The late John Prine is among those honored on "Great Performances: GRAMMY Salute to Music Legends" Friday on PBS

A new 'GRAMMY Salute to Music Legends' honors John Prine, Chicago and others

Each year, several music icons get a special tribute from the organization that presents the Grammy Awards – and, at least in that respect, this year is no different.

Airing again as a PBS "Great Performances" presentation Friday, Oct. 16 (check local listings), the "GRAMMY Salute to Music Legends" honors another diverse assortment of singular talents who have received the Recording Academy's 2020 Lifetime Achievement Awards: Roberta Flack, Iggy Pop, the groups Chicago and Public Enemy, and – posthumously – Isaac Hayes, John Prine and Sister Rosetta Tharpe. Among others feted are composer Philip Glass and longtime Grammy-show producer Ken Ehrlich.

Jimmy Jam hosts the program, which features performances of the honorees' music by Laurie Anderson, Philip Bailey, Brandi Carlile, Cynthia Erivo, Chris Isaak, Jason Isbell & Amanda Shires, Cyndi Lauper, Sam Moore, Leslie Odom Jr. and Yola. Presenters include John Legend, LL Cool J, Joe Mantegna ("Criminal Minds"), Henry Rollins, Rhiannon Giddens and music producer Don Was.

Jimmy Jam notes he has "some connection" to every artist celebrated on the show, "because that's the great thing about what music does. I have to say Chicago was my favorite group growing up. I was a sax player when I was younger, and I tried to play all their horn parts. I was a drummer, and I tried to play all their drum parts.

"The first concert my parents took me to when I was young was a Chicago concert," adds Jimmy Jam. "When my partner Terry (Lewis) and I were inducted into the (Songwriters) Hall of Fame, we went in the same year as Robert Lamm of Chicago, so I got to meet my hero."

The "Salute's" writer, journalist and music-show staple David Wild, laments that Prine being named such a "Legend" came in the same year the singer-songwriter died of coronavirus complications. "He wanted to perform" on the special, Wild reports. "He was scheduled to fly back, I think it was, from Dublin. Instead, we are going to honor him. One way or another, we are going to keep that music going." (Carlile, Isbell and Shires perform Prine songs on the program.)

Staging familiar events such as the "GRAMMY Salute to Music Legends" during a pandemic can be challenging, but Wild maintains, "The writing is the last and easiest part. Working with people like Jimmy Jam ... like, when Prince passed. I had worked with Prince and knew him. Jimmy happened to be already in the room, and I said, 'Jimmy, we need you to go out there and say something about Prince before we say anything else.' When you have the right talent to work with and the right sort of souls to work with, everything else is possible."

Many viewers grew up with Neve Campbell, so it may be a turning point for them to see her play a mother ... just as it is for her.

The "Party of Five" alum is a mom of two now, which she says helped her with the true Disney+ drama "Clouds." Streaming beginning Friday, Oct. 16, the movie was directed by Justin Baldoni ("Jane the Virgin") – who also included the film's main subject in the documentary series "My Last Days." Zach Sobiech (played by Fin Argus) was a teen afflicted with a rare form of bone cancer; he spent his remaining time living his dream of making music, supported by his parents (Campbell, Tom Everett Scott), best friend (Sabrina Carpenter) and girlfriend (Madison Iseman).

Campbell met her real-life "Clouds" counterpart, Laura Sobiech. "I was so moved by that family's story," the actress says, "and by Laura's incredible strength and her journey with her son. We've become very dear friends. We started having conversations and met before filming began, and she was so open, and so enthusiastic about telling Zach's story. It was a really beautiful experience."

"Clouds" was acquired from Warner Bros. to debut on Disney+ as the coronavirus pandemic affected theatrical exhibition of new films. "I'm grateful to be at this different level where I'm telling different stories than I was 20 years ago," Campbell notes.

A familiar one is in her immediate future, though: She'll play "Scream's" Sidney Prescott again in a fifth installment of the horror-movie franchise. "I hadn't been certain about doing it without Wes (late filmmaker Craven)," Campbell allows, "but these directors are very committed to honoring him."

Birthdate: Oct. 3, 1973

Birthplace: Guelph, Ont., Canada

Current residence: Los Angeles

Marital status: Campbell and her boyfriend have a son and an adopted son

Other television credits include: "House of Cards," "Manhattan," "Welcome to Sweden," "Mad Men," "An Amish Murder," "Grey's Anatomy," "Titanic: Blood and Steel," "The Simpsons" (voice only), "The Philanthropist," "Medium," "Saturday Night Live," "The Canterville Ghost," "MADtv," "Party of Five," "Kung Fu: The Legend Continues," "Are You Afraid of the Dark?," "The Kids in the Hall"

tonight's picks

Lennie James

Sunday

7 p.m. on 3 8*Last Tango in Halifax

Gillian (Nicola Walker) is reaching the end of her rope on the farm, while Caroline (Sarah Lancashire) finds herself in the middle of an unlikely love triangle in the series finale of this acclaimed family dramedy. Elsewhere, Ellie (Katherine Rose Morley) reveals Constable Cheryl's (Rachel Leskovic) suspicions about the late Eddie, while Ted (Timothy West) makes a sentimental journey to the seaside. Anne Reid and Derek Jacobi also star.

