Fashion design meets retail on Amazon's 'Making the Cut'

It seems a no-brainer that a fashion competition series would make its winning creations available for sale online. But in the case of Amazon's "Making the Cut," the retail infrastructure was already in place.

Premiering Friday, March 27, the 10-episode reality show brings 12 designers to three of the world's fashion capitals — New York, Paris and Tokyo — to face challenges designed to test their design skills and their ability to run a business. In each episode, they'll be tasked with creating one avant garde concept and one more mainstream design. The winning entry in the latter category — as determined by judges including Naomi Campbell, Nicole Richie, Joseph Altuzarra, Carine Roitfeld and Chiara Ferragni — will then be sold on Amazon's "Making the Cut" store for $100 or less.

The season finale victor receives $1 million to invest in their brand and the opportunity to create an exclusive line for Amazon.

It's an idea that has hosts, executive producers and former "Project Runway" mentors Tim Gunn and Heidi Klum ecstatic over the possibilities, as they told a recent gathering of journalists in Pasadena, Calif.

"For the first time, finally our audience can shop so, it's great," Klum says. "It's a win/win situation I feel like for everyone. That was very important for me that we're going to go with a company, such as Amazon, versus other companies, in order to have that component for these designers, because that was never possible before. You see something, you want it, but you can't have it. So here, you have a winning look every week and people can buy it around the world."

"And to be perfectly blunt," Gunn adds, " 'Making the Cut' wouldn't have happened without 'Project Runway.' ... I would say that 'Project Runway' is the undergraduate program and 'Making the Cut' is the graduate and Ph.D. program. In 'Project Runway' we talk about how a sleeve is set into a bodice. You don't hear a conversation like that happening on 'Making the Cut.' It's more about how does this mini-collection you've designed for this particular episode's assignment ... fit into your larger view of your brand? And it really is about finding the next global brand. And we do."

Both hosts point out that "Making the Cut" will be more egalitarian in that its designs will not be just for people of a certain size but all sizes.

"It should be everywhere," Klum says. "Not just on this show, it should be everywhere,"

"And it's seamless," Gunn says. "We don't address it other than the fact that you see it visually in who the models are."

Checking in with ROBERT HERJAVEC

Robert Herjavec is happy that "Shark Tank" has returned to Fridays, but he'd be glad to keep being a Shark anyway.

A multiple Emmy Award winner, the ABC series that lets a wide cross-section of inventors present their ideas to business experts and would-be investors is in its 11th season, and Herjavec still enjoys being part of the process enabling clever and lucky innovators to bring their products or services to market. The regular judging panel also continues to include Mark Cuban, Lori Greiner, Daymond John, Barbara Corcoran and Kevin O'Leary.

The founder of the technology-driven Herjavec Group, dealing largely in cybersecurity, the pleasant Herjavec maintains that he always envisioned "Shark Tank" as a success. "Kevin and I started the show in Canada (as 'Dragons' Den'), and it was a big hit," he explains, "but there's only one 'Shark Tank.' Once you have a success, everybody wants to copy it, but Clay (executive producer Newbill) didn't think of that. He just cast us, and it all worked. It's magic."

It's not exactly magic, though, that each year brings a new crop of hopefuls wanting to sell Herjavec and his "Shark Tank" peers on their creations. Any successful reality show continually perpetuates the crowd that wants to be on it, a fact Herjavec is quite grateful for. (So is CNBC, which has become an additional home for "Shark Tank" repeats.)

"Every season when we show up," Herjavec reflects, "we think, 'Oh, it's going to be the same old stuff' ... but we end up seeing things we've never seen before. And when we have guest Sharks, it changes the dynamic and the energy. That's nice."

Birthdate: Sept. 14, 1962

Birthplace: Varazdin, Croatia

Current residences: Los Angeles and Toronto, Ont.

Family info: Married to Kym Johnson Herjavec, who was his partner on "Dancing With the Stars"; they have twin children, a boy and a girl; he also has two daughters and a son from a previous marriage

Books he's written include: "Driven," "The Will to Win," "You Don't Have to Be a Shark"

tonight's picks

Nathan Fillion

Sunday

7 p.m. on 29;
11:01 p.m. on 29

Movie: Killer Dream Home

Julie and Josh are over the moon when they find what looks very much like their dream house on a magnificent estate in this 2020 thriller. Eager to move in, they hire Morgan, a beautiful decorator, to handle the interior design. What they don't know is that Morgan has a secret personal history with the house — and she literally would kill to make it her own.

7 p.m. on 59; 9 p.m. on 59

Movie: The Greatest Showman
Gracey filmmaker Michael Auccie made a very big splash with his feature directorial debut on this 2017 blockbuster, which overcame mixed reviews to become the fifth-highest-grossing live-action musical of all time. Critics mainly took issue with how much artistic license the movie took with the real-life saga of P.T. Barnum, played by Hugh Jackman, but audiences clearly were swept away by the sheer spectacle and engaging cast, which also includes Zac Efron, Michelle Williams and Zendaya. The song "This Is Me" was nominated for an Oscar.

7:30 p.m. on 12 7

Duncanville

Jack and Annie (voices of Ty Burrell, Amy Poehler) try to rekindle the passion of their youth by visiting a 1980s-themed club to celebrate their anniversary, but wind up realizing their maturity may not be so boring after all in the new episode "Sister, Wife."

