coverstory
BY JAY BOBBIN

Greg Kinnear and James Marsden star in "The Stand," premiering Thursday on CBS All Access.

CBS All Access takes 'The Stand' by remaking Stephen King saga

Many people clearly feel the chilling work of Stephen King is worth revisiting.

Relatively soon after movie remakes of "It" and "Pet Sematary," the saga widely considered the iconic author's masterpiece is getting another screen run. The source of a 1994 miniseries, "The Stand" gets a fresh treatment that CBS All Access begins streaming weekly on Thursday, Dec. 17. Whoopi Goldberg heads a large ensemble cast as Mother Abigail, one of the flu-pandemic survivors who band together to battle the powerful, lethal "Dark Man" (Alexander Skarsgard) for the fate of the world.

King has written a new coda for this version, part of the lure for Greg Kinnear, who returns to television to play another of those embroiled in an epic fight between forces of good and evil. The "As Good As It Gets" Oscar nominee and former "Talk Soup" and "Later" host recalls "The Stand" was the first of many King works he's read, making "an indelible impression ... dark, Gothic and unexpected. And it's just a great adventure.

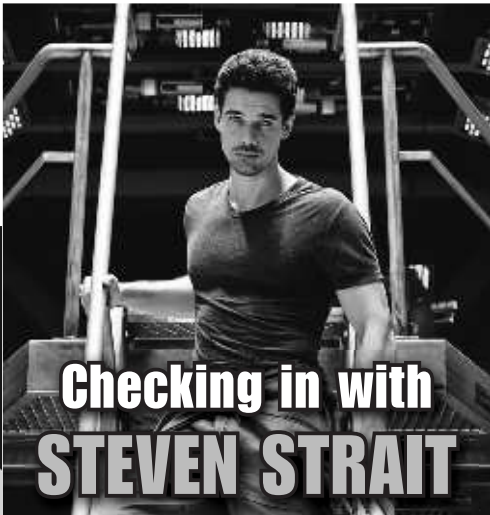

"I've thought often about why it's stood the test of time," Kinnear reflects, "and why its legion of fans is as strong as it is. I think there's just a tone to that book that is very hard to capture. It knows what it is, and it's got some very clear through lines and interesting assessments of good vs. evil. I never thought I would end up in a filmed version of it, but it's a great thrill."

Partially directed by Josh Boone – with whom Kinnear made the 2012 movie "Stuck in Love" – "The Stand" also features James Marsden, Amber Heard, Odessa Young, Henry Zaga, Owen Teague ("Bloodline"), Heather Graham, Hamish Linklater ("Legion"), Katherine McNamara ("Shadowhunters"), Daniel Sunjata, Natalie Martinez, ("Kingdom") and Clifton Collins Jr.

"I worked with just about everybody," Kinnear notes, who describes his "The Stand" character Glen Bateman as a "weed-smoking, banjo-philosophy-spouting guy. In that character, I think Stephen captured someone who's searching, but who also has this great skepticism. He's at peace with the end of the world, and that makes him kind of a romantic character. And fun to play."

Filming of "The Stand" was winding down in Vancouver as the coronavirus pandemic was ramping up. "It wasn't until I was already home that the NBA started shutting down and all the big moves started to happen," Kinnear says, "but even prior to that, I was reading a few little excerpts about this strange thing in China. It wasn't getting much attention, but it was out there.

"I mean, what are the odds?," Kinnear concludes. "Over many years of working, I've made nothing about a pandemic except when there was a pandemic."

Checking in with STEVEN STRAIT

celebrity scoop
BY GEORGE DICKIE

One of the things Steven Strait loves most about playing his character of space frigate captain Jim Holden on "The Expanse" is his evolutionary arc. In the first four seasons of the Amazon space drama, which returns for Season 5 Wednesday, Dec. 16, the New York-born and raised actor has seen his character grow from a naive, idealistic young man into a very good leader with his feet planted firmly on the ground, so to speak.

But as with any maturation process, there is usually suffering. He's seen the protomolecule builder civilization killed off, he's been forced to make horrific decisions where there was no good outcome and those experiences have turned him into a realist. And Strait has gone along for the ride, moulding the character along the way.

"My goal with Holden," Strait explains, "was to show the realistic evolution of a leader. You know, this is not a guy who is born to lead in the beginning. You know, he didn't even want it. What he did have is an ethical core and he's a deeply good person. And we see him over the years and over the seasons go through these really hard decisions and stumble quite a bit and have some pretty ugly moments because he's overwhelmed, because he's afraid that he's not doing the right thing. And I wanted to show that.

"You know, I think so often the hero arc in storytelling – there is no courage without fear – I wanted to show that with Holden," he continues.

"He's become who everyone needs him to be because he has leapt into the void, so to speak. It doesn't mean he wasn't afraid. It's just his sense of duty and his sense of values gave him no other choice within himself. ... By the time we see him at Season 5, (I want viewers to) understand why this man is capable of handling this responsibility, why he is sure in his decisions and confident enough to admit when he's wrong at this point as well."

Couples Therapy
 This relationship series reflects a real-world crisis with "The COVID Special," an hour that sees couples therapist Dr. Orna Guralnik moving her therapy online as she and her patients come to grips with the realities of the COVID-19 shutdown, which makes in-person sessions a health risk. At the same time, though, Guralnik's patients are struggling with a bizarre new reality that puts romantic relationships on personal bonds that already are somewhat fragile.

