Chamber kicks off monthlong holiday event, now in its second year

BY KATHERINE AL RASHDAN

A couple of real-life elves were spotted in Patchogue Village, and, if you're lucky, you might be able to catch a glimpse of them from now until Dec. 23, as part of the chamber's "Elf'n Around Patchogue," a monthlong event that provides deals to shoppers on Main Street wherever the elves are present. "Elf'n Around" does have its benefits.

For the second year, David Kennedy, Patchogue Chamber executive director, and Michele Cayea, director of education and outreach for the Patchogue-Medford Library, donned elf suits to participate in the merry event. The duo even posed for photos that were used to make life-size cardboard cutout images, which will be placed in front of different stores throughout the campaign. Wherever the cardboard cutouts are, that's where the deals of the day are located.

"I love to bring energy. Anyone who knows me knows I'll wear any type of crazy costume to bring awareness to local business," said Cayea.

Kennedy said the event has taken on a life of its own, with Patchogue fans from near and far flocking to the chamber's social media pages for updates on where the elves will be.

"We love that we're bringing people into stores—there are a lot of shopping opportunities in the downtown," said Kennedy.

To kick off the campaign, real Elf David and Elf Michele headed to the Patchogue Theatre for the Performing Arts for Small Business Saturday on Nov. 27. The duo, along with chamber volunteers Jo Bennett and Gloria Burton, gave out Sometimes, when you're not looking, opportunity knocks.

"We do a football trip every year," said Village Idiot Pub owner John Sarno, of his journey last year to Philadelphia to watch the Philadelphia Eagles play. "My wife Shannon made a reservation at a steakhouse. It was small and quaint. I looked around at the décor and lights and thought it would be perfect for Patchogue. There are great dining options in Patchogue, but no true steakhouse."

The Philadelphia restaurant was Alpen Rose, and its upscale ambiance kicked off Sarno's newest venture, Chops, at the old Flo's location, 38 West Main Street. Sarno signed a 10-year lease two weeks ago. He's aiming for an end-of-January 2022 opening.

"I knew the spot, called the broker and got a tour. It was in pretty good shape," he said, referring to renovations from former establishments, Flight, and then Flo's. "It's 14 tables and fits up to 56 people," Sarno said. "The décor has a nice chandelier, wallpaper and drapes. It has a Prohibition look with white linens on the table, 10 leather barstools, vintage lighting and wall sconces."

The new restaurant will encourage a bit of glamour. Besides the décor, "People will get dressed up," he said of the dress code.

Sarno tapped his general manager and head chef at Drift, Fred Norton and Luis Juarez, respectively, as well as Village Idiot Patchogue chef Edwin Hernandez as partners. "They all had previous experience working at a steakhouse," Sarno said. "I gave them the whole concept."

Aged steaks, fine wines, and sides like classic creamed spinach will be offered. Also, some chicken and fish dishes. But the emphasis will be on gorgeous beef and a fine-dining experience.

Greater Patchogue Chamber of Commerce executive director David Kennedy was asked if historically, there were any well-known steak restaurants in Patchogue Village. Kennedy recalled South Shore Restaurant in the 1970s and 1980s on Route 112 that was known as a fancy restaurant, but others in the villa-

Patchogue gets first Latina trustee

After a zoning board hearing in 2015 addressing the raising of her home due to damage from Superstorm Sandy, Lizbeth Carrillo announced her desire to become a Patchogue Village trustee. New York State had changed building codes after she was in the process, and certain procedures were needed from the time her application with the village started. Carrillo introduced herself to mayor Paul Pontieri, complained about the changes, then threw her hat in the ring.

Look 'Who' brought the holidays to Patchogue

Annual parade brings 'Whoville' and bevy of green Grinch impersonators to Main St.

BY KATHERINE AL RASHDAN

The 59th annual Patchogue Christmas parade took place this past Saturday evening with a theme of "Whoville Christmas" from the beloved Dr. Seuss book, "How the Grinch Stole Christmas." Parade-goers were delighted by lights, fire trucks, and creative renditions on the Grinch theme.

Patchogue Village mayor Paul Pontieri commented on the parade's nearly six-decade history.

"This parade has been a tradition in Patchogue for 59 years. I can remember coming when I was 9 years old, and still, it's a tradition all of these years. And, if you look around, you'll see all of these people out, enjoying themselves, enjoying the floats—and that's what it's all about, holiday spirit. It's a wonderful evening," he said. ■

Thanks and giving on Thanksgiving

Early on Thanksgiving morning, volunteers with Angels of Long Island lined up to provide pre-made Thanksgiving meals to locals in need.

"There's so many people that receive a free turkey, a can of cranberries for Thanksgiving, but there are so many families that can't prepare a meal for themselves because of homelessness or because they live in a hotel. We wanted to prepare a meal for them," said Debbie Loesch, founder, Angels of Long Island. ■

Avery owner accepts county offer

BY LINDA LEUZZI

It's been a long road to the finish line, but Charles Wakefield, owner of the historic 11.5-acre Avery property in East Patchogue, has agreed to the county's offer of purchase.

"He has conditionally accepted the offer," said Legis. Rob Calarco of Wakefield, who signed the Division of Real Property county agreement two weeks ago.

Calarco has been carrying the Avery ball for at least two years.

