BY GEORGE DICKIE

Mark Ruffalo stars in a dual role in "I Know This Much Is True," premiering Sunday on HBO.

HBO's 'I Know This Much Is True' a tale of mental illness, family and forgiveness

Dominick Birdsey is a man with a mountain of baggage.

As played by Mark Ruffalo ("The Normal Heart," "Foxcatcher") in the HBO limited series "I Know This Much Is True," a six-episode drama premiering Sunday, May 10, he's a house painter in rural Connecticut circa 1990 who is coping with his own psychic wounds as he cares for an identical twin brother with paranoid schizophrenia.

And that malady rears itself in the series' opening frames, when Thomas (also Ruffalo) hacks off his hand to the horror of onlookers in a public library in what in his mind is a sacrifice to stop the Gulf War. He's soon sent to an asylum, where his brother fights to get him freed.

Dominick isn't all that well, either. He's buckling under the weight of PTSD, the result of looking after Thomas, a childhood with an abusive stepfather, memories of losing his infant daughter to SIDS and subsequent divorce from Dessa (Kathryn Hahn, "Transparent") and making sure his dying mother (Melissa Leo, "Frozen River") has proper hospice care.

As Dominick contends with an asylum social worker (Rosie O'Donnell) to gain his brother's release, a psychologist (Archie Panjabi, "The Good Wife") picks up on his considerable emotional pain and realizes she may have two patients instead of one.

For the dual roles, Ruffalo undertook unusual demands. First, he shot all his scenes as the svelte, goateed Dominick, then took five weeks off to gain 30 pounds to play the doughy, clean-shaven Thomas. It was also during this time that the 52-year-old actor researched mental illness and imagined himself as someone with Thomas' condition.

"When we were talking about how we would do it," Ruffalo explained to a recent gathering of journalists in Pasadena, Calif., "we didn't want it to be like I run and put a wig on, and then run and do the same scene on the same day. So, yeah, we took five weeks off to really separate these two guys.

"And Thomas was on a lot of medication," he continues. "He needs medications. These mood stabilizers and antipsychotics cause people to put on weight. And, yeah ... their life experiences after their teens are so extremely different. But it was important for us to really, really have these guys be two different people."

And each came with its own distinct challenges, Ruffalo says, but Thomas' were especially daunting.

"Actually putting on the weight for Thomas was really challenging," he says. "I didn't expect it to be. I thought I was going to be having a fun time doing that. And when you're force-feeding yourself, some of the romance of food sort of leaves.

"I mean, listen, there's an element of mental illness in this project," he continues. "And you want to be as honest as you can to that, especially today. And it means a lot to me to be honest with that, which means going into that world and getting to know it and getting comfortable with it. And that's challenging.

"And so, that aspect of it was challenging more so than Dominick. I was really afraid to play it to be honest with you. I think it's really an important issue and I want to tell it as honestly as possible. And so the responsibility that was on the actual playing it was really apparent to me."

Sara Haines has been candid about her challenges as a working mother of three, but that couldn't prepare her for the state of parenthood now.

Back on ABC's "The View" as a recurring guest co-host while her own weekday program "Strahan & Sara & Keke" is on hiatus, the perennially cheerful-on-air Haines will be among many moms spending this Mother's Day (Sunday, May 10) still adjusting to being stay-at-home teachers to their offspring due to the coronavirus pandemic (along with her attorney husband, Max Shifrin).

"I think people who have to home-school kids 6 and older have the harder responsibility," Haines reasons. "My kids are more preschool-age, but there's a guilt there. Most days, Max and I feel like we're keeping them alive, which is the base-level goal. But I don't know how much they thrive, and that's a conversation we have almost every day.

"We don't have a separate office, and quarters are tight," Haines adds, "and we have young kids going through their own moods from their lives being turned upside-down ... and often, we haven't been our best selves. We have to check each other, and we try to pick the battles that move the ball forward for the family."

Still, Haines allows, "Any communication issues you have with your kids are probably things you've shown in your other important relationships. I'm not the best communicator when I'm angry, and my tools aren't as strong when I'm tired, but so many wise nuggets fall down on you every day about what matters and what you can do without. This has been a beautiful time to make sure the focus is right."

