Laura Osnes is among the performers featured on "A Capitol Fourth 2021" Sunday on PBS

Laura Osnes helps mark 'A Capitol Fourth' again on PBS

As familiar as she is with singing in "A Capitol Fourth," Laura Osnes knows that this year's event will be different.

Twice a veteran of the holiday concert, the Broadway star makes it three times by appearing again in the PBS special's 41st annual edition Sunday, July 4 (check local listings). As with last year's show, the traditional gathering on the West Lawn of the U.S. Capitol is out because of the coronavirus pandemic – but other locations in and around Washington, D.C., are being used for pre-taped performances introduced by returning host Vanessa Williams.

"There's a segment honoring the Gershwin brothers, so I'll be doing a very famous song of theirs with The Rickey Minor Band," the lively and pleasant Osnes reports, "and I'll be outside on the rooftop of a famous building. This time has caused a lot of people to think outside the box and get creative with content."

Also on the scheduled talent roster for "A Capitol Fourth 2021" are music icons Jimmy Buffett and Gladys Knight, opera legend Renee Fleming, Tony Award winners Cynthya Erivo and Ali Stroker, actress-singer Auli'i Cravalho, the music groups Pentatonix and Train, and country stars Alan Jackson, Mickey Guyton, Jennifer Nettles and Jimmie Allen. Jack Everly will conduct the National Symphony Orchestra.

Osnes admits that she misses not being together with the other cast members, "that camaraderie and community, but the content gets to be really rehearsed and shot one or two times, so you can get it perfect. That's like my also doing the Kennedy Center Honors recently; we got to use the roof of the Center for it, and we've never been in that space before. I'm excited to showcase the city of Washington and not just the Capitol.

"I relish any opportunity to honor our country," adds Osnes, who also reflected patriotic themes in "A Homecoming for the Holidays" ... one of the several Hallmark Channel movies she has starred in. "This was an easy 'yes' for me," she says of accepting the request to return to "A Capitol Fourth."

Osnes notes she feels "very, very grateful" for the professional activities she's had when much of the entertainment industry has been closed or substantially scaled back – including Broadway, where venues that cater to live performances are slated to reopen in September.

"I don't have a show that I'm jumping back into, but I'm very excited for my friends," says Osnes, who has starred in such New York productions as "Grease," "South Pacific" and "Bandstand," and will tour this fall with a newly rebranded "Disney Princesses" show that she co-created. "I'm glad that theaters will again bring joy to people, as well as the much-needed artistic outlet that everybody has been craving."

celebrity scoop

BY GEORGE DICKIE

Every actor has a technique for breathing out a character after a series ends.

Some go to Europe for a few months, others engage in risky behavior like skydiving or bungee-jumping and still others jump right into another project.

For Keir Gilchrist, who recently ended his run as Sam Gardner, a collegian on the autism spectrum, in the Netflix dramedy "Atypical," which begins streaming its fourth and final season Friday, July 9, he sought the solitude of the wilderness.

"I kind of woke up the next day," the English-born Canadian actor recalls, "and sort of was like, 'Wow, it's really over.'

And then with my partner, we just went up to a cabin in the mountains and took a week to just kind of ... breathe and hang out and hike and just sort of get out. Especially also too, being on set, especially after having been in isolation for a year, was a lot, kind of a lot of stimulation. So I just took some time to just kind of be with my partner, my dog and just relax. And I think I'm still processing it to some degree."

The new season finds Sam taking on a new challenge about which Gilchrist could reveal very little, except to say it is "something very outside of his comfort zone." He likes the character, something he says is not always the case, and he embraced the chance to play a very serious character on a comedic show.

"He's kind of the ultimate straight man to some degree in a lot of these comedic situations," Gilchrist says, "and that was a really interesting kind of juxtaposition because ... Sam is very serious. But there's also some hilarious situations and so getting to be in these hilarious situations with Sam was really fun and at times it was also very challenging and heartbreaking."

Full name: Keir David Peters Gilchrist

Birth date: Sept. 28, 1992

Birthplace: London, England (raised in Toronto)

Family ties: Single; the oldest son of Ian and Catherine Gilchrist; is the grandson of Canadian economist Douglas Peters Rogue Shark?

The remote Whitsunday Islands off the Australian coast were rocked in October 2018 by a shocking series of shark attacks, but what made the finny assault even more noteworthy was that every attack took place in the same relatively tiny patch of ocean, about the size of four football fields altogether. Were the attacks committed by one or more rogue sharks, or did something happen in this concentrated area to draw the sharks to these unlucky humans? Experts go looking for answers.

Big Brother
 Big risks can pay off in big rewards for one player — in the form of a $500,000 grand prize — as host Julie Chen Moonves welcomes a new gaggle of Houseguests to tonight's live 90-minute Season 23 premiere. They'll move into a newly redesigned (yes, again) high-tech residence outfitted with 94 HD cameras and more than 113 microphones that capture their every move, every conspiratorial whisper, 24 hours a day.

