A message from the South Dakota Department of Health

Kristian Alfonso stars in the V.C. Andrews-inspired films "All That Glitters" and "Hidden Jewel," Saturday, March 27 and Sunday, March 28, on Lifetime.

Soap-opera veterans help fuel Lifetime's latest V.C. Andrews movies

If you're playing a heroine enduring plenty of troubles, it's fitting to be pitted against daytime-drama icons whose characters have had their own problems.

Two such actresses – "The Young and the Restless" staple Lauralee Bell and Kristian Alfonso, who ended her long "Days of Our Lives" tenure last year – have prominent roles in Lifetime's latest movies based on bestsellers by V.C. Andrews about several generations of multiple families. The four new films will run over two consecutive weekends, forming a virtual miniseries.

In "Ruby" (Saturday, March 20) and "Pearl in the Mist" (Sunday, March 21) Louisiana-bayou-bred Ruby Landry (played by Raechelle Banno, whose twin sister Karina Banno portrays Ruby's hateful sibling) faces off against her stern stepmother Daphne (Bell) while forcibly separated from her high school sweetheart Paul (Sam Duke). The last two stories, "All That Glitters" (Saturday, March 27) and "Hidden Jewel" (Sunday, March 28), feature Alfonso as Paul's domineering mother Gladys ... who threatens to use a secret against Ruby just as the latter thinks she's finally found happiness.

Now recurring as lawyer Christine Blair on CBS' "The Young and the Restless" (created by her parents) after starting on it in 1983, Bell admits she wasn't fully familiar with novelist Andrews, but she quickly discovered how many others were: "When people asked why I was leaving town and which project I was for," she says, "as soon as I mentioned (Andrews' book) 'Flowers in the Attic,' everyone was like, 'Oh, yes! Of course!'"

"Since I grew up in a television family, we were always watching television," Bell notes, "I had the book, but I was just not a great reader." Once Bell became familiar with Andrews' Daphne, she immediately embraced the part: "She's so different from anyone else I've played. Once you see her high hairdo and the clothes, you get a sense of what this woman is about."

Similarly, in the first job she did after leaving her iconic NBC "Days of Our Lives" role as Hope Brady, Alfonso found plenty to appreciate about her Andrews character. Affirming "it's a complete departure" for her, she deems Gladys "really interesting and complex, and I thought it could be so much fun. I felt like I was part of a family from the moment I stepped on the set."

Since Lifetime's initial Andrews-based movies have repeated successfully, the new group also is likely to have many more showings in years to come. Though she had to quarantine for two weeks before she could film in Canada, Alfonso liked having so much prep time. "They put all my scenes together, so I shot for four full days. It went by so fast, because I was so busy."

Checking in with
DAVE CARRARO

It may have driven down bluefin tuna prices and incomes drastically, but Dave Carraro says the pandemic has also had a positive effect on the boat captains of "Wicked Tuna," in that it's forged a spirit of cooperation.

"It did change the dynamic of how we worked or did not work together," Carraro, captain of the FV-Tuna.com, says. "We all agreed that, 'Hey, let's work together.' Yeah, everybody was still competitive or everybody still wanted to be that top boat but we all helped one another out with regards to where we were fishing. 'Hey, you go this way, I'll go that way.' And you know, we shared information and we shared tactics, you know, how we were fishing, baits we were fishing, how deep we were fishing, just to help one another along for the season for a common goal. And that's to catch and make what money we can considering the circumstances."

Indeed, Season 10 of the Sunday National Geographic unscripted series finds the boat captains of Gloucester, Mass., scrapping to get by. Restaurants are shut down or at very limited capacity and thus demand for bluefin tuna is down, which means so are prices that captains are getting. Furthermore, commercial fishermen are allowed to fish only three days a week, so if they catch nothing in those three days, they have to wait another week to fish – for tuna at rock-bottom prices.

As a result, Carraro had to be more cost-conscious, doing things like fishing closer to shore and traveling slower to burn less fuel. And he's expecting more of the same conditions this summer, though maybe not to same degree as a year ago.

"We're hoping more restaurants are open," he says, "we're hoping that people start to slide back into their normal routine going out to eat. And hopefully restaurants can have not zero capacity or just 25 percent capacity but they can have 50 or maybe even 100 percent capacity as things improve and there's going to be more of a demand for bluefin. And hopefully we'll be able to fish daily as opposed to last year."

Name: David Carraro

Birth date: April 23, 1965

Birthplace: Staten Island, N.Y.

Raised in: Monmouth County, N.J.

Current residence: Gloucester, Mass.

Friday
11 a.m. on 3 (3)
2021 NCAA Basketball Tournament
 Get ready for 12-plus hours of March Madness today as the 2021 NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament gets into full swing at sites across Indiana with a dozen games in the First Round airing on CBS, TBS, TNT and truTV. The winners here advance to the Second Round on Sunday and Monday.
7 p.m. on (181); 11:01 p.m. on (181)

Movie: Deadly Excursion: Kidnapped From the Beach
 Samantha (Samaire Armstrong) and her daughter, Ellie (Alexandria DeBerry), finally have recovered from the trauma they encountered together during the 2019 thriller "Deadly Excursion," so this 2021 sequel finds the pair ill-advisedly deciding to take another Florida family vacation, partly to regain control of their lives. Alas, the men who executed the original kidnapping have been closely monitoring Samantha and Ellie, and now they're just waiting for the right moment to finish the job at last.

7:25 p.m. on (38); 10:25 p.m. on (38)

Sydney to the Max
 The hit sitcom opens Season 3, which sees Syd (Ruth Righi) returning home from music camp, overflowing with newfound maturity and a sense of independence. Unfortunately, stepping back into her room at home feels weird, because it reflects the "old" Syd. She's surprised and thrilled, then, when Max (Ian Kesler) gives her the greenlight to remodel her space to reflect her new, more "artsy" sensibility, in the season premiere, "Tearin' Up My Room."

8 p.m. on (29); 12:01 a.m. on (29)

Little Women: Atlanta
 In the new episode "Don't Give Up on Me," Andrea is forced to confront the harsh realities of trying to be a professional model in an industry that caters almost exclusively to average-sized clients. Elsewhere, Abira heads back into the studio to record a new song that she has picked to showcase a softer side of her personality, but rising tensions between Monie and Tamera threaten to torpedo her plans.

8 p.m. on (33); 11 p.m. on (33)
Everything But the House
 In this new home improvement series, which premieres tonight with two back-to-back episodes, "Good Morning America" host Lara Spencer delivers a double volume to viewers by showing homeowners how to clear out their overstuffed homes and then cash in on the discarded clutter. Subscribing to the proverb that one person's trash is another's treasure, Spencer enlists the help of some expert appraisers.

8 p.m. on (465)

Movie: The Craft: Legacy
 Best known for her acting in the CBS sitcom "Life in Pieces," Zoe Lister-Jones helmed this 2020 supernatural horror film that's also a sequel to the 1996 box-office hit "The Craft." The story follows three The Craft witches (Gideon Adlon, Lovie Simone and Zoey Luna) who find the fourth girl they need for their coven in a newcomer (Cailee Spaeny) to their town.

9:01 p.m. on (42); 1:04 a.m. on (42)

Rescue Cam
 Matt Iseman hosts the season finale, which draws on footage from phone cams, security cameras and other technology to present a uniquely dramatic and suspenseful look at first responders and citizen heroes around the world. Among tonight's highlights, a choking man runs to his neighbors home, desperate for help, and a snowboarder finds himself swept along by an avalanche.
