

What's with all the turkeys?

How wild turkeys have surged on Long Island

BY GLENN ROHRBACKER

The last of the native wild turkeys living in New York disappeared in 1848. But in 1948, a small group of turkeys from Pennsylvania crossed the border into this state and decided to stay — setting up the first of New York's modern-day turkey population.

Around 1959, the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation began moving around 1,400 turkeys around New York, into areas where they had once thrived. Wild turkeys had been abundant in the state until settlers made their way across the land, clearing wooded areas for farming. Around the time turkeys disappeared from New York, about 63 percent of the state was farmland, according to the DEC. And according to a 2005 report, New York sent nearly 800 turkeys to Vermont, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Connecticut, Minnesota, Rhode Island, Delaware and the Province of Ontario, helping to re-establish populations throughout the Northeast and Midwest.

Though turkeys spent decades in the state, the DEC brought about 75 of them to Long Island — specifically to South Haven County Park and to Hither Hills State Park — between 1992 and 1994. The program was able to re-establish wild turkeys because the environment was more suitable for their survival. They've done more than survive: There were an estimated 3,000 in 2009 and there are now estimated to be 6,000. Overall, however, turkey populations have declined statewide, to 180,000 today from 250,000 to 300,000 in 2001.

HABITAT

Turkeys have repopulated so rapidly on the island mainly due to the ideal conditions for them to live. When land once used for farming was abandoned and repopulated with brush and woodlands, the suitable habitat for turkeys was re-established.

Young turkeys, called poults, are preyed upon heavily by mink, weasels, domestic dogs, coons and cording

Their coyotes, racskunks, according to the DEC. only defense against predators is the ability to scatter and hide in a frozen state until the mother considers it safe again. About 60 to 70 percent of the poults die within a month of hatching. Adult birds are preyed on by foxes, bobcats, coyotes and great-horned owls.

HUNTING

In 2009, New York State allowed the hunting of turkeys under restrictions. Hunting is split into the spring and the fall seasons. In May there is a small window of hunting, which is "designed to have little or no impact on the population," according to the DEC. "Since this season occurs after most of the hens have mated, the females continue to nest and produce a new generation of wild turkeys." In Suffolk County, the fall hunting season is from Nov. 16 to Nov. 29. ■

You can help to monitor the Suffolk County wild turkey population by visiting www.dec.ny.gov.

These turkeys were spotted by Eric Lane of East Islip.

Annette and Thomas Weir found these turkeys on Bay 2nd. Annette said it was a first for them, but she has heard they hangout the Estates and Seatuck down the block.

Happy Thanksgiving!

We're taking some time this Thanksgiving to talk about the turkeys not on your kitchen table—wild turkeys. The population of wild turkeys on Long Island, mainly Suffolk County, has surged since they were reintroduced in the early 1990s. The photo of the turkey to the left was taken by local photographer Kerry Bruno of West Islip, in a neighborhood right outside Heckscher State Park. See left to learn more and bring some turkey knowledge to your Thanksgiving table.

Transplant recipient meets donor's daughter

It was a special moment at Long Island MacArthur Airport Friday, when a heart transplant recipient met the donor's daughter for the first time. Long Island resident Raymond Miehl, 62, met Ashley Brayton of Ohio, whose father's heart now beats in his chest, after she exited the gate from her Southwest Airlines flight. Brayton's father, Ronnie Davis, died on March 1, 2016 at the age of 46. On March 3, 2016, Miehl received his heart. The families first contacted each other two years ago, and have been planning this meeting for more than a year. "I say you can't take your organs to heaven, so you might as well give somebody a fighting chance that might not otherwise have one," said Brayton. Miehl expressed his gratitude and vowed to honor her father's memory by taking care of his health. "We were very grateful and thankful that there's somebody still going with her father, that she knows that her father is still going and that he's living still. And I'm taking care of it as much as I can and as good as I can," said Miehl. "I would definitely ask people to donate. My wife is a donor, my daughter's a donor. I don't know if I could be, but if I could, I would definitely be a donor. And I think that people would definitely benefit from other people being donors," he added. The families plan to maintain contact.

Santa's coming to brunch

Hosted by Kiwanis Club of the Islips-Bay Shore, it's scheduled to begin at noon on Sunday, Dec. 15

BY RANDALL WASZYNSKI

Switching from breakfast to a brunch this year, the third annual Santa Brunch Buffet features attractive raffle prizes, gifts upon entry, a DJ, and of course, a visit from Santa Claus. The brunch, hosted by Kiwanis Club of the Islips-Bay Shore, is scheduled to begin at noon on Sunday, Dec. 15 at Marconi Manor on Moffitt Boulevard in Islip hamlet.

