FROZEN fruits and vegetables are packed and frozen within hours of harvest, so they don't lose their flavor or nutritional value. Try steaming vegetables in the microwave or stovetop rather than boiling to keep in more nutrients.

CANNED fruits and vegetables often get a bad rap but they are still nutritious. Choose 100% fruit juice with no added sugar and vegetables with no sale added. Remember to drain the water, juice, or syrup and rinse with water to help remove some of the extra sugar and salt.

Giancarlo Esposito in "The Residence"

Checking in with MELISSA ROXBURGH

In the majority of her series roles to date, things haven't been easy for Melissa Roxburgh.

The Canadian-born actress specializes in emotionally complex characters who often face professional dilemmas, and she has another in the current drama "The Hunting Party," airing Mondays on NBC and streaming on Peacock. Roxburgh plays Rebecca "Bex" Henderson, a former FBI profiler brought back into the job to help recapture serial killers who escaped in an explosion at a secret prison.

Bex has a very personal reason for having pursued her career, which poses hurdles for her in her current mission. So does her ex-partner Odell (Nick Wechsler, "Revenge"), who was the warden at The Pit, the facility that was decimated by the blast that set the show in motion. Each of them knows dark things about the other that keep them at arm's length while they also have to work together again.

Prior to "The Hunting Party," Roxburgh made a guest appearance on CBS's "Tracker" as the physics professor sister of missing-persons-seeker Colter Shaw (Justin Hartley, "This Is Us"), so that character still "lives" even if Roxburgh isn't available to reprise the part. Her other best-known role is police detective Michaela Stone, one of the passengers on a flight that mysteriously vanished for five-plus years on "Manifest," which ran for three seasons from 2018-21 on NBC and then had a concluding round on Netflix from 2022-23.

Hail to the chief inspector: Uzo Aduba stars in Shondaland White House mystery series

Shonda Rhimes is back in the White House.

After the success of her hit political drama "Scandal" and her stately English period romance series "Bridgerton," Shonda Rhimes and her prolific team are tackling a new project — and this one is taking some cues from famed mystery author Agatha Christie. "The Residence," a new, eight-episode locked-room murder mystery set in the White House, premieres Thursday, March 20, on Netflix.

While the series falls neatly under the Shondaland banner, which also includes the two aforementioned series as well as "Grey's Anatomy," "Station 19," "Inventing Anna" and more, "The Residence" is created and helmed by "Scandal" staff writer and "For the People" creator Paul William Davies.

Excited for the release of his new series starring Uzo Aduba ("Orange Is the New Black"), Davies told Netflix's news site, Tudum, that "'The Residence' is honestly a lot of things. It's funny, it's suspenseful, it's clever, it's totally farcical in places, it's genuinely romantic in others."

Regarding the series' plot and overall vibe, "The Residence" channels the Christie-era murder mystery and its recent descendants, such as Rian Johnson's "Knives Out" (2019) and "Glass Onion" (2022) films, as well as the Hulu/Disney+ sensation "Only Murders in the Building."

Insofar as the official logline is concerned, Shondaland and Netflix have offered the following description: "132 rooms. 157 suspects. One dead body. One wildly eccentric detective. One disastrous state dinner. 'The Residence' is a screwball whodunnit set in the upstairs, downstairs and backstairs of the White House, among the eclectic staff of the world's most famous mansion."

Aduba shines in the lead role as consulting detective Cordelia Cupp, who is as awkward as she is intelligent — which is to say, very. Referred to by Netflix as "the most sought-after investigator in the world," Cupp is "known for her unexpected humor, relentless pursuit of truth and sharp eye for human behavior." It bears noting that Cupp is also an avid birder, demonstrating unmatched patience to accompany her keen attention to detail.

Joining the "Mrs. America" actress on screen is, as Aduba puts it, "an amazing group of phenomenally talented, good, good, good human beings who are generous, thoughtful, fun, gifted, talented [and] just awesome."

"It was straight jams every day with our cast," she added. "We loved coming to work every day."

More specifically, Aduba shares her screen time with "Fresh Off the Boat" and "WandaVision's" Randall Park, who plays skeptical FBI agent Edwin Park. Agent Park is assigned to work the state dinner alongside Cupp, but does not exactly jive with her methods. All told, however, the pair's conflicting views work wonders to balance each other's biases throughout the series.

Additionally, potential viewers learned very early in the show's marketing that Giancarlo Esposito's ("Breaking Bad") character, White House chief usher A.B. Wynter, is the reason for the plot. The victim whose death kickstarts the series, the role was originally tied to "Brooklyn Nine-Nine" actor Andre Braugher, but was recast following the actor's sudden death in December 2023 (the series has been in production since 2022 and was postponed due to the industry strike).

"I couldn't be prouder and more honored to be stepping into Shondaland's 'The Residence' for someone that I loved and respected and cherished," said Esposito of Braugher following the recasting. "To be afforded the opportunity to create in his honor with this incredible team extends the depth and breadth of his legacy through all of us who loved him so dearly."

Roxburgh was also a regular on "Valor," a military drama that had a half-season run on The CW from 2017-18 and featured her as a CIA operative who eventually became a director at the agency. By then, Roxburgh already was known to viewers of that network from guest appearances on such shows as "Supernatural" and "Arrow." So, strong roles have been her strong suit virtually from the start ... making her current duty on "The Hunting Party" a suitable and logical fit.

Marvin Flute in "Grimsburg"

tonight's picks

Playing With Fire

(29) 7 p.m.

When their house burns down, nearly killing them, married couple Natalie (Kirsten Comerford) and Loughlin (Brett Geddes) begin to be manipulated by a firefighter named Jack (Stephen Adekolu), who wants to split them up so he can have Natalie for himself.

Grimsburg

(46.2) (5.2) 7:30 p.m.

When his dad returns to town, Flute desperately tries everything he can to keep his idol around — even disposing of his father's talking car. Meanwhile, the Grimsburg detectives are stuck teaching Flute's son, Stan, about the birds and the bees.

Bar Rescue

(63) 9 p.m.

Pete owns a tavern in Chesterfield, Minn., and seems to be spending most of his time drinking the inventory. His kids are trying to make the bar a success, but the owner is more of an anchor than a sail. Chef Jason Santos arrives to try and turn the tide.