9 p.m. on 9 9

The Rookie

Nolan's (Nathan Fillion) day gets off to a notably bad start when he learns that his identity has been stolen, a frustrating turn of events that could jeopardize his position as a police officer in the new episode "Hand-Off." Elsewhere, Sgt. Casey (Richard T. Jones) likewise finds himself painfully tested, as he is forced to confront his past and testify at the parole hearing of a man who shot Casey and murdered his partner. Brent Huff and Seth Green co-star.

Another episode immediately follows.

tonight's picks

Friday
7 p.m. on (465)
Movie: Once Upon a Time... In Hollywood
 In addition to multiple other accolades, Brad Pitt won an Academy Award as best supporting actor for writer-director Quentin Tarantino's lavishly praised 2019 comedy-drama, which cast Pitt as the stunt double of a Hollywood superstar (Leonardo DiCaprio), both of whom are nostalgic for the rapidly vanishing golden age of Hollywood. The huge ensemble cast also includes Mergot Robbie, Emile Hirsch, Margaret Qualley, Timothy Olyphant, Dakota Fanning, Bruce Dern and Damian Lewis, many of them playing familiar Tinseltown figures. This was Luke Perry's final film.

8 p.m. on (8) (8)
Somewhere South
 In this new six-part weekly series, host and award-winning chef Vivian Howard explores some of the lesser-known roots of Southern food, cooking and life in general. The series finds Howard breaking bread with farm laborers, doctors, entrepreneurs, grandmothers, ecologists and fellow chefs to understand more about the complex values and identities, as well as the colorist past, of this region. Howard also examines several cross-cultural dishes enjoyed by diverse communities.

8 p.m. on (30); 9:01 p.m. on (30); 10:01 p.m. on (30); 1:01 a.m. on (30); 2:01 a.m. on (30)
Mama June: From Not to Hot
 This reality series opens its fourth season on a downbeat note, with the Shannon family reeling from the fallout of Mama June's arrest, renewed drug addiction and dysfunctional relationship with Geno, her boyfriend. It's all just, as they say, a lot, but the close-knit clan leans on one another as they hope for June's recovery. Meanwhile, Lauryn, aka "Pumpkin," and her husband Josh have taken custody of Alana (Honey Boo Boo) and are raising her along with their own toddler.

9 p.m. on (8) (8); 1 a.m. on (8) (8)
The Inn at Little Washington: A Delicious Documentary
 It's probably a wise idea to eat before viewing this charming new documentary, which follows hotelier and chef Patrick O'Connell and his staff over the course of a year to gain insights into how O'Connell transformed an inn in a sleepy Virginia mountain town into an establishment with a restaurant that holds three Michelin stars. Tasting menus of the chef's haute American cuisine start at $248, but the experience is meant to rival a stay in a European castle.

9 p.m. on (47); 2:30 a.m. on (47)
Vagrant Queen
 This new live-action series adaptation of a Vault Comics title stars Adriyan Rae ("Brockmire") in the main role as Elida, who grew up as a child queen before a drastic reversal of fortune drove her into survival mode. Since then, she has carved out a niche for herself as a scavenger and outlaw, but when her old frenemy Isaac (Tim Rozon, "Wynonna Earp") turns up with news about Elida's long-lost mother, she knows it's time to return to her broken kingdom. Paul du Toit co-stars.

tonight's picks

Saturday

7 p.m. on 43 (5)

Movie: Trolls

Poppy (voice of Anna Kendrick), the relentlessly sunny and optimistic leader of the trolls, and Branch (voice of Justin Timberlake), a grumpy troll survivalist, embark on an adventure that takes them far beyond the only world they've ever known in this 2016 computer-animated blockbuster from Dreamworks. The film earned an Oscar nomination for the song "Can't Stop the Feeling!," which Timberlake co-wrote. The voice cast also stars Zoey Deschanel, Christopher Mintz-Platz, Christine Baranski and Russell Brand.

7 p.m. on 39; 8:30 p.m. on 39

Danger Force

Young "Henry Danger" fans have barely started fanning the cancellation of that series, which ended its run earlier this week, when Cooper Barnes and Michael D. Cohan return in their respective fan-favorite roles as Captain Man and tech genius Schwoz in this new spinoff, which has been given an initial 13-episode order. Havan Flores, Terrence Little Gardenhigh, Dana Heath and Luca Luhan also appear.

7 p.m. on 465

Movie: The Girl in the Spider's Web

Moving far away from her Emmy-winning work as Queen Elizabeth II in "The Crown," Claire Foy takes over the role of vigilante hacker Lisbeth Salander in Fede Alvarez's 2018 adaptation of David Lagercrantz's novel of the same title, using characters created by Stieg Larsson. The story finds Lisbeth embarking on a dangerous crusade to rescue and avenge battered women. Foy earned positive reviews for her portrayal of a character that had earned Rooney Mara an Oscar nomination in the 2011 hit "The Girl With the Dragon Tattoo."

9:30 p.m. on 62

Movie: Suicide Squad

Deadshot, Harley Quinn, Captain Boomerang and Killer Croc team up with several other armed supervillains to take on a mysterious adversary, while the psychopathic Joker launches an insidious agenda of his own in this 2016 DC superhero release, which was slammed across the board by critics. That didn't stop the film from raking it in at the box office, as well as picking up an Academy Award for best makeup. Jared Leto, Will Smith, Margot Robbie and Viola Davis star.
