BY GEORGE DICKIE

Alexa Davies stars in "Dead Pixels," premiering Tuesday on The CW.

Gamers take their lives and relationships into the virtual world in The CW's 'Dead Pixels'

They may not function all that well in reality but the video gamers in "Dead Pixels" are titans of their virtual world.

Premiering Tuesday, Aug. 18, on The CW, the half-hour comedy from the U.K. and writer/creator Jon Brown ("Succession," "Veep") follows the daily lives – real and online – of three gamer pals: Meg (Alexa Davies, "Mamma Mia! Here We Go Again"), an office worker who has no qualms about leaving a date to help defend a burning castle; Nicky (Will Merrick, "Poldark"), a fellow office drone and uber-devoted gamer; and Usman (Sargon Yelda, "Strike"), a stay-at-home dad who made a plywood lid for his child's playpen so he can game in peace.

All three have things missing in their lives and themselves that they find in varying degrees in the world of "Kingdom Scrolls," an online fantasy game. And their avatars are expressions of how they see themselves – or how they want to see themselves.

In Meg's case, that character is Greta, a muscular hunchback and fearless warrior.

"I think it's across all games, really, just that feeling of ... inadequacy in real life that is then kind of remedied by getting to step into this other world and be, in Meg's case, a hunchback who can clobber anything to death and feel what she likes," Davies says with a laugh. "Meg's avatar, Greta, just is kind of covered in armor and is just the definite kind of aggressive front which translates into her real life as well and there's a real kind of need to display a very strong exterior."

Nicky occupies a character named Moric the Unwavering, which Merrick explains is the antithesis of Nicky's inadequate, retiring self.

"I had a real clear idea in my head that Nicky would be a very different person himself, almost a different personality when he was playing the game," the British actor says. "He's really vocal, he's really chatty, he's very dry and sarcastic but he has a wit and he has a sense of humor. And then as soon as he leaves that world and goes into work or goes into a more social real world environment, he really recedes and becomes very quiet and muted and keeps to himself and keeps his head down."

"I think like Meg and Nicky and Usman, they're a pretty big deal in 'Kingdom Scrolls,' " he continues, "I guess you'd call them (three) of the elders. They've been around and people look up to them in the game. They're high level, they're dangerous and they get stuff done, so I think that he's a totally different guy away from the monitor."

Both actors say Meg and Nicky are indispensable to each other and likely wouldn't be playing the game if it weren't for the other. But as to whether that could lead to romance, Davies was noncommittal.

"There are moments there where you think: will they, won't they?" she says. "But I don't know if they ever will because at the same time I feel this kind of like brotherly/sisterly vibe. But on top of everything, I think they really kind of compete with each other in the game and also in real life. There is a need to always better the other."

Checking in with WENDY OSEFO

celebrity scoop
BY GEORGE DICKIE

A professor at Johns Hopkins University and a Fox News political commentator, Wendy Osefo was understandably hesitant to wade into unfamiliar waters and put her life and family on screen when she was approached to join "The Real Housewives of Potomac." But her kids' attitude about having TV cameras in their home changed her mind.

"I was nervous at first. I was fearful, also, but I really credit my kids," the 36-year-old native of Nigeria says. "I have two little boys and a little girl. But my 7-year-old and my 5 year-old, they were just themselves. They didn't care about the cameras and I took the lead from them. And so it was really interesting, they were the parents in that regard. They were just like, 'Mom, just do you.' And I was like, 'OK.' And I just did me."

In the hourlong unscripted series now in its fifth season Sundays on Bravo (and Slice in Canada), Osefo is the lone newcomer to a returning cast of Gizelle Bryant, Karen Huger, Ashley Darby, Robyn Dixon, Monique Samuels and Candace Dillard Bassett, all strong women with strong personalities. As a triple threat with careers in television, academics and business, Osefo is no shrinking violet herself and she says the other women recognized that from the outset.

Most major networks, cable news channels and social media platforms begin coverage of the four-day Democratic National Convention, which is almost entirely being conducted remotely owing to the Tonight's schedule is largely given over to a series of other speakers, followed on Tuesday by the keynote address and roll-call vote, and Wednesday night's acceptance speech by vice presidential nominee Kamala Harris.

7 p.m. on 13
Dead Pixels
 Jon Brown ("Succession," "Veep") is behind this new dramedy that follows three characters — Meg, Nicky and Usman (Alexa Davies, Will Merrick, Sargon Yelda) — who are connected almost exclusively by their obsession with an online fantasy game called "Kingdom Scrolls." Each episode is split equally between the characters' dysfunctional lives in the real world and their computer-animated misadventures as their online avatars. In "Bears," the series premiere, Meg invites a hot new co-worker (David Mumeni) into her online world, but things quickly go amiss. Another episode follows.

8 p.m. on 46; 12 a.m. on 46
Counting On
 In the aptly titled new episode "Highs and Lows," Jinger and Jeremy stoically share the sad news with their friends and loved ones that they have miscarried their baby. Meanwhile, in Arkansas, Ben struggles with some strong second thoughts as he undergoes eye surgery. On a happier note, Jeremy throws Jinger a surprise party filled with some unexpected guests and a very special gift.
9 p.m. on 57; 12 a.m. on 57
Backyard Envy
 The Backyarders are challenged to create a Tuscan-themed backyard in the middle of New Jersey in the new episode "Growing to the Heights." Since they're growing and adding new staff, James, Garrett and Mel decide to lay down some ground rules for the Mannies and do some team-building, but making the transition from friends to bosses almost overnight proves tricky. Mel's doctor has some unsettling news for her.

