ORDINANCE NO. 05-2020 AN EMERGENCY ORDINANCE TO CONTINUE ADDRESSING A PUBLIC HEALTH CRISIS BY IMPLEMENTING AND MODIFYING CERTAIN MEASURES WHICH HAVE BEEN DEEMED NECESSARY TO SLOW THE COMMUNITY SPREAD OF CORONAVIRUS (COVID-19).

WHEREAS, the City of Redfield has the authority pursuant to SDCL 9-29-1 and 9-32-1 to pass ordinances for the purpose of promoting the health, safety, morals, and general welfare, of the community; and

WHEREAS, on March 16, 2020, the White House issued guidance recommending that social gatherings of more than ten people be avoided and that people avoid eating or drinking at bars, restaurants, and food courts and that bars, restaurants, food courts, gyms, and other indoor and outdoor venues where people congregate should be closed; and

WHEREAS, the Redfield City Council did adopt Emergency Ordinance 02-2020 effective immediately upon passage, which did put in place a number of guidelines and limitations on certain activities in order to combat the spread of COVID-19; and

WHEREAS, cases of COVID-19 have been confirmed in South Dakota, County of Spink and the City of Redfield, with state officials predicting the peak infection period for the state to occur between the middle of May and middle of June 2020; and

WHEREAS, the CDC and health experts have recommended social distancing to slow the spread of COVID-19 and the CDC and White House have issued guidance to state and local governments regarding restrictions and criteria for lifting such restrictions in phases in order to control the continued spread or re-occurrence of COVID-19; and

WHEREAS, Governor Noem issued Executive Order 2020-20 on April 28, 2020, which orders and directs all local and municipal governments within the State of South Dakota to adopt the State's

"Back to Normal Plan".

WHEREAS, the Mayor and City leadership have been in consultation with health professionals in the community and said healthcare professionals are recommending that the actions recommended by federal and state authorities be continued in Redfield at this time; and

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED, by the City Council of the City of Redfield that:

1. City of Redfield Emergency Ordinance 02-2020 is hereby suspended, provided however, in the event any new confirmed cases of COVID-19 are discovered in the City of Redfield, the Mayor may order the reinstatement of the provisions of Ordinance 02-2020 and pursuant to paragraph 7 below, for the purpose of bringing the matter of the reinstatement of Ordinance 02-2020 and this Ordinance 05-2020's repeal, suspension or continuance before the City Council. Such reinstatement shall remain in effect until the Council votes on the issue of how to handle the reinstatement of Ordinance 02-2020 and the suspension this Ordinance 05-2020.

2. Every person in the City of Redfield shall follow the recommended CDC hygiene practices as they appear now or may be amended and which currently include, but are not limited to:

- A. washing hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds;
- B. using sanitizer that contains at least 60% alcohol when soap and water is unavailable;
- C. avoiding touching your eyes, nose, and mouth;
- D. avoiding close contact with those who are sick;
- E. staying at home as much as possible;
- F. keeping a minimum of 6 feet separation between yourself and others;
- G. covering your mouth and nose with a cloth face cover when around others, even when not feeling sick, and particularly when in public (except in cases where the CDC or a medical professional has advised differently); and
- H. cleaning frequently touched surfaces daily.

Particular importance is placed upon staying home as much as possible, maintaining 6 feet of separation, wearing a cloth face cover in public, and washing/sanitizing hands.

3. No person in the City of Redfield shall participate in a gathering of 10 or more people unless all participants maintain at least 6 feet of separation at all times. For gatherings of 10 or more that include participants who are within 6 feet of each other, the participants shall utilize a cloth face cover over the nose and mouth.

4. Provisions Relating Specifically to Businesses:

A. Businesses that remain open must ensure that all visitors, patrons, and other non-employee individuals on the premises meet the provisions set forth in Sections 2A, 2B, 2D, 2F, 2G, and 3 above when feasible while such visitors, patrons, and other non-employee individuals are on the premises. Maximum on-site interior premises occupancy for visitors, patrons, and non-employee individuals shall not exceed thirty (30) percent for all businesses.