"The next step is conducting due diligence by the county; that means a title search and an environmental assessment we need to do to make sure there isn't anything on the property that shouldn't be there," he added. "The county is drawing up a three-way contract of sale that includes the town."

Brookhaven Town has committed to 30 percent of the purchase price. Councilman Neil Foley joined Calarco in Avery's preservation push.

"I think what's going on is a normal way of doing business," Foley said recently. "The county and myself are looking to bring in a vendor to beautify the place and we'll do our due diligence to keep the Avery property going and thriving."

Calarco said it takes six to eight months to finalize the process.

"So far, this was the biggest unknown, if the owner would accept the price we extended," Calarco explained. "There's a final approval from the legislature that has to take place. That doesn't happen until the contract has been drawn up and we get agreement from all parties. As long as everything stays on track, I suspect by next summer the county can do that final step."

Two local men with restaurant and law experience representing restaurants expressed interest in the barn as a venue. Calarco said another vendor has popped up.

"When we buy properties for active use, whether for historic preservation or a nature center, anything other than passive, we look to have a local partner that would be operating the property," Calarco said. "While the town has offered to partner, they asked that the county be the operator. The Parks Department, once we formally acquire the property, will issue a request for proposal for an operator with a program. We're looking at the barn and the 1880s house and some space available for a local not-for-profit to occupy space. The RFP would definitely look to have that entity shoulder the cost for any renovations. And they would have to commit to preserving the historical nature. So if it's the barn, it may need updating on the inside, but the outside would retain its original look. But we can't do it until after we have control."

Besides the property's acquisition being a priority to local residents in East Patchogue, Patchogue and Bellport, nonprofits like The Peconic Land Trust, Preservation Long Island, Greater Patchogue Historical Society, the Post-Morrow Foundation, the Bell-port-Brookhaven Historical Society and the Patchogue Arts Council have all been strongly vocal in their support.

The Avery property was inhabited by Barbara Avery, who grew up there, until she died in 2017. It was her expressed wish to preserve it.

The Avery family goes back to the 17th century, starting with Humphrey Avery. The property once sprawled over 200 acres and its descendants are listed on a huge boulder facing South Country Road.

"I'm sure it was a hard decision for Mr. Wakefield," Calarco said. "He grew up here and has good memories. But he expressed the desire to preserve it. So here we are." ■ ge, like J & R Steakhouse, were more of a family restaurant. "David Bustamente of Gallo Restaurant offers a tomahawk steak [a large ribeye beef steak with 5 inches of rib bone left intact], which John will offer, but the establishment John is proposing is a Peter Luger's-type steakhouse. I don't think downtown Patchogue has ever seen a restaurant like that before."

Sarno's dad James, a former 5th Precinct police officer, started Budget Buy & Sell in 1983, which his brother Jimmy now owns and runs in its respective corner building on Main Street. Jimmy Sarno's building ownership includes the Village Idiot Pub space and wraps around partly to South Ocean Avenue.

It's an evolving family dynasty, which John, who lives in Patchogue, is building on with restaurants.

"I worked at Budget Buy & Sell for years," he said. "My father emphasized hard work. I went to college, I started student teaching and subbed at Bayport-Blue Point as the lead replacement in phys ed for a year," Sarno said. "Then I went to Bellport Middle School for a short time." After that, he headed to Prime Steak House in Huntington. "That's where I learned about high-end dining. I worked there for two years as a bartender."

In 2010, Sarno started Village Idiot Pub in Patchogue. He's added a few places since then: Village Idiot Irish Pub in Oakdale, Village Idiot Pub III in Lake Grove, and Drift 82 in Patchogue.

"If you told me 15 years ago I'd have three businesses here, I would have said, 'You're crazy,'" he said in amazement. ■

A lover of architectural history and sense of place gets award

BY LINDA LEUZZI

Victor Principe has written two "Images of America" books, "Bellport Revisited" and "Bellport Village and Brookhaven Hamlet," meticulously researched, highly readable volumes with 19th- and 20th-century photos

BELLPORT VILLAGE from private collections and their accompanying captions of significant places and people who lived here. He is currently at work on a third. But he also champions keeping the village aesthetically beautiful and historically accurate, and recently received the Bellport-Brookhaven Historical Society's Pelletreau Award.

Principe, of Bellport, didn't grow up in Bellport Village with its 18th- and 19th-century architectural allure. He was raised in Washington Heights, one of eight children, of Calabrese heritage.

"People ask, 'Why are you interested in preserving things, it has nothing to do with your heritage?' I think it's just beautiful," Principe said. "Even though the culture that created this is different from where my family came, it's just a feeling I have for this place. This whole area has basically survived."

"Victor has contributed greatly to documenting the history of Bellport and Brookhaven through his Arcadia books," said BBHS director Tricia Foley. "We use them regularly to look up details and visual references in our work at the Bellport-Brookhaven Historical Society and they are a great introduction to the area for newcomers who are interested in our architectural and cultural history. And he is tireless about his passion for the preservation of our local architecture."

He admits while some residents love him for his passion, some don't. (He is persistent.)

