"Filthy Rich," premiering Monday on Fox.

The 'Filthy Rich' have their troubles in new Fox series

Wealthy people's problems have fueled some of television's most popular series, and a new show is aiming to join those ranks.

Originally intended for last season, "The Help" filmmaker Tate Taylor's "Filthy Rich" helps Fox's pandemic-impacted fall lineup as it debuts Monday, Sept. 21. Also one of its producers, "Sex and the City" alum Kim Cattrall heads the cast as a wealthy Southern family's matriarch who suddenly loses her husband (Gerald McRaney) ... but surprisingly gains three relatives, the illegitimate children named in his will. Immediately, all concerned move into action to retain what they feel is rightfully theirs, which doesn't match up in most cases.

Aubrey Dollar ("Women's Murder Club"), Broadway veteran Corey Cott ("Bandstand") and Olivia Macklin also portray members of the show's central Monreux clan, whose central Monreux prominently includes the religion-based – and, it turns out, ironically named – Sunshine television network. Melia Kreiling ("Salvation"), Benjamin Levy Aguilar and Mark L. Young play the newly discovered relations, with Steve Harris ("The Practice") and Aaron Lazar also are regulars in the series from Ron Howard and Brian Grazer's company Imagine Entertainment.

"I don't come from the South," Cattrall notes. "I was not raised in a religious household. All of (were) new aspects to this character for me, but it was a wonderful opportunity to sort of take that magical (journey of) if I was this person, if I was filthy rich, if I had children. The (pilot) script was a one-off, in the sense that it was dealing with very serious topics and questions about faith and family and secrets. It just felt new and fresh, and I wanted to take this journey, especially with Tate Taylor."

A writer, director and executive producer on "Filthy Rich" as well as its creator, Taylor says he "wanted to do a great show. I love extreme conflict, where you're just going, 'What???' And the idea came to me to have this strong Christian family faced with the most impossible of situations that rocks their faith to the core. And you realize that whatever side of the line you are on, as far as how devout you feel, you are a human and you are going to make mistakes."

Co-star Dollar reveals that not everyone had all the pieces of the puzzle of "Filthy Rich" during production. "Different people had different secrets they knew about their characters," she notes, "and we would try to guess what they were. It became this weird kind of rumor mill, sharing things we shouldn't share and trying to hit Abe (executive producer Abe Sylvia) or Tate – when they got a little chatty – for pieces of information. It's a very complicated pie."

If there's been a plus to the pandemic for Zach Gilford, it's being home with his two-year-old daughter.

Not only has the 38-year-old actor, who plays cop Ben Walker in the Fox/Spectrum action series "L.A.'s Finest," gotten to watch her grow alongside his wife, actress Kiele Sanchez ("The Glades"), but his imagination has worked overtime to keep up with the youngster's.

Which, he says, helps his acting.

"We're playing hard to believe for a living," the Illinois native explains. "And the older you get, I think you lose a little touch with that playfulness of it all. And you know, when you're playing with a child and you see them, it's like I've seen my daughter shoot ice out of her hands as if she's Elsa (the character from 'Frozen') and she can see ice forming on the wall in her bedroom.

"And you know, you put yourself in these situations where you have a camera right in your face and ... it kind of helps you to zone all of that out and just be like, 'Look ... I'm just gonna be here and I can see right through this camera. And I'll just believe whatever's going on.' And it makes it a lot more fun."

In Season 2 of "L.A.'s Finest," which begins Monday, Sept. 21, on Fox (and is available on Spectrum on Demand), the story of odd couple police partners Nancy McKenna (Jessica Alba) and Syd Burnett (Gabrielle Union) continues as they take on a case unlike any they've had before.

As for Gilford's character of Walker, viewers will get to know him as he gets featured more in storylines.

"There's stuff I get to do where I'm kind of on my own and how he acts as a singular person out in the world in certain situations," he explains. "... We do a bit of a partner swap and I'm kind of on a mission with Jessica, and it's like, 'Oh, how do these two characters interact when it's just the two of them?' But I think you get to know these people more and they're more fleshed out."

L.A.'s Finest

A quasi-spinoff of the "Bad Boys" movie franchise, this new police drama finds Gabrielle Union reprising her "Bad Boys II" film role of Syd Burnett, who has left behind a complicated past in Miami in favor of a fresh start as a Los Angeles Police Department detective. Her new partner, Nancy McKenna (Jessica Alba), is an equally complicated single mom, but the pair have in common a penchant for skirting the rules as they take down dangerous criminals. Zach Gilford, Duane Martin, Ryan McPartlin and Ernie Hudson also star.