9 p.m. on 117; 1 a.m. on 117
Eddie Eats America
 In the new episode "Brooklyn," Eddie Hall opens his visit to the New York borough in classic style, with the justly acclaimed cheesecake at Junior's. Next, it's off to Coney Island and an impressive feat of physical strength as he tries to transform a construction-grade steel bar into a pretzel, before finishing up his day at the Mac Shack, where competitive eating champion Wayne Algenio cheers him on as Eddie attempts the eatery's 7,000-calorie mac and cheese challenge.

9 p.m. on 435
Movie: Three Christs
 Jon Avnet co-wrote and directed this splendidly acted adaptation of a real-life psychiatric case study by a doctor (played by Richard Gere) who tries to help three schizophrenic patients (Peter Dinklage, Walton Goggins, Bradley Whitford), each of whom is convinced he is Jesus Christ. Avnet made the film in 2017, but it didn't get a theatrical release until early 2020. Jilliana Margulies, Kevin Pollak, Charlotte Hope, Jane Alexander, Stephen Root and James Monroe Iglehart co-star.

9:07 p.m. on 45; 1:07 a.m. on 45
I Quit
 Launching a new business is usually one of the biggest gambles anyone can make, a leap of faith like few others. This new docuseries follows entrepreneurs from six businesses who decide to throw caution to the winds and give up their steady 9-to-5 jobs to pursue their career dreams. Along the way, they are mentored by three successful business leaders: Shopify COO Harley Finkelstein; Debbi Sterling, CEO of a children's multimedia company; and Tricia Clarke-Stone, CEO of a creative and tech agency.

True Life: Quarantine Stories

Anyone going through an extended quarantine alone may feel at a disadvantage, as the sense of loneliness and isolation can become overwhelming. As the new "Love Under Lockdown" reveals, however, it's no day at the beach for couples, either, since nonstop togetherness puts unwelcome pressure on nearly any relationship. Whether a couple is still in the first blush of new love or part of a long-established union, making more life decisions can become more treacherous without adequate "me time" for both parties.

8:30 p.m. on 33; 11:30 p.m. on 33

House Hunters

A new episode called "California Dreaming in Redlands" revolves around a young Illinois family that decides to take a leap of faith and make their dream come true by relocating to sunny Redlands, Calif. The wife is looking for a spacious two-story home with four bedrooms to accommodate their growing family, but they're used to cheaper house prices back home in the Midwest. She and her husband quickly realize they will have to compromise.

Guy's Grocery Games

Filed under quarantine, the new episode "Behind the Games: Diners, Drive-ins and Dives Tournament 2: Part 1" finds host Guy Fieri and his son Hunter taking a trip down "Guy's Grocery Games" memory lane as they re-watch the second "Diners, Drive-Ins and Dives" Tournament from their ranch in California. Their father-son viewing party includes reminiscing and playing armchair quarterback as 16 "DDD" chefs compete in a heated rivalry.

9 p.m. on 45; 1 a.m. on 45

Growing Belushi

This new reality series follows actor and singer Jim Belushi as he branches out into a new line of work: legal cannabis farmer. The show follows the former sitcom star ("According to Jim") as he and his ragtag team of farmers go through the tangled process of launching this new venture in southern Oregon, accompanied by his cousin Chris. Fans can look forward to appearances by "Blues Brothers" performing partner Dan Aykroyd, as well as Jim's former sister-in-law, Judy Belushi-Pisano, and other members of Jim's family.

Love in the Time of Corona

This two-night, four-part limited series event, which concludes on Sunday, follows a diverse assortment of characters as they cope with the extraordinary demands of the coronavirus pandemic. In the premiere, "The Course of Love," married couple James and Sade (real-life spouses Leslie Odom Jr. and Nicolette Robinson) adjust to 24/7 life together in quarantine. Elsewhere, headstrong wife Nanda (L. Scott Caldwell) must make do with a virtual 50th wedding anniversary celebration when her husband's rehab facility goes into lockdown. Another new episode follows.

7 p.m. on (401)

Movie: Queen & Slim

Jodie Turner-Smith ("Jett") and Daniel Kaluuya ("Get Out") earned warm reviews in the title roles of this character-driven combination of romance, road trip and crime drama from Melina Matsoukas (in her feature directing debut), with a screenplay from Lena Waithe ("The Chi"). The film opens with Queen, a criminal lawyer, on her first, awkward Tinder date with Slim in a diner. Later, as he's driving her home, a routine traffic stop that starts out harmlessly goes badly wrong, forcing the pair to flee. Massoud, Nina Dobrev, Scott Bokeem Woodbine and Chloe Sevigny co-star.

8 p.m. on (435)

Movie: Run This Town

Ben Platt ("The Politician") stars in director and screenwriter Ricky Tollman's 2019 drama, which charts the chaotic final year in the tenure of Toronto mayor Rob Ford (an unrecognizable Damian Lewis, "Homeland"). Platt plays Ram Shriver, an aspiring investigative journalist who is bored out of his mind as the story opens, cranking out mindless "listicles" at his job when he stumbles upon a potentially explosive political story. Mena Massoud, Nina Dobrev, Scott Bokeem Woodbine and Chloe Sevigny co-star.

9 p.m. on (32); 1 a.m. on (32)

Hotel Paranormal

A romantic getaway that's a popular destination for lovers, illicit and otherwise, turns into the backdrop for a night of abject terror in the new episode "Confined Spirits." In other segments, a security guard is frightened when he is unexpectedly accosted by a presence in a haunted bathroom at a posh California hotel, and shadowy apparitions strike horror into the heart of a front-desk clerk on the night shift. Dan Aykroyd is the narrator.

Nicolette Robinson and Leslie Odom Jr.
