MIKE CARROLL/PLAINSMAN

Eric Brueggeman from Miller prepares to harvest a rooster that has flushed due to the work of his dog, Charley, during the 2021 Bird Dog Challenge.

Bird Dog Challenge kicks off Ringneck Festival

BY LAURIE SHELTON

The 20th Annual Bird Dog Challenge kicks off the 25th Ringneck Festival.

The 20th Annual Bird Dog Challenge is Thursday, November 3rd & Friday, November 4th. The Bird Dog Challenge acts as a pre-event to the festival's main event.

Teams of two hunters and one dog between them have 15 minutes to shoot up to five birds. This exhibition tests the skills of both dogs and hunters as points are awarded based on birds harvested, full, partial and normal retrieves, shots not taken and every second that remains on the clock.

The Bird Dog challenge is set up on one property with two fields consisting of 3-5 acres per field. The birds are planted right before the hunters go out into the field. Hunters are placed in a trailer and do not see where the birds are placed.

This year, the Bird Dog Challenge has a new location which is 8 miles south of Huron on Highway 37, then 2 miles west and one-half mile south. The land was generously donated for the Bird Dog Challenge by Dave Ellwein.

The Bird Dog Challenge can not be done without great volunteers who help run the event. Scorekeepers, bird setters, tabulators and on deck officials all keep the event running seamlessly.

If interest in next years Ringneck Festival and/or Bird Dog Challenge you can contact Laura Cross at the Huron Chamber & Visitors Bureau 605-352-0000, or e-mailing laura.cross@huronsd.com and also going to www.hunthuronsd.com.

Ringneck Festival celebrates 25 years

BY LAURIE SHELTON

Who can believe The Huron Chamber & Visitors Bureau is celebrating 25 years of hosting the Ringneck Festival and 20 years of the Bird Dog Challenge??

While I haven't been at the Huron Chamber & Visitors Bureau for 25 years, I feel I have been part of The Ringneck Festival for the majority of that time. My husband Kent has been hunting in it since 1999 – the third year of the event. He eventually joined the Ringneck Festival Committee in 2002 which gave me an in to the event and its activities. As I reviewed the programs and looked over the teams and participants, many memories of people came flooding back. To me the Ringneck Festival & Bird Dog Challenge is about the camaraderie, the sharing of stories, the friends and acquaintances met along the way. My heart literally is full as I reminisce. One year, as a volunteer, I was charged with taking pictures of the teams when they came in. This was before cell phones with cameras and the camera I was given to use kept freezing up because it was below zero windchills that day. I only had to be out when the teams came in, the hunters were out in it all day. That same year, I helped recruit a couple as volunteer scorekeepers, one happened to be my best friend..... I don't believe she volunteered again as it was so miserable. But of course, there has been years where the weather was perfect, not too hot or cold. You never know what weather you'll get. Only the promise that you will have fun if you are prepared.

We reached out to a few people who have been part of the Ringneck Festival for a long time to have them share their memories with us:

Johnny Richman – Ringneck participant since 1999 share with us the following:

One of my most memorable hunts in the festival was year one. We had an all family team with myself being captain with my dad by my side. We hunted over by Lake Thompson and had a great time with some awesome water retrievers by our canine friends Babe and Patton. We hunted very hard and had 17 birds with my dad having the last shell in his gun. As we were running out of time we had one last hillside draw to walk so the six of us took off hard and fast with the sheer excitement of that last rooster and about halfway through, the dogs got birdie and flushed that bird with my dad in the middle, he raised his gun and fired... and the bird kept flying. All five of us hunters let out the biggest sigh of disappointment for the miss, but my dad just looked at me and said "That's hunting my son – can't get them all" At that moment I realized it wasn't about the birds we got, but about the memories we have in sharing the outdoors with the people we care about. Over the past 25 years I've made some great friendships and can't wait every year to make more memories. Maybe win this damn thing once."

Steve Besch – Longtime committee member and emcee:

"While I have many fond memories of my years on the Ringneck Festival Committee, one in particular stands out. The year E. W. Carr and a two-man crew cleaned all the Pheasants from the Saturday Hunt in a back room at the crossroads on that cold, snowy fall day, and I mean cold and snowy. I believe it started snowing at 7:30 that morning and snowed all day long. He had uplifting conversation and a smile for every member of every team.

FESTIVAL:

When he asked one first time team if they had a good day they answered "were do we sign up for next year". A few short years later I had the sad but honorable pleasure of announcing his induction into the Ringneck Festival Hall of Fame Posthumously. He was represented by his wife and a multitude of his family. What a special memory that was for me. He was a steward of the land, the birds, and a lover of the hunt. He will always be a large piece in the foundation of the Ringneck Festival. You are missed Doctor E. W. Carr."

Peggy Besch – former Huron Chamber & Visitor Bureau CEO for 22 years.

It is funny that as Steve and I were visiting, we both shared a similar memory of EW Carr (Wayne Senior). This was the early years of the Ringneck Festival and the Carr family was heavily vested in the event. EW "volunteered" to clean the harvested pheasants which we all thought was such a generous offer and, of course, took him up on it. The Ringneck Festival teams hunts proved to be bountiful and to our dismay (and probably EW's) there where Ringneck Pheasants stacked from floor to ceiling in a small storage room at the end of the hall off the corridor at the Crossroads. Poor man was up to his ankles in birds and feathers FOR HOURS plucking, cleaning and tagging to ensure each team had the correct birds they had harvested. It was quite a sight! We all knew EW was a man of character and integrity but his determination and perseverance to ensure positive outcomes for both the Ringneck Festival's reputation and the hunter's experience was steadfast! I remember two weeks after the festival, walking down the Crossroads corridor into the hallway and the remnants of pheasant feathers, much like dust bunnies, still lingered along the hallway floors.

