Peacock blooms in full as streaming service gets wider premiere

Fans of a certain series are bound to be particularly “Psych”-ed about the wide debut of Peacock.

After a version of it debuted three months earlier for subscribers of parent company Comcast, NBC Universal’s streaming service gets total national distribution starting Wednesday, July 15. Drawing from the past and present series libraries of NBC and its affiliated cable networks plus ViacomCBS, as well as the movie vaults of both Universal Pictures and Paramount Pictures, Peacock also will have original offerings in scripted and unscripted programming plus (when such events resume) sports.

Among the new Peacock options available at full launch will be “Psych 2: Lassie Come Home,” the second movie sequel to the comedy-mystery series that spent eight seasons on USA Network. Sleuths Shawn and Gus (James Roday, who also co-wrote the script with executive producer and director Steve Franks, and Dule Hill) investigate an attack on their police comrade Lassiter (Timothy Omundson), as does his former partner Juliet (Maggie Lawson), who’s now married to Shawn.

Seen recently on the Fox sitcom “Outmatched,” Lawson says a huge appeal of “Psych 2” for her was the chance to work again with Omundson, whose work on the first “Psych” movie sequel was limited by a stroke he suffered. “It was such an emotionally charged time and experience for all of us,” the pleasant Lawson reflects of making the latest follow-up. “We felt whole again. And to watch Tim in this ... he does such a good job.”

Other new Peacock programs available on July 15 will include: “Brave New World,” adapting the Aldous Huxley sci-fi novel and starring Demi Moore; the British mystery “The Capture”; “Intelligence,” a British-made spy comedy with “Friends” alum David Schwimmer; the unscripted “Lost Speedways” (with Dale Earnhardt Jr.) and “In Deep With Ryan Lochte”; and the children’s series “Cleopatra in Space” and “Where’s Waldo?” Families also can watch new episodes of “Curious George.”

However, exactly what is available to Peacock viewers will depend on which tier of the service they have. Those who choose the free, ad-supported version will have access to certain episodes of its original series. Full seasons of the shows can be seen by those who pay for a “Premium” version that also will have ads, and also by those who subscribe to a version that will cost more but will be without commercials.

Lawson says she’s game to do more “Psych” projects for Peacock, especially if it means getting to do more scenes with Omundson. She credits Franks with letting them improvise for “Psych 2”: “That emotion, he let a lot of it play. You can see it in the movie, yet it’s still the ‘Psych’ everybody knows. And that’s one of my most favorite things about it.”

As famous as the character is, Matthew Rhys is pleased to be putting his own spins on “Perry Mason.”

The Emmy winner (for “The Americans”) has the title role in HBO’s current Sunday drama that delves into the pre-lawyer Mason’s roots as a somewhat shabby Depression-era Los Angeles detective working for a veteran defense attorney (fellow Emmy owner John Lithgow). The reboot also has its Della Street and Paul Drake (played by Juliet Rylance and Chris Chalk), but they have their differences, too ... which sits fine with Rhys.

“I was compelled,” he says, to watch the original Raymond Burr series, “and then I stopped myself, because I know exactly how my brain works. I’ve done quite a few adaptations of books – and it may sound lazy, but I know that when I read the book, I tend to take things from it that aren’t necessarily in the script.”

Thus came Rhys’ decision not to look at Erle Stanley Gardner’s “Perry Mason” novels, and he adds he stayed away from the Burr show so he wouldn’t see “anything I liked and steal it and mimic it, and then, I’d probably be hounded for it. I’m my own worst enemy with mimicry anyway, since it’s something I can’t undo.”

Still, Rhys allows that he modeled his Mason largely on a real-life person who reportedly inspired author Gardner: “I found (out about) Earl Rogers, who was a famous defense attorney in L.A. He was the kind of celebrity go-to lawyer who would handle the O.J. (Simpson) cases of the time, and I mainly tried to build a world in my head based on that background.”