The Chinese auction features two feature prizes: a television-PlayStation 4 bundle as well as an Amali wine and food class in New York City, each valued at $650 and $1,500, respectively.

Tickets are $22 for adults and $12 for children, and children 6 years old and younger have free entry. Tickets can be bought at the door or by emailing sandyflandina@hotmail.com.

Proceeds are slated to benefit Kiwanis charitable efforts. Organizer Sandy Flandina said about 100 people will attend the brunch, which offers eggs, sandwiches, wraps, desserts, cake and more.

Everyone attending is also encouraged to contribute an item for the Toys for Kids toy drive. An unwrapped toy for a child of any age is suitable.

Kiwanis has set up 16 boxes for toy donations in locations all around Islip Town. The toys will be sorted, and then, on Dec. 18 through the end of the season, the toys will be distributed.

For the third straight year, original Kiwanis charter member Rich Albrecht will play Santa for the event. Albrecht represents Albrecht Bruno O'Shea Funeral Home, which is a sponsor for the Santa Brunch Buffet. Other sponsors include Atlantic Automall, Hassett Automotive, Good Samaritan and Mary's Pizza and Pasta. ■

The Santa Brunch Buffet on Sunday, Dec. 15 at Marconi Manor on Moffitt Boulevard in Islip Hamlet, will benefit Kiwanis' charitable efforts.

As part of Small Business Saturday, Bay Shore Beautification Society and the Chamber of Commerce of Greater Bay Shore co-host the annual Winter Festival that brings together many holiday-themed events while giving festival-goers the opportunity to shop and stroll down Main Street. Festivities begin at 3:30 p.m. and will wrap up around 5 p.m.

shell, followed by performances by both Fifth Avenue and sixth-grade choirs. Make a point to take advantage of the opportunity to carol with neighbors.

Santa Claus and Frosty the Snowman are scheduled to arrive by fire truck on Main Street. Once it begins to get dark, the Christmas tree and menorah lightings will occur simultaneously. Refreshments for the event will be supplied by Bay Shore Teachers Association and The Penny Pub.

As this is a Beautification Society-sponsored event, Light the Night kits will be on sale, too. (Reminder: Light the Night is on Dec. 8.) ■ for 1,4-dioxane and the perfluorinated compounds PFOS and PFOA in anticipation of New York State's pending regulation of the contaminants.

The regulation of 1,4-dioxane at 1 part per billion and PFOS and PFOA at 10 parts per trillion, recommended last year by the New York State Drinking Water Quality Council, is expected to be announced by state officials at any time. When the regulations are established, SCWA will need to put into service 56 new advanced oxidation process treatment systems and 20 granular activated carbon systems. The cost of installing and operating those systems is expected to exceed $177,000,000 over the next five to six years.

"Our mission is to provide our customers high-quality water that is constantly tested at the lowest possible cost," said SCWA chairman Patrick Halpin. "When the state takes action to remove 1,4-dioxane, PFOS and PFOA from Long Island's groundwater, SCWA will be ready to continue to fulfill that mission."

"As we've said since state officials first began considering the regulation of 1,4-dioxane and perfluorinated compounds, we fully support taking whatever measures are necessary to ensure our customers continue to have a drinking water supply that is among the best in the country," added SCWA chief executive officer Jeffrey W. Szabo. "But, as we've also said, these regulations come at a high cost. We need the funds that will be raised by the quarterly fee to develop the treatment systems to meet the new standards."

SCWA has proactively addressed 1,4-dioxane, PFOS and PFOA for years, testing for the compounds before being required to do so and, in the case of 1,4-dioxane, developing the first AOP treatment system approved for use by New York State; that system is already in operation at an SCWA well field in Central Islip. SCWA has also taken proactive measures to hook up residents using private wells impacted by PFOS and PFOA to public water in numerous communities.

SCWA also initiated litigation in two separate actions against the manufacturers responsible for polluting Long Island's groundwater with 1,4-dioxane, PFOS and PFOA, seeking to recover the costs of treating contaminated water to remove the chemicals from SCWA wells. Resolution of those cases, though, could take years, and SCWA needs to install treatment now. Therefore, it needs to obtain treatment costs from the new fee.

