Everyone in the pool: Swimming dominates first week of 2020 Tokyo Olympics

As the 2020 Tokyo Olympics moves into its first full week of competition, swimming comes into sharp focus with a number of American athletes figuring to vie for podium space.

Probably the name most familiar to fans is Katie Ledecky. The 24-year-old Washington, D.C.-area native has a resume like few others, holding five Olympic gold medals, 15 World Championship golds, records for the 23 fastest times in the 800m freestyle (her signature event) and the 10 fastest times in the 1,500m freestyle. She's also the defending Olympic champion in the 200m and 400m freestyle.

In short, she's America's best hope for multiple hardware in Tokyo and Rowdy Gaines, a three-time Olympic gold medal swimmer who will cover the sport when it airs all week beginning Sunday, July 25, on NBC and other outlets, expects her to add to her medal collection here, though not without some stiff competition, namely in Ariarne Titmus of Australia.

"I think she's the only one that can beat Katie," Gaines says. "I really think that in the 200m, 400m and 800m, she's certainly met somebody that can go stroke for stroke with her. But I don't think we've seen the best of Katie. ... Now she's still four seconds or five seconds behind Titmus in the 400m so she's got to find a lot, but I really do believe that she can run the table for the 200m to the 1,500m if she's on like I know she can be."

Caeleb Dressel vies for Team USA in swimming at the 2020 Tokyo Olympics, airing all week on NBC and other outlets.

On the men's side, Team USA is looking for its stud with Michael Phelps and Ryan Lochte retired from Olympic competition. Enter Caeleb Dressel, who won golds in two relay events at Rio de Janeiro in 2016 and figures to compete in as many as seven in Tokyo.

"I really believe that for the men's side, Team USA will go so far as Caeleb Dressel goes," Gaines says. "Because if he's successful, I think it will be a domino effect for the rest of those men because these are not very experienced men. ... And Caeleb is one that has certainly had the experience, knows what it's been like, knows how to compete at the highest level with the World Championships that followed. But boy, he's got a lot of pressure on his back just like Michael did all those years."

As for up-and-comers to watch, Gaines has his eye on several swimmers, among them Annie Lazor, Kieran Smith, Bobby Finke and Lydia Jacoby, a 17-year-old who is the first Olympic swimmer from Alaska.

"She represents a first, for sure, which is really cool," Gaines says. "I've been to Alaska a couple of times for swim clinics, believe it or not, and they have some good swimming there. It's just that it's tough because during the outdoor season, it's hard to find an outdoor 50-meter pool that a lot of states have and they have to go indoors and there are only so many 50-meter indoor pools in Alaska. So it's really great, I think she'll help the sport a lot in that state."

Checking in with JUNO TEMPLE

Juno Temple has nothing but admiration for her "Ted Lasso" co-star Hannah Waddingham.

Indeed, as Keeley Jones, the promotional director for the A.F.C. Richmond football club owned by Waddingham's Rebecca Welton in the Apple TV+ comedy, the 32-year-old British actress spends a lot of time with her on and off screen and she says her friendship has been invaluable over the three years she's known her.

"I can genuinely tell you that my life has been bettered by having Hannah Waddingham come into it," Temple exclaimed. "She is truly one of the most inspiring women I've ever been lucky enough to work with. And doing scenes with her feels like home, it feels like a safe place, and I love her endlessly. I really do. I'm sure that sounds cheesy and silly but that's the truth."

The currently streaming second season finds Keeley continuing to flourish in her role with the team while she moves forward in her relationship with Richmond player Roy (Brett Goldstein). As for specifics, Temple understandably demurred, lest she give away spoilers. But she will allow that like Season 1, there will be plenty of surprises for viewers — just as there were for the cast.

"We get scripts very last minute," Temple explains, "so we're also kind of living our character's existence because we don't know what's going to happen next and you can't dwell on the past because you've got to be in the present because that's what you've just got handed."

Nick's (Robin Lord Taylor) timeline shifts just as Allison and Patty (Annie Murphy, Mary Hollis Inboden) prepare for the big night in a new episode called "Broken." Meanwhile, Kevin, Neil and Pete (Eric Petersen, Alex Bonifer, Brian Howe) start a band, but Neil soon grows paranoid that Kevin secretly has other plans when he finds a fertility clinic brochure in the trash. Elsewhere, Tammy (Candice Coke) and Patty get closer.

Flatbush Misdemeanors

After breaking protocol, Dan and Jess (Dan Perlman, Sharlene Cruz) are forced to face some inevitable consequences at their job in a new episode called "Breaking." Meanwhile, Kevin (Kevin Iso) is sorely peeved to discover Dan lied to him about Zayna (Kristin Dodson). Eventually, the fracture between these two longtime friends drives Kevin to seek Drew's (Hassan Johnson) friendship, all of which culminates in a tragic outcome.

2020 Tokyo Olympics

Swimming takes center stage tonight in Tokyo as hardware is handed out in the men's 200m freestyle, in which Kieran Smith represents Team USA's best chance for gold, as well as the women's 100m backstroke, where Americans Rhyann White and 19-year-old first-timer Regan Smith will vie for podium space. There are also finals in men's synchronized platform diving and men's team gymnastics and women's triathlon.

7 p.m. on 13

Roswell, New Mexico

Still reeling from the events of Season 2, the aliens and their human allies are drawn back together through a threat from a stranger who seems oddly familiar and a murder that has yet to happen as this cult sci-fi reboot returns for its third season. These new episodes will involve reunions, break-ups and the imminent death of someone they all hold dear. Jeanine They, Nath Dean, Michael Vlamis, Lily Cowles and Tyler Blackburn are among the returnees; new recurring actors include Steven Krueger, Michael Grant Terry and Gillian Vigman.

8 p.m. on 33; 11 p.m. on 33

Celebrity IOU

In the new "Josh Groban's Life-Changing Gift to His Bandmate," crooner Groban calls on hosts Jonathan and Drew Scott to give his colleague and friend of 20 years Mark a badly needed renovation. Mark's cramped garage studio is not adequate for a musician of his caliber, so the makeover includes a state-of-the-art recording setup, and an outdoor oasis for him and his whole family to enjoy.

9 p.m. on 8 (8)

POV

Filmmaker David Osit's entertaining, insightful and often surprisingly funny 2020 documentary "Mayor" follows Musa Hadid, mayor of Ramallah, the de facto capital of the Palestinian National Authority, as he tries to keep the city running despite Israeli occupation of his home. Hadid, whom Osit followed over the course of two years, emerges as an immensely likable, hands-on public servant, who relies on his direct connection with Ramallah and its people, whether he's coping with a sewage spill or berating a bus driver for exceeding the speed limit.

9 p.m. on 32; 1 a.m. on 32

Monsters and Mysteries in America

In a new two-hour episode called "Monstrous Revenge and The Shapeshifter," vengeful mutant creatures savagely prey on the innocent without remorse. In other segments, a shapeshifting werewolf guards a region of the Louisiana swamps, while a zombie witch rises from the grave to terrorize the living. Finally, a UFO sighting leads to a new theory about the origins of Bigfoot.
