Allison Janney brings 'Mom' to a sooner-than-wanted close

Checking in with Cech pounder Cech pounder

As "NCIS: New Orleans" nears its end, CCH Pounder is getting ready for her next professional chapter.

The accomplished actress is a founding cast member of the Sunday drama, which concludes its seven-season CBS run May 23. In keeping with the history of her character – medical examiner Loretta Wade, who regularly assists Naval Criminal Investigative Service team leader Dwayne Pride (Scott Bakula) – she isn't going out quietly. At the same time, though, Pounder has her eyes open for new opportunities.

"I always knew what I wanted to do," the pleasant Pounder reflects. "I wanted to be in every genre that I could, and not do only one thing well that you then end up doing in perpetuity. I played a lot of prostitutes and girls who made awful choices, then I realized how powerful television was, and I decided that I needed to be a little more upstanding.

It's a bit ironic that in the week of Mother's Day, the time has come to say goodbye to "Mom."

The Chuck Lorre-produced CBS series – ostensibly a comedy, but also acclaimed for its amount of pathos – ends its eight-season run Thursday, May 13, with Allison Janney wrapping up the role of recovering addict Bonnie that earned the "I, Tonya" Oscar winner two of her six Primetime Emmy Awards. Lorre co-wrote the final episode.

"She's been really fun," the friendly Janney says of playing Bonnie, "for someone like me who always gets a thrill out of getting to be any character who's not me. She's narcissistic and unapologetic, and it's just a great excuse to be somebody completely different. And to be celebrated for it."

Janney gives full acknowledgement to fellow "Mom" star Anna Faris, who left the show before what turned out to be its last season. "It became about the two of us and our relationships with the women they knew in recovery," Janney reflects. "I loved the way the writers were willing to have the show tell them what it was about, and I'm so proud of what we've been able to do."

With that, Janney is clear about her feelings on "Mom" ending now: "I hate it! I've cried about it, and that's still going to come up a lot. We've showed living life in recovery, and that was the gift that meant so much to so many fans. The letters I've gotten from so many of them ... and the people that come up to me in the street and say they've gotten sober with 'Mom.' One young lady was worried her sobriety would end with the end of the show, and I said, 'Lord, no! We must carry on.' "

Given the wide syndication "Mom" repeats enjoy – on FXX, CMT and Nick at Nite, among other outlets – the show is destined to remain visible. Still, Janney maintains, "I wish the writers had been given a whole year to set up the finale, instead of a few episodes."

After taking some time to recharge, "The West Wing" alum Janney will tackle the adventure movie "Lou." She says the "Mom" staff "always worked with me" whenever she wanted to do an outside project, recalling that "when I filmed 'I, Tonya,' that was a huge thing. I was also rehearsing for 'Six Degrees of Separation,' which I was going to do on Broadway, and I was like, 'I don't know if this is going to work, guys.' But all of the producers got together and worked it out for me. I'm happiest when I'm working with people on a project. It's like a community."

"Then, for years, I played women of authority," Pounder adds. "I did my very best in a genre that likes to recognize familiarity and not change too much. Wiggling my way around that and adding something else to the characters has always been my biggest pride."

Pounder gave up her California home for one in New Orleans during her "NCIS" gig, and she plans to remain based in the Big Easy, at least for now. "I'm in a transition that I think will require a couple of more years of work," she says. "Many moons ago, someone told me, 'Nothing is really going to happen for you until you're quite an old lady.' And I thought, 'Well, OK. I'll just practice in the meantime.'"

Birthdate: Dec. 25, 1952 Birthplace: Georgetown, British Guiana Current residence: New Orleans Marital status: Pounder's husband passed in 2016 Page 4C - May 9 to May 15 sportszone

7 p.m. on (42); 11:04 p.m. on (42) Biography: Booker T

Emmy and Peabody Award winner George Roy ("Mayweather") directed this feature-length profile of one of the greatest superstars in sports entertainment history. A two-time inductee into the WWE Hall of Fame, Booker T also is an 11-time WCW Tag Team Champion, a six-time World Champion and winner of the 2006 King of the Ring Tournament.

The Nevers

As much of the public buzzes over with anticipation over an upcoming execution, Penance (Ann Skelly) wrestles with a moral calling she feels that is notably at odds with Amalia's (Laura Donnelly) plan in the new episode "Hanged." That divergence of vision forces the Orphans to debate among themselves as to which of the women to follow. Olivia Williams, James Norton, Tom Riley and Ben Chaplin also star.

9 p.m. on 🕄 🕄

NCIS: New Orleans After Pride (Scott Bakula) directs his team to find evidence linking Sasha Broussard (recurring guest star Callie Thorne) to the recent violent attacks in New Orleans, he faces the painful task of helping Connor (guest star Drew Scheid) come to terms with who his mother really is in the new episode "Illusions." Meanwhile, Carter and Tammy (Charles Michael Davis, Vanessa Ferlito) search for a highly trained military canine who has been stolen. The guest cast also includes Joanna Cassidy; Chelsea Field also stars.

Ziwe

Formerly a scribe for "Desus & Mero" and "Our Cartoon President," the writer, comic and performer Ziwe also is showrunner of this eponymous new late-night variety show, which is driven by her funny and distinctly noholds-barred brand of comedy and cutting pop culture observations. Showtime has ordered six episodes for Season 1, which reportedly will feature interviews, musical numbers, guest stars, sketches and spontaneous interactions with everyday people.

Lifetime Presents Variety's Power of Women the Comedians

This new one-hour special honors the trailblazing work of five female powerhouses of comedy: writer, actor and producer Mindy Kaling ("The Mindy Project"), multiple Emmy winners Julia Louis-Drevfus and Maya Rudolph, Screen Actors Guild award winner Sofía Vergara ("Modern Family"), acclaimed writer and performer Michaela Coel ("I May Destroy You") and two-time Emmy-winning "Saturday Night Live" chameleon Kate McKinnon. Each of the honorees will be interviewed by a friend or family member.

7 p.m. on 46; 11 p.m. on 46 Seeking Sister Wife

In the new episode "Full House," the tension level is on the rise in the Snowden household, where the new family of nine is forced into quarantine under one roof. Elsewhere, the Joneses have a remote cyber-chat with someone under consideration as a new sister wife, while the Winders prepare for Kimberley's visit.

8 p.m. on 13

Black Lightning Jefferson (Cress Williams) decides to take Khalil (Jordan Calloway) up on his offer to help in the new episode "The Book of Reunification: Chapter Two." Elsewhere, a desperate Lynn (Christine Adams) wrestles with what she suspects may turn out to be the biggest decision of her

The Crime of the Century The conclusion to filmmaker Alex Gibney's two-part examination at shady dealings behind the opioid epidemic delves into the mass marketing of fentanyl, where once again there were strong connections between drug manufacturers and government policy. Even as the silent opioid epidemic was killing 40 Americans every day, Insys Therapeutics, the manufacturer of fentanyl, continued to bribe doctors to over-prescribe their drug. Eyebrow-raising videos from sales retreats, as well as promotional materials, point to a nearly complete disregard for widespread and nefarious corporate practices.
