and Papin had a block apiece for Hillsboro as well.

On the service line, Chloe Beck finished with six points, followed by Major with five and Ward and Devore, who had two each.

Hillsboro will look to rebound on Thursday, Sept. 5, when they travel to Litchfield to take on the Purple Panthers.

'Skins Comeback Falls Short Against Miners

Nokomis' comeback bid came up just short on Tuesday, Sept. 3, as the Lady Redskins fell to Gillespie in three games.

Playing on the Miners' home court, Nokomis dropped the first game 25-10, but rallied to win game two 25-21. Gillespie would regroup though, putting enough pieces together in game three to win 25-12 as the Redskins dropped to 0-3 on the year.

Macee Eisenbarth and Delaney Keiser led a solid defensive effort for the 'Skins with 15 and 14 digs respectively, while Mia Fesser added seven. Sophia Keller and Alex Pavolka also had five digs apiece, while Presley Lamb chipped in four. Closer to the net, Olivia Taylor, Jade Jett and Mia Fesser all had blocks for Nokomis.

On the attack, Lamb had four kills to lead Nokomis, with Eisenbarth and Fesser adding three kills each. Fesser led the team in assists with seven, while Lamb added five dimes.

On the service line, Nokomis would have six aces against Gillespie. Alex Pavolka had half of that total, while Sophia Keller (two) and Macee Eisenbarth (one) had the other three.

Nokomis will be at Shelbyville on Thursday, Sept. 5, for their next game, followed by a trip to the Altamont Tournament on Saturday, Sept. 7.

The Redskins are in Pool B with Vandalia (8:30 a.m.), Cowden-Herrick (10 a.m.) and South Central (11:30 a.m.). Crossover games between the two pools run from 1 p.m. to 3:15 p.m. at the Altamont Grade School and Altamont High School gyms.

Explorers Claim
Victory Over
Purple Panthers

Junior Josey Wahl had ten service points and right side hitter Claire Spain recorded five kills to lead Marquette to a 25-14, 25-11 straight set road win over the Litchfield Panthers on Sept. 3.

It was the fifth win of the season for the Explorers against two losses while the Panthers' record leveled at 1-1 after claiming their season opener against Nokomis on Aug. 29.

Coach Sue Heinz' Marquette Explorers have five seniors in their varsity lineup, with nine juniors and a sophomore. They compete in the Prairie State Conference and finished last year with a 20-13 overall record and went 4-2 in the conference.

Against Marquette, a trio of three players accounted for Litchfield's six kills, led by junior middle hitter Becky Painter with three, followed by Mallory Beechler with two and Cara Pence one.

For Marquette, Spain's effort at the net was supported by Peyton Zigrang with four kills. Abby Williams and Natalie Ellebracht had two apiece and Kristine Lauritzen had one.

In addition to Wahl's ten service points, junior Rachel Heinz served up nine points, followed by Katie Hartsock with four, Delaney Cain and Ellie Jacobs with three each and Ellebracht with two. Junior Rachel Heinz had nine assists in the match while Delaney Cain, who leads the team in digs with 42, dug out ten balls against the Panthers.

Senior Devan Morgan was the service leader for Litchfield with four points, followed by Beechler with three and Jordan Minkevich and Carson Jackson with one each. Morgan also tallied 14 digs with twin sister Jordan turning in eight followed by Kate Komor with seven, Jackson with six, Beechler and Pence with four each and Minkevich with one. D. Morgan also recorded five assists.

The junior varsity would also fall to the Explorers, but would stretch them out to three sets with scores of 22-25, 25-12 and 25-11.

The Panthers will enjoy home court advantage this evening when they host Hillsboro, who are in search of their first win after dropping their season opener at home against Pana on August 27, and losing a two set squeaker at Carlyle on September 3.

Lynch Brothers Race At Macon, Fayette County Tracks

The Lynch Motorsports team made stops in Macon and Brownstown over the last few weeks as the racing season continues for the brothers from Hillsboro.

Brady Lynch would race in the pro-modified class at Macon on Aug. 24, finishing sixth in his heat. In the feature, Lynch would start 12th and move up two spots to finish in tenth for the night. Mt. Olive's Tim Hancock, Sr., would win the feature race.

On Sept. 1, both Brady and Nathan Lynch would race at the Fayette County Speedway in Brownstown, although it would be a tough night for both.

With more than 40 cars in the field, Brady would finish sixth in his heat, moving him to the B Main. There he would be collected in a wreck and would finish ninth.

Nathan had similar luck after doing well in the heat race, moving up from ninth to third. In the feature, the 14N would also be hit, breaking an axle and ending the night early.