Birthdate: Nov. 8, 1974

Birthplace: Cardiff, Wales

Current residence: Los Angeles

Marital status: Single, but his partner since 2014 has been his fellow “The Americans” star Keri Russell; they have a four-year-old son, Sam, together

Other television work includes: “The Americans,” “Infinity Train” (voice only), “Death and Nightingales,” “The Bastard Executioner,” “Archer” (voice only), “Under Milk Wood,” “A Child’s Christmas” (voice only), “Death Comes to Pemberley,” “The Mystery of Edwin Drood,” “Brothers & Sisters,” “Beau Brummell: The Charming Man,” “Columbo,” “The Lost World,” “Metropolis,” “Greenstone,” “Backup”

tonight's picks

"Alice Wetterlund: My Mama Is a Human and So Am I"

Tuesday
7 p.m. on 56
Movie: My Journey Through French Cinema

On this Bastille Day, French director Bertrand Tavernier ("Coup de Torchon") proves an amiable aesthetic travel guide as he looks back at his country's cinematic history. At more than three hours in duration, this documentary is a little exhausting, if not truly exhaustive, but the sheer emotional impact some of these films clearly have had on Tavernier is deeply touching. The film also offers portraits of such masters as Jean Renoir, Jean-Luc Godard, Francois Truffaut and Claude Chabrol, among others.

8 p.m. on 8 (8)
Frontline

The 2003 invasion of Iraq and the war that followed hasn't lacked for coverage by Western filmmakers, but award-winning director James Bluemel's new documentary "Once Upon a Time in Iraq" promises a different perspective. The film is constructed of eyewitness accounts from Iraqis from all different backgrounds, who share their stories of what it meant to survive those violent years from the fall of Saddam Hussein to the end of the Islamic State Group.

8 p.m. on 13
Alice Wetterlund: My Mama Is a Human and So Am I
 Performing before a live audience in Denver, comic and actress Alice Wetterlund

("People of Earth") delivers a set that's a comedic tour de force, spanning topics ranging from alcoholism and her chronic problems with peeping Toms to the complexities of rearing cats and the secret alien conspiracy behind new country music.

8 p.m. on 57; 9:45 p.m. on 57
Million Dollar Listing Los Angeles

The new episode "Storm the Castle" finds Tracy trying to balance her new portfolio with her incredibly demanding developer, who has sky-high expectations and a decidedly story history of working with Josh Altman.

8 p.m. on 74; 11 p.m. on 74; 2 a.m. on 74

Greenleaf
 Grace (Merle Dandread) hopes her family's luck may be turning when she finds a key informant who can provide important answers for her investigation into Bob Whitmore's (Beau Bridges) old company, Edenvale Landing, in the new episode "The Fourth Day." At the church, preparations for the last Sunday service at Calvary turn contentious when Charity (Deborah Joy Winans) stands her ground against Phil and Judee (Sean Blakemore, Valerie Jane Parker).

8 p.m. on 401
Showbiz Kids

Best known for his iconic comedy work with Keanu Reeves in the "Bill & Ted" movie series, filmmaker Alex Winter directed this new 2020 film, which throws a spotlight on children who grow up in the world of show business. Becoming famous at an early age brings with it both advantages and drawbacks, as illustrated through interviews with some of the most famous former child stars in the world, including Henry Thomas ("E.T. the Extraterrestrial"), Mara Wilson ("Mrs. Doubtfire") and Wil Wheaton ("Stand by Me").

9 p.m. on 61; 12:03 a.m. on 61

Dirty John
 This true-crime anthology drama series concludes Season 2 — which has revolved around the Betty Broderick case — with a finale called "Perception Is Reality." Betty (Amanda Peet) has found it possible to avoid confronting the reality of her actions, thanks to a wave of support from strangers, but ultimately the time arrives for her to face the music.

United We Fall

This new sitcom stars Will Sasso and Christina Vidal Mitchell as Bill and Jo, parents of two young kids, who are just trying to make it day to day as a functioning family. Her large Latinx Catholic family never hesitates to let them know when they're falling short, but the household tension level really ratchets up when Sandy (Jane Curtin), Bill's relentlessly judgmental mother, moves in with them. Guillermo Diaz also stars. Another new episode immediately follows.

Married at First Sight

This combination reality show and social experiment

docuseries opens Season 11 as "The Story Begins" for 10 single people in New Orleans. Their nerves are on edge, understandably, since each is about to marry a complete stranger. One groom's true motives for participating already are called into question at his bachelor party, which takes a wild turn. For one of the brides to be, the discovery of her husband's identity the night before the wedding leaves her deeply unsettled.