"This whole area has basically survived with its look," he explained. "And it didn't just happen. You had people like Birdsall Otis Edey [president and founder of the Village Improvement Society], who convinced New York State to have Montauk Highway pass a half-mile to the north, setting the stage for slow growth, and Stephanie Bigalow, who led a 10-year effort that helped place 80 Bellport houses on the National Register of Historic Places in 1980. Former mayor Frank Trotta established the Bellport Historic Preservation Commission, which gave it power to designate and preserve historic districts. They did it to make sure this area stayed beautiful. You also have Elisabeth and Thomas Post-Morrow, who appreciated the beauty of nature and preserving it instead of making money. One of the last things they did was saving Loehmann's Farm [now Deer Run Farm, which leases from Post-Morrow]."

His third book in the making is "Unhampton: Preservation and the Happiness of Place in Bellport Village and Its Environs."

"When you see certain things, you know you're here," he said. "That's what we share, a quality known as 'sense of place' by the tangible buildings and views. The purpose of this book is to explain why we love it so. The whole book is the history of the historic preservation movement and conservation and the people who preserved and conserved this area and what they did."

Principe first came to Bellport in 1968 when he worked for The Gateway during the summer and built sets for its children's theater. "I didn't come back until 1976, looked at different areas and remembered Bellport for a country house," he said. "At the same time, my friend's partner purchased a house on South Howell's Point Road."

Eventually, Principe moved to First Street in 1981, then to his current home in 1993, which dates back to 1839, with his partner John Renninger.

Principe said he was surprised he was tapped for the award. "I guess it's partly because of the books and also I have a reputation for trying to preserve history," he said. "Right now, I'm trying to get ADA pads at the curb of a sidewalk painted black. (ADA pads are designed for the visually impaired to feel the raised, truncated domes with their feet. It alerts them with a tapping cane to an upcoming intersection.) There are two on Bellport Lane and Pearl Street and they are also on the dock and on Brown's Lane, and they look horrendous. Michael Foster has offered to paint them, and The Bellport Village Program Fund will have them painted."

Unsightly areas tend towards creeping inappropriateness, he said.

"To have a place like this is a treasure, so you want to preserve it." ■

The Robert H. Pelletreau Distinguished Service Award

The Post-Morrow Foundation set up the Robert H. Pelletreau Distinguished Service in Historic Preservation Award in 2001 in Robert Pelletreau's name after he died. Pelletreau had served on Post-Morrow's board and was a descendant of Elias Pelletreau (1710-1810), an important Southampton silversmith and craftsman who created richly detailed, ornate silver objects. His shop still stands in Southampton Village. The Post-Morrow Foundation contributed 20 percent of the funds, and others in the community contributed as well. The award, established by the Bellport-Brookhaven Historical Society in 2001, recognizes meaningful accomplishments by a person or organization in the field of historic preservation in Suffolk County. Last year's recipient was the Ruth Zion African Methodist Episcopalian Church on Station Road, whose church and congregation have existed here since 1836. Victor Principe, a former BBHS president, was recognized for his ongoing work in preservation and his books on Bellport's history. He received a $1,000 honorarium, a certificate of appreciation and recognition, and his name engraved on the silver Pelletreau bowl on display at BBHS.

Santa will light the tree at the Community Center after the holiday parade, which starts at 5:45 p.m. BELLPORT VILLAGE at the Bellport Fire Department and ends at the Community Center. While they won't be able to whisper their gift wishes in his ear or sit on his lap, children can write notes to Santa; Santa's helpers will collect their messages and clip them on the gazebo. (Don't worry. One of the helpers will collect the messages and bring them to the North Pole. You can check the village website to see when they were sent at www.bellportvillageny.gov.) Avino's Italian Table will distribute hot chocolate and the Bellport Teacher's Association will hand out books.

The second annual wreath decorating contest has begun. Starting Dec. 1, the village will be lined up with wreaths and a special committee, including the Long Island Advance and mayor Paul Pontieri of Patchogue, who will vote for the winning wreaths. Results will be posted on the village website on Dec. 20.

Avino's Italian Table wins annual chamber of commerce soup contest

The soup was on this past Saturday as participants came to Main Street for the annual soup contest. Soups were judged

BELLPORT VILLAGE blindly by participants who were only made aware of what category of soup they were eating: Block Island chowder, New England chowder, butternut squash, or split pea. This year's winner was Avino's Italian Table, who served up a potato and corn chowder.

For John Hannon, president of the Bellport Chamber of Commerce, the soup contest is a village tradition he's happy to see return.

"Last year we couldn't do the soup tasting because of COVID, but this year it's more crowded than I've seen it in the past couple of years. It's great to have it back again this year," said Hannon. ■

Bellport Illuminates!

BY LINDA LEUZZI

If you're dazzled this weekend in Bellport, not only from the great activities but also from those lovely white lights framing Main Street's storefronts and then some, you can thank Phil Grucci for the initiative.

"I always loved how beautiful the village looks when it snows, especially during the holiday period, and got the idea to have it framed in monochromatic lights," Grucci said. "We own a building in the village and my cousin owns one across the street, and we outlined them two years ago. Last year we did four buildings, and the vision became crystal clear to illuminate the entire village this year."

So Bellport Illuminates! was born.

