Some strengths of the 2023 Redfield Pheasant football squad are their ability to pick up and learn new schematics and concepts after being taught a different offense and defense the last 2 years. They are extremely motivated and driven to be successful this year after coming off a 6-4 season last year to wanting to be better than that as they believe they can be. The offensive/defensive line are the leaders of the team right now and have shown great ability to be flexible with the offense/defense schemes. The backfield will be a group to look out for as McGillivary, Murray and Buranen are big play guys on every down. Those 3 will also be big contributors on the defensive side of the ball in the middle of the defense. The wide receivers/defensive back group are a bunch that can help us on the outside by making big catches and break up passing attempts.

Some weaknesses are that we are so senior heavy, so will need to grow and develop for the future years. All but the new freshman group are returning letter winners from last season.

Some players to look out for this year are the combination of Grady Fey and Elijah Morrisette at interior defensive line. Dylan Murray and Jacob Buranen at running backs will have a big year. Also, Chase McGillivary at quarterback will be fun to watch this season as he's looking to make plays in the run and pass game.

The goal for the Lady Pheasants is be competitive in everything they do---from practice to matches. They also want to finish in the 3 of the NEX and be the #1 or #2 seed in the Region. Their strengths include team chemistry and competitiveness. There is some inexperience at some positions and they need to learn how to win some expected close matches this season. Katie Rozell, Chloe Zens and Jersey Morrison will provide senior leadership with sophomores Hayden Fall, Kinley Smith and Cecilia Suchor contributing as they go. Should be an exciting season.

The Redfield Boy's Golf program is excited for the year. We return 4 seniors who all gave us good outings for varsity last year---one returning state qualifier, Kevin Weller, and Jaxen Campbell who would have probably qualified, along with Tristen O'Daniel and Seth Domke who both were within 3 strokes last year from qualifying as individuals as well.

We look forward to a competitive 5th spot this year with several young golfers striving for it last year already. Losing two seniors gives these guys an opportunity to step up for us this year to help us reach our goal. This will also be a great thing for us as a team moving forward to get some of these younger players some experience.

Our numbers for the year are great again, with 23 boys out from 6th to 12th grade. We keep striving to continue to grow our team and stay competitive against each other, in our conference, and as well as out region.

The Cross Country coach is looking forward to putting in some hard work during this season of building. They have a very young team, which is wonderful but unfortunately means that 6th graders can't gain any team points. They have mostly returned athletes, though they lost a couple key runners. The coach is excited to grow with these athletes, push them, and see what they can do. Returning varsity letter winner is sophomore Payton Moore, but also hoping to see great things from junior Jadie Turner and 7th grader

Christian Peterson at the varsity level. The Redfield Cross Country team is full of hard workers, so their looking forward to lots of growth this fall.

With the majority of our athletes returning, we hope to build from where we left off last year. Our boys team will have stiff competition for the 5 varsity roster spots, while the girls team will enjoy more depth than it has in the past. This hardworking group of kids is excited to improve this season.

We are very young—12 of our 15 varsity players are freshmen and sophomores. We have lots of players who are at the same skill level who will compete for playing time, and lineups and rotations will evolve as the players improve and the season progresses. We will focus on the serve and pass game and continue to develop our attacking IQ. In order to be successful, we will need to be able to put a ball down, reduce our unforced errors, stay focused during the match, and develop leadership both on and off the court.

 The Northwestern Wildcat Football team can be classified as a young team. They will be playing some younger kids with some experienced players. This will make for an interesting year as the schedule has some tougher opponents. Their main weakness is their youth and inexperience. But their strengths are included a second-year quarterback (Dallas Stoltenberg) and good linemen and running backs.

The Hitchcock-Tulare Patriots football team has a great mix of old, young, athletic, strong, and combination of both. We appear to have great attitudes and are ready to make a back-to-back Championship run. The key for our team is to come together as a team. It is so important that they play together as a team. Our biggest challenges will be building the team and getting young players to know what our seniors knew in less time. Our toughest opponents will be all of them as we play great athletes in our area and don't expect it to be any different this year.

We sit in a great spot coming into the season as we basically have our whole rotation returning for this coming season. The girls have worked extremely hard this season on getting better as the expectations are very high coming into the season. We have a great group of hitters that can hit a variety of shots. Our serving looked well during the summer. Some areas that we must improve in are our setting, team defense, and serve receive. We need to get more consistent in each of those areas. If we play and work as a team, this group will be competitive each night out and hopefully be primed by October to make a deep post season run.

The highlights from last season for the Patriot Cross Country team was Avery Miles qualifying for state and the addition of the Doland athletes. They have several returning runners including lettermen Josiah Wiebe, Isaac VanScharrel, Cambree Mc Neil, Cambree Hoekman, Regan Lutter and Kaiden Weinreis along with a good mixture of young runners. The coaches are looking forward to seeing what unfolds as the gets underway. They feel they have good leadership in their older runners and are looking forward to a fun season.