B. Businesses that remain open must ensure that all employees on the premises meet the provisions set forth in Sections 2A, 2B, 2D, 2F, 2G, 2H, and 3 above when feasible while such employees are on the premises.

C. Businesses that remain open must provide a method of sanitizing hands and/or frequently touched surfaces at each entrance and exit of a facility and at a location where an individual can sanitize their hands or the surface before/after using any items intended for shared use. By way of example, shelved inventory would not be considered an item intended for shared use, but pens at a point of sale would be considered an item intended for shared use.

D. Businesses must implement a screening program for employees consisting of a minimum of questioning on COVID-19 symptoms for each employee entering a facility and a temperature check. An employee who is displaying symptoms or who has a temperature above 100.4 degrees Fahrenheit shall not be permitted to enter the facility. Businesses may, but are not required to, expand such screening to visitors.

E. For enforcement purposes, the City may hold an owner, manager, supervisor, or employee responsible for a violation of this section if such person knew or should have known of a violation and failed to address the situation in a manner which would prevent further violations taking into consideration the individual's level of authority.

F. While this ordinance does not make distinctions on the application of this ordinance to different types of businesses, it should be noted that prior White House guidance was premised upon there being closures for bars, restaurants, food courts, gyms, and other indoor and outdoor venues where people congregate. Even in phase one of the White House proposed reopening guidance, the recommendation is for schools and youth activities to remain closed, visits to senior living and hospitals to be prohibited, large venues and gyms to strictly follow physical distancing and sanitation protocols, and for bars to remain closed. Understand that any operation conducting business outside of these federal recommendations is anticipated to generate increased public complaints which may then result in increased investigation by City staff into whether a violation has occurred. All violation investigations and prosecutions are handled on a case by case basis.

5. Limitations and Exceptions:

A. For purposes of this ordinance, any requirement to maintain 6 feet separation shall not apply to immediate family members or members of the same household.

B. This ordinance does not apply to health care facilities, residential care facilities, congregate care facilities, childcare facilities, correctional facilities, crisis shelters, homeless shelters, emergency facilities necessary for the response to the current public health emergency or any other community emergency or disaster, or to the meetings or proceedings of any city, county, state, school, or court. This ordinance does not apply to essential critical infrastructure workers or their operations, as defined by Cybersecurity & Infrastructure Security Agency of the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, to the extent said workers are engaged in their work duties. However, the provisions put in place by this ordinance are still recommended, to the extent possible, for any exempt person, location, operation, or meeting.

6. Penalties and Nuisance

Treatment.

A. Any violation of this ordinance is subject to the general penalty provision established in the Redfield City Code. Each day a violation of this ordinance is allowed to occur is considered a separate offense.

B. Violations of this ordinance are hereby deemed to constitute a nuisance under Redfield City Code. Emergency abatement is specifically authorized as an immediate remedy for violations up to and including the closure of the facility and removal of all persons from the location. The violating party shall be responsible for the costs incurred to abate such nuisance. ## Delta Dental supports hunger relief efforts during COVID-19

SOUTH DAKOTA – In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, Delta Dental has made a gift of $200,000 to help provide emergency support to help meet the increased need for food assistance in South Dakota.

“With more people finding themselves struggling economically, we are proud to lend our support to Feeding South Dakota’s critical on-the-ground efforts to ensure that all South Dakotans have enough food to feed their families,” said Scott Jones, Delta Dental of South Dakota’s CEO. “Delta Dental of South Dakota and its Foundation has long been a partner in the fight against hunger in South Dakota, contributing nearly $923,000 in financial support since 2010. Over the years, Delta Dental’s philanthropy has supported the Mobile Food Pantry Program in Pierre along with the capital campaign to update the distribution centers in Pierre, Rapid City and Sioux Falls.