Grucci said he met with mayor Ray Fell for the board's permission to tap power from the village light poles. "Yes, he did come and asked us, and we said it was okay," Fell said, applauding the overall effort. "I was in the village last night and it looked like it was almost all done and looked beautiful. My understanding is this is the first time anyone took it upon themselves to light the whole village."

Grucci conferred with James and Michael Grucci, along with his brother Jimmy Grucci of Grucci Service Group LLC. They will install and maintain the lights, but Phil Grucci also got an estimate for the lights.

"We contacted 54 merchants I identified within the village, basically the storefront occupants up and down Main Street to Avino's, down Bellport Lane to Porters, and up Station Road to Bellport Brewery. Last weekend, we started installing them. We had enough commitment from the store owners we approached and had additional funding to help others out, so it was a great effort."

Grucci was asked why he did it with his busy fireworks involvement on New Year's Eve. This year he would be involved with Belgrade, Serbia, in conjunction with a new skyscraper for the Belgrade Waterfront, and also the Midnight on Main event in Patchogue for families at 9 p.m. His son, Christopher, will be in Las Vegas with his nephew Cory at America's Party, the largest New Year's Eve event in the country.

The lighting basically was at cost; his cousin was volunteering his labor.

"I travel a lot and it's special here and quaint," Grucci said, throwing in another reason for the LED lights.

"It will be completed this weekend," he said. "We're still trying to chase down some merchants so there isn't a gap. We can't just put lights on a shop without their permission and we have four or five we need approval on. The light poles will have the village's wreaths, so they will be lit up as well as the buildings."

"I'm not making a dime on this," he said. "I broke the cost down by each merchant's storefront space, so they could pay their fair portion. The merchants get the credit." ■

Fast police work and a quick-thinking druggist broke up efforts of two New York City men to obtain a quantity of morphine in Patchogue drug stores last night through the use of forged prescriptions. The pair visited Dr. Edward Klane, South Ocean Avenue, and while one was being treated by the physician the other stole prescription blanks. They filled them out at the railroad station, split up, and made a canvas of local drug stores. Three stores gave them the morphine, but Oscar Kaplan of the Montauk Drug store became suspicious, checked with Dr. Klane and called the police. Within 15 minutes police chief Reynold Wicks and Sgt. Roland Baker apprehended the pair. They were brought before Justice Charles N. Butler Jr., charged with forgery and held on $2,500 bail.

Mrs. William Wager is now running her late husband's floor waxing and sanding business at 54 North Ocean Avenue, Patchogue.

Seton Hall's football team chopped hours from its commuting time for a game Sunday with St. Basil's School at Stamford, Conn., by chartering an airplane. The boys left MacArthur Field at about 11:30 and after a 25-minute flight landed in Stamford. Coach Henry Read and 20 members of the squad made the trip. Commenting later on the boys' reaction to flying, the coach said, "I've never seen them so quiet." The only trouble was that Seton Hall lost the game, 18-13.

Frank Lotito, husky Patchogue contractor, rolled a bowler's "dream" series in competition last Friday night at Felice's Recreation, when he started off with a near-perfect 277 and followed up with 233 and 247. Those who bowled with Lotito in the record series were Tony Suchiere, Tony Laratoro, John Sprague, Tony Prudent and Pete DeMarisco.

FIRST LATINA TRUSTEE

Carrillo, 34, will be voted in as the village's first Latina trustee on Tuesday Dec. 7th at 3pm with Acting Police Commissioner Stuart Cameron. She replaces Sal Felice, who recently retired and will serve for two years, then will run in 2024.

As with any goal, a trajectory can be steady, sometimes disappointing, but Carrillo made sure she stayed within sight of the mayor on a regular basis, advocating for Latinos.

"That started a relationship," she said of the zoning board hearing, where she said, residents accused her of trying to bring more people into her home. Carrillo hails originally from Ambato, Ecuador. She was 5 when she came here and became the family interpreter. Carrillo has a B.A. in sociology from Dowling College and was a student of paralegal studies at Suffolk County Community College.

"It was very insulting to be stereotyped," she said. "I said, 'This is the last time I feel this way.'"

With the mayor, "If there was anything the community needed assistance or information, his door was always open," she said. "It started a big relationship."

Pontieri saw her potential, but knew there was a learning process.

(He admitted, with a smile, that Carrillo yelled at him at first at the zoning meeting, asking why she seemed to be singled out with the building changes.)

"We had an opening on COAD [Community Organization Active in Disaster] in 2015 with Marian Russo," Pontieri said. Carrillo became an independent community outreach coordinator. After that, there was an opening on the zoning board in 2018.

"The chairman said, 'Do you see our side?'" said Pontieri. "And that's what I needed to do. I also needed to know if she was serious enough."

Carrillo also serves as outreach director for St. Francis de Sales since 2015.

"It's a huge Latino community," she said. "We have two Masses in Spanish that, before COVID, there were people standing outside." She signed up over 700 Latino residents for COVID vaccines.

Her position as community liaison/administrative aide with the Suffolk County Police Department began with the Fifth Precinct and collaboration with inspector/commanding officer William G. Silva.

