City and school officials were set to meet Wednesday to address traffic flow concerns on North 9th Avenue around the elementary school.

City manager Dale Bunn announced the planned meeting during a city council meeting October 7.

A study by Traffic Engineering Consultants Inc., presented the city with options to improve traffic flow on the street, particularly at times parents are picking up children from the elementary and intermediate schools.

The initial report by the firm cites an "overabundance of signs directing vehicles on where to go."

5 questions with Julie Malone

Editor's note: Answering The Purcell Register's five questions this week is Wayne Elementary School principal Julie Malone.

Q: What is the best part of being an elementary principal?

A: The kids. They are the best part of my job. Greeting students in the morning is my favorite part of the day. They don't know a hug or smile from them is often the best part of my day.

One day in the cafeteria, ketchup was served with lunch, and kids just love to give cafeteria hugs. I ended up with a ketchup handprint on the back of my white sweater. I never did wear that sweater again, but it was worth it.

Fall starting to take hold

After the hectic week last week, fall is really starting to dig its heels in here in Oklahoma this week.

The final remains of that strong storm system are still be here for Thursday, with lingering showers and storms, though nothing severe is expected. By Friday, rain is out and cloud cover is in, with temperatures right on par with what we expect here for fall in Oklahoma.

This weekend looks sunny, with morning lows in the low 40s, but afternoon highs in the upper 60s and lower 70s. Next week is looking just as beautiful, as cloud cover will try to build back in, but lows remain in the 40s and highs stick in the mid-70s.

The pattern looks like it will remain quiet for now.

Purcell sixth graders and Washington Junior High Student Council kids collected over 1,000 diapers to donate to the Infant Crisis Center to be distributed to McClain County residents in need.

Purcell, Washington students team up for a diaper drive

Purcell Junior High sixth grade students in Kenzie Cunniff's class have been reading The Benefits of Being an Octopus by Ann Braden. The novel covers a lot of very relatable topics to students in their own community.

There is a focus on poverty and the experiences those face who live within it. The class took the poverty lesson one step further and researched the numbers within Purcell and, more importantly, the junior high.

The students were informed and moved to try and make some sort of difference no matter how small.

After discovering that diapers were not a covered aspect of state subsidies, the students decided to hold a diaper drive for the community.

Amy Larman from Washington heard of the Purcell students efforts and asked if her junior high student council kids could join in the diaper drive as well.

At the end of the two week diaper drive, over 1,000 diapers were collected to donate to the Infant Crisis Center to be distributed to McClain County residents in need.

OMG is it COVID?

Like so many people in Oklahoma I've been struggling with allergies with the pollen and weed counts off the chart. But the other day I questioned if it was just allergies.

I looked up the symptoms for COVID and I had a couple of them.

Coughing, boy was I coughing. So I took my temperature and it was normal. Still could smell and taste.

So I dismissed my fear of having the virus.

It's just we hear so much about COVID this and COVID that it finally wears on you.

Hello from District 43

• Senator Jessica Garvin •

Update from the Capitol

As I previously mentioned, interim studies are in full force. Last week, the Senate Public Safety Committee had several interesting studies and I'd like to tell you about two of them.

One of the studies looked at the benefits of allowing incarcerated mothers to pump their milk and have it sent to their newborns' caretakers.

The committee heard from the Coalition for Oklahoma Breast-feeding Advocated (COBA), the Oklahoma Department of Corrections (DOC), and the Alabama Prison Birth Project on the importance of allowing incarcerated mothers to nurse for their baby's first six months of life, how other states have implemented programs and how such programs could be implemented in Oklahoma.

According to COBA, implementing such programs could significantly decrease health care costs and improve the state's maternal and infant mortality rate.

The Alabama Prison Birth Project, one of the top pumping programs in the nation, said pumping programs are practical and easily implemented. They said they provide better mental health outcomes and hormonal regulation for the mother, resulting in better behavior; health cost savings for both the child and mother; increased likelihood of recruiting future breast feeders and an increased connection to children, leading to lower recidivism rates.