Movie: A Cry in the Dark

Meryl Streep earned her eighth Oscar nomination playing Lindy Chamberlain, an Australian wife and mother who faces a media firestorm of skepticism and controversy after she and her pastor husband, Michael (Sam Neill), claim their 9-week-old daughter was carried away by a wild dog during a family camping trip. Largely because Chamberlain strikes the public as chilly and emotionally remote, many suspect the parents were somehow complicit in their child's death. Fred Schepisi directed and co-wrote this 1988 docudrama, airing as part of tonight's TCM Streep festival.

8 p.m. on 116; 11 p.m. on 116

Restoring Galveston

Michael announces he has purchased a new house for them to renovate, but an exhausted Ashley feels she is just not ready to start a new project in the new episode "Destined for Demo." When she hears the house is on the city's demolition list, however, she immediately realizes this unique 1930s bungalow needs to be saved.

Manhunt: Deadly Games

Season 2 of this scripted true-crime series chronicles one of the largest and most complex manhunts on U.S. soil following the deadly terrorist attack at the 1996 Olympic Games in Atlanta. Security guard Richard Jewell (Cameron Britton) saves hundreds of lives when he discovers a bomb on the grounds of the international event, but his heroic act quickly comes under the scrutiny of law enforcement as local press and political pressure mounts to catch the killer.

tonight's picks

Wednesday
7 p.m. on (116); 2 a.m. on (116)
Restored
 In a new episode called "Revival Style," host Brett Waterman takes viewers along as he explores the unique history and beauty of revival-style architecture. During this engrossing hour, he revisits a beautiful 1928 Spanish Revival home and an impressive 1917 Mission Revival home, each built by prominent local architects.

8 p.m. on (43) (5)
America's Got Talent
 Season 15 of this hit reality competition series really had to think outside the box last spring when the coronavirus pandemic shut down live, in-person auditions for the competition to follow. Then, with the season in progress, executive producer and longtime judge Simon Cowell suffered a freak accident that left him sidelined with a serious back injury. For once, here's hoping tonight's season finale, which will crown the new "AGT" million-dollar champion, won't feel pressured to deliver even more surprises. Terry Crews is the host.

8 p.m. on (13)
Coroner
 In the Season 1 finale, "Bridges," a death hits close to home for the team, and as Jenny (Serinda Swan) and her colleagues painstakingly unravel the case, they uncover evidence pointing to something much bigger than they expected. Elsewhere, Ross (Ehren Kassam) embarks on a personal journey, while Liam (Éric Bruneau) reveals his true feelings to Jenny.

8 p.m. on (401)
Agents of Chaos
 Oscar- and Emmy-winning filmmaker Alex Gibney ("Going Clear: Scientology and the Prison of Belief") directed this two-part documentary, which concludes Thursday night. The product of Gibney's years of reporting on Russian interference in the 2016 presidential election, the film — which includes unprecedented footage inside Russian troll farms — digs deep to reveal sophisticated foreign plans to undermine democracy. More alarmingly, it also proves that these "agents of chaos" included key players in the United States who furthered Vladimir Putin's goals.

8:01 p.m. on (12) (7)
I Can See Your Voice
 One of the panelists on "The Masked Singer," Ken Jeong is executive producer and host of this quirky new music guessing game that was filmed this summer under quarantine. Actress Cheryl Hines and TV host Adrienne Bailon-Houghton join Jeong and a rotating panel of guest celebrity detectives plus a music superstar to help a contestant try to find the best singers among a group of strangers without hearing them sing a note.

9:03 p.m. on (29); 1:04 a.m. on (29)
Marrying Millions
 Bill makes a determined effort to adjust when Sharon, Bri's mother, moves into the house, but things quickly deteriorate in the new episode "Rough Waters Ahead." The resulting tension leaves Bri feeling torn between Bill and her family. Elsewhere, Desiry is devastated when Rodney reveals a huge secret he has been keeping from her, while Erica's family doesn't react well to news of her engagement to Rick.