"There was an obstacle on how to get the Spanish-speaking community to not just trust police, but report crimes to us," said Silva, who met Carrillo four years ago. "The best way was to find a true liaison. I started meetings in the Patchogue-Medford Library because it was the hub for Latinos and Hispanics, and I would explain that we have Hispanic auxiliary police and Hispanic officers and we all have their best interests," he said. Silva met Carrillo through the library meetings. "I told her my philosophy, that I tell all my police officers, 'This is your home and you are to treat the Fifth Precinct as your home, with respect, as well as the people who come here,' and she really liked that."

From there, Carrillo asked Silva if she could come to him with any problems and started videotaping the sessions. Silva would discuss an issue and Carrillo would have someone film the discussions and get the sessions out to the community.

"We went to basements where there were undocumented residents to discuss problems and even to a beauty shop," Silva said. "She did this a couple of times a week or once a month. And we were able to solve concerns."

Carrillo also taped the mayor, who spoke about the village and its services.

Silva had high praise for Pontieri. "When there were Latinos getting mugged at a location, we'd notify Paul, and he'd take care of it with better lighting or surveillance."

Silva eventually introduced Carrillo to then-Suffolk Police commissioner Geraldine Hart. Hart tapped her for the SCPD community liaison position in 2018; Carrillo developed outreach and education strategies for Suffolk police.

As for Carrillo, "I couldn't ask for a better liaison," Silva said. "She really has the heart of a lion. She is also there for anyone in need of an advocate."

Pontieri said Carrillo followed a track most people should follow; he also recommended Carrillo as a board member for the Economic Opportunity Council.

"When I first became a trustee, I walked in with no knowledge," he said.

"For me, it's an honor as an Ecuadorian," Carrillo said. Carrillo is a single mom of daughter Leila, 13, and hopes to set an example.

Her goals for now: "I would love language assistance at the board meetings because when people are informed, knowledge is power." She'd also like to somehow expand the annual Ecuadorian celebration, which is now in back of Bravo Supermarket.

Pontieri added his comment on Carrillo's appointment.

"My hope is that this sends a message that what's inclusive is what works," he said. ■

Redistricting commission comes to Suffolk County

Last chance to submit comments before final plans

MARIANA DOMINGUEZ

On Tuesday, Nov. 23, the New York State Independent Redistricting Commission held their final in-person public hearing at Stony Brook University's Charles B. Wang Center.

Over the past few weeks, the commission has traveled across New York State collecting feedback on the map proposals that were released by the commission on Sept. 15. The commission released two sets of maps on Sept. 15. The "Letters" maps were the ones proposed by Democrats on the commission, while the "Names" maps were the ones proposed by Republicans.

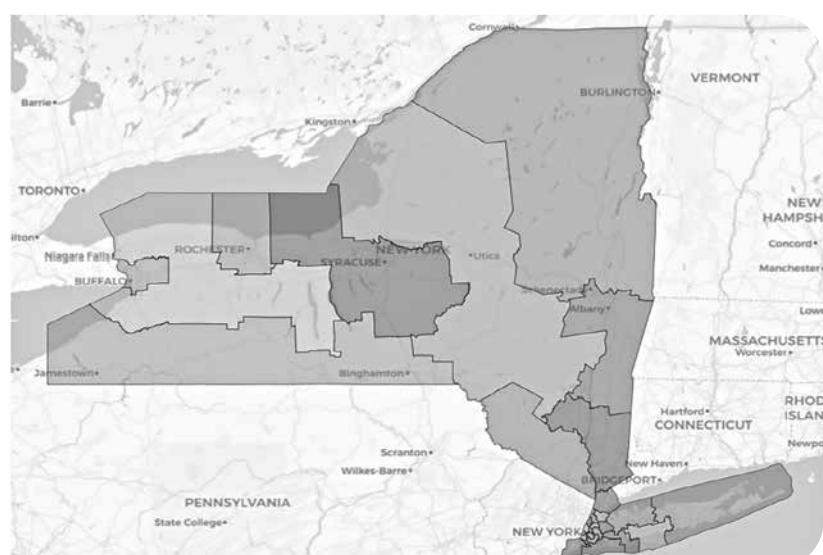

At the meeting, when map proposals were released, David Imamura, chairman of the New York Independent Redistricting Commission, said: "The draft plans we release today attempt to incorporate the public input we received, but they should be considered only what they are called in the [state] Constitution—drafts. [...] I would be the first to say these plans are imperfect, and that, based on public input, they can, should, and will change."

The Redistricting Commission is meant to be a bipartisan group with appointees from both parties and two members chosen by the six appointees. However, the decision to release two sets of maps back in the fall demonstrated that they have a long way to go in order to find a consensus.

Back in 2014, voters in New York voted yes on a proposition that created a constitutional amendment "to implement historic changes with the intent to achieve a fair and readily transparent process by which to redraw the lines of state legislative and congressional districts." The redistricting commission was created to aid in this endeavor.

On Nov. 2 of 2021, New Yorkers rejected Proposition 1, which was an amendment to redistricting changes in New York. By rejecting the proposition, the vote threshold for passing the redistricting plans stays the same, instead of a simple majority vote in the legislature passing the plan. The proposal also pushed to make the deadlines for the commission to submit their plans earlier. Instead, the deadline stays the same at Jan. 15, 2022. However, at the public hearing on Nov. 23, Imamura noted:

"I think I speak for all of my fellow commissioners when I say that we, in order to ensure that state board of elections have time to implement our plans, we must get lines to the legislator earlier than the statutory deadlines that are in the state constitution."