I'd like to hear your thoughts on implementing this type of program.

The committee also was updated on progress made on addressing the state's backlog of sexual assault kit analysis by the Oklahoma State Bureau of Investigation (OSBI) and the Office of the Attorney General. Sexual assault cases reported in Oklahoma has been increasing.

In 2011, there were around 1,500 cases and that increased to 2,200 last year. In 2019, Senate Bill 967 was approved, directing the OSBI to develop a statewide tracking system for evidence collection kits, and requiring law enforcement to send rape kits for testing within 20 days of collection.

Since that bill became law, nearly 3,000 pre-2019 kits have been tracked and analyzed along with nearly 4,300 post-

2019, but there are still more than 2,700 kits in the backlog, which the OSBI estimates will take about 28 months to complete. The Legislature has made great strides to help get the backlog addressed, but we can never stop fighting for these victims.

Last week, I had the opportunity to attend the swearing-in of Oklahoma Supreme Court Justice Dana Kuehn, the newest appointment to the Court by Governor Stitt. Justice Kuehn brings a wealth of knowledge and experience to the Court, but through her speech, my eyes were opened to her sense of humor, deep and profound faith, and the incredible joy that she carries with her and brings into every room she enters.

Justice Kuehn is clearly respected by her colleagues for her professionalism, her wisdom, and her understanding of the law; but underneath that fancy robe and title, Justice Kuehn is a humble, generous, kind, and compassionate woman who loves her family, respects her parents, invests

NEWS FROM CAPITOL HILL

American energy is the best energy

Congressman Tom Cole

America hit a troubling milestone this month with prices at the pump reflecting the most expensive in seven years while oil shortages around the world worsen. And as the holidays approach, gas and utility prices are only expected to increase further.

Unfortunately, this crisis could have been at least partially avoided if President Joe Biden had not caved to the radical left when he assumed office, choosing to jeopardize American energy independence for the sake of so called "environmental protections."

During Energy Awareness Month, we remember the importance of self-reliance on energy production to keep prices low and our nation's economy safe and secure from countries that do not have our best interest at heart. Indeed, not only does energy dependence on other countries mean higher prices for Americans, but if our international suppliers are in crisis, so are we.

Before President Biden assumed office, the United States prioritized domestic production of energy. In fact, petroleum imports in 2020 were the lowest since 1991 due to our own domestic production boom.

However, soon after assuming office, President Biden issued several executive orders discouraging domestic production, including shutting down the Keystone XL Pipeline and declaring a moratorium on oil, gas and coal leasing on federal lands and waters.

Not only have these actions resulted in more than 11,000 American jobs lost and local governments and the U.S. Treasury being denied revenue they greatly depend on, but it also decreased U.S. Gross Domestic Product (GDP) by $700 billion.

Now, U.S. oil imports from foreign sources are expected to increase by two million barrels a day, and our country is on track to spend $500 billion more on energy from foreign suppliers through 2030.

However, instead of reversing his disastrous policies to ease the skyrocketing prices and create jobs for Americans, President Biden has asked the Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) and Russia for more output of oil.

Indeed, the real outcome has meant greater American reliance on foreign countries for energy, which certainly creates new security threats for our country.

Despite the ongoing global energy crisis, President Biden and Democrats are proposing more disastrous energy policies

• Rep. Cindy Roe •

New abortion law survives court challenge

In the last legislative session, I ran House Bill 1904, which protects the lives of unborn babies and their mothers by ensuring only board-certified obstetricians and gynecologists perform abortions. The bill passed and was signed into law by the governor in April. It's set to become effective November 1.

The new law was challenged in court, but I'm grateful a district judge ruled it can still take effect.

Abortion rights advocates say this bill will be catastrophic to the ability of women to access abortion services in our state by immediately disqualifying more than half of the doctors performing this procedure. For that, I'm glad as well. I fully hope to save the lives of unborn babies. But if abortions do occur, we must ensure we at least protect the mother's life.