Property Brothers

In the new episode "Flashback: Irina and Dean," Drew and Jonathan Scott share helpful insights as they rework the layout of a couple's home to accommodate their unexpected family of four. The brothers add a nursery and revamp the kitchen, nursing and dining rooms. Then, as if that's not enough, Drew and Jonathan surprise their delighted clients with a master bedroom makeover.

At Home With Amy Sedaris

"Signature Dishes" is the theme and title of tonight's new episode, which finds Amy (Amy Sedaris) preparing her famous ginger snap recipe, which she hopes will be sanctioned by the Culinary Academy. Those plans may turn stale, though, once food critic Janice Shanks accuses Amy of plagiarizing the recipe. Meanwhile, Patty Hogg (Sedaris again) feels her vegetarian goose liver salad was snubbed by the academy.

Don Cornelius (Sinqua Walls) looks to secure a new talk show with the network even as he is battling a crippling migraine in the Season 2 finale, "So Long, Sucker." Since surviving what they now realize was truly a near-death experience, Simone and JT (Katlyn Nichol, Christopher Jefferson) only feel more driven to search for their own independence and win over Aiya's (Jaxon Rose Moore) foster parents.

Food Paradise

With the new episode "Grab on the Go," the title is somewhat self-explanatory, since the common thread with the featured food is its ability to travel rather than require dine-in consumption. Among the spotlighted businesses are a New Jersey drive-in that slings sky-high burgers, a New Orleans doughnut shop where they turn diner dinner classics into quick-bite handhelds and a Southern California spot serving decadent seafood fries.

A busy maternity ward in Montgomery, Ala., is the setting for this new special, which also serves as a pilot for a prospective series. Both the joys and pains of childbirth are unfolding as doctors and nurses at the facility share their perspectives on the unique challenges and circumstances they face daily as they deliver babies.

 Liz Lemon (Tina Fey) is getting the band back together, so to speak, as the cast of NBC's Emmy-winning sitcom "30 Rock" reunite for one night only to help NBC announce news about its 2020-21 TV season. Alec Baldwin (Jack Donaghy), Jane Krakowski (Jenna Maroney), Tracy Morgan (Tracy Jordan) and Jack McBrayer (Kenneth Parcell) all reprise their familiar characters for the one-hour special, which was filmed remotely under quarantine. Another former NBC sitcom, "Parks and Recreation," drew praise for an April reunion of its own cast and characters.

Labor of Love
 This decidedly unconventional reality competition series wraps up Season 1 with the finale "Sleepless in Chicago," as Kristy Katzmann takes her final two men to her hometown as her decision day approaches. After introducing each of the candidates to her family, it's time for her to choose whether to opt for a future with one of these finalists or just continue along her solo path to motherhood. Kristin Davis is the host.

 The new episode "Revisited: The Soul of a Marriage" takes host Robert Irvine back to Maa E's, an Oklahoma City soul food joint he first visited in 2014, when he couldn't help noticing how an explosive relationship between the married owners was taking a toll on the business. Things between Keith and Stephanie were so bad that, for the first time, Irvine nearly missed his deadline to complete the mission. Now, six years later, he's eager to find out whether the couple have kept their marital tensions at bay.

The Bold Type
 Sutton (Meghann Fahy) finds it impossible not to fall into regrettable behavior and repeat old patterns while paying a visit to her hometown in the Season 4 finale, "Not Far From the Tree." Jane (Katie Stevens) stumbles across a major story, but if it's published, it could well have some serious ramifications for Jacqueline (Melora Hardin).

Elsewhere, Kat (Aisha Dee) is reluctant to tell Jane and Sutton about her new romance.

Conjoined Twins: Inseparable
 When Carmen and Lupita were born as conjoined twins, their parents faced an agonizing choice: Allow them to stay together forever or put them through a surgical procedure only one of them was likely to survive. They decided to err on the side of caution, and since then, the twins have spent every moment of their lives joined together. This documentary looks at these two young women, who have different and sharply defined personalities, as they prepare to leave home for the first time to begin college.

