Ben Schwartz

The 'Space Force' is with Netflix in Carell/Daniels comedy

After their success on the 2005-13 NBC sitcom "The Office," Greg Daniels and Steve Carell knew they wanted to work together again but didn't know on what. Then faster than you can say, "ripped from the headlines," "Space Force" was born.

Inspired by the recently created branch of the U.S. military and premiering Friday, May 29, on Netflix, the half-hour workplace comedy from co-creators Daniels and Carell places the latter in the starring role of Gen. Mark Naird, an Air Force lifer who finds himself out of his element when he's chosen to head up the nascent agency. Their goal: American boots on the moon by 2024.

Under his command at a remote Colorado base are a colorful cast of characters, among them Mallory (John Malkovich, "Bird Box"), a scientist charged with advising his boss what is and isn't possible; F. Tony Scarapuducci (Ben Schwartz, "House of Lies"), Naird's overeager media relations guru; Brad Gregory (Don Lake, "Corner Gas: The Movie"), Naird's incompetent assistant; and Captain Ali (Tawny Newsome, "Brockmire"), a prospective "Spaceman."

At home, Mark must deal with his teenage daughter Erin (Diana Silvers, "Ma"), who gets under her father's skin by dating Russian liaison Yuri/Bobby (Russian pop star Alex Sparrow).

"Space Force" and "The Office" may share some of the same creative minds but that is where viewers might find the similarities ending. The comedy here is much broader than on "The Office," which often mined uncomfortable situations for laughs, and Naird, a principled though inflexible leader, is the polar opposite of Dunder Mifflin's "cool boss" Michael Scott.

Though it's been seven years, Daniels was overjoyed to be writing again for his old friend and colleague.

"It's really great fun," he says. "I mean, it's very easy for me to write for him because of all the practice and because we're the same age and you know, we both grew up in the Northeast. ... I think we have a similar sensibility and at this point I think we have a lot of respect for each other, so even if he has a suggestion that I don't understand, I know that it's going to be good and I can trust it. So that makes it easier to work with people."

Schwartz, a writer, actor, comic and producer with a strong background in improvisation, was also thrilled to be working with Carell and Daniels, whose work he has admired over the years. For Scarapuducci – given the profane moniker "F.. Tony" on the show – he envisioned a borderline competent media man and needy individual who constantly hungers for the approval of his superiors.

"My character looks at Steve's character as the father he really wants to get love from, to get recognition from, and Steve never gives it to him," he explains. "... So one of the little secrets or one of the little things I have throughout the series is I so desperately want to impress Mark Naird and get his anything, get his respect because he rarely gives it.

"So there are a couple of moments in the show where I do something correct, which is wonderful, and you get to kind of see me relish in that and see that I'm actually doing something and I'm worthwhile. So I think deep down, this guy's probably a sad guy."

Checking in with
ELIZABETH HENSTRIDGE
celebrity scoop
 BY JAY BOBBIN

Though Elizabeth Henstridge's tenure with "Marvel's Agents of S.H.I.E.L.D." is about to end on the air, it technically finished last year.

ABC gave notice early enough for the fantasy-adventure's cast and crew to film its seventh and final round at the same time as the sixth season, and the final episodes start Wednesday, May 27. Along with the rest of her team, Henstridge's Agent Jemma Simmons is stuck in Depression-era New York, where something otherworldly could alter the course of history. The S.H.I.E.L.D. unit races time to solve the problem, with their Zephyr vehicle prone to make another time jump at any moment.

"Every good thing must come to an end," the pleasant Henstridge reasons. "We'd had some warning that this was coming, so it's been the long goodbye. As time goes on, it will get a bit harder, but I'll be maintaining those relationships that are so special to me. And it's nice now to have a history in a town that used to be so foreign to me (Los Angeles)."

Henstridge began her post-"S.H.I.E.L.D." path last holiday season with her starring role in the Hallmark Channel movie

"Christmas at the Plaza," in which the native of England effected a flawless American accent that likely surprised her fans. She says she's now "working on my own projects and keeping very busy, and hopefully, I'll be doing something that I'm very passionate about.

"I do love auditioning," adds Henstridge. "When you're in that process, you get to be a lot of different characters and try out things. It's a nice kind of wake-up call to make sure your skills are honed as an actor."

