Joe Mantegna stars in "Criminal Minds: Evolution," which begins streaming Thursday on Paramount+.

'Criminal Minds: Evolution' revives mystery series

"Criminal Minds" is back ... but if you ask its stars, it never should have left.

The mystery centering on the cases of the FBI's Behavioral Analysis Unit ended its 15-season CBS run in 2020, and since then, it has remained popular in repeats on cable networks and streaming services. As a result, the show returns with most of its regular cast members when "Criminal Minds: Evolution" begins streaming Thursday, Nov. 24, on Paramount+. CBS also will run the first episode that night. (In Canada, the drama is coming to Disney+, where episodes of the original series are available now.)

The BAU agents have many unsubs (or unknown subjects) to pursue this time, thanks to an enemy, played by recurring guest star Zach Gilford ("Friday Night Lights") who has utilized the coronavirus pandemic to assemble a network of serial killers. David Rossi and Emily Prentiss (returnees Joe Mantegna and Paget Brewster) again lead the charge against evildoers, with A.J. Cook, Kirsten Vangsness, Aisha Tyler and Adam Rodriguez also reprising their roles. (Matthew Gray Gubler and Daniel Henner haven't returned for the revival.)

"We never wanted to go away to begin with," executive producer Erica Messer confirms. "We knew that there were plenty of stories to tell, and that's one of the things. You can sort of feel behind the scenes if a show is lagging or, creatively, the scripts aren't hitting. And because we're telling stories of good and evil, it's kind of endless."

Mantegna, Cook, Tyler and Rodriguez also get to direct on "Criminal Minds: Evolution," as they did on the first series. "I've always been a defender of the fact that our show gave that realistic aspect to what these real men and women do," says Mantegna. "Very often, we hear, 'Don't you get nightmares?' or, 'Doesn't it disturb you to do this show?' It doesn't disturb me at all because when they say 'Cut,' that person lying there with the ax in his head pops up and goes over to craft services and gets a sandwich.

"The ones I worry about," Mantegna adds, "are the real men and women of the FBI and other law enforcement agencies around the world who have to really do this for a living. What I love about our show is that we show it like it is, and I think that's important."

Though streaming offers more leeway for adult content and language than broadcast television, Messer notes she's aware that the "Criminal Minds" fan base includes teenagers, thus she "never wanted us to go into full, like, R-rated extra violence or anything that would suddenly feel like a very different series. You just get to live and breathe in this space, and it can be a disturbing space to live in."

Checking in with MELISSA GEORGE

Ask Melissa George what she admires most in her character of on-the-lam activist, wife and mom Margot Fox on the Apple TV+ adventure thriller "The Mosquito Coast" and she answers without skipping a beat.

"Her perseverance. I'm very similar to Margot in that respect," the Australian actress explains. "I like the fact that she doesn't give up. I like her femininity and her delicateness at the same time as just being a ruthless lioness for her children. I really admire that. I, in my life too, have Plan A, B, C or D and I teach my kids that all the time. ... And I feel like Margot's like that, too. ... She is first of all, a fearless leader; second of all, a great mother."

The currently streaming second season finds the Foxes on the run from the U.S. government deep in the Guatemalan jungle, where they become entangled in a conflict between a local drug lord and his family. Once again at odds with husband Allie (Justin Theroux) over whether to settle down or keep moving, Margot pursues a solution of her own that will either unite or break up the clan forever.

The new season was one of experimentation for George, who admits the performances of actresses such as Meryl Streep inspired her to find the little subtleties in her own.

"I really worked hard this season to try and find the silences and the beats and the nuances and, I don't know, feel the light," she explains. "We had beautiful cinematography and I just wanted to kind of feel the lights and do different things that I haven't done before. And I've kind of used it as a six month experimental piece because she's very on a singular journey. That's for sure. And the singular journey really required me to kind of stay by myself."

2022 American Music Awards
It's hard to believe but it's been 50 years since the legendary Dick Clark created the first American Music Awards show making it one of the longest continually broadcast award shows. But this year's golden anniversary will celebrate the history that has been made on the AMA stage. Bad Bunny could potentially tie Michael Jackson and Whitney Houston for the most awards in a single year if he ends up winning in all his nominated categories. Other notable nominees include Beyoncé, Drake, Taylor Swift, Adele, Harry Styles and The Weeknd.

Movie: A Waltons Thanksgiving
This 2022 drama reunites the Walton family as they prepare for Thanksgiving in 1934. The Depression has reached far and wide, but John Walton Sr. (Teddy Sears) provides for his family through the farm and by doing odd jobs from the eccentric Baldwin Sisters (Susan Savoie, Annie Cook). And it's also the time of year for the Annual Harvest Festival Fair, where carnival rides, talent shows and pie contests become the center of attention. Logan Shroyer, Marcelle LeBlanc, Rebecca Koon and Bellamy Young also star.

Since there are spinoffs in the TWD multiverse, we know that some characters will make it out alive in the episode aptly titled "The Series Finale." Daryl (Norman Reedus), Carol (Melissa McBride), Maggie

Tulsa King

Dwight "The General" Manfredi (Sylvester Stallone), a New York mafia capo, has just been released from prison after 25 years and is unceremoniously exiled by his boss to set up shop in Tulsa, Okla. Realizing that his mob family may not have his best interests in mind, Dwight slowly builds a crew from a group of unlikely characters in order to help him establish a new criminal empire in a place that to him might as well be another planet in the series premiere episode "Go West, Old Man."