9 p.m. on (185)
Movie: Unlocking Christmas
 In this new holiday-themed romantic mystery, Taylor Cole ("Supernatural") stars as Kate Stafford, who recently moved to Cedar Park, Texas, to begin a medical school fellowship. Also in town is Kevin Matthews (Steve Lund), returning home after an Air Force tour of duty. The community doesn't feel much like home to either of these two, until each finds a surprise on the doorstep: an antique key and a holiday riddle. They team up to solve the mystery, embarking on a fun adventure that leads to a meaningful relationship.

"Ella Wishes You a Swinging Christmas With Vanessa Williams"

Tuesday 7 p.m. on 3 8 Ella Wishes You a Swinging Christmas With Vanessa Williams Vanessa Williams is both host and a featured vocalist in this new one-hour music special that pays tribute to one of the most iconic Christmas albums ever released by jazz great Ella Fitzgerald. Other performers include Dee Dee Bridgewater, Norm Lewis, Carmem Ruby Floyd, Nova Payton, Dave Detwiler and Morgan James. 7 p.m. on 44; 11 p.m. on 44 Walking with Elephants Explorer and conservationist Levison Wood follows elephants on their epic annual migration across Botswana to the Okavango Delta in this three-part miniseries, airing tonight in its entirety. The journey for the huge herd begins in the salt pans of the Kalahari Desert, and Wood — along with Karen Motswana, his safari guide — gives Animal Planet audiences a thrilling sense of that trek by these resilient animals, who face danger from poachers, animal predators and dehydration. 7 p.m. on 54 Movie: Scrooged Bill Murray portrays Ebenezer Scrooge — called Frank Cross here — in another adaptation of the Charles Dickens tale. This 1988 version follows the story of a greedy TV executive who figures since he hates Christmas, no one else should enjoy it. But his outlook is changed after a visit from three ghosts on Christmas Eve. Directed by Richard Donner, the movie also stars Karen Allen, John Forsythe, Carol Kane and Alfre Woodard. 8 p.m. on 3 8 Christmas at Belmont Grammy Award-winning musician Michael W. Smith and beloved gospel artist CeCe Winans are the guest artists for this 2019 holiday concert, which was recorded at Schermerhorn Symphony Center in Nashville, Tenn. The festive program features nearly 800 musicians and performers, including Belmont University students and the Nashville Children's Choir. College Football It's conference championship time again and it gets going today in earnest with this broadcast of the Pac-12 title game, pitting the winners of its North and South Divisions. Tomorrow, look for a full slate of action with the Big Ten (Fox), SEC (CBS), ACC (ESPN or ABC), American (ESPN or ABC) and Sun Belt (ESPN2), among others, deciding their champions.

Shrek the Halls
 What's not to love about a yuletide special starring a family of green ogres? And especially one that already was popularized by a couple of hit movies when this debuted in 2007? Shrek (voice of Mike Myers) isn't a Christmas kind of guy, but Princess Fiona (voice of Cameron Diaz) loves the holiday, so he goes along — with a little help from Donkey (voice of Eddie Murphy) and the rest of the fairy-tale gang. Antonio Banderas is heard again as Puss in Boots.

7 p.m. on (401)

9 p.m. on (185)

Movie: Wendy

Movie: Swept Up by Christmas

Director Benh Zeitlin ("Beasts of the Southern Wild") transplants the "Peter Pan" story to the rural Deep South in this 2020 fantasy drama, which he also co-wrote with his sister, Eliza. Dev France stars as 9-year-old Wendy Darling, whose mother, diner waitress Angela (Shay Walker), gave up her childhood dreams to raise a family. Wendy and twin brothers Douglas and James (Gage and Gavin Naquin) are swept into an adventure, though, as they hop a train with a rambunctious boy named Peter (Yashua Mack).

Lindy Booth ("The Librarians") and Justin Bruening ("Grey's Anatomy") star in this 2020 drama about an antiques seller and a cleaner, who clash over how to downsize a sprawling and magnificent estate just before Christmas. As the pair undertake their daunting assignment, they uncover hidden treasures left neglected in the recesses of the home, in the process finding a way to renew the connection between the home's reclusive owner and his own memories of Christmases past. Jillian Harris also stars.

7 p.m. on (29);
11:01 p.m. on (29)
Movie: A Christmas Exchange

Movie: A Christmas Carousel
Rachel Boston ("The Witches of East End") stars in this 2020 royal romance as Lila, who is summoned by the royal family of Marcadia to repair an antique carousel that has seen better days. Given the antique ride's immense value, the prince himself offers his personal assistance to Lila to ensure the carousel is restored to its regal magnificence. Neal Bledsoe, Jennifer Vallance and Kathryn Davis also star in this 2020 romance.

As the Christmas season approaches, Molly (Laura Vandervoort) realizes a long-held dream by swapping her quaint farmhouse for the season with London financier Patrick Kingston (Rainbow Sun Francks), who brings a posh London flat to the exchange. As they exchange emails while living in each other's worlds on a temporary basis, a warm rapport begins to grow between the two in this 2020 romance. Yanic Truesdale,