Birthdate: Sept. 11, 1987

Birthplace: Sheffield, England

Current residence: Los Angeles

Marital status: Engaged to actor Zachary Abel ("Make It or Break It")

Other television work includes: "Christmas at the Plaza," "Ultimate Spider-Man vs. the Sinister 6" (voice only); "Penn Zero: Part-Time Hero" (voice only), "Hollyoaks"

Movie work includes: "Wolves at the Door," "Reach Me," "Gangs of Tooting Broadway," "The Thompsons"

America's Got Talent
 Former "Modern Family" actress Sofia Vergara joins the judging panel along with the returning Heidi Klum, Simon Cowell and Howie Mandel, as this hit reality competition series opens Season 15, hosted by Terry Crews ("Brooklyn Nine-Nine"). The series was able to film some audition rounds earlier this spring before the coronavirus pandemic sent several states into lockdown, but the show also is considering acts from performers who submitted audition recordings while quarantined at home.

7 p.m. on 32; 11 p.m. on 32
Ghost Adventures
 In a new episode with the hair-raising title "Screams of the Dead," Zak Bagans, Nick Groff and Aaron Goodwin head to South Carolina to explore a 130-year-old jail that once housed a prisoner many criminologists consider to have been the first female serial killer in America. The episode later finds the team investigating bloodcurdling screams of ghostly activity in Arizona.
7 p.m. on 45; 11 p.m. on 45
Deadliest Catch
 In the new episode "The Russian Front," Junior makes the risky decision to venture into Russian waters in his quest for golden crab, while co-captains Jake and Johnathan try to broker an alliance with longtime rival Keith Colburn. Short on his quota and running out of options, Wild Bill resigns himself to seeking work in Russia. Josh Harris goes all-in with his gut instincts to save his season.

8 p.m. on 8 8
Movie: Viral: Anti-Semitism in Four Mutations
 Filmmaker Andrew Goldberg examines the rise and perniciously infectious spread of antisemitism in both the United States and Europe in this new 90-minute documentary, which visits four countries to get first-hand perspectives from victims, witnesses and even those espousing antisemitic attitudes and actions. Among the interviewees are former president Bill Clinton, former U.K. prime minister Tony Blair, journalist finest Zakaria and George Will, and professor Deborah Lipstadt. The film is narrated in part by actress Julianna Margulies.

8 p.m. on 150; 11 p.m. on 150
Brittany Murphy: An ID Mystery
 Fans were devastated when vivacious young actress Brittany Murphy died at age 32, her cause of death ruled as natural causes. In the aftermath, her husband, Sharon Monjack, and mother, Simon Monjack, set off on a bizarre media blitz that seemed to spark more questions than answers, especially after Monjack died within months under similar circumstances. In his last interview, Brittany's father, the late Angelo Bertoletti, made still more bizarre allegations against other family members and questioned the coroner's verdict.

9:01 p.m. on 48 5
World of Dance
 Jennifer Lopez, Derek Hough and NE-YO, all dazzling dancers in their own right, return as the judging panel as this hit reality competition series opens Season 4. "On our show we always say dance is the universal language," says Lopez, also an executive producer. "It brings us all together, which I think is something we all need during these challenging times." Scott Evans also returns as host.

Movie: The Red Shoes

One of the most visually beautiful films ever made, this 1948 drama stars Scottish-born ballerina Moira Shearer as a dancer torn between her art and her new love: the composer of a ballet based on the Hans Christian Andersen fairy tale "The Red Shoes." That's the one about the girl whose magic shoes force her to dance until she drops dead. Nothing good can come of that, but the movie's centerpiece — the ballet itself — is a knockout. Earning as part of a Sneaker Evening on "The Essentials."

20/20 on ID Investigates

When she was enjoying an idyllic life growing up in Wichita, Kans., Kerri Rawson was only peripherally aware that a serial killer known as "BTK" was terrorizing her community. Her father assured her this murderer would never hurt her, but it was only years later that Rawson discovered the truth when FBI agents came to the door with news that her father had been leading a double life that included multiple murders in which he bound, tortured and killed his victims.

Movie: Full Metal Jacket

Most of the big-name directors made a Vietnam picture in the late 1970s or the '80s. Stanley Kubrick's contribution was this 1987 drama, which follows the sardonic Pvt. J.T. "Joker" Davis (Matthew Modine) through Marine boot camp and into battle. As a "Stars and Stripes" correspondent, his assignment isn't killing, but Vietnam was a war without rules. Vincent D'Onofrio gives the film's most chilling performance as a misfit recruit, while R. Lee Ermyer received a best supporting actor Golden Globe nomination for his role.