The only way to do this is to require the physician performing this procedure to be board-certified. Sources indicate that over half the abortions in the state are provided by physicians that are not OB/GYN board certified. This is not too much to ask of those who perform a procedure that takes at least one life each time it is performed.

On a separate topic, the House has held numerous interim studies. The Public Health Committee, which I chair, has held three studies to date.

IS21-092, by Rep. Jeff Boatman, focused on building a comprehensive continuum of care model for those experiencing a mental health crises. The study took a look at existing mental health services and what is needed to help those suffering grief and trauma.

IS21-021, by Rep. Josh West, focused on behavioral health workforce solutions. Rep. West said he scheduled this study after Oklahoma voters last summer approved Medicaid expansion.

He explained that with more people coming onto the system but the same number of providers, he knew that in some areas, particularly in rural Oklahoma, there may be access issues to therapists and other behavioral health specialists.

IS21-057, by Rep. Chad Caldwell, explored the health and cost-savings benefits of direct primary care for patients and the state health care system as a whole. Several physicians during the study explained how the current health care system, run by corporations and insurers, is set up to bill patients for office visits and other procedures regardless of whether or not they need the care.

They said a direct primary care system would work more efficiently in meeting a patient's true needs, saving perhaps millions of dollars.

I've learned since being elected that being a legislator is a full time job. There is plenty of work going on at the Capitol even outside of the legislative session, whether it's interim studies, or committee work to oversee the spending of America Rescue Plan Act funds or other tasks.

This is in addition to ongoing work in our district as I meet with constituents and groups to ensure people's needs are being met. It's a busy time, but it's work I'm grateful to perform.

If I can be of help to you in any way, please contact me at (405) 557-7365 or Cynthia.Roe@OKHouse.gov.

Dear Editor:

These are my opinions to Congressman Tom Cole's opinion piece "A blank check for Democrats."

Lifting the debt limit is based on money already spent. President Trump added seven trillion, Biden has been in office only nine months.

If the rich two percent were paying their fair share, it would pay for the Biden plan.

Republicans have cut Social Security and Medicare, after promising no cuts.

Freedom to enjoy life's passions

By Dr. Glenn Mollette

Steady cash flow comes from steady work. If you want money you have to do something that produces money.

Much of what we want to do in life does not always produce cash. We may experience fun, enjoyment, fulfillment and entertainment but it may not render dollars. Often, much of what we enjoy in life typically costs us money and usually a lot of money.

You may love to play golf and even aspire to make a professional tour. You could spend most of your life and tens of thousands of dollars on green fees, memberships, lessons, travel and more and still never make a dime from playing golf.

You may love movies, theatre and plays and spend years in drama schools and Hollywood and never get a job that pays any money. This story is true for those who dream of making it big in music.

I've talked to numbers of singers in Nashville, Tenn., who have spent years singing for tips and often for free. They pursued their dream relentlessly and some ended up homeless because while they pursued their dream, dollars were not coming in to support them.

Writers have spent their lives trying to write one great book that someone would notice. Painters often paint their entire lives without much fanfare or few sales. Would be entertainers and artsy folks from all walks of life know that the road to success

I was a weird guy in high school as I aspired to be a full-time minister. Sixteen years old was an odd time in life to start shunning my electric guitar, lose my passion for basketball and aspire to be a minister. It also didn't do a lot for my dating life either. My dad thought I was crazy but never said a whole lot.

Once he did say, "Why don't you get a good job and preach on the side?" I thought that was a crazy idea because I knew of too many ministers who had full time careers and seemed to do okay. Thus, I went to school until I was 29 years old to be a full-time minister.

The post college degrees that I attended full-time for seven years were enough time for medical school, Law school or whatever but I pursued my calling and followed my heart.