"Porgy and Bess," George Gershwin's towering American opera about life on Catfish Row, a black tenement in Charleston, S.C., comes to thrilling life in this critically acclaimed production staged by James Robinson, with David Robertson conducting. Eric Owens and Angel Blue take the titles roles of Porgy, a crippled beggar, and Bess, the beautiful woman he loves; the enourmous cast also includes Frederick Ballentine as the drug dealer Sportin' Life, with other roles filled by Denyce Graves, Golda Schultz, Latonia Moore and Alfred Walker.

Love After Lockup

This hit reality series returns for its third season featuring new couples, usually a blend of one smitten lovebird hoping to tie the knot with a sweetheart behind bars and the latter jailbird who may or may not be conning the sweetheart on the outside. This season's couples include Shawn and Destinie, who clicked online while she's behind bars. They've never met in person, but Shawn's fully committed. Now he just has to break the news to the mother of his six children.

9:15 p.m. on (56)

Movie: The Grapes of Wrath

The fact that Henry Fonda didn't win an Oscar for his work in this 1940 drama is almost as criminal as the injustices committed against the bedraggled migrant laborers of the story. Even his most devoted fans forget they're watching Fonda, so thoroughly does he transform himself into the bloody-but-unbowed Tom Joan. The film, based on John Steinbeck's novel, did earn two Oscars: for best supporting actress (Jane Darwell) and best director (John Ford).

Movie: Fast & Shaw Presents: Hobbs & Shaw

Dwayne Johnson and Jason Statham reprise their respective roles as Luke Hobbs and Deckard Shaw from the "Fast" action franchise in David Leitch's action-packed 2019 spin-off, which finds the two frequent adversaries grudgingly working together with Shaw's sister (Vanessa Kirby) in a desperate bid to stop a cybernetically enhanced terrorist (Idris Elba) who is threatening to unleash a deadly virus on the world. Eliza Gonzalez, Cliff Curtis and Helen Mirren also are featured.

Movie: Murder in the Vineyard

Emma Kirk (Helena Mattson) is looking for a more peaceful life when she moves with her teenage daughter, Beatrice (Emma Fuhrmann), to a small town, and at first, it looks like Emma will get her wish. Her new career is thriving, and Beatrice is well-liked by her new peers, including handsome heartthrob Bryan (Matthew Erick White). Things start to take a dark turn, though, when an unknown assailant attacks Beatrice at a party, an incident that soon escalates into more harassment. Daniel Hall and Danial Covin star in this 2020 thriller.

7 p.m. on (401)
Movie: Harriet

Director and co-screenwriter Kasi Lemmons' earnest 2019 biopic about abolitionist Harriet Tubman is carried impressively by Cynthia Erivo in the title role, a formidable performance that earned the British actress nominations at the Academy Awards, Golden Globes and the Screen Actors Guild. Moreover, Erivo scored nods at the Oscars and Globes for co-writing the film's featured song "Stand Up" with Joshua Brian Campbell. Leslie Odom Jr., Joe Alwyn, Clarke Peters, Vanessa Bell Calloway, Nontle Curtis-Hall, Jennifer Veddie and Janelle Monáe also star.

8:50 p.m. on (15)
Movie: Tangled

For its 50th animated feature, Disney puts clever twists on the familiar tale of "Rapunzel," with Mandy Moore voicing the heroine whose lengthy hair makes her the captive of a villainess (voice of stage veteran Donna Murphy) wanting to harness its magical power. Zachary Levi ("Chuck") speaks the words of a thief who invades the tower where Rapunzel is being held, then teams with her to escape. The score is by Disney veteran Alan Menken ("Beauty and the Beast").

10 p.m. on (64)
Movie: The Dictator

Sacha Baron Cohen is back at it — though his similarly satirical turns as Borat and Bruno, also done with director Larry Charles, had more bite — in this 2012 comedy about a tyrannical foreign leader who comes to America and finds himself swept up in a series of unexpected adventures. Anna Faris, John C. Reilly and Ben Kingsley also appear, but as with most of Baron Cohen's screen projects, the picture clearly is designed mainly to showcase his brand of anarchy.
