James Nesbitt in "Missing You"

Haunted by the past: A detective's former fiancé reappears in 'Missing You'

Welcome in the new year with something familiar and reliable, like a good British mystery miniseries, before diving into the deep end of resolutions. Get cozy and settle in for a binge-watch of the latest Harlan Coben adaptation, "Missing You," premiering Wednesday, Jan. 1, on Netflix.

"Slow Horses" star Rosalind Eleazar is Det. Kat Donovan, a dedicated missing persons investigator who is thrust into a conspiracy that hits very close to home. Kat has spent the past 11 years rebuilding her life after the sudden disappearance of her fiancé, Josh (Ashley Walters, "Top Boy"), and the murder of her father, DS Clint Donovan (Sir Lenny Henry, "The Lord of the Rings: The Rings of Power").

Having left without a trace, Kat assumed for more than a decade that Josh's disappearance from her life had something to do with her father's death, but could never pick up the thread between them. When her friend Stacey (Jessica Plummer, "The Decameron") pushes Kat to try out the dating app she signed her up for, Kat receives the shock of a lifetime when she swipes to see Josh's profile.

Now able to start following the thread, it's up to Kat to find out just who Josh really is and what he is a part of. Any evidence of Josh's existence online has been wiped clean, so why has he popped up on a dating app? Is he connected to other missing persons cases? Is it really him or is it a phantom profile? Over the five-episode limited series, Kat charges forward with her investigation, shedding light on long-buried secrets in dangerous corners of her precinct.

Starring alongside Eleazar's Kat is Richard Armitage ("The Hobbit: An Unexpected Journey," 2012) as DCI Ellis Stagger. Fans of Coben's previous Netflix adaptations will not be surprised to hear Armitage's name among the main cast of the new limited series — the British actor has starred in three series: "The Stranger" in 2020, "Stay Close" in 2021 and 2024's earlier hit "Fool Me Once."

Armitage spoke to Yahoo about starring in the Coben Netflix adaptations, joking, "I feel like I'm their lucky underpants now, so they won't do one without me." He went on to share a peek into his character in "Missing You," saying, "It's a slightly more inverted character than the former ones because we're very, very unsure of his motives at the beginning."

"The essence of him is nefarious but, actually, he's holding on to a secret which has a noble cause," Armitage added.

Rounding out the "Missing You" cast are Steve Pemberton ("Happy Valley") as Titus, Marc Warren ("Sexy Beast") as Monte Leburne, Samantha Spiro ("Sex Education") as nurse Sally Steiner, Lisa Faulkner ("Unforgotten") as Dana Fells, Mary Malone ("Doctor Who") as Aqua, James Nesbitt ("Bloodlands") as Calligan and Matt Jay-Willis ("Wolves of War," 2022) as Darryl.

In a trailer for the upcoming series, Kat is clearly consumed with the case. Folders, photos and documents decorate the floor of her home, always visible in case inspiration strikes. Two more missing people ramp up Kat's need to urgently get to the bottom of it all, sending her on a wild ride complete with abductions, car chases and arson. "I don't know what kind of truth you're gonna find out there, but I don't think you're gonna like it," a voice tells Kat over a tense scene of the detective investigating, armed with a knife.

"Missing You" marks Coben's ninth collaboration with the streamer, with the 10th, an adaptation of his 2019 novel "Run Away," planned next. British mystery thrillers are a perennially popular television genre, but in January 2024, "Fool Me Once" blew viewer expectations out of the water when 61 million Netflix users tuned in during the series' first two weeks of streaming, starting the new year off with a binge-watch of its eight edge-of-your-seat engrossing episodes.

Checking in with STEVE MARTIN

Steve Martin has conquered just about every aspect of show business, and the streaming world has given him his latest success.

Hulu's "Only Murders in the Building" has proven to be a hit for him — as well as fellow stars Martin Short ("Schmigadoon!") and Selena Gomez ("Emilia Pérez," 2024) — and the comedy-mystery series also fared well when its first season aired on ABC last winter. That has inspired the broadcast network to give Season 2 a run, too, starting Thursday, Jan. 2. To date, Martin has six Primetime Emmy nominations for the show: three as a producer, two as an actor and one as a writer. More could be coming, since Hulu has renewed the program for a fifth season.

In Season 2, New York apartment building tenants and true crime podcast makers Charles, Oliver and Mabel (played by Martin, Short and Gomez) find themselves the subjects of another person's (Tina Fey, "30 Rock") podcast after their amateur probe of an apparent homicide puts them on the police's radar. Amy Ryan ("The Wire"), Michael Cyril Creighton ("American Fiction," 2023), DaVine Joy Randolph ("The Holdovers," 2023) and Nathan Lane ("The Gilded Age") are also among the season's cast members, with Paul Rudd ("Ant-Man," 2015), Jane Lynch ("Glee") and entertainment veteran Shirley MacLaine ("Terms of Endearment," 1983) also turning up.

"Only Murders in the Building" has been one of Martin's biggest home-screen commitments, though his TV work dates back more than 50 years to his time as a writer and featured player for both "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour" and "The Sonny & Cher Comedy Hour" on CBS. He has also had the second-most hosting stints — with 15, topped only by Alec Baldwin's 17 — on NBC's "Saturday Night Live." Martin and Baldwin shared hosting duties on ABC's Oscar telecast in 2010 after Martin had done that job solo in 2001 and 2003.

And, we'd be remiss to overlook his accomplishments as a musician, both solo and with the bluegrass band Steep Canyon Rangers. An accomplished banjo player, Martin's musical talents have earned him five Grammy awards, for everything from comedy to country and bluegrass.

Also with guest-star credits on series ranging from "The Muppet Show" to "30 Rock," Martin was actually relatively sparse with TV work before his current show, though the size of his personality and effect might make it seem that he contributed to the medium more often. "Only Murders in the Building" has done much to help make up for that, and it's about to do so again as it crosses networks once more.

FRESH fruits and vegetables don't have to be expensive if you buy them in season and many are in season year round. To learn more, visit www.sdharvestofthemonth.com

FROZEN fruits and vegetables are packed and frozen within hours of harvest, so they don't lose their flavor or nutritional value. Try steaming vegetables in the microwave or stovetop rather than boiling to keep in more nutrients.

CANNED fruits and vegetables often get a bad rap but they are still nutritious. Choose 100% fruit juice with no added sugar and vegetables with no salt added. Remember to drain the water, juice, or syrup and rinse with water to help remove some of the extra sugar and salt.