I don't regret pursuing my dream. I had about 35 years of being an average wage earner as a minister and sometimes did better than average. However, my dad had respectable advice as parent's usually do.

Today I give the same advice. Follow your dream but you need a sawmill on the side for stable cash flow. Church has changed. Many churches are small and can't afford a full-time minister.

Sadly, often ministers and congregations can't survive in harmony for more than a couple of years so this makes for a very unstable life.

When I say, "you need a sawmill on the side," I mean you need something in your life you can count on. You need a plumber's license, a teaching certificate, carpentry skills or a business of some kind that renders dollars.

Why? You can't always depend on what you love doing to produce income. It may be what you love to do and you may be terrific at what you do but often you can't count on it financially.

Find a work that people must have or want very badly. If you are in a work that someone must have then there will be financial rewards. If they want very badly what you have to offer there will be financial rewards. If they want and need it both you are golden.

It may not be your passion but you will generally make enough money from your "sawmill" so you can sing, dance, paint, entertain, write, act or even preach on the side. When you do what you love to do without the constant pressure of needing money then you are free to do it enjoyably without the stress of wondering from where your next meal will come.

Water woes

A water main break on Sherri Classic Blvd. and Pybas Ave. last Wednesday knocked out water service to residents and businesses south of Walnut Creek for several hours.

Artifact:

and donated as a historical artifact to the Oklahoma Historical Society.

This month, the Oklahoma Energy Resources Board (OERB) stepped in to remove the artifact so the space can be repurposed by the state.

The work was completed at no cost to taxpayers and through voluntary funding from the people of Oklahoma Oil & Natural Gas.

For more than 25 years, Oklahoma's oil and natural gas industry has been committed to cleaning well sites left behind decades, even a century, ago.

This mission was put into motion by industry leaders in 1993 and the state remains the only one in the nation with a voluntary program of its kind. To date, the people of Oklahoma Oil & Natural Gas have contributed more than $135 million to this initiative.

Working with local contractors, most of the historic sites consist of concrete and metal remnants. With an average cost of about $7,000 per site, cleanup can be cost-prohibitive for landowners, including farmers and ranchers. Thanks to today's oil and natural gas industry, the OERB is able to restore productivity to the land at no cost to landowners.

The OERB is funded by the more than 2,500 producers and thousands of royalty owners across Oklahoma through a voluntary one-tenth of one percent assessment on oil and natural gas production.

The mission is centered around a simple idea: empowering unlimited opportunity for all Oklahomans.

From high-paying jobs to infrastructure, providing money for education, investing in our communities, restoring our land and helping lead the way to America's energy independence, we are committed to the wellbeing and prosperity of all.

Visit OERB.com to learn more about the investment that the people of Oklahoma Oil & Natural Gas are making in our state.

thousand. Republicans demand billions spent on defense, going to contractors that donate to keep them in office, yet the hero soldiers must get food stamps to survive.

If the debt ceiling is not adjusted social security checks may be late, military paychecks late also.

Every Oklahoma Republican in Congress voted against the certification of Joe Biden, after 60 court cases saying he won, also voted against finding the truth on the January 6 riot.

Congressman Cole used the word socialism six times, radical agenda two times, he supports keeping the minimum wage at $7.25, which has not been raised in over 10 years. Voted against the $1,400 COVID-19 relief money, which fed hungry children.

Why when Jesus talks about feeding the poor it is Christianity, but when a politician does it, it is socialism.

I wish everyone would tell elected Oklahoma Republicans in Washington to vote to increase the debt limit and quit playing with American livelihood.

Respectfully,
Mary Brannon

In addition to the swearing-in, I was able to meet with a group of Oklahomans to discuss ways to improve the care we provide to individuals with disabilities; attended an educational meeting with Oklahoma Pharmacy Association members from Senate District 43 and Sen. Chris Kidd; spent lunch with Rep. Brad Boles, Rep. Marcus McEntire, Sen. Cole:

that would undeniably worsen supply shortages and price increases in their $5 trillion socialist-spending bill.