The PFOA/PFOS complaint charges that the 3M Company, Buckeye Fire Equipment Company, Chemguard Inc., Tyco Fire Products LP and National Foam Inc. knew or should have known that the firefighting foam they made, distributed or sold is dangerous to human health and contains unique characteristics that cause extensive and persistent environmental contamination. The 1,4-dioxane complaint includes the same claims against Dow Chemical Company, Ferro Corporation, Vulcan Materials Corporation, Proctor & Gamble and Shell Oil Company in regard to their products—primarily industrial degreasers, laundry detergents and other household products.

SCWA in 2019 has also submitted 12 applications for state grant funding under the Water Infrastructure Improvement Act to mitigate the cost of developing 17 AOP treatment systems at SCWA well fields.

Care! Share! Give!

Over the past few weeks, there have been spirited Thanksgiving turkey drives taking place all over our reader area. But the holidays aren't over. The drives to collect food baskets are still underway. Consider donating to them, not just because this is the season of generosity, but also because it's disturbing to know so many people are in need of help.

It might be difficult to imagine the number of people on Long Island that go without a daily warm meal. And it's even more incomprehensible that so many of them are children. But according to the Long Island Cares website (www.licares.org), there are 89,030 children on Long Island that are at risk for hunger. Shocking.

Here are some other alarming statistics: Approximately 283,700 people on Long Island receive emergency food every year. Of those people receiving assistance, 39 percent are the aforementioned children who are under the age of 18 and are pretty much at the mercy of others to help rectify that situation.

A large percentage (70 percent) of the hungry on Long Island are from minority populations. The homeless (6 percent) and senior citizen (4 percent) populations are suffering as well. And remarkably, 48 percent of those who must receive emergency food are considered "working poor": those who have jobs, but still cannot make ends meet. Too often, these families must choose between eating, paying rent or paying a household utility. That just doesn't seem right.

Fixing the problem is a monumental task that is difficult for one person to consider. However, every person can do their part toward making a difference with either a monetary donation to a large organization such as LI Cares or just donating food to a local food pantry; most of them are set up in church outreach programs. But it'll take many caring individuals to make an impact. So hopefully, many people will care enough to make that commitment at this generous time of year and all year long, too. It's the right thing to do.

OP-ED

Nitrogen in New York State

Nitrogen in New York State: The great evil incarnate on Long Island ... Not really!

The atmosphere is 79% nitrogen. Nitrogenous bases are a key component of the amino acids that compose DNA. Nitrogen in nitrate form is an essential nutrient for all plant growth. The nitrogen cycle's dependence on nitrogen-loving soil microbes allows for a natural organic wastes' transformative nature by soil, air and water, into plant growth, and Earth functions for which all life depends!

So why over the last two decades, especially the last five years on Long Island, has nitrogen received a bad rap? Excess nitrogen in estuarine waters does spur on photosynthetic activity; the foundational process of trophic structure associated with coastal estuarine marine food chains fostering one of the most productive ecosystems on Earth!

In 2009 a distinguished scientist published a Nature Conservancy-funded report which modeled the nitrogen distribution on Long Island the main component of the New York State Marine District under NYSDEC identifying the contributions of nitrogen to coastal waters as Wastewaters, Agriculture, Lawn-care Fertilizer Runoff and Atmospheric. The report was embraced by the environmental community and prompted a review and monitoring by Suffolk County of groundwater well data. If the level 10ppm threshold did exist over the groundwater threshold, the well source would need to be closed. Wastewaters from sewage treatment plants contribute a good portion of the organic oxygen demanding wastes to our coastlines. New York State, as all states across the country in response to the 1972 Federal Clean Water Act, instituted a permit system for all sewage treatment plants, the State Pollution Discharged Elimination System or SPDES, which requires sewage treatment operators to maintain a goal of better than 95% efficiency in the removal of biologically demanding waste and zero discharge of coliform bacteria that can contain pathogens.

In the United States today, the most effective control or restriction on the unrelenting concentrated urban development or sprawl is the carrying capacity control provided by local zoning requirements and the acceptable level of treatment provided through home septic sewage systems. These independent sewage treatment systems are reliant upon a complex of soil microbiological processes which are limited by volume and concentration of wastes per acre. Most of Long Island is connected to sewage treatment plants and monitored by the SPDES permit system. Suffolk County, however, had a large majority of lands in agricultural; potato farms, duck farms, vineyards and turf farms, which over the years have been sold off for housing. Today over 390,000 households are persistently noted in the media as having "aging septic systems contributing nitrogen to ground waters, and ultimately the estuary" are the only line of defense in preventing large-scale developments which ultimately result in further loss of open spaces and continued pressure on natural ecosystems from urban sprawl.