Birthdate: Sept. 18, 1977

Birthplace: Newton, Iowa

Current residence: New York

Marital status: Married; has three children

Other television credits include: "Good Morning America," "Today"

On her approach to discussing timely issues on television: "I really take pride in, with no matter what's being presented, stepping back and wanting to let cooler minds prevail. I think, 'Let's take a pause. What do I want to know?' I hope I represent the everyman/everywoman. I do know that I'm trying to be what I'm not seeing enough of right now, what would comfort me as an American citizen and give me hope as someone who knows that life is full of up and downs, and that there's always a better day coming."

Peter Krause

7 p.m. on (12) (7)

9-1-1

It's becoming something of a tradition for this character-driven action drama to end each season with some sort of extreme emergency, and such is the case once again in "What's Next?," the Season 3 finale that finds the heroes of the 118 rushing to save as many lives as possible in the traumatic aftermath of a colossal train derailment. Angela Bassett, Peter Krause, Jennifer Love Hewitt, Oliver Stark, Kenneth Choi and Aisha Hinds star.

7 p.m. on (8) (8)

Asian Americans

This new five-part documentary series examines the significant role Asian Americans have played in shaping American history and identity, starting with the first wave of Asian immigrants in the 1850s, spanning the identity politics that emerged in the 20th century and reaching into the modern refugee crises in a globally connected world. The 2010 U.S. Census identified this demographic as the fastest growing racial-ethnic group in the United States, but this docu-series unfolds via individual lives and personal histories.

7 p.m. on (45); 11 p.m. on (45)

Street Outlaws: Memphis

A new episode called "Beat Me in St. Louis" finds the MSO heading to that Missouri city on the banks of the Mississippi River to face that town's infamously slick streets against a team of even slicker racers led by Dynamite Dave. The last time these two arch-rivals faced off, Memphis came out on top, but for this competition, the St. Louis crew definitely is aiming to even the score.

8 p.m. on (31); 11 p.m. on (31)

Bakeaway Camp With Martha Stewart

Equal parts baking boot camp and camp-inspired games and challenges, this new four-episode competition assembles six talented home bakers in the great outdoors, where they try to hone their skills under the watchful eye of baking mentor Martha Stewart and her camp counselors, Carla Hall and Dan Langan. Each episode comprises two rounds, with the most impressive competitor winning a one-on-one session with Stewart in her home kitchen. The least impressive baker each week goes home, until the winner scores a $25,000 kitchen and appliances. Jesse Palmer hosts.

9:03 p.m. on (31); 12:03 a.m. on (31)

Amy Schumer Learns to Cook

Actress and comic Amy Schumer and her husband, professional chef Chris Fischer, demonstrate to viewers how to prepare comforting dishes during a time of quarantine in this lighthearted new series, which the couple shot themselves and offers a behind-the-scenes look at their domestic life. Each of the eight scheduled episodes will focus on a theme, starting with "Breakfast and Late-Night Eats," with Schumer wisely concentrating on mixing cocktails while her hubby demonstrates his mad food skills.

Gordon Ramsay's 24 Hours to Hell and Back

A special two-hour episode called "Save Our Town" finds host Gordon Ramsay and his team in Ellicott City, Md., which has been struggling to rebuild after devastating flooding in both 2016 and 2018. To help the locals take giant steps forward, Ramsay and crew will perform life-changing renovations on three local businesses, followed by a grand reopening of the town when the makeovers are completed. Joining Team Ramsay on this ambitious project are interior designer Nate Berkus, former Baltimore Orioles baseball star Cal Ripken Jr. and former Baltimore Ravens wide receiver Torrey Smith.

tonight's picks

Boris Kodjoe

7:31 p.m. on 3 3

Man With a Plan

Veteran character actress Nancy Lenehan ("The New Adventures of Old Christine") reprises her guest role as Alice, Adam's (Matt LeBlanc) tightly wound mother-in-law, as the character makes a totally unexpected visit to the Burns household. Moreover, she comes bearing some shocking news. Liza Snyder, Kevin Nealon, Kali Rocha, Stacey Keach, Matt Cook and Grace Kaufman also star.

