Phil Keoghan gives CBS a 'Tough as Nails' competition

When Phil Keoghan created "Tough as Nails," he didn't foresee it being even more apt by the time it aired.

A producer as well as the host of "The Amazing Race," he also fills both roles on his new CBS competition series that begins Wednesday, July 8. The contestants are workers whose regular occupations – from a deputy sheriff and a firefighter to a welder and a farmer – help keep America running and qualify them for the show's challenges, with physical and mental strength among the traits needed for tasks they perform at various job sites.

With his wife Louise a fellow executive producer of "Tough as Nails," the friendly Keoghan notes "the timing of the nature of the show" is quite appropriate. "We didn't know when we were shooting the series, which is about essential workers, just how pertinent and how relevant it was going to be in terms of what's in the zeitgeist now. We're honoring these very people, and as someone said to me, never have we been so appreciative of people who make $15 an hour.

"I don't know if any of us will look at somebody stocking shelves in a grocery store the same way again," adds Keoghan. "We understand the value of everybody who contributes to society and the world that we had taken for granted."

"The Amazing Race" is expected to return to CBS later this year with its already taped 32nd season. Keoghan is satisfied to have "Tough as Nails" on first, recognizing – and, in fact, hoping for – the added significance its theme could have in this time of social distancing and face coverings.

"Tough as Nails" premieres Wednesday on CBS.

In a sense, the show is something of an immediate throwback to an age that may not come back again, at least not fully. "We don't know what world we're inheriting after all of this, or how it's going to work," the clearly well-traveled Keoghan reasons.

"There will definitely be changes and as we always have done, we'll just adapt.

"Are we going to shake hands again? I don't know. I wonder if that common courtesy will become more of a Japanese type of gesture, where it's doing to be more of a nod ... or maybe it will be a fist bump or elbow bump. And how will it be in restaurants, or on airplanes?"

Indeed, Keoghan reflects, "I've been flying long enough that I remember when people used to smoke on planes. You'd be in the nonsmoking section, but you might as well have been sitting in the smoking section, because the smoke would drift to where you were. I just know that it is not going to be the same again."

With risk comes reward, conventional wisdom has it, and in Season 5 of HGTV's Tuesday series "Good Bones," Mina Starsiak Hawk takes on more of the former in pursuit of the latter.

With her mom, lawyer Karen E. Laine, out of the ownership picture of their Indianapolis-based renovation company Two Chicks and a Hammer, Starsiak Hawk has taken the lead not only on more remodeling projects but also opening a storefront in town while undergoing IVF treatments to become pregnant with her second child with husband Stephen Hawk.

"It's definitely a little bit stressful," the 35-year-old admits. "I think just the biggest part is there's always risk in real estate but now we're taking another risk with the storefront. And so many people that I employ are family or practically family, so ... there's definitely those periods where we're like, 'Oh my gosh, am I going to be able to pay my family salaries this month?'-kind of thing. And we always figure it out.

"But in the meantime," she adds with a laugh, "I want to (scream) trying to figure it out."

Those headaches are no longer for Laine, who gave up her share of the business to spend more time with her husband Roger, who retired three years ago. But while she too is technically retired, she'll still be helping her daughter with renovation projects, acting in the role of labor rather than management.

"So she doesn't have to worry about quarterly tax payments and ... managing employees and all the nonfun, nonglamorous parts of it," Starsiak Hawk says. "She just gets to do the fun stuff now."

tonight's picks

John Quinones

Tuesday 8 p.m. on 57; 9:45 p.m. on 57 Million Dollar Listing Los Angeles In the new episode "Altman Versus Fredrik," Josh Altman hunts for his own flagship office space to create some much-needed distance from New York power player Fredrik Eklund, a former friend who now is trying to make his mark on both coasts, thus encroaching on Altman's prime turf.

8 p.m. on 74; 11 p.m. on 74; 2 a.m. on 74 Greenleaf Forced to wait in agony, Grace (Merle Dandridge) feels torn between giving her family the undivided attention they need and digging more deeply into

Bob Whitmore's (Beau Bridges) shady past in the new episode "The Third Day." Lady Mae and Bishop (Lynn Whitfield, Keith David) take initial steps to turn their dreams of a new church into a reality, but opening a new chapter proves to be even more challenging than they had expected. Jacob (Lamman Rucker) makes a discovery that could be devastating to the Greenleafs.