Carefully managed septic systems, which are low in cost, require minimal maintenance and can be highly beneficial without harming ground water aquifers. They can recharge the aquifer and are especially effective in low-density areas where public sewers are neither available nor feasible.

So, the politically correct mantra for the last eight years has been that septic systems leak and are the major factor contributing nitrogen to rivers, groundwater, estuaries and bays contributing to "massive (and hazardous) algal blooms, fish kills and degraded water quality." Peter Scully, the "Nitrogen Czar" for Suffolk County, recently stated, "Suffolk County will probably never see sewage systems as originally planned" and has identified replacing septic systems of those 390,000 Suffolk County families, as the number one priority. So ingrained in the policy and practices of government is this mantra, that state agencies have followed suit and pronounced the "gargantuan effort needed to reduce nitrogen." Yet, since 2012 with the impact of Sandy on infrastructure on Long Island, almost 10,000 new housing units and their wastewater treatment systems have been completed (and 10,000 more are proposed). "Mini-sewage treatment" systems being provided is total folly epitomized by a Suffolk County "lottery" for a new septic system. Winners pay upward of $25,000 to have these new, "more efficient" systems installed. Here is an answer to a major environmental issue "hiding in plain sight." The solution has existed for over 100 years. Septic systems are very effective systems when properly maintained.

The environmental correctness of "evil nitrogen" gets another jolt of support when "massive fish kills are reported" and immediately, almost reflexively, are blamed on "nitrogen from leaking septic systems." All fish kill events on Long Island in 2015, 2016 and 2017 were natural responses to a domino series of physical and biological phenomenon. When the boom or bust population explosion of the herbivorous fish planktivory's called "bunker" occur (Menhaden, Brevoortia tyrannus) coupled with predatory species (Striped Bass and Blue Fish) in a seasonal feeding frenzy, chasing their prey into inlets and built structures such as marinas and community canals, the result was a cascading decline in oxygen, further suffocating millions of fish. There was absolutely no direct cause of all these fish kills over the last two years by sewage, septic systems, or nitrogen specifically! Scientists did note recently that major precipitation events of nitrogen out of the atmosphere into runoff was experienced recently in the Northeast USA contributing to eutrophication resulting in natural algal blooms in coastal waters (Sinha et al. 2017). The bottom line is that this is a natural carrying capacity result of local waters that is an ephemeral nuisance. The persistent predominance of the anti-nitrogen message, blaming everything mostly on septic systems in the media and perpetuated by Long Island conservation groups, is distressing and unfortunately extraordinarily misdiagnosed.

Barry Commoner, the environmental conservationist icon noted to me once that "many environmental groups can be environmentally conscious and appear concerned about the environment and yet be incredibly wrong." I am afraid that this is the paradigm for Long Island presently. A Long Island Nitrogen Action Plan, which was established to "identify sources of nitrogen to surface waters and groundwater, establish nitrogen reduction endpoints and develop an implementation plan to achieve reductions," is based in the majority upon the woefully inadequate scientific track record on wastewater management and a meager level of open discussion on the "septic system threat." To add insult to injury, the Long Island Regional Planning Council has sought "participants in collecting, analyzing and reporting on water quality data for Nassau County Surface waters" to be evaluated in order to focus on the pre-conceived "future nitrogen load reduction measures including new and expanding sewerage, replacement of cesspools and septic systems with innovative/advanced onsite wastewater treatment systems," a mystical incantation that continues to avoid the main cause of significant impacts to the coastal ecosystem health on Long Island: overdevelopment. The bias against septic systems is too overpowering to change course, I am afraid. Only the independent homeowner can make the difference. Their path to environmental protection is to have an economic incentive, rather than misinforming them into paying the freight for septic system "upgrades." Their buy-in for environmental protection and restoration must not be burdensome. An economic relief from government by incentivizing self-maintenance of septic systems will be better for Long Island and all its residents in the long run. It could be the proper example for the entire nation to follow.