8 p.m. on 43 5

Blindspot

Jane, Weller (Jaimie Alexander, Sullivan Stapleton) and the rest of the team reach out to Patterson's (Ashley Johnson) father, hoping he can help them gain access to a high-level and extremely exclusive conference in Finland. If they're able to gain admittance to this gathering, they further hope it can persuade Matthew Weitz (guest star Aaron Abrams) to join their side. Rob Brown, Audrey Esparza and Ennis Esmer also star in the new episode "We Didn't Start the Fire."

8 p.m. on 9 9

Station 19

Andy (Jaina Lee Ortiz) goes to her Aunt Sandra (guest star Laura Ceron) for answers when she realizes she no longer can ignore her suspicions about the circumstances surrounding her mother's death in the Season 3 finale "Loud Than a Bomb." Meanwhile, the rest of the crew eventually find themselves in a life-threatening situation when they try to evacuate a doctor from Pac-North Hospital, and Sullivan (Boris Kodjoe) undergoes surgery for his chronic leg pain. "Grey's Anatomy" guest stars in her "Grey's Pompeo" role.

8 p.m. on 31; 11 p.m. on 31

Restaurant: Impossible

Host Robert Irvine returns to open Season 17 of this upbeat restaurant makeover show with a premiere called "Saving a Pastor's Passion," which finds Irvine and his team in Titusville, Fla. The featured restaurant in crisis is Loyd Have Mercy, a no-frills seafood, barbecue and fried chicken eatery that owner Andrew Loyd — also the pastor and founder of Greater Glory Life Center in Orlando — bought for $200,000. Currently losing $4,000 a month, Loyd has lost hope of ever saving his home-style eatery.

9:01 p.m. on 9 9

How to Get Away With Murder

Peter Nowalk's twisty, kinky thriller entered the Shonda Rhimes TV multiverse in 2014, just as its leading lady, Viola Davis, was about to go supernova, winning an Emmy among other honors for her role here as law professor Annalise Keating, as well as an Oscar and Tony Award for other projects. That certainly didn't hurt this diabolically clever series, which has startled fans by killing off principal characters. Does that include Annalise in tonight's series finale? Liza Weil, Conrad Ricamora, Jack Falahae, Aja Naomi King and Charlie Weber also star.

9:30 p.m. on 60; 10:30 p.m. on 60

The Misery Index

Host Jameela Jamil ("The Good Place") and members of the cast of "Impractical Jokers" return for a second season of this unconventional comedy competition series, which endeavors to unite the world in celebrating one another's misery. Tonight's season premiere explores why online dating essentially is dead, and another segment features a hapless gent dealing with a botched surgery. An office flasher and a clumsy partier vie to be masters of misery and claim the $30,000 grand prize.

tonight's picks

Megan Boone

7 p.m. on (43) (5)

The Blacklist

Ressler (Diego Klattenhoff) and the Task Force investigate a mild-mannered accountant who works for affluent crime figures, hoping he will lead them to the violent and thuggish brothers who are charged with his protection in the Season 7 finale, "The Kazanjian Brothers." Meanwhile, Liz (Megan Boone) is confronted by a momentous decision she must make. This finale incorporates graphic novel-style animation in some scenes that were unfinished when production was shut down by the Covid-19 pandemic.

7 p.m. on (465)

Movie: Black and Blue

Former Oscar nominee Naomi Harris ("Moonlight") gives another compelling performance in director Deon Taylor's 2019 action-crime thriller. The British actress stars as Alicia West, a U.S. Army veteran who has returned to her New Orleans hometown. She's just settling into her new job as a rookie on the local police department when she's forced to go on the run after witnessing a detective (Frank Grillo) and his men murder an unarmed drug dealer. Tyrese Gibson, Mike Colter and Reid Scott also star.

8 p.m. on (8) (8)

Great Performances

Tony Award-winning actor and singer Paulo Szot ("South Pacific") stars as the Celebrant in a 2019 Ravinia Festival production of "Leonard Bernstein's Mass," with 200 artists including the Chicago Symphony Orchestra under the baton of longtime Bernstein protégée Marin Alsop. Commissioned by Jacqueline Onassis to open the Kennedy Center in 1971, the work draws from the liturgical Latin text, augmented by additional lyrics from Bernstein and Stephen Schwartz ("Wicked"), embracing elements of theater music, folk and rock music.