8 p.m. on 150; 11 p.m. on 150 Still a Mystery The new episode "Killers Among Us?" starts on a deceptively tranquil note, as a respected police officer heads home after a late shift, while elsewhere a young man who has just moved into his own place relaxes after watching football. Events soon take a shocking twist, however, as what looks to be two thoroughly routine evenings turn deadly. Are these violent events actually cold-blooded, premeditated assassinations?

8:59 p.m. on 465 Movie: The Wolf Hour In the summer of 1977, New York is a hotbed of escalating violence, including the chilling Son of Sam serial murders. Against this fraught backdrop, June E. Leigh (Naomi Watts), who used to be a vibrant counterculture figure, has shut herself away in her grandmother's stifling South Bronx apartment. As she fights against surrendering herself to panic and agoraphobia, June tries to find a path back to her former self. Emory Cohen and Jennifer Ehle also star in writer-director Alistair Banks Griffin's 2019 psychological thriller.

9 p.m. on 9 9 What Would You Do? In a world that seems to be filled every day with one unforeseen set of circumstances after another, the question of how anyone might react when confronted with an unexpected situation assumes even greater importance. Anchor John Quinones returns tonight to launch Season 15 of this ABC News series, which explores how people behave when they think no one is watching, using hidden cameras to capture real-life individuals as they react to provocative scenarios initiated by actors and inspired by current real-world events. 9 p.m. on 33; 12 a.m. on 33 House Hunters A new episode called "Back From Abroad" focuses on a couple who are preparing to return to the United States after living in Europe for several years. They both want to raise their son close to family in Charlotte, N.C., but they can't reach an accord on the specifics of the home they are seeking. The husband wants a smaller home in a neighborhood that is pedestrian-friendly and encourages walking, but the wife has her heart firmly set on a big, traditional two-story family residence.

8 p.m. on 31; 9 p.m. on 31; 11 p.m. on 31; 12 a.m. on 31

8 p.m. on 48; 11:03 p.m. on 48
Forged in Fire: Beat the Judges
 Season 1 of this companion program to the hit "Forged in Fire" concludes with a music-themed finale called "Rock Star Smiths," in which the bladesmiths must slash through level one to score a chance to rock out a 9-ringed broadsword on their home forges. One champion ultimately lands at the top of the charts," pitting him against one of the judges in a face-to-face showdown. If he's able to beat that judge, he'll go home $10,000 richer.

9 p.m. on 8 ⑧; 1 a.m. on 8 ⑧

China: Power and Prosperity — PBS NewsHour Presents

Foreign affairs and defense correspondent Nick Schiffrin hosts this new one-hour special, which explores the future of China's increasingly fractious relationship with the United States, which in turn will help determine the new international world order, which dominant technology will support the world's communication infrastructure and the stability of the global economy. The relationship between the two superpowers already was seen as having an outside effect on the world at large when a public health emergency further complicated how China and America interact.

9 p.m. on 43; 2 a.m. on 43

At Home With Amy Sedaris

The new episode "Dips and Dunkers" finds Amy hosting a party to watch a major sporting event. She's not remotely a fan of sports, but evidently someone in charge has suggested to her that it wouldn't hurt her or her show to make a play for a younger demographic. On a note that's a bit more in character for her, Amy and a special guest also prepare a perfect game-day dip.

9 p.m. on 52; 12 a.m. on 52

Jay Leno's Garage

Some cars are finely tuned machines, but a new episode called "All Play and No Work" celebrates vehicles that really are just meant for fun only. Former "Dirty Jobs" host Mike Rowe can't believe his luck when he finally gets to live out his childhood fantasy of driving the actual car from TV's hit series "The Rockford Files." Elsewhere, Jay takes stunt driver Jolene Van Vugt to the desert to test out Polarix' super fun Razor, then sets up a ridiculous competition with comic Alonzo Bodden.

Mike "The Miz" Mizanin

tonight's picks

Thursday 7 p.m. on 56
Movie: Hannah and Her Sisters
 Woody Allen's 1986 comedy-drama is among his warmest, very best movies. Though he's a member of the ensemble cast, Allen gives the most choice moments to his co-stars. They include two Oscar winners: Michael Caine as a middle-aged husband who develops an infatuation for his wife's (Mia Farrow) sister (Barbara Hershey), and Dianne Wiest as the two women's other sibling. The film launches tonight's memorial tribute to Max von Sydow, featured here as Hershey's erstwhile lover. The great Swedish actor died last March at age 90.