Holiday shopping: How to prepare and what to know

Before we know it, it's Thanksgiving and with Thanksgiving comes three things: food, family and shopping. The tradition of Black Friday, which gained momentum as a retail holiday in the mid-1980s, takes place the day after Thanksgiving and marks the occasion when consumers annually take advantage of retailers' limited time, large-scale sales and offers. In fact, according to the National Retail Federation, an estimated 135.8 million Americans plan to shop over the Thanksgiving weekend and today that means, taking advantage of many great holiday deals.

We asked two local experts, Westfield South Shore Mall and Bethpage Federal Credit Union, what tips they could share on how to prepare for this big shopping holiday weekend. Here's what they had to say.

Prior to Thanksgiving, Westfield South Shore Mall marketing director Vanessa Mitton said the best thing you can do to prepare yourself is to plan ahead and do your homework.

"We recommend that shoppers pay a visit to the stores they plan to shop at prior to Thanksgiving weekend. It's very important that shoppers know the regular price of the item before it goes on sale so that they know exactly how much money they will be saving, if anything at all," she said.

Store websites are also a good way to do some research. Jessica Lucas, community development relationship manager with Bethpage Federal Credit Union, said to always set a budget before you go shopping. Research shows that this first step actually helps shoppers not spend more than they can afford.

Once you've chosen what you want to purchase, Lucas said that the safest payment method is paying with a debit card.

"Paying by debit card allows you to set a limit on the total amount you want to spend, knowing how much you already have in your account, plus you can easily track all of your spending," she said.

Lucas also said that this method of paying also allows you to not worry about incurring interest charges on purchased items, and you are also less likely to lose your debit card while shopping versus cash. If a credit card is your payment method of choice, Bethpage's Lucas said not to make purchases on credit cards that can't be paid off in one or two months. "Not paying credit card balances off in full will lead to interest charges on those purchases, leading you to go over budget and spend more on your purchases."

Mitton said families shopping with children on Black Friday should plan out their day. "If you want to take your young children shopping with you, be realistic about how much time they can remain in their stroller or walk around before they get tired," she explained. "Parents shopping with overtired or antsy children understandably have trouble focusing and making purchase decisions. Give children a break and some time to recharge. Many shopping destinations have lounge areas like our family lounge or children's play area."

When shopping online, "Always shop on trusted websites that have a privacy policy and from trusted vendors," said Lucas. "Third- or fourth-party shopping sites can often lead to unauthorized transactions." ■

Open on Thanksgiving

Offering holiday meals and special menus

BY RANDALL WASZYNSKI

Fixing a Thanksgiving meal may not be your desired course of action this year. And that is all right because there are several restaurants open on the holiday offering special menus.

Tellers, Islip

Come down to Main Street for a great time and feast at Tellers, offering a three-course special Thanksgiving Meal: butternut squash bisque for starters; herb-roasted turkey, brussel sprouts, giblet gravy, croissant, Granny Smith apple stuffing and cranberry relish for the entree; a green bean casserole side dish with truffle butter, breadcrumbs and mushrooms; and a pumpkin pie dessert with cranberry sauce and toasted marshmallows.

The Lakehouse, Bay Shore

Enjoy your holiday meal at the end of Maple Avenue in a warm and festive atmosphere. The Lakehouse will be offering a special Thanksgiving entree, as well as the regular dinner menu.

Dang BBQ, Islip

Dang BBQ on Islip Avenue is offering two large entrees, four sides and a slew of other fixings to feed a party of 12 to 15 people. Smoked and roast turkeys, sliced turkey breast, various chicken options, ham, pork loin, pulled pork, pot roast, ribs, brisket, skirt steak and prime rib make up the different options, of which two are chosen. Choose four sides among: various potato sides, cornbread stuffing, macaroni and cheese, baked beans and various vegetable sides. Additional fixings that come along with the other selections include tossed garden salad, homemade butternut squash and apple soup, cheddar corn muffins and butter, cranberry relish and pumpkin pie. Paper plates, napkins and utensils are also provided complementarity.

For those who need a meal

There are also donation events accepting food items through the morning on Thanksgiving.

Love and Mercy Church, Bay Shore

Love and Mercy Church in Bay Shore invites all those in need to the annual Thanksgiving Meal. There will be two seatings — 12 and 3 p.m. — that will serve turkey (of course), mashed potatoes, vegetables, all the side dishes provided and all desserts. Those who would like to cook or donate food items can bring them to the church on Union Boulevard on Thanksgiving morning between 9 a.m. and 12 p.m. The event is open to the homeless, those less fortunate, the elderly and anyone who does not have anyone to spend the holiday with.