8 p.m. on (30); 9:01 p.m. on (30); 10:01 p.m. on (30); 11:01 p.m. on (30); 1:01 a.m. on (30); 2:01 a.m. on (30)

Mama June: From Not to Hot

Events take a decidedly dark turn in the new episode "Family Crisis: Toddlers and Terror," as the family discovers Mama June's extensive and unbelievably messy personal drama includes the secret that she owes a substantial amount of money to some shady and potentially scary people. In what she envisions, any joyous excitement surrounding a pageant competition featuring Ella and Jennifer's granddaughter Harper is completely ruined when danger strikes and the family is forced to flee for their lives.

8 p.m. on (435); 11 p.m. on (435)

Basketball County: In the Water

NBA star Kevin Durant and sports business executive Rich Kleiman collaborated on the production of this new documentary that shines a spotlight on Prince George's County, Md., which since 2000 has spawned 25 NBA players, more than a dozen WNBA players and several others who have competed at elite universities. In addition to Durant, Prince George's County is the home turf of Victor Oladipo, Michael Beasley, Quinn Cook, Rebekkah Brunson and Marissa Coleman, among many others. Is there something "in the water" of this community, or what?

10 p.m. on (401); 11:30 p.m. on (401)

Betty

A new episode called "Happy Birthday, Tyler" explores the burning question of why some rich girls seem to want poor-girl problems, not to mention the more intimate issue of when Honeybear (Moonbear) will stop avoiding her crush. Elsewhere, Janay (Dede Lovelace) makes a dubious choice about how she wants to spend her birthday. Nina Moran also stars.

Graduate Together: America Honors the High School Class of 2020
This new one-hour special, which is being simulcast across ABC, CBS, NBC and Fox, as well as several social media platforms, is intended to honor the graduating high school Class of 2020, nearly all of whom will be unable to have a traditional ceremony due to health constraints of the coronavirus pandemic. Former President Barack Obama will deliver a commencement message. Celebrities scheduled to appear include LeBron James, Pakistani activist Malala Yousafzai, the Jonas Brothers, Pharrell Williams, Ben Platt and Olympic gold medalist Megan Rapinoe, among others.

7 p.m. on 67
Movie: St. Louis Superman
Filmmaker Smriti Mundhra's Oscar-nominated half-hour documentary short subject chronicles the story of Bruce Franks, a black rapper and activist who is motivated to run for public office after witnessing the racially motivated unrest that erupted in 2014 in Ferguson, Mo. Very much against the political odds, Franks, a Democrat, secures a victory, winning a seat in the Missouri House of Representatives, a predominantly white Republican chamber. Some old personal demons follow Franks into this new political life, however.

7 p.m. on 401; 11:05 p.m. on 401

Movie: Joker
The first R-rated film to earn more than $1 billion at the box office, Todd Phillips' deeply unsettling 2019 psychological thriller polarizing critics over its depiction of violence and mental illness. That didn't keep the film from winning multiple global accolades, however, including a best actor Academy Award for Joaquin Phoenix, starring as failed stand-up comic Arthur Fleck, who gradually sinks into madness. His Oscar was one of the 11 Academy nominations the film earned, more than any other 2019 film. Robert De Niro, Zazie Beetz and Frances Conroy co-star.

8 p.m. on 36

Movie: How to Train Your Husband
Marriage therapist and author Jillian James (Julie Gonzalo, "Dallas") has a thriving career, but she lets her work blind her to the reality that her marriage to hubby Justin (Jonathan Chase) is in peril, especially after she declines his surprise anniversary trip to Paris for professional concerns. At the urging of a friend (Karla Mosley) a dog trainer, Jillian gets a puppy who turns out to be a real handful, but her training sessions with the pooch make her less self-absorbed. Peri Gilpin ("Frasier") also stars in this 2020 romantic comedy.

Joaquin Phoenix