"This process has been enormously challenging; with delays in the census caused by COVID, delays in the funding, this process, which is supposed to take a year, has instead been compressed into four months."

The public hearings are being conducted around the state so that commissioners can get input from residents about the proposed maps.

"The reality is, we don't all live in the areas that we're drawing these maps for, so the opportunity to inform our position with regards to these maps and through these hearings is extraordinarily important," vice-chairman of the commission Jack Martins, said.

One point that was brought up by members of the public during the hearing was the dividing lines in the maps tends to split up towns unfairly. For example, in the Letters draft plan for the Senate and the Town of Islip is broken up.

One resident who spoke on the issue was Jay Schoenfeld of Setauket. Schoenfeld spoke about how splitting up certain towns means that they get less attention from two representatives, instead of undivided attention from one.

"And while it sounds nice to say you have two senators helping our community, the reality is that the level of concern usually gets split between two officers and fails to produce the volume needed in either one of them to command the center of time, interest and attention," Schoenfeld said.

"In looking at the maps, I didn't think either of the plans satisfactorily address this problem. They just kind of move the dividing line somewhere."

The maps are available to view at nyirc.org and the commission is asking the public to submit written comments to them so that they can better understand the communities affected before they begin the process of submitting their final plan. Comments should be submitted by Monday, Dec. 6 for them to be read and considered by the committee. ■

MY TURN

Katherine's Kitchen

Exploring Middle Eastern cuisine and culture with an American twist

BY KATHERINE AL RASHDAN

Hummus among us: America's favorite healthy snack and its roots as a traditional breakfast

In the U.S., hummus is a popular snack, something we dip our carrots and celery in, something we reach for as the healthy option in a world of sour cream and mayonnaise-based dips.

In Jordan and other countries in the Middle East and North Africa (MENA), hummus is part of a traditional breakfast—not just a dip, but instead the focal point of the morning meal.

While researching this edition of Katherine's Kitchen, I came across a blog dedicated to all things hummus; in fact, it's called "The Hummus Blog." I found a post from the early 2000s; the topic is America's newfound fascination with hummus. In the post, the blog's writer calls out a commenter who says hummus is the next salsa.

"When coming across statements like

'hummus is the next salsa,' I am truly appalled," reads the post.

Is the writer rightfully appalled? I don't think so, but let me explain why. In the U.S., we take all sorts of traditional foods and beverages and put our spin on them, salsa being just one example. Hummus is marketed as a dip in the U.S., and for us, dips aren't the main dish. In my opinion, the "next salsa" is very much what hummus became.

I can remember my first taste of it. I was in high school and hanging out at my friend Samantha's house. I fell in love with that creamy texture and smoky flavor.

Apparently, Samantha had an adventurous palate, because at that point Americans hadn't fully embraced hummus and it wasn't stocked to the brim at food stores the way it is now. At that point in time, hummus was hard to find. Americans had to seek it out at specialty shops and health-food stores.

Hummus was brought here in 1986 by Zohar Norman, the creator of Sabra Hummus. At first, it was marketed toward Israelis who wanted a taste of home here in the U.S. Hummus made its American debut right here in New York City, specifically Brooklyn and Long Island.

By the early 2000s Sabra was only doing $7 million a year in sales—now it does about $800 million a year. Think about it this way: Sabra is only one of the many brands of hummus in the U.S. today. Go into the hummus section at the food store and you'll see how popular it is now. You'll see chocolate hummus, red pepper hummus, everything bagel hummus and a bunch more. Guess how many types of hummus are stocked on the supermarket shelves in Jordan? I've only ever seen three: original, with pine nuts and with red pepper. In others words, hummus is now a part of American cuisine. We've adopted it and made it our own.

What was—and still is—a very traditional breakfast in Jordan is now an incredibly popular snack here in the U.S.—and much like pizza from Brooklyn vs. pizza from Naples, Italy, we do it a little differently here. I hope you enjoy my hummus recipe, given to me by my mother-in-law in Jordan, Sahtein (Bon Appetit!)

ELF'N AROUND: Get your elf spirit going

Shop Small tote bags filled with swag from local businesses, including Chapstick, water bottles, and even free tickets for beer at the Village Idiot Pub. Inside the theater's vestibule, young shoppers were handed holiday goody bags and invited to take a photo with Santa Claus.

For those walking along Main Street that day, the elves were a jolly sight and a reminder that the holidays in Patchogue are back in full swing.

"I think they're festive," said Mike Panzarino, an East Patchogue resident who passed by the theater and saw the elves in action. "It's great. And I also think it's great the holiday parade is back. It's been very missed."

Panzarino was referring to the Patchogue holiday parade, which returned to the village for its 59th year after a hiatus due to COVID-19.

On Sunday, Nov. 28, the cardboard Elf David and Elf Michele spent their first official day on the job—Elf David at Island Kava and Elf Michele at Tranquility Within. As promised, shoppers were offered deals at the stores of the day.

Wherever shoppers see the cardboard elves (they're impossible to miss), they should let the shop clerk know and the clerk will let the shopper know what the exact deal is, according to Kennedy.

"Patchogue is a fun town. That's what we found with this campaign in particular," he said.