Bay Shore-Brightwaters Rescue Ambulance

The organization's youth squad has been at the forefront of the initiative to collect and distribute donated turkeys provided by ShopRite and Stop n' Shop customers who receive complimentary turkeys for their patronage. Matt Phillips, the cadet advisor for the youth squad, said a budget through the department for this event exists, and for the last few years, has been used to buy frozen pies to also donate to the needy. St. Patrick's Church in Bay Shore has also been in conjunction with the initiative the last few years. Phillips also mentioned that anyone who is eager to contribute in some way but does not have a turkey, other donatable food or the time to spare to volunteer for the event will be able to submit cash donations. ■

October 21, 2013. The mortgage was subsequently assigned to Nationstar Mortgage LLC DBA Champion Mortgage Company by an assignment executed on July 19, 2019 and recorded on August 7, 2019 in the Office of the Suffolk County Clerk at Book M0023049, Page 488. HELP FOR HOMEOWNERS IN FORECLOSURE NEW YORK STATE LAW REQUIRES THAT WE SEND YOU THIS NOTICE ABOUT THE FORECLOSURE PROCESS. PLEASE READ IT CAREFULLY. SUMMONS AND COMPLAINT YOU ARE IN DANGER OF LOSING YOUR HOME. IF YOU FAIL TO RESPOND TO THE SUMMONS AND COMPLAINT IN THIS FORECLOSURE ACTION, YOU MAY LOSE YOUR HOME. PLEASE READ THE SUMMONS AND COMPLAINT CAREFULLY. YOU SHOULD IMMEDIATELY CONTACT AN ATTORNEY OR YOUR LOCAL LEGAL AID OFFICE TO OBTAIN ADVICE ON HOW TO PROTECT YOURSELF. SOURCES OF INFORMATION AND ASSISTANCE The state encourages you to become informed about your options in foreclosure. In addition to seeking assistance from an attorney or legal aid office, there are government agencies and non-profit organizations that you may contact for information about possible options, including trying to work with your lender during this process. To locate an entity near you, you may call the toll-free helpline maintained by the New York State Department of Financial Services at 1-800-342-3736 or the Foreclosure Relief Hotline 1-800-269-0990 or visit the department's website at WWW.DFS.NY.GOV. RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS YOU ARE NOT REQUIRED TO LEAVE YOUR HOME AT THIS TIME. YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO STAY IN YOUR HOME DURING THE FORECLOSURE PROCESS. YOU ARE NOT REQUIRED TO LEAVE YOUR HOME UNLESS AND UNTIL YOUR PROPERTY IS SOLD AT AUCTION PURSUANT TO A JUDGMENT OF FORECLOSURE AND SALE. REGARDLESS OF WHETHER YOU CHOOSE TO REMAIN IN YOUR HOME, YOU ARE REQUIRED TO TAKE CARE OF YOUR PROPERTY AND PAY PROPERTY TAXES IN ACCORDANCE WITH STATE AND LOCAL LAW. FORECLOSURE RESCUE SCAMS

Be careful of people who approach you with offers to "save" your home. There are individuals who watch for notices of foreclosure actions in order to unfairly profit from a homeowner's distress. You should be extremely careful about any such promises and any suggestions that you pay them a fee or sign over your deed. State law requires anyone offering such services for profit to enter into a contract which fully describes the services they will perform and fees they will charge, and which prohibits them from taking any money from you until they have completed all such promised services. § 1303

"Light The Night" has been a long standing tradition in the Bay Shore community in which Islip expanded a few years back. The event has been dedicated to bringing the community together for one night to show unity and togetherness. We would like this years "Light The Night" event to be in memory of those we held close to our hearts and community, in addition to celebrating the joy of the holiday seasons that are upon us.

Block Captains:
We are also looking for "Block Captains" to help coordinate sales on your individual block or area/neighborhood. Sign up online through our website: www.islipchamberofcommerce.org

Luminary Kits:
Light The Night luminary kits are made available through SKILLS UNLIMITED, a vocational training center for disabled adults. They prepare and package the kits and the Chamber purchases them direct. Each kit includes the materials to put together 10 luminary bags. You can decorate the plain white bags with special thoughts or pictures, or simply prepare and light them as they are. A wonderful opportunity to be creative and bring personal meaning to the evening.