9 p.m. on (52); 12:05 a.m. on (52)
Jay Leno's Garage
 In the quirky new episode "America's Toughest: In Harm's Way," host Jay Leno explores the various reasons people may

"A Wilderness of Error"

Friday
6:30 p.m. on (39);
7:30 p.m. on (39)
The Casagrandes
 After a disagreement with Abuelo, Bobby goes to work for Mr. Hong to try out his new business idea in the new episode "Bo Bo Business; Blunder Party." Meanwhile, Ronnie, Anne and Sid are pumped up for their sleepover, but Carl and Adelaide might ruin the day. The voice cast features Izabella Alvarez, Alex Cazares, Leah Mei Gold and Lexi Sexton.
7 p.m. on (59);
10:30 p.m. on (59)
A Wilderness of Error
 Based on a bestselling book of the same title by filmmaker and author Errol Morris, this new five-part true-crime docuseries from Emmy-winning producer Marc Smerling revisits one of the most noteworthy crimes of the latter 20th century: the 1970 murders of Army surgeon Jeffrey MacDonald's wife and two young daughters. MacDonald steadfastly insisted the killings were committed by hippies inspired by Charles Manson, but he was convicted of the murders himself and is serving a life sentence. The first three episodes air here, followed by the final two on Oct. 2.

7 p.m. on (420)
Movie: John Wick: Chapter 3 — Parabellum
 This third entry in the Keanu Reeves action thriller franchise was the most successful to date, both in terms of box-office revenue and critical praise for the screenplay and performances. The story picks up just one hour after the events of the second "Wick" film and finds the exhitman title character on the run for his life, pursued by legions of assassins eyeing the $14 million contract placed on his head for his recent actions.

8 p.m. on (8) (8)
Great Performances
 The new episode "Now Hear This: The Schubert Generation" uses the tragically brief life of composer Franz Schubert — who composed 1,500 works without having his genius recognized until after his death at age 31 — as a jumping off point for a look at what it takes for a young classical artist to make it today in the 21st century. Host Scott Yoo goes to several of the world's music capitals to meet rising music stars and play from Schubert's vast catalog of masterworks.

8 p.m. on (435)
Movie: Hot Summer Nights
 Current Hollywood "It Boy" Timothée Chalamet stars in writer-director Elijah Bynum's 2017 coming-of-age crime drama as Daniel Middleton, an awkward teenager whose father recently died. Daniel's mother ships him off to spend summer with an aunt on Cape Cod, where he soon meets and becomes friendly with local bad boy Hunter Strawberry (Alex Roe, TV's "Siren"). It's not long before Daniel gets drawn into Hunter's drug-dealing business.
10 p.m. on (117);
2 a.m. on (117)
Dessert Games
 In a new episode called "Guilty a la Mode," the four competing chefs are tasked with creating a peanut butter-flavored dessert and a fruit cobler, with the specific fruit determined by an orange-tossing challenge. A round of bingo decides which ingredient will be used to create the best plated cake dish. Duff Goldman is the host.

10 p.m. on (401);
11:30 p.m. on (401)
Room 104
 Childhood best friends Bruce and Abby (Leonardo Nam, Lily Gladstone) are understandably surprised when they run into each other for the first time in decades, but the experience is pleasant enough to motivate Bruce to hatch an admittedly eccentric plan to rekindle their long-dormant friendship. Alas, instead he just reopens some painful old wounds in the new episode "The Night Baby Died."

Animal Babies

Nearly a quarter of our planet's surface is covered by mountains, challenging terrain for animals to make their home. Even adult critters don't have an easy time on the sheer slopes and snow-covered mountainsides, but younger animals have it even harder. Among the beasts featured are a clumsy guanaco calf that's expected to stand up within minutes of being born and a young musk ox who barely escapes the jaws of hungry wolves.

Jamie Foxx received a Screen Actors Guild Award nomination as best supporting actor for his work in this fact-based 2019 legal drama, in which he plays Walter McMillian, a Black prison inmate on Death Row for the 1986 murder of Ronda Morrison, a white woman. McMillian's case catches the attention of idealistic young Harvard law graduate Bryan Stevenson (a top-billed Michael B. Jordan), who has teamed up with a kindred spirit (Brie Larson) to found the Equal Justice Initiative. Rob Morgan,

Ghost Adventures

Maybe it's because of the many lives that begin and end within their sterile corridors, but shuttered hospitals seem to be a magnet for unexplained occult activity. The new episode "Haunted Attractions" takes Zak Bagans, Nick Groff and Aaron Goodwin to Utah, where they want to investigate the demons said to be lurking inside a former hospital. Later, they head to Tennessee to visit country music star Loretta Lynn's reportedly haunted mansion.

Noah (Jonathan Keltz), a handsome workaholic, realizes he's not doing a very good job planning his sister's wedding, so he turns to Lily (Clark Backo) for some help completing that urgent assignment in this 2020 romance. Lily is absolutely determined for the nuptials to be a smashing success, so she spends more time than usual with this particular client, trying to show him what really matters most in life. Chris Violette and Kathryn Kohut also star.