"Elf'n Around Patchogue" takes a cue from the legend of the Elf on a Shelf, a Christmas tradition whereby one of Santa's helpers is dispatched from the North Pole to keep an eye on kids, sitting on a shelf and taking notes about whether the child has been naughty or nice. Legend has it that, throughout the month of December, the elf moves to different shelves in the home on its own (without any assistance from mom or dad).

"It's something the kids recognize and it's a fun thing for parents, too. When they see us in the store, it's fun; it's whimsical; it's festive," said Cayea.

For updates and to see photos of the elves, visit the chamber's Facebook and Instagram pages @PatchogueChamber. ■

FRANCIS ANTON BOESTFLEISCH

PASSED AWAY PEACEFULLY ON NOVEMBER 17, 2021

Francis Anton Boestfleisch, 91, of Patchogue, NY, passed away peacefully on November 17, 2021, while sitting in his favorite chair. Frankie was a proud 8 year veteran of the U.S. Army, Korean War Era, with a rank of Corporal, working as a Surgical Technician. He is survived by his beloved wife, Jane Thomas. Loving father of Kurt Boestfleisch (Becky) of New Kent, Virginia, Pauline Gongaware (John) of San Tan Valley, AZ, Karen Dilger (Mike) of Yakkima, WA, Donna Munch (Kenny) of Medford, NY, and Lorraine Tommasino (Tony) of Kingston, NY, stepsons Chris Thomas (Leslie) of Reisterstown, MD, Kenny Thomas, Baltimore, MD, 11 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren. He was predeceased by his daughter Linda Jeziorkowski, one grandson, his parents Rose and Kurt E. Boestfleisch, and sisters Mitzi, Anna, and Paula. Born in Manhattan, briefly raised there and later Maspeth, Long Island, he was an avid artist, oil painter, model builder, little league baseball coach, manager and general manager in Farmingville, NY. He could talk for hours regarding the Great Masters. At one point during the early 1960's, he built models and painted portraits of Yankee baseball greats Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris. His work was later donated to both ball players. Following his tours in the U.S. Army, he worked as a tool and die maker and later as a steel worker and General Foreman at Cerro Wire. After his retirement from Cerro Wire he worked for Irwin Industrial Tools. Frankie was also the jovial greeter and security guard at Saxton Middle School, Bay Avenue Elementary, and Tremont Elementary. The children loved Frankie. He also spent time as a custodian at The Congregational Church, Patchogue, NY. Frankie led an active life and had lots of energy. He had a soft heart, big smile and a laugh much bigger than he was tall. Choosing to move on to a more relaxed retirement he chose to live on the Patchogue River with his beloved wife Jane, his dog Emily and later, Coco.

In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to the American Cancer Society.

THOMAS F. DERBY

FEBRUARY 6, 1948 - NOVEMBER 24, 2021

Thomas Francis Derby, 73, of Bellport, passed away November 24, 2021 in the company of his loving family. Survived by cherished brother and best friend John Derby and his wife Juliet, and his sister Mary Ann Griffiths and her husband Barry. Treasured significant other to Frances Zizka. Adored uncle to Nicole Levine and her husband Jason, Tiffany Kallhovd and her husband Erik, Matthew Derby and his wife Chelsea, Alison Griffiths, Juliann-Kate Toohey and Michael Toohey. Dear great uncle to Grady Levine, Annie Bea Levine, Emma Kallhovd, Conor Kallhovd, Molly Kallhovd, Aubrey Derby, Madison Derby and Blake Derby. Thomas joins his beloved parents, John and Helen Derby, and brother, Dennis Derby, at the gates of heaven. He holds a special place in the hearts of countless cousins, friends and fellow parishioners at Mary Immaculate Church.

Thomas grew up on the greens of Bellport Country Club and playing baseball with friends on Biesel Road. He went on to graduate valedictorian of his class at SUNY Farmingdale after his honorable discharge from the US Navy serving on the USS Knox. He spent the first half of his career as an operations manager for Landis+Gyr in Queens, then Cincinnati and Boston. Finally, Thomas moved back home to Long Island to work with his brother John as a partner at Emerald Island Supply Company.

In his free time, Thomas was an active member of the Saint Vincent De Paul Society, as well as a devout member of the Mary Immaculate Church community. He was also a member of the Medford VFW Post #2937. He enjoyed golf trips with his friends, known as the "North East South West Nut Club," and winters in Florida where he'd hide from the sun (an Irishman's burden to bear) visiting with friends and family.

Anyone who knew him would agree wholeheartedly that Thomas was one of the kindest, gentlest souls to ever grace this earth. His generosity, his thoughtful open ear and his comedic storytelling will be remembered and missed by so many.

Thomas's family will receive their friends at Ruland Funeral Home in Patchogue, NY on Friday, December 3, 2021 from 2-4 pm and 7-9 pm. A funeral mass will be held at Mary Immaculate Church in Bellport, NY on Saturday, December 4, 2021 at 10 am. Thomas's ashes will be buried during a private ceremony at a later date alongside his parents and brother at Woodland Cemetery.

Because of his deep faith and commitment to Christ, in lieu of flowers, donations can be made in Thomas's memory to Saint Vincent De Paul/Mary Immaculate Church, 16 Browns Lane, Bellport, NY 11713.