Purchasing Kits:
Kits can be purchased online on the Islip Chamber of Commerce website or walk in purchases are accepted at any of the following locations:

Good Mojo Printing 169 Islip Avenue, Islip, NY 11751
Nook & Cranny 469 Main Street, Islip, NY 11751

El lacrosse players commit to play in college

Four terrific East Islip High School senior girls lacrosse players – Hannah Calarco, Alexa Fusco, Alyssa Levy and Rachel Schlesinger – signed national letters of intent on Nov. 13, committing to continue their athletic careers next fall in college.

Calarco, who plays midfield/attack, will attend Coastal Carolina University in Conway, S.C., where she plans to major in physical education. An Honor Roll student, she has been on the varsity lacrosse team for four years, was named a Scholar-Athlete and earned 2019 All-County honorable mention. Calarco also played for the Legacy travel lacrosse team.

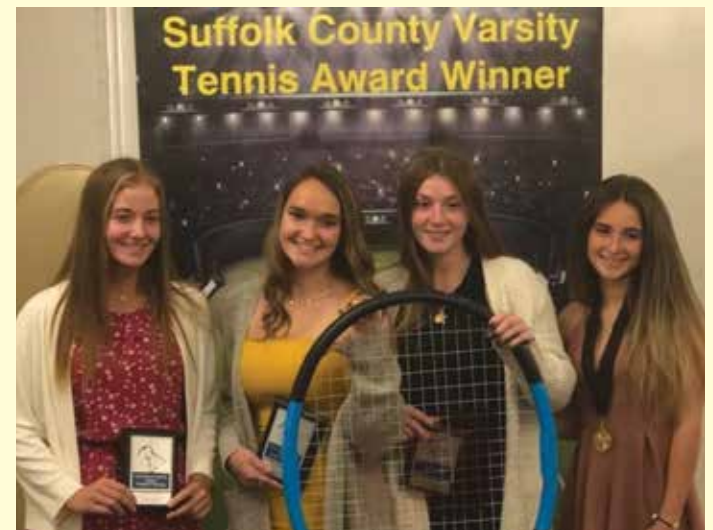

Fusco, a middle defender, will play for Long Island University team, where she will major in mathematics and secondary education. A member of the varsity team since her freshman year, Fusco earned All-Division honors for the last two years and the Suffolk Zone award. A multi-sport athlete, she played on the varsity basketball team for three years as well as the varsity soccer team for all four years, earning All-Division and All-County honors in the latter sport. Fusco serves as president of the school's Girls Leaders Club and vice president of the Foreign Language National Honor Society, and is a member of its National Honor Society, Yearbook Club and symphony orchestra.

Levy, who plays attack, will attend Brown University in Providence, R.I. She is undecided on a malor. A lacrosse player since prekindergarten, Levy has been on the varsity team all four years of high school, earning All-County honors twice as well as All-County honorable mention. She also played for three years on El's varsity field hockey team, earning All-County honors twice as well as All-Division and All-Tournament honors; on the school's basketball team for one year; and for the Legacy travel lacrosse team since seventh grade. Levy is a member of the school's National Honor Society, Foreign Language National Honor Society, Girls Leaders Club and Yearbook Club.

Schlesinger, a goalie, signed with Rollins University in Winter Park, Fla., where she plans to study pre-med and major in biology. A four-year varsity lacrosse starter, she earned All-Division honors. As an athlete, Schlesinger earned Scholar-Athlete and High Minds in Motion awards and was also a member of both the East Islip varsity swim team and Legacy lacrosse travel team since seventh grade. She is a member of the school's SADD club and Key Club.

"It has been an incredible experience watching this group develop as athletes," said Steven Levy, East Islip's varsity girls head coach. "I have had the pleasure of being in the front row throughout their careers. They are a special group of athletes, students and members of our community."

West Islip High School tennis players recognized

Four West Islip High School girls varsity tennis players were recently recognized by the Suffolk County Girls Tennis Coaches Association. Kaitlyn Fleckner, Isabella Fortunato and Alexandra Michaluk were named All-League athletes, and Shannon Edgley was honored with a sportsmanship award.

School News

There's always something exciting happening in our local school districts. Here are a few of the highlights from the past few weeks.

BAY SHORE

about Johnny Appleseed and created projects based on his story.

Students at Gardiner Manor School, celebrated "Start with Hello" week, where they learned about making friends and having empathy for others.

Honoring the vets

Members of the Student Council at Bay Shore High School created a fitting tribute to our nation's veterans for Veterans Day by placing flags on the lawn outside of the high school in honor of those who served.

