Season 6 of "DC's Legends of Tomorrow" premieres Sunday on The CW.

Aliens attack the Waverider in Season 6 of 'DC's Legends of Tomorrow'

After locating the Loom of Fate and getting back their slain comrades last season, the Legends face an enemy unlike any they've encountered as "DC's Legends of Tomorrow" opens for Season 6.

Premiering Sunday, May 2, on The CW, the new round finds the superhero crew of the time ship Waverider going in search of their co-captain Sara Lance (Caity Lotz) after she's abducted by space aliens – who as it turns out have the ability to travel through time. So it will take the collective powers and then some of her co-captain and significant other Ava Sharpe (Jes Macallan), plus occult detective John Constantine (Matt Ryan), reformed arsonist Mick Rory (Dominic Purcell) and historian Nate Heywood (Nick Zano), among others, to retrieve their comrade and save the universe from these intergalactic interlopers.

And these creatures are particularly repulsive-looking, sporting squid-like tentacles, tusks and an exoskeleton, which showrunner Phil Klemmer explains is a nod to the Roger Corman B-movie aliens of the late 20th century.

"Our show doesn't take itself too seriously," Klemmer says, "and we wanted to make a point of taking aliens not too seriously, and we didn't really want it to be heavy or a metaphor for anything. We just wanted them to be stupid aliens because I guess our impulse as writers is ... always to come to understand their pathology and to rehabilitate them. And at a certain point, we just had to come up with, 'How can we have just the baddies be baddies?'"

"So we kind of shed our desire to complicate everything, and so we just wanted to lean back into the kind of frothy, trashy, low-budget alien stuff. But at the same time that allowed us hopefully to find emotional depth with our (regular) characters."

In addition to the abduction/alien storyline, the new season will feature turns in the director's chair by Lotz, Macallan and former cast member Maisie Richardson-Sellers as well as the arrival of a new character, a pistol-packing Texan named Spooner played by "Chicago P.D." alum Lisseth Chavez.

After six seasons, the actors have gotten to know their characters inside and out and Klemmer says their performances have helped inform how the writers write them.

"It really becomes a dialog with the performers ...," he explains. "The real challenge comes from a new character before you get to see what the performer's take is. And so for Lisseth Chavez, who plays Spooner, it's so interesting because we had the conception of Spooner and we wrote the premiere. But then when we watched the premiere and we hear her voice ... that allows you to really start refining it, and our actors are just always digging deeper. ... The truth is you could dig in with any of these characters.

"You know, you could have a Gary episode," Klemmer says, referring to the time-bureau agent played by Adam Tsekhman, "and you might miss the rest of the characters but you'll be wholly immersed in Gary's world. And that's the cool thing about our show, is it has a kind of endless ability to mutate itself."

Dyllon Burnside left the FX drama "Pose" behind when the series wrapped production in late March. But he believes his character of homeless teen-turned-dancer Ricky Wintour will never be completely done with him.

"While I am saying goodbye to playing Ricky for the here and now," the 32-year-old Miami native says, "I'm not actually saying goodbye to him. I think that's one of the beautiful things about the work that I get to do, is the characters. They stay with you in some ways and the lessons that you learn from their life and their experiences stay with you. And particularly with television, which is different from theater, it's recorded so I get to go back and relive it whenever I want."

As the third and final season opens Sunday, May 2, it's 1994 in the underground ballroom scene of New York City and AIDS has become the leading cause of death for Americans ages 25 to 44. For Ricky, the new season brings challenges as Pray Tell (Billy Porter), with whom he entered into a romantic relationship at the end of Season 2, contends with unexpected health burdens.

"He is exploring what it's like to really find your person, your soulmate," Burnside says, "and what it's like to really, truly be in love in a mature, adult relationship. And in Season 3, we get to explore him in the context of that relationship even more. ..."

"I definitely have been on the journey with Ricky," he continues, "and in some ways our journeys have been parallel. As Ricky has learned more about himself, Dyllon has learned so much more about himself. And so much of his evolution and my evolution as a human being and as an actor have been connected."

7 p.m. on 33; 11 p.m. on 33
Home Town Takeover
 HGTV stars Ben and Erin Napier have been demonstrating their flair for renovating small-town historic homes and businesses in their hit show "Home Town," set in Laurel, Miss. The couple really take things to the next level, though, in this new six-episode event series, in which they attempt to give a whole-town makeover to Wetumpka, Ala. The series showcases 12 major renovations around the central Alabama town (population 6,500-ish), including homes, restaurants, shops, public spaces and other locations.

Revealed: The Hunt for Bin Laden
 Based on the 9/11 Memorial & Museum's unprecedented access to American intelligence and military personnel, this new two-hour documentary chronicles the 10-year effort to find Osama bin Laden, the al-Qaeda leader and mastermind behind the 9/11 terror attacks. Featured interviews include former President Barack Obama, former CIA director Leon Panetta, mission commander Admiral William McRaven and former Secretary of State Hillary Clinton, as well as — for the first time — clandestine military planners and members of the assault force that killed bin Laden.

Pose
 This groundbreaking — and Emmy-winning — drama series set in the LGBTQ ballroom scene of late 20th-century Harlem opens its third and final season in 1994, when the ballroom circuit where she became a star feels like a distant memory to Blanca like a sista memory to Blanca (Mj Rodriguez), who is juggling being a mother with working as a nurse's aide during the height of the HIV epidemic, as well as exploring a new romance (Jeremy Pope, "Hollywood"). Meanwhile, Pray Tell (Emmy winner Billy Porter) grapples with serious health issues of his own. Indya Moore also stars.

Attenborough's Journey

This new British documentary offers a respectful but entertaining portrait of environmentalist and filmmaker Sir David Attenborough on his 95th birthday. The film chronicles Attenborough's life from his boyhood of fossil-hunting and his early years as a radio and TV host to his many documentaries that pioneered the use of new technologies, thus changing the face of natural history programming. It also documents some of his many travels from the Galapagos islands to the jungles of Borneo and the mountains of Canada, among other destinations.

Movie: Greenland

Structural engineer John Garrity (Gerard Butler) and his family in Atlanta find themselves fighting for survival as a massive comet streaks toward Earth in director Ric Roman Waugh's 2020 disaster film, on which Butler also serves as a producer. Morena Baccarin, David Denman, Hope Davis, Roger Dale Floyd and Scott Glenn also star in the film, which earned generally favorable reviews, although the COVID-19 pandemic curtailed its international run in theaters.

Iyanla, Fix My Life

A new episode called "99 Problems and the Corona 1s One" spotlights a family that is approaching the end of its collective rope after spending months together in quarantine due to the global coronavirus pandemic. Now, they're feeling disconnected and frustrated, but life coach Iyanla Franzant helps them understand that their profound issues with communication and codependency started long before a deadly virus came along.