Another memory was the year of the Rock! Every year the Ringneck Festival Committee brainstorms to come up with unique and practical gift ideas for landowners as a small token of appreciation for donating their land for the event. This is sometimes a struggle and the committee takes it very seriously. After careful consideration, a decision was made to go with a very large stone...rock...

boulder if you will, that will be customize with the landowner's name. VERY COOL! And they were cool! What was not cool was we had not given much thought as to what it would take to move these suckers around! It was BRUTAL! Nevertheless, they were unique and after much work to actually get them to all the landowner's home, all was well (except our backs!).

There are so many great memories with teams and landowners to scorekeepers, committee members, sponsors and friends of the festival. Memories of snowstorms, rain, sleet, heat, tons of laughter and even a few tears! The Huron Ringneck Festival has made it's mark on the hearts and souls of many (including the community of Huron and the surrounding area)! Congratulations to 25 years of success!

Kent Shelton – Participant since 1999 and Committee member since 2002 and Chairperson since 2003:

There are a number of things that have happened over the 25 years that are memories I will always have such as the first year of the festival when my team consisted of four 30 year olds and 2 80-year-olds and we won it with 18 birds. The year E.W. Carr cleaned all of the birds. But what stands out the most to me is the year that Bob Strassman was here and the Chamber received a call that his daughter Stephanie had been killed in a car accident. Peggy had to go out into the field where Bob was hunting and give him the bad news. That was a tragedy. Bob's team packed up and left immediately. But the next year he came back and donated an SKB shotgun to be auctioned off at the Ringneck festival and the proceeds to be used for promoting youth hunting and Outdoor Sports in and around Huron. That shotgun sold three different times totalling approximately $8,000. Since that day we have had other auctions to build up the fund and that money has been used for youth pheasant hunts, duck hunts, deer hunts and other youth programs around the Huron area. Tens of thousands of dollars have been raised and spent to promote youth hunting and Outdoor Sports in the Huron area.

FESTIVAL:

So out of a tragedy, wonderful things have occurred. The future of hunting is with our youth and whatever we can do to promote that is absolutely vital to continuing this legacy.

Doug Dutenhoeffer – former Plainsman Newspaper staff, Festival participant and committee member:

In the very beginning 1997-1998 the Ringneck Festival hosted sportswriters from newspapers, magazines and TV to show them how great our pheasant hunting was in Huron, hoping they would go back and write about the great ringneck hunting experience in Huron SD. What took the festival to the next level was when we turned the event into a hunting competition and invited teams from across the country to come to Huron and enjoy 3 days of fun, entertainment, the dog challenge and a great pheasant hunt, plus the top teams had bragging rights and it usually insured they would be back next year to defend their title. It was all in good fun. What made it successful then as it does now, is the hardworking volunteers, committee and staff that put in many, many man hours and a lot of legwork the months before and during the event.

Over the 25 years the Ringneck Festival has hosted 526 teams amounting to 3156 hunters and utilized 1052 volunteer scorekeepers utilizing donated land 551 times by generous landowners. Some years we have had as many as 30 teams and had to turn teams away and in early years as few as 10. Each year, once team registration is passed on August 31st, we then begin to work on landowners. They are such a crucial component of the Festival. Over the years we have been so blessed by the landowners who have stepped up to donate the use of their land for the benefit of this event and in turn our community.

Because so many have contributed so much to the Ringneck Festival the 2009 Ringneck Festival marked the inception of the RLB's Ringneck Festival Hall of Fame. This honorary award, in memory of Roger Bultman and RLB Kennels, was put in place to recognize participants of the festival who have given tremendously throughout the years. To date, inductees of the RLB's Ringneck Festival Hall of Fame include the following:

2009 – Roger Bultman – Team Member/Supporter and Dr. E.W Carr – Landowner; Rich Langbehn, Landowner and Jack Link – Team Member/Sponsor.

2010 – Questionable Characters – Team & Bob Strassman – Team Member

2015 – Peggy Besch – Committee Member; Team Cut-tem' – Team

2016 – Hawkeye Hunters – team; Joel Horn – Scorekeeper; 2017 – Greg & Bobbi Ward – Landowners; DJ, Chisum & Payton Hofer – Landowners; John Farrell – Scorekeeper

2018 – Ben Meyer – Auctioneer; JJ & Kelly Burke – Landowner

2019 – Prostrollo Motor Sales – Sponsor; Ernest Ba-

ruth & Sons – Landowner
2021 – Mike Carroll – Scorekeeper ; Jim Hein – Scorekeeper

Over the years, two different funds have been established. The first was the Strassman Fund, which Kent Shelton shared as part of his memory and then Ringneck Volunteer Scholarship fund for the volunteers and direct family members to apply for as they attend post-secondary education. The Ringneck committee realizes how important these volunteers and landowners are to the success of the Ringneck Festival, and this was just a small way to give back to those volunteers.

As your neighbors, friends and family, we're passionate about giving back to the communities where we live and work. Each year, we contribute millions of dollars in charitable donations, sponsorships, scholarships and economic development opportunities. We also donate our time to strengthen the organizations and projects providing meaningful and important services to our communities. It's by working together that we're able to deliver a bright future.