Examples include a natural gas tax and more bans on oil and gas production on federal lands and waters. The result of these policies could lead to our energy bills increasing by $242 per year and raise the cost of nearly 6,000 common household products and technologies.

Finally, at a time when the oil supply is constrained worldwide, those we depend on heavily for imports, including Communist China, are reducing their oil and slowing down factory production.

As the world relies on them so much for our supply chain, this certainly threatens to slow the post-pandemic economic recovery. This only shows that when we rely on our own energy production, we are certainly in a better spot.

Living in a state with a rich history of production and innovation in the energy sector, Oklahomans certainly have experienced the disturbing impact of President Biden and Democrats' anti-energy agenda.

That's why I am proud to be a member of the House Energy

Action Team (HEAT) to find commonsense solutions to our energy crisis. While Republicans and Democrats alike agree that climate change needs to be addressed, we cannot allow policies that undercut or disband our energy independence and competitiveness.

The bottom line is: American energy is the best option. It is the most affordable and safest energy. I urge the Biden Administration and Democrats to reverse course so that we can regain our independence, compete with China and help Americans keep more of their hard-earned dollars.

Chicken Bacon Ranch Casserole

1/2 lb. bacon, cooked and chopped

1 lb. boneless, skinless chicken breasts, diced

1 tbsp. olive oil

1 packet dry Ranch dressing mix

8 oz. pasta (I used Shells)

1 cup Mozzarella cheese, shredded

1/2 cup Cheddar cheese, shredded

Salt/Pepper to taste

1 jar Alfredo sauce (14.5 oz)

Preheat oven to 375° and grease a 9 x 9 baking dish.

Heat a large skillet over medium heat. Cook bacon until brown and crispy, about 7 minutes. Drain fat and place bacon on a paper towel to absorb the grease.

In a gallon size Ziploc bag, add in the olive oil, diced chicken (raw at this point), and Ranch mix.

Shake around in a bag until chicken is evenly coated.

Add chicken to skillet and cook until no longer pink. Set aside.

In a pot of boiling water, cook pasta until al dente.

Drain water and add pasta to greased baking dish.

Add cooked chicken and Alfredo sauce to the pasta.

Sprinkle both cheeses, bacon, and salt/pepper to the top of the Alfredo and place the pan in the oven.

Bake until bubbly and cheese is melted, about 15 minutes.

Sharon Orstad and Mister Be A Twister Named 2020 AQHA Select World Championship Show Senior Athletes of the Show

Wayne barrel racer Sharon Orstad and her horse Mister Be A Twister were named the 2020 Nutrena Senior Athletes of the Show at the 2020 AQHA Select World Championship Show.

This award is presented to the exhibitor and horse with the highest combined age competing at the Select World. Orstad is 80 and Twister is 23! The Nutrena Senior Athletes of the Show award recognizes not only the exhibitors, but their equine partners. AQHA has teamed with AQHA Corporate Partner Nutrena on this award since 2012.

Mister Be A Twister is a 1997 bay gelding by Docs Bixby Cash and out of Moontown Miss by Coaltown Prince. Mister Be A Twister is home-bred and owned and trained by Orstad.

Sharon and Mister Be A Twister received a prize package that included 500 pounds of Nutrena feed and a specially designed plaque.

Orstad and Twister moved from Minnesota to Oklahoma in 2003. That is when Sharon says it all came together. Their show record lays it out. This duos AQHA record starts in 2008 and details that they have competed in 46 AQHA shows, with two World Championships and two Reserve World Championships.

In addition, she has placed 27 times in the top 5 and 15 more times from sixth to 10th. That is just AQHA shows. There are a few other barrel racing organizations in which she has shown, in addition to many shows that have no organization affiliations.

Congratulations, Sharon Orstad and Mister Be A Twister. You brought the pride home!