8 p.m. on 31; 11 p.m. on 31*Halloween Wars

In the season finale, entitled "Look Out!," host Jonathan Bennett challenges the remaining teams to capture the terror and fun of an ultimate "jump scare" moment from a horror movie. The team that best succeeds in that endeavor and impresses judges Shinmin Li and Todd Tucker, along with guest judge Marisol Nichols from "Riverdale," will be crowned Halloween Wars Champion and win $50,000.

8 p.m. on 54; 10:25 p.m. on 54; 12:50 a.m. on 54*Fear the Walking Dead

Season 6 of this companion series to "The Walking Dead" explores the current fate of the unlikely "chosen family" who initially embarked on a mission to help those in need. As subsequent events unfolded, the group found themselves torn apart by Virginia (Colby Minifie) and her Pioneers, so the police band is now dispersed across her far-flung settlements. At the end of Season 5, Morgan (Lennie James) exorted the characters to "Just Live," and viewers will find out what those words mean to these characters this season.

8:30 p.m. on 12 7*Family Guy

Peter (voice of Seth MacFarlane) seriously injures his back and disrupts a family of squirrels in a chainsaw accident, but never fear! Stewie and Chris (voices of MacFarlane and Seth Green) are ready to dispense plenty of TLC — to one of the squirrels, who also got badly hurt. As for the boys' father, a chiropractor repairs Peter's back injury by realigning his spine, in the process restoring Peter to his full height of nearly six and a half feet tall, in the new episode "Boys & Squirrels."

Actor Michael C. Hall narrates the new special "Nature's Fear Factor," which examines how an audacious wildlife recovery effort in Africa is using fear of predators to re-balance the ecosystem in Mozambique's Kruger National Park. Predator experts are re-introducing fierce African wild dogs into the park to scare smaller plant-eating prey back into their natural balance.

7 p.m. on 73
Buried in the Backyard
 A party in the woods outside a Pennsylvania coal mining town takes an unexpectedly chilling turn when someone goes missing in the new episode "Buried in the Woods: Friend Left Behind." Investigators have more questions than answers, though, and when the summer shadow brings a shocking

Allen has found a favorite target in wideout Stefon Diggs, the former Minnesota Viking who at this writing was among the league leaders in yards and receptions. The Chiefs, meanwhile, are the defending champions with arguably the game's best quarterback in Patrick Mahomes and a "D" that is among the tops in the NFL.

PBS NewsHour Debates 2020
 The second two-hour debate between incumbent President Donald J. Trump and his Democratic challenger, former Vice President Joe Biden, is scheduled to take place in Miami's Adrienne Arsht Center for the Performing Arts. ### Movie: David Byrne's American Utopia

Oscar and Emmy winner Spike Lee directed this visually arresting film version of the critically acclaimed Broadway production, which stars former Talking Heads frontman David Byrne and an ensemble of 11 musicians from around the world. The film includes choreographed performances of songs from Byrne's 2018 album "American Utopia," along with such Talking Heads favorites as "Burning Down the House." The show invites audiences to enter a joyous dream world where human connection and social justice are paramount, with Byrne addressing socio-political topics in brief inter-song monologues.

Movie: Sweet Autumn

When Maggie (Nikki DeLoach), a successful entrepreneur, returns to her hometown for the reading of her late aunt's will, she learns she has inherited half of her aunt's celebrated maple candy business. More surprising, though, the other half has been left to Dex (Andrew Walker), who is equally puzzled by his inheritance. As the community's Sweet Autumn

Fest approaches, Maggie and Dex pore over a series of letters left by the dear departed, looking for clues to her intentions. Henriette Ivanans co-stars in this 2020 romance.

Movie: The Gentlemen

After a string of box-office disappointments, director Guy Ritchie enjoyed a comeback with this 2019 action comedy, which he also wrote. The story follows American marijuana kingpin Michael "Mickey" Pearson (Matthew McConaughey), now in England, as he tries to sell his business. That venture sets off a complicated chain of blackmail attempts and other schemes to undermine him. Charlie Hunnam, Henry Golding, Michelle Dockery, Jeremy Strong, Eddie Marsan, Hugh Grant and Colin Farrell also appear in the strong ensemble cast.