EAST ISLIP

Showcasing art students

At East Islip High School, students' photography, electronic illustration, and studio in art artwork were recently showcased at the East Islip Public Library; National Art Honor Society student Michael Kilbourne curated the event.

Sen. Martinez talks to Connetquot second graders

State Sen. Monica Martinez recently visited Connetquot Elementary School to speak to Melissa Love's second-grade class about her job as a senator and how to make good decisions.

Sheriff's Department presents fourth grader with award

A Suffolk County Sheriff's Department representative recently visited Ruth C. Kinney Elementary School to present fourth-grader, Dakota Ruber, with her award for being one of the "Start With Hello" grand-prize winner. Students competing in the contest were asked to color in a picture and write a way to be kind.

WEST ISLIP

A sunny Unity Day

At West Islip's Paul J. Bellew Elementary

School, a large orange sun was created by the art department and installed in the hallway to celebrate Unity Day. Students were encouraged to wear orange and write reasons why they shine on the sun.

Humpty Dumpty sat on a wall

At Oquenock Elementary School, kindergartners in Mary Berger's class recently worked to create a protective cover for an egg, in a "Humpty Dumpty" activity. The students used tape, paper, cotton, rubber bands and foil to build their covers and tested them in the school's STEM lab to see if the egg would break.

Bayview celebrates Veterans Day

On Nov. 7, students and staff at West Islip's Bayview Elementary School welcomed over 50 local veterans as part of their annual Veterans Day celebration.

"It was a morning filled with celebration of our true heroes," said principal John Mullins. "The Bayview gymnasium was brimming with excited cheers, tears of gratitude, and an overwhelming sense of humility and pride."

The building was decorated with displays of original student artwork; some of the pieces were framed and presented to veterans via a raffle. Also, the school had a "Wall of Heroes," filled with photos of military family members connected to Bayview's students and staff, in the main hallway. The event concluded with a special breakfast provided by Bayview's PTA, and was complemented by songs performed by various grade levels' bands and choirs.

Three Manetuck fourth graders attend PEAK Fest

Guided by music teacher Karen Isaksen-Taylor, fourth-graders George Elasmir, Lauren Gallagher and Benjamin Miale from Manetuck Elementary School recently attended the 11th annual SCMEA Parents, Educators and Kids Festival.

The PEAK Festival is dedicated to fourth grade students learning and experiencing music, culminating with a sharing session performance, and does not require students to prepare music beforehand. Parents, music educators and the students are all invited to attend morning workshops in different areas of music, including ukulele, singing games, musical theater, folk dance, Orff orchestrations, and aboriginal songs and chorus. This provides the students with a unique musical experience and gives educators the chance to bring some new ideas back to the classroom. PEAK's clinicians expertly guide the sessions toward both instructing the students and explaining the methodologies and teaching techniques.

West Islip leads at LITES

Led by technology director Reanna Fulton, West Islip School District staff attended and presented at the Long Island Technology & Education Summit; topics like assessment tools and protecting students' personal identifiable information were discussed.

ISLIP

American Legion vets visit Sherwood

On Nov.14, Maud S. Sherwood Elementary School hosted three local veterans, Cmdr. Dominick DeCrescenzo, U.S. Marines Gunnery Sgt. Jared Filosa, and retired U.S. Army Lt. Colonel Melody Thomas, from American Legion Rusy-Bohm Post 411. These local heroes participated in a parade, enjoyed breakfast and then spoke to fifth-grade students about their experiences as vets.

Students volunteer for charity run

On Oct. 29, students from Islip High School students volunteered for the Town of Islip's Michael Michelini 5K run. Students were located throughout the course to direct runners and walkers along the route, cheer them on, and hand out waters. The proceeds for the race benefit cancer research and also fund an Islip High School girls and boys lacrosse scholarship.

After the race, the volunteers attended the Fireman's Fall Festival on Main Street, at the American and high school post-prom booths.

"It was great to see so many high school students come out to volunteer in their community," said teacher Renee Clock, who assisted in organizing the youth volunteers. "We actually had volunteers from neighboring school districts, too. When our youth actively participate in such great causes for our community, they are in turn investing in the future of Islip."

Commack

Showing the power of pink

For Power of Pink Day, staff and students at Islip's Commack Road Elementary School dressed in shades of pink to demonstrate their support for breast cancer awareness.