“At Delta Dental, we believe everyone deserves a healthy smile. That’s why it’s our mission to promote and advance oral health,” said Jones. “We provide dental benefits to employers and individuals to protect smiles and keep them healthy. And as a nonprofit organization, we care deeply about the people and communities of South Dakota.”

Since the middle of March, Feeding South Dakota has been focusing efforts on expanding its Mobile Food Pantry Program to communities across the state that have expressed need for emergency food assistance. In a four-week period of time, the organization increased its capacity from providing food to 45 communities to now working with agency partners to host distributions in 93 communities in 56 counties. Staff and volunteers across the state prepare to feed between 6,000 –

7,000 families in South Dakota each week, nearly tripling the amount of food distributed as compared to pre-COVID19 conditions.

From Rapid City to Pierre to Sioux Falls and in every community in between, the need for food assistance is very present. For families that find themselves out of work at no fault of their own, many are making financial decisions they have never made before like paying the rent, utilities, and medication versus putting food on the table. For so many families that relied on school breakfast and lunch programs to feed their children, the fact that their monthly grocery budget does not accommodate this need for additional food is heartbreaking.

“We’re grateful to Delta Dental for acknowledging the importance of providing nutritious food to help sustain healthy and happy families,” said Matt Gasen. “Their support philanthropically has made a difference on thousands of lives across our state.”

Brother-in-law to serve remainder of Rep. Glanzer’s term

PIERRE — Gov. Kristi Noem has appointed Rep. Bob Glanzer’s brother-in-law to fill the legislative seat left empty with his death from the coronavirus last month at age 74. Republican Lynn Schneider, a retired banker, will represent District 22 for the remainder of Glanzer’s current term, which runs through the end of the calendar year.

“I want to thank Lynn Schneider for stepping into this important role,” Noem said in a statement. “Lynn’s family and the Huron community suffered a great loss with Bob’s passing. I appreciate that Lynn has agreed to continue Bob’s legacy of service to his community and to our state in this way.”

The Argus Leader reports Glanzer was also up for reelection at the time of his death and was slated to run unopposed in the June primary.

The Republican Central Committees in Beadle and Kingsbury counties will name a candidate to take Glanzer’s place on the November general election ballot.

Schneider served as treasurer for Glanzer’s legislative campaigns.

SOCIAL WORKER RETIRES AFTER 18 YEARS OF SERVICE

Virtual retirement party will be held to celebrate during Coronavirus pandemic

Aberdeen – After 18 years of service in social work, Debbie Menzel is retiring from Safe Harbor as the Kids Konnection Coordinator. Usually, this sort of milestone warrants a celebration but like many events planned during this time, we had to shift plans. We'll be having a “Virtual Surprise Party” on our Facebook page for anyone who would like to leave a comment or message of support for Debbie’s retirement. Debbie grew up in Webster, South Dakota and received degrees in Human Resources and Community Service through Northern State University. Her favorite part of her time working at Safe Harbor is seeing the children that come to use each day, who are so happy to be reunited with their parents. She is passionate about being part of a great cause and will most miss the happy moments she was able to witness between families. Upon retiring, Debbie plans to “keep her husband out of trouble” and publish books about her family history. “I leave Safe Harbor and Kids Konnection in good hands, knowing they will continue to provide a very important service for our community in providing safe visitations and exchanges to the families that come to us.” – Debbie Menzel, Kids Konnection Coordinator. Safe Harbor is still open and serving clients. Due to CDC social distancing recommendations, we have limited staff on-site and will be providing some services remotely. If you would like more information, please contact Gina Karst at (605) 226-1212 or email at ginak@safeharborsd.org.

LSS provides telehealth behavioral health counseling during pandemic

Mental health clients financially impacted by COVID-19 can receive help

Sioux Falls — Times of uncertainty can take a toll on a person’s mental health. Lutheran Social Services of South Dakota (LSS), a statewide agency serving communities over the last century, has seen its behavioral health counseling services become a vital need now more than ever due to the impact of the pandemic.

