Ginger Gonzaga and Steve Howey star in "True Lies," premiering Wednesday on CBS and Paramount+.

Almost 30 years later, one of Arnold Schwarzenegger and James Cameron's top movie hits is becoming a television series ... and that's the truth.

The seriocomic adventure "True Lies" premieres in its weekly form Wednesday, March 1, on CBS and Paramount+, basically remaking the 1994 film as the opening episode. Steve Howey ("Shameless," "Reba") assumes Schwarzenegger's role as Harry Tasker, a super-spy whose wife Helen (Ginger Gonzaga of "She-Hulk: Attorney at Law," inheriting Jamie Lee Curtis' earlier part) believes he's a mild-mannered computer salesman. Once she learns what his real job is, she's enlisted by his intelligence agency, and they frequently travel the world on missions – while trying to prevent their children (Annabella Didion, Lucas Jaye) from finding out.

"It's the hardest job I've had yet," states the good-humored Howey, who has no illusions about possibly being mistaken for Schwarzenegger as he generates his own "True Lies" under the leadership of executive producer Matt Nix ("Burn Notice"). "This experience has taught me a lot about having an idea and then executing it," Howey reflects, "because that doesn't always pan out. Every episode of this gets better. And we get more tired."

An alum of CBS' "Showcase" talent search, the lively Gonzaga knows "True Lies" also is a big showcase for her. She notes she feels "guilty" that she didn't see the movie before landing the TV job: "I didn't want to be influenced by Jamie Lee's iconic performance. And then, I had to buy the DVD off eBay ... and a DVD player. It was a whole 'thing.'"

With Omar Miller ("CSI: Miami"), Erica Hernandez and Mike O'Gorman also featured, "True Lies" has been in development for TV since 2010, and Gonzaga reasons that it's "good that it's been a while." Since Cameron also had other commitments (including the now-Oscar-nominated "Avatar: The Way of Water"), his longtime associate Rae Sanchini had more firsthand involvement in the casting; Tom Arnold, of the original movie, is a guest star on the show.

Being built for action, "True Lies" can put its stars at risk, as Howey learned close to the end of filming the first season.

"I was fighting a stunt man," he reports, "and we did it once and it went great. Then we did it again, and he pretended to bounce his face off a wall ... and as he went back, my left hand went forward into his neck, and it snapped my left ring finger back to the point where my nail hit my knuckle. And I finished the stunt, and when they yelled 'Cut!' I snapped it back. Then I got an X-ray and sure enough, I broke the bone. And I thought, 'There's a reason you have a stunt guy. Use him.'" says he came away surprised by some of the rankings and hopes that it will spark discussion among viewers.

"I was kind of learning as I was sort of talking into the cameras," he says, "and I can remember having reactions like we hope people watching the show will have. They'll agree on some, they'll disagree some. ... Hopefully that means they're watching if they're debating it."

Checking in with PEYTON MANNING

Stadiums are a topic with which Peyton Manning is very familiar. He's certainly played in enough of them in his combined 25 years as a high school, college and pro quarterback.

So when that became the subject of the premiere episode of his Monday History series "History's Greatest of All Time With Peyton Manning," the five-time NFL MVP and two-time Super Bowl champ had two that held particularly fond personal memories for him.

"I played in the Superdome in high school, in the NFL," the New Orleans native says. "I used to go there a ton as a kid when my dad (Archie) was the quarterback for the Saints when it opened in the mid-'70s. I used to go down on that Superdome field after the game. When my dad was getting dressed, me and my brother Cooper would play one-on-one 100-yard football."

And then in college, the former Tennessee Volunteer All American adds, "Neyland Stadium in Knoxville, it's a hundred years old, great history there. ... That was one that was very special to me."

As for his current role as host and executive producer of the hourlong series that counts down the top 10 greatest in various categories, from sports cars and inventions to daredevils and titans of industry, Manning tonight's picks

Alex Guarnaschelli

Tuesday
7 p.m. on (31); 2 a.m. on (31)

Chopped

The chefs are left a bit flummoxed by some thingy fried in the appetizer basket, but they must power on in order to make it to the next round. Then, the competitive fire is strong in the entrée round as the chefs hustle to put together plates from a particularly strange combination of basket ingredients, including curious fusion tacos. But luckily, judges Alex Guarnaschelli, Marc Murphy, Amanda Freitag and Marcus Samuelsson are impressed when the chefs bring very different yet clear visions to the dessert table in the new episode "Gluten for Punishment." Ted Allen hosts.

7 p.m. on (45); 11 p.m. on (45)

Homestead Rescue

Raney family patriarch Marty attempts to help a family in Wyoming restore an inherited homestead with a tragic history, while attempting to unravel the mystery of an unfinished well. It's one of their most creative builds yet, and Misty combines a one-of-a-kind aquaponic greenhouse and with a new duck sanctuary built by Matt, for an inventive "duckaponics" system that everyone goes "quackers" over in the Season 10 premiere episode "Black Hills Hope."

7 p.m. on (56)

Movie: The Palm Beach Story
Gerry (Claudette Colbert) and Tom Jeffers (Joel McCrea) are finding married life a wee bit difficult. Tom is a struggling inventor/architect and they're about to be thrown out of their apartment when Gerry meets rich businessman J.D. Hackensacker III (Rudy Vallee). She decides it makes better financial sense to get a quick divorce in Palm Beach and marry J.D. in order to keep Tom's dreams afloat in this 1942 comedy, airing as part of the channel's spotlight on "Screwball Comedies."

8 p.m. on (43) (5)

La Brea

Gavin (Eoin Macken) leads his family toward a new way home, but each step inches everyone closer toward his devastating vision of Eve's (Natalie Zea) death. And with Levi (Nicholas Gonzalez) ostracized from the others, he is given a chance at redemption. Then, with Gavin on the verge of dying, Eve and her family make a desperate attempt to set things right. Elsewhere, Veronica (Lily Santiago) reveals a secret that sends her relationship with Lucas (Josh Kenzie) into jeopardy in the Season 2 finale "The Journey, Part 1." Part 2 immediately follows.

9 p.m. on (9) (9)

Will Trent

Abracadabra! Will (Ramon Rodriguez) discovers there is more than meets the eye to a case that comes across his desk and hits a little close to home. Meanwhile, Angie (Erika Christensen) and Ormewood (Jake McLaughlin) investigate a murdered magician while uncovering some extra tricks that had been up his sleeve in the new episode "Two Hundred Dollars and a Bus Pass." Iantha Richardson and Sonja Lohan also star.

10:15 p.m. on (401)

Movie: The King's Man

The third installment in the "Kingsman" movie franchise and a prequel to the two earlier films, Matthew Vaughn's 2021 spy action comedy underperformed at the box office, mainly due to pandemic-related issues. It still delivers an entertaining yarn about how the Kingsman organization was born during the turmoil of World War I. Ralph Fiennes heads the stellar cast as Orlando, Duke of Oxford and founder of the spy network, with Tom Hollander ("The Night Manager") pulling triple duty in multiple roles. Gemma Arterton, Rhys Ifans, Matthew Goode and Daniel Bruhl co-star.