HISTORY CORNER

The Heckscher Museum of Art

Each week, reporter and history-lover Mariana Dominguez visits a historical location on the South Shore. This week she visited The Heckscher Museum of Art in Huntington.

THE HECKSCHER MUSEUM OF ART

2 Prime Avenue, Huntington
Open Thurs.-Sun. 12 p.m. - 5 p.m., reservations recommended
$5 suggested admission, visits are limited to one hour/ heckscher.org

Having never been to the Heckscher Museum of Art, I thought it would be apt that I visited for the museum's current celebration of 100 years, "Tracing History, Inspiring the Future." The exhibit is on display until Jan. 9, 2022.

The current exhibition at the museum traces its history over the last 100 years and highlights events that helped shape the museum and its collection.

The museum opened in 1920 and was funded by August and Anna Atkins Heckscher. The Heckschers also donated the museum's founding collection. When the museum first opened, it focused "solely on European and American art" and did not include modern art. The art from this first phase of the museum is more traditional and includes lots of landscapes and European portraits.

One section of the exhibit is dedicated to some of George Grosz's art. Grosz fled Nazi Germany and lived and worked in Huntington from 1947 until 1959. In a brochure, the museum noted that Grosz's art "satirized the rich and powerful and criticized violence." The museum acquired Grosz's painting, "Eclipse of the Sun" (1926), through a crowdfunding campaign and it is currently on display for the 100 years exhibit.

The next section the museum highlights was the time period from 1969-1988.

Upon entrance to the Heckscher Museum of Art, visitors can read through a timeline of the museum's 100 years.

During this period, the museum sold unrelated works and worked towards buying significant paintings. It was also during this period that the museum began to embrace inclusivity by exhibiting more work by women, African Americans and Asian Americans.

A section of the exhibit I really enjoyed was about Arthur Dove and Helen Torr. Dove and Torr were American modernists who lived in Huntington and Centerport. The museum acquired their Centerport home in 1998 and preserved it as a historical site. I was first introduced to Dove and Torr by local artist Holly Gordon, who recently released a book with Ward Hooper. The book, titled "The Brush/Lens Collaboration," traces how Gordon and Hooper were inspired by the same landscapes and areas as Dove and Torr and the similarities between their work, despite the almost 100 years separating the pairs. In their current exhibit, the museum has paintings by Dove and Torr as well as some of their personal items and supplies.

More recently, the museum began collecting modern art and focusing advancement on diversity, equity and inclusion.

One thing I loved about this gorgeous museum is how accessible it is. All of the exhibits are on one floor and the museum is the perfect size so as not to be overwhelming, but still filled with lots to see. It is a quiet, almost meditative place located in a beautiful area. It is suggested that time slots be booked in advance as the museum is limiting the amount of visitors due to COVID. It is very easy to book in advance on the museum's website.

Coming up, the museum is hosting a Family Hour on Sunday on Dec. 5 from 1 to 2 p.m. and a docent in the galleries on Sunday, Dec. 12 from 1 to 2 p.m. More information and registration can be found at heckscher.org/calendar. ■

The Heckscher Museum of Art is a beautiful, classic building.

Bellport loses to Garden City

BY LINDA LEUZZI

After winning the Suffolk County Championship the previous week against Lindenhurst, 13-0, a first-time win since 2010, the Clippers drove a valiant effort into the Long Island Championship Class II game against Garden City at Stony Brook University's Kenneth P. LaValle Stadium last Saturday. They lost 14-6.

"I'm very proud of this team's heart and our ability to battle back in the face of adversity. Even though we didn't win it all, we were able to bring Bellport football back to the top."

CALVIN PEDATELLA, senior

It wasn't without hard-charging physicality.

Offense, led by junior Donte Phillips, gained 83 yards on 22 carries. Defense was led by seniors Calvin Pedatella and Marc Promutico.

"As a staff, we are proud of the way the boys competed and the level of intensity and effort," said coach Kai Watkins.

"Garden City was the top-ranked team for a reason: they are well coached and played mistake-free football. As a staff, we are so thankful for the Bellport parents, administrators, teachers, alumni, and the Bellport football community as a whole for the tremendous support and love shown during this championship season. Football is family, and there is no better place to do than Bellport."

Watkins commented on next season. "One of the goals for every season is to win a Long Island championship," he said. "But that isn't the only goal we strive for. We also strive to use football as a way to create better people. When a senior's time playing Bellport football is up, the goal is for that player to be a better student, a better future father, a better future husband and a strong productive member of the community. We are very proud of this group of seniors because we felt that we accomplished that. Next season, the goal is for that group of seniors to continue with that tradition. We have a number of key players returning, so we are going to lean on that group for leadership and to continue with the rich traditions of Bellport football."

"Honestly, before the season, I was very confident with this team's potential, but a Week 1 loss to Northport was a major setback and proved that this season to come wasn't going to be easy and we were going to have to grind and fight for every win. As a team, we collectively put in the work and went on a 10-game win streak, but people were still doubting us in the Suffolk Championship game versus Lindenhurst. We had great weeks of practice leading up to the championship games and it showed in our effort in those games. Garden City is a great team, but I will do everything I can to make sure we have an opportunity to get another shot at those guys next year."