The agency has initiated a program to assist South Dakotans financially impacted by the pandemic who are seeking behavioral health counseling. The program was funded by a grant from the South Dakota Community Foundation.

“We understand that crises like this pandemic bring a lot of uncertainty for individuals and households. It’s our mission to serve our communities in the best way possible, and we continue to shape our services to meet their needs, or the needs of the time and space we’re in,” said Rebecca Kiesow-Knudsen, Vice President of Community Services at LSS. “With that in mind, we are providing telehealth behavioral counseling services with a dedicated team of licensed professional counselors.”

Counselors at LSS have seen a range of cases in adverse situations. “It really varies based on the individuals. It could be anxiety, it could be someone who’s struggled with anxiety all their life, but this has certainly taken a new twist for them, or the intensity has changed,” said Mary K. Johnson, CSW-PIP, QMHP, Director, LSS Behavioral Health Services. “If you consider people who are depressed and they’re isolating at home and are not able to utilize coping strategies, those kinds of things are much more apparent. We also have people who live in abusive homes, are spending more time potentially with someone who is an abuser. So, it is important that we maintain the services we provide and that we serve as many people in our communities as we can.”

LSS has been operating a HIPAA-compliant telehealth behavioral health counseling model for the last five years with counselors who have extensive experience in providing telehealth services. “LSS is here to listen and our counselors are here to process emotional impact in a safe and comfortable environment. Even though telehealth may seem intimidating at first, we’ve realized that it’s been a great way to break down barriers in a lot of cases,” said Kiesow-Knudsen. The organization has a centralized team of intake specialists who guide all clients through the technological and logistical aspects of the telehealth behavioral health counseling services. LSS also continues to share information about its services with other statewide agencies such as the Helpline Center, who have been triaging cases to other organizations with the surge in those impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic.

To make an appointment or for more information on the telehealth behavioral health services, call 855-334-2953, or schedule an appointment online at intake.lsssd.org.

Confirmation of COVID-19 in two pet cats in New York

Washington, D.C. – The U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and the United States Department of Agriculture’s (USDA) National Veterinary Services Laboratories (NVSL) today announced the first confirmed cases of SARS-CoV-2 (the virus that causes COVID-19) infection in two pet cats. These are the first pets in the United States to test positive for SARS-CoV-2. The cats live in two separate areas of New York state. Both had mild respiratory illness and are expected to make a full recovery. SARS-CoV-2 infections have been reported in very few animals worldwide, mostly in those that had close contact with a person with COVID-19. At this time, routine testing of animals is not recommended. Should other animals be confirmed positive for SARS-CoV-2 in the United States, USDA will post the findings external icon. State animal health and public health officials will take the lead in making determinations about whether animals should be tested for SARS-CoV-2. In the NY cases announced today, a veterinarian tested the first cat after it showed mild respiratory signs. No individuals in the household were confirmed to be ill with COVID-19. The virus may have been transmitted to this cat by mildly ill or asymptomatic household members or through contact with an infected person outside its home.

Samples from the second cat were taken after it showed signs of respiratory illness. The owner of the cat tested positive for COVID-19 prior to the cat showing signs. Another cat in the household has shown no signs of illness. Both cats tested presumptive positive for SARS-CoV-2 at a private veterinary laboratory, which then reported the results to state and federal officials. The confirmatory testing was conducted at NVSL and included collection of additional samples. NVSL serves as an international reference laboratory and provides expertise and guidance on diagnostic techniques, as well as confirmatory testing for foreign and emerging animal diseases. Such testing is required for certain animal diseases in the U.S. in order to comply with national and international reporting procedures. The World Organisation for Animal Health (OIE) considers SARS-CoV-2 an emerging disease, and therefore USDA must report confirmed U.S. animal infections to the OIE. Public health officials are still learning about SARS-CoV-2, but there is no evidence that pets play a role in spreading the virus in the United States. Therefore, there is no justification in taking measures against companion animals that may compromise their welfare. Further studies are needed to understand if and how different animals, including pets, could be affected.