SCHOLAR-ATHLETE of the Month

Caroline Quarton

Parents: Dr. Brian & Lori Quarton

Sports: Cross Country & Track

Litchfield High School senior Caroline Quarton has been on the run for a good portion of the last nine years... in the best way possible. Following in the footsteps of her parents, who are avid runners, and sisters, Victoria and Alexandria, who were also standouts for LHS, Quarton made an immediate impact at both the middle school and high school levels in track and cross country.

As a freshman, she helped the Panthers to a regional title, a fifth place finish at sectionals and a 12th place finish at the cross country state tournament, then went on to set a new school record with her teammates in the 4x400. She was no slouch as a sophomore either as she placed fourth individually at the cross country regional and made it to state again in track, this time in the 4x800, where the Panthers finished ninth. While an injury limited her time on the track last year, Quarton still made her mark in cross country, placing fifth individually and helping the Panthers to another regional crown.

Her athletic pursuits aren't the only place where Quarton is following her family's lead. After graduation she plans to go to a university to major in biology, with medical school the next stop in her path to a career in medicine, a field that has already won over her father (a doctor) and sisters, who are in nursing.

Each month a Litchfield High School student-athlete is selected as the ApexNetwork Physical Therapy Scholar-Athlete of the Month based on their excellence both on the playing fields and in the classroom.

Out & About

4B - Thursday, September 5, 2019

Calvary Baptist Will Expand Outreach With New Service

Calvary Baptist Church recently announced that they will expand into offering an evening worship service.

Starting on Sunday, Sept. 8, the Hillsboro-based church will hold evening worship services, at 6:15 p.m. at the church. The evening addition will be a full worship service, led by a new worship team with Pastor Jeff Hemken delivering the sermons.

"We realize that a traditional Sunday morning service does not fit easily into everyone's lives," said Calvary Baptist Pastor Jeff Hemken. "The evening services are designed specifically for people who desire to be part of a church family but can not attend a typical morning service. Everyone in the community is welcome to join us."

For more information contact Calvary Baptist Church at 217-532-3035, Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Calvary Baptist is located at 1001 Rountree Street in Hillsboro.

St. Paul's Planning Rummage Sale

St. Paul's Lutheran Church will hold a rummage sale in the church basement, located on the Courthouse Square in Hillsboro on Friday, Sept. 13, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Saturday, Sept.

14, from 8 a.m. to noon. Use the south basement entrance.

There will be a large variety of items, including toys, electronics, household items and books.

Health Foundation Receives Donation For Purse Auction

Montgomery Nursing and Rehabilitation Center (MNRC) of Hillsboro donated two bags to Hillsboro Area Hospital Health Foundation's annual Purse Auction. The navy blue Michael Kors bag and dark turquoise Coach bag will be up for auction at the much-anticipated event, which will be held at the Event Center of Montgomery County on Thursday, Nov. 7. The proceeds from this year's Purse Auction will benefit Youth Emotional Well-Being. Above, from the left, are MNRC Administrator Carla Vonda Haar, HAH Health Foundation Chair Barb Hewitt and MNRC Admissions Coordinator Tammy Richmond.

Bob Price Memorial Golf Fundraiser Set For Sept. 27

The seventh Annual Bob Price Memorial Scholarship Golf Fundraiser will be held on Friday, Sept. 27, at Timber Lakes Golf Course in Staunton.

In addition to a day on the golf course, the fun-filled event features a gun/cash raffle, 50/50 drawing, silent auction, contests, prizes and cash payouts. Those interested in signing up to golf or making a donation may contact Ginger Barnes at 217-825-9175. Donations may also be directed to the Bob Price Memorial Scholarship at the First National Bank of Raymond.

Genealogical Society To Host Free Presentation At Library

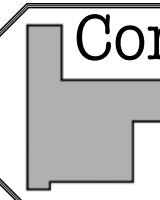

The Montgomery County Genealogical Society will host historian Tom Emery at 2 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 15. Due to the high turn outs for Emery's past presentations, the free lecture will be held at the Litchfield Public Library's conference room, located at 1205 South State Street. Guests are asked to enter through the North door.

The award winning author will speak about the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC), one of the hallmark New Deal programs of the Great Depression. Considered one of the most successful government programs in American history, the CCC put millions of young men to work in parks, forestry and soil conservation. Emery will lecture on the importance of the CCC, the CCC's impact in Illinois, the importance of CCC men in World War II and the lasting legacy of the CCC.

For more information about the free presentation call 217-313-1919 and leave a message.
