COVER STORY

'Mrs. America' recalls the roots of the feminist movement

Such names as Gloria Steinem, Betty Friedan and Phyllis Schlafly have very particular places in U.S. social history.

Those women played various roles in regard to the Equal Rights Amendment, which the famously conservative Schlafly opposed while making a bid for a House of Representatives seat as the 1970s began. She had a major opponent in author and activist Friedan, one of the principal feminists of the era – and that battleground is dramatized in "Mrs. America," which debuts by streaming the first three of its nine episodes Wednesday, April 15, on FX on Hulu.

Also an executive producer of the project, Oscar winner Cate Blanchett stars as Schlafly, with Emmy recipient Tracey Ullman and Rose Byrne respectively playing Friedan and Steinem. With Emmy winner Margo Martindale ("The Americans") and Uzo Aduba ("Orange Is the New Black") as politicians Bella Abzug and Shirley Chisholm, the cast of "Mrs. America" also includes Sarah Paulson, Elizabeth Banks, Jeanne Tripplehorn, Melanie Lynskey, Ari Graynor and John Slattery ("Mad Men").

"Phyllis herself didn't initially have an issue with the Equal Rights Amendment," Blanchett maintains. "She thought it was a piece of fairly innocuous political business, and her primary focus was defense. That was her passion; that was her area of research and her focus. It wasn't really until – as described in our series – her friend Alice (played by Paulson) turned her on to what were called 'the dangers of the ERA' that meant that women could be drafted. I think it was through the concept of its impact it would have, from her perspective, on the military that she got involved."

As the piece's Friedan, Ullman reports that "it was really hard to get this role. I did really want to be a part of this. I started as a dramatic actress in theater and (since), of course, I have done lots of comedy shows – but I've always portrayed real people, real heart. I like the poignancy and reality and sadness of people, and I've been in America for 30 years. I know people like Betty Friedan. It struck me how incredible it was to write a book like (Friedan's) 'The Feminine Mystique' in 1963."

The makers of "Mrs. America" also include veteran studio executive Stacey Sher and "Captain Marvel" filmmaking partners Anna Boden and Ryan Fleck. The latter duo directed the limited series' first two episodes, and Boden reasons, "I don't think any of the actors in the cast did an impersonation. They did a lot of research, and they're all like the most studious actors I've ever worked with. They put us to shame ... in terms of how they tried to embody the characters and their complexities."

BROCKMIRE BROCKMIRE TIS BR DIA DIA DIA Checking in with HANK AZARIA PORT Celebrity scoop Being a loyal New York Mets baseball fan can be a never-ending experience in self-flagellation. Hank Azaria, who plays troubled baseball announcer-turned-commissioner Jim Brockmire on "Brockmire," knows this all too well.

A native of Forest Hills in Queens, N.Y., the 55-year-old actor, voice actor and comedian grew up a few subway stops from the Mets' former home of Shea Stadium, where he got to bear witness to a lot of heartbreak, frustration and losing. And endure plenty of ineptitude on the field and in the front office.

So when this past winter the Mets had to part ways with newly hired manager Carlos Beltran over his involvement in the Houston Astros' cheating scandal, Azaria was unsurprised.

"Oh yes, my beloved Mets," he says with a chuckle. "Leave it to the Mets to have the downside of a scandal and none of the upside."

Now in its fourth and final season Wednesdays on IFC (and Thursdays on Crave in Canada), "Brockmire" advances the storyline 10 years to 2030, where he's ascended to the role of commissioner of baseball, partly as a way of staying close to his daughter Beth (Reina Hardesty), who is in college in New York. Parenting has become Brockmire's new obsession as a result of his sobriety but as always with alcoholism, that's a day-to-day struggle.

"His helicopter dad is just another expression of his addictive and obsessive personality," Azaria says. "He even says in one of the episodes, 'I just replaced my alcoholism with my obsessive parenting,' after he was so hell-bent on not making the mistakes his parents did. So, yeah, the show's about dark, real things."

The winner of four Oscars, including best picture and best director, Martin Scorsese's Americanization of the Hong Kong film "Infernal Affairs" casts Leonardo DiCaprio and Matt Damon as Bostonians on opposite sides of the law. Each infiltrates the other side, with the police officer (DiCaprio) posing as a criminal and the mobster (Damon) pretending to be a good guy. Jack Nicholson is a standout as the chief gangster.

Movie: War Dogs

Todd Phillips co-wrote and directed this 2016 comedydrama, based on a Rolling Stone article by Guy Lawson, although the film takes liberties with a number of factual points. The story follows two international arms dealers (Jonah Hill, Miles Teller) who find themselves completely in over their heads after they land a $300 million contract to supply weapons to the Afghan military. Bradley Cooper, Kevin Pollack and Ana de Armas also star.

Diners, Drive-Ins and Dives The new episode "Hometown Inspiration" finds host Guy Fieri hitting the road, hoping to meet some chefs who have drawn inspiration from their personal roots. In Logan, Utah, he finds a spot serving such memorable plates from Louisiana as a marrow butter burger and blackened chicken pasta. A Denver eatery noted for its Detroit-style pizza also offers a new take on french fries, while in Portland, Ore., vegan diners are flocking to a place that specializes in vibrant Israeli flavors.

9 p.m. on 🚯 ⑧; 1 a.m. on 🚯 🛞

Dishing With Julia Child

In the first of two new episodes, "The Potato Show," Rick Bayless recalls Julia Child's memorable segment on preparing spuds, while oncamera collaborator and close Child friend Jacques Pépin talks about how much Child loved butter, and how she always wanted to meet the entire staff at any restaurant where she dined. Then, in "To Roast a Chicken," Vivian Howard and Marcus Samuelsson April 17, 2020 - Page 13C remember one of Child's most celebrated episodes and recall how she wanted viewers to grasp the value of using prime ingredients.

Strike Back

intense international This action drama calls it a day with a series finale that sees the S20 team receiving some shocking intel from an unlikely Russian informant. Acting on the news, they decide to reunite for one final mission to avenge their fallen comrades by tracking down the nefarious Arianna (Ivana Milicevic). This time around, though, they're going to do things a little differently. Warren Brown, Daniel MacPherson and Alin Sumarwata star.