7 p.m. on 13

Kung Fu
 Nicky and Henry (Olivia Liang, Eddie Liu) follow a lead to a K-pop concert in Las Vegas, which puts them on a collision course with Zhilan and Kerwin (guest stars Yvonne Chapman and Ludi Lin). Meanwhile, Jin and Mei-Li (Tzi Ma, Kheng Hua Tan) reach a big decision concerning the restaurant.

8 p.m. on 46; 12 a.m. on 46

Dr. Pimple Popper
 Dr. Sandra Lee wraps up her fifth season with a finale that bears the not-for-the-squeamish title "A Spoonful of Cyst." Her clients include Stephen, whose large, bulbous nose gets him unwanted attention from strangers, so he hopes Dr. Lee can help. Another patient, Veronica, wants to be free of secrets, including a large bump on her butt that she struggles to keep hidden.

Love Island
 Host Arielle Vandenberg returns to keep an eye on the amorous action as this reality competition series returns for Season 3, this time in the Hawaiian Islands, after COVID-19 precautions forced a Season 2 shift of location to Las Vegas. The matchmaking begins as a bevy of single "Islanders" come together in a sun-drenched, romance-ready villa, eager for a summer of dating and, ultimately, relationships. Did we mention there's also a $100,000 payout for someone at the end?

9 p.m. on 31; 12 a.m. on 31

Kitchen Crash
 Host Jeff Mauro welcomes three chefs to Paramus, N.J., where the trio begs homeowners to allow them to "shop" in their home and share some of the ingredients to use as ingredients in the new episode "Street Fare in New Jersey." With the culinary goods finally in hand, the chefs are challenged by Mauro to use the ingredients in food they'd be likely to find at a festival, including something stuffed and tasty but portable dishes that could be sold at a street fair.

Younger
 After six seasons on TV Land, this hit sitcom made a shift to the streaming platform Paramount Plus for its seventh and final season. For longtime fans who didn't subscribe to that service, though, Season 7 now makes its linear broadcast debut with two back-to-back episodes on its original cable home. The action picks up with Liza (Sutton Foster) considering a (Peter Hermander) proposal, as Diana (Miriam Shor) embarks on her honeymoon.

Shark Gangs
 For many years, the widely held scientific wisdom was that sharks inherently are solitary predators, but this new nature special features scientists who have made a surprising behavioral discovery recently: that these apex predators actually seem to enjoy hanging out together in "gangs." Scrutinizing these newly observed social patterns more closely, the researchers try to discern whether they simply were wrong previously about this aspect of shark life, or if the sharks are working together to become even more effective hunters.

2021 NBA Finals

A 72-game regular season schedule and three tiers of play-offs all come down to one best-of-seven series, and that gets going tonight as the champions of the Eastern and Western conferences square off in Game 1 of the NBA Finals. The winners, of course, get to hoist the Larry O'Brien Trophy as league champions. Last year, that honor went to the Los Angeles Lakers, who defeated the Miami Heat in six games for their 17th title in franchise history.

Backyard Bar Wars

Comic and host Chris Distefano keeps the laughs coming in this chuckle-filled new reality competition series, a send-up of more poker-faced shows, with Distefano "roasting" the efforts of the neighbor-builders as they compete to see which of them can create the most dazzling at-home bar on their block. While the jokes are plentiful, though, the bars themselves are nothing to laugh at, and the final reveals are often jaw-dropping.

 Showrunner Joshua Safran developed his new update and reboot of his hit 2007-12 teen drama, which also ran on the CW. This new series explores how much social media — and the culture of New York itself — has changed since the original run, following a new generation of entitled Upper East Side private-school students who are learning what it's like to be under social surveillance, nearly a decade after the original blog by "Gossip Girl" went dark. Jordan Alexander, Eli Brown, Thomas Doherty, Emily Alyn Lind and Tavi Gevinson star.

Great Performances
 The music documentary "Gloria Estefan: Sangre Yoruba" finds the Grammy Award-winning singer and songwriter serving as narrator and host of this tour through three of Brazil's most influential cities — Buenos Aires, Sao Paulo and Salvador — to demonstrate how those places inspired her to write Brazilian arrangements of some of her biggest hits. In addition to live performance footage of such songs as "Conga," "Get on Your Feet" and "Don't Wanna Lose You," the 90-minute presentation includes Estefan talking with such local celebrities as Maria Rita and Zeca Pagodinho.

Cellmate Secrets: Susan Smith
 A new episode revisits the case of Susan Smith, the South Carolina woman convicted in 1995 of murdering her two little boys by driving her car into a lake with the children strapped into their car seats. Now, two of Smith's former cellmates, Stephanie Hulseley and Christie Smith, offer fresh insights into Smith's life behind bars, where she frequently manipulated other inmates to get her drugs. Alfred Rowe, a former correctional officer disciplined for having sex with Smith, also discusses Smith's knack for manipulating those around her.

World's Most Dangerous Shark
 Most casual shark watchers probably regard the great white shark as the scariest predator in the ocean, but no less an expert than oceanographer Jacques Cousteau regarded a species dubbed the oceanic whitetip to be the most dangerous of all sharks. This new one-hour documentary follows two teams of experts as they take a deep dive into the world of these lesser-known sharks to reveal what makes this species deserve so much respect — not to mention fear.