7 p.m. on 61
Cannonball
 WWE Superstar Mike "The Miz" Mizanin and TV personality Rocsi Diaz ("10 & Park") host this splashy and outrageous new watersports competition in which contestants from across the United States will vie for a cash prize. Each episode introduces 16 players who jump into the deep end (in every sense of that phrase) to compete in four rounds of physical challenges such as the speed slide Mega-Ramp, the adrenalin-pumping Drop Tower and the explosive Air Cannon until one emerges as champion. Simon Gibson is the sideline reporter.

In the Dark
 This dark mystery thriller's gratifyingly twisty sophomore season reaches a suspenseful conclusion with "My Pride and Joy," wherein many of the characters are either on the giving or receiving end for devastating acts of betrayal, with devestating consequences for several individuals. Perry Mattfield, Brooks Markham, Morgan Kestritz, Keston John, Casey Deidrick and Theodore Bhat star.
8 p.m. on 31; 11 p.m. on 31
Restaurant: Impossible
 A new special episode called "Biggest Fights, Worst Bites" finds host Robert Irvine counting down some of the biggest moments in the history

"Restaurant Impossible," including massive disappointments of both management and staff members, as well as the worst food he's ever had to eat. On a much brighter note to follow, he also shares his favorite menu transformations and most moving restaurant reveals that he has overseen.
8 p.m. on 48; 11:03 p.m. on 48
Mountain Men
 In the new episode "Carnage," Mike returns to the rocky crags of bear-infested Kodiak to reclaim his mountain goat kill, while Jason hunts down a wild hog to feed his family of five. Elsewhere, Josh is forced to go on the offensive when confronted by a rising threat from wolves, and Kidd and

Harry blow up a beaver dam that is interfering with their water supply.
9 p.m. on 148; 10:04 p.m. on 148; 11:46 p.m. on 148
Cake
 Season 3 of these little "hors d'oeuvres of the mind" delivers more bite-sized and very eclectic stories from content creators both new and established and in formats encompassing live-action and animated featurettes. Some are provocative, many are laugh-inducing and a few are a bit raw, but they're all designed to surprise and delight. Tonight's two-episode season premiere, "Cos and Effect" and "Swipe Left," features a heroic dose of do-goodery, a postmodern deconstructionist love story and a bit of kung fu troll goosing.

Movie: The Grudge

A solid cast helps writer-director Nicolas Pesce's 2020 supernatural horror film, which originally was announced as a reboot of a successful 2004 American remake of a cult Japanese thriller. By the time Pesce's film was released, however, it had morphed into a "sidequel," which takes place before and during the events of the 2004 film. Making the movie even more challenging for audiences, the story unfolds in a non-linear style, jumping back and forth in time. Andrea Riseborough, Demián Bichir, Rishon Cho, Betty Gilpin and William Sadler star.

7:20 p.m. on 420

Movie: Ma

Tate Taylor, who directed Octavia Spencer to an Oscar as best supporting actress in "The Help," re-teams with her for this 2019 psychological thriller about a group of teenagers who come to regret befriendng a lonely, middle-aged woman (Spencer) who turns out to have a few screws loose. Diana Silvers, McKaley Miller, Corey Fogelmanis, Juliette Lewis, Luke Evans, Missi Pyle and Allison Janney also are featured.

Movie: Obsession: Escaping My Ex

In this 2020 follow-up to "Obsession: Stalked by My Lover," Celeste Desjardins and Travis Nelson reprise their roles as Madison Turner and Blake Collins, who enjoyed a torrid but brief romance until she discovered he was a ruthless con man out to bilk Madison and her rich sister. Blake wound up getting arrested, but now he has escaped custody and is determined to make his way back to Philadelphia, where he plans to kidnap his old flame. Kelly Hope Taylor and Anastasia Phillips also star in this thriller.

Believers

Allegedly true stories of paranormal encounters are brought to life in this new anthology series through a combination of actor recreations and archival documentation. Tonight's premiere, "The Slip Knot," opens with the story of a Hollywood photographer who is attacked and choked by the spirit of an angry sailor. In other stories, an apparition lures a security guard to the scene of a deadly fire, and a police detective discovers a missing woman seen by a passing witness is actually dead.

11:03 p.m. on (48)

The UnXplained

As its title suggests, the new episode "The Greatest Escapes" looks back to unforgettable tales of escape, some of which nearly defy explanation. Among the highlights, experts consider the famous escape from Alcatraz and debate whether the prisoners who pulled it off actually lived to celebrate their success. A less famous incident involves a man who received a mysterious form of guidance that allowed him to escape the World Trade Center during the 9/11 terrorist attacks. William Shatner is host.
