ABC weekday staple 'General Hospital' turns 60

celebrity scoop

Before he landed on "The Blacklist," Hisham Tawfiq devoted his life to public service.

Indeed, before he took the role of bodyguard-turned-FBI agent Dembe Zuma in the Sunday NBC thriller, he was a U.S. Marine deployed in Iraq during Operation Desert Storm in the early '90s, a corrections officer at Sing Sing prison in Ossining, N.Y., and a New York City firefighter.

In fact, he was two years away from his pension with the FDNY when he booked "The Blacklist." So for those last two years, the series was his second job while he finished his 20 years with the Department.

"I loved it, man," the 51-year-old native of Harlem says. "I never had a dream to be a firefighter. But I think when I came home from the Marines and learned about the job, it kind of fit with everything I was doing. I love uniforms and tools and getting ready and dirty and at the same time helping people, and the fire department gave me that opportunity."

In fact, it's that love of public service that Tawfiq brought to the character of Dembe. He says he used to beat himself up for not going to drama school, the traditional route of most actors, until an acting teacher pointed out that his life had already given him plenty of training.

Very few television programs last for 60 years, especially in the current media climate.

That makes it a big deal, indeed, that the ABC drama "General Hospital" - which has won the Daytime Emmy Award for outstanding drama series 14 times, a record – is marking its six-decade milestone with special moments before and after the actual anniversary: April 1, which falls on a Saturday this year. Still, the Monday-through-Friday episodes surrounding that date will honor legendary characters and stories (including a tribute to late co-star Sonya Eddy), and bring back the popular Nurses Ball being staged for the first time in three years.

Created by Frank and Doris Hursley, the saga of the residents of the fictional Port Charles (now guided by executive producer Frank Valentini) has transformed since its 1963 debut, reaching one of its peaks with the 1981 wedding of Luke and Laura Spencer (played by Anthony Geary and continuing cast member Genie Francis) ... to date, the highest-rated dramatic hour in daytime-TV history. However, for whatever romance or espionage has been factored in, the center of the show always has been the title medical facility.

One of the longtime characters reflecting that is Nurse Elizabeth Webber, portrayed by Rebecca Herbst, who's marking her own "General Hospital" milestone by celebrating her 25th anniversary with the series. The part was created for her, and with her alter ego having gone through affairs and kidnappings and pregnancies over a quarter-century, the threetime Daytime Emmy nominee appreciates that she remains prominent on the show.

"It certainly does not feel like it's been 25 years," the pleasant Herbst reflects. "We have so many cast members, I do not envy the writers with their job of keeping everybody on the canvas in these complex stories. It really is amazing to me."

Herbst confirms that the mood on the "General Hospital" set has been quite spirited lately. "I feel like we look at each other and just chuckle in a way," she muses, "because this show has been around for 60 years. We're not surprised, because it's been a popular show forever and our writers have done a really great job of keeping up with the times. We're just incredibly grateful that we're still here!"

Married to former "General Hospital" co-star Michael Saucedo, with whom she has three children, Herbst almost left the show in 2011 due to a storyline shift. Fans spoke up against that – loudly – and effectively saved her job.

Expressing her ongoing thanks for that, Herbst says that lately, the initially rebellious Elizabeth is "not too far off from who she was when she came to Port Charles. It's really nice that I've been able to add so many layers to the character over the years."

"My acting teacher told me to just recognize and acknowledge my life experiences and how that kind of separates me from a lot of artists," Tawfiq says. "And it's just knowing the tools and having the tools to be able to use all of those life experiences and apply them to whatever character and whatever moment I'm in. And I've learned to do that so it's worked pretty fluidly for me."

Movie: Cool Hand Luke What we've got here is the ultimate prison movie, which set the standard for the genre and earned Paul Newman an Oscar nomination. His Luke is a rebellious World War II vet who lands on a chain gang for beheading some parking meters in a fit of rage. Newman didn't win, but George Kennedy was named best supporting actor for his performance as the hulking Dragline. Strother Martin and Dennis Hopper also star in the 1967 drama.

MLB Baseball Opening Day is finally upon us and it kicks off in style tonight at Minute Maid Park, where the Houston Astros will raise the 2022 championship banner to the rafters prior to their home opener against Luis Robert and the Chicago White Sox. Despite losing pitching ace Justin Verlander to free agency, the Astros are once again loaded for a long postseason run, having added ex-Chisox slugger Jose Abreu to an already formidable lineup. As for the Pale Hose, they had a relatively quiet offseason save for losing Abreu, but in a weak AL Central they may have enough for a Wild Card run.

Playoff implications are all over tonight's TNT NBA doubleheader, which starts off with a clash between the top two teams in the East as Giannis Antetokounmpo and the Milwaukee Bucks defend home hardwood from Jayson Tatum and the Boston Celtics. These teams have split their first two games this season, each winning at home. Then in the nightcap, two Western contenders collide when CJ McCollum and the New Orleans Pelicans visit Nikola Jokic and the Denver Nuggets, against whom they have a 1-2 record so far this year. 8 PM 9 PM 8.30

Movie: The Ten Commandments

6 p.m. on 9 9

Charlton Heston, Yul Brynner and Anne Baxter star in director Cecil B. DeMille's final film, the 1956 biblical epic about the life of Moses. The picture's first-rate visual effects include the parting of the Red Sea — and bear in mind what a wonder that was for moviegoers at the time, well before the computer-generated effects of today. Yvonne De Carlo, Nina Foch, John Derek and Vincent Price co-star, with little Fraser Heston as the infant Moses.