The AQHA Select World Championship Show is the world's largest single-bred championship horse show open exclusively to amateur exhibitors age 50 and over. This is the pinnacle event for Select amateur competitors around the world who compete in classes representing English, over fences, western, speed, cattle and halter events. This year's show was held in conjunction with the AQHA World Championship Show.

Nominations sought for Chickasaw Hall of Fame

Nominations are now being accepted for the Chickasaw Hall of Fame. Nominations must be received by Wednesday, November 17, at 5 p.m. Chickasaw citizens inducted into the Chickasaw Hall of Fame are leaders, artists and cultural ambassadors who leave a lasting mark through their lifelong service to the Chickasaw people and betterment of the tribe and community.

Induction into the Chickasaw Hall of Fame is the highest honor bestowed on Chickasaw citizens, awarded to those whose contributions have been of great importance.

Nominees may be Chickasaw citizens who are either living or deceased, but no current Chickasaw Nation employees or elected officials of the tribal government currently serving a term of office are eligible.

Inductees must be enrolled citizens of the Chickasaw Nation. Nominations may be submitted by anyone.

New inductees are honored with a plaque in the Chickasaw

Nation Aaholiitobli' Honor Garden, a beautiful and serene monument dedicated to Chickasaw Hall of Fame members.

Located on the Chickasaw Cultural Center campus in Sulphur, the honor garden is an original design inspired by the four directions and incorporating spiral symbols indicative of traditional Chickasaw culture.

Hall of fame nomination forms are available at HOF.Chickasaw.net/Nominations.

For more information, contact Brielle Helm at Brielle.Helm@Chickasaw.net, LaDawn Webb at LaDawn.Webb@Chickasaw.net or call (580) 436-2603.

Malone:

personnel who are committed to making a difference in students' lives is also a great part of my job. Wayne is fortunate to have a dedicated staff.

Q: Do you know the kids by name?

A: I truly do know the kids by name. That is a benefit that comes with working in a small school. When new students arrive, I make a point of learning their names quickly. I've laughed a time or two when a student passes me and says, "Hi, Principal." I'll reply, "Hi, Student," and they look at me with a funny smile. I'm thinking, "Surely you can remember my name?"

Q: How difficult has it been dealing with young children during the pandemic?

A: I would not say it has been difficult to deal with young children during the pandemic. Our staff continues to be concerned about students' well-being and academic loss. Everyone I know has been negatively affected by the pandemic whether it be emotionally, socially, financially, etc. Children are certainly no exception to that.

Many have experienced anxiety, fear, and depression.

In March of 2020 when schools swiftly shut down, our school staff was concerned about staying connected to our students and families. Maintaining a relationship was of the utmost importance during a time of such uncertainty.

During the 2020-2021 school year, Wayne Schools made a concerted effort to keep the doors open. It was an extremely difficult year for everyone, but we knew the best way to help our students and families during the pandemic was to provide them with routine, structure and some sense of normalcy. We were fortunate to provide in-person school for our students all year.

Q: Kids have a unique perspective on things. What is the most humorous you can recall?

A: Oh goodness. I'm entering year 30 in education, so to recall the single most humorous moment would be tough. The way kids explain how/why something happened often makes keeping a straight face difficult. They are funny by nature without intention. I regret not keeping a notebook of all the funny things kids have said. I was once advised to write it all down, but at the time I thought I would remember things forever.

I guess a good example of a child's perspective is one time a student was in my office to discuss choices and consequences. He was no stranger to my office as we had conferred many times. We were going through a general line of questioning: What happened? How do you think the other person felt? What can you do differently next time? and so forth. We talked for a long time. It was truly an impactful conversation, and I knew a real breakthrough had occurred. Then he looked up at me with his big eyes and said, "Is it time for recess?"

Q: What hobby or hobbies you do have?

A: I am an avid follower of OU sports and keep up with the happenings of college football across the country. I enjoy cooking, reading and gardening (although my flowerbeds would say otherwise). While not considered a hobby, I have a deep appreciation for nature and love spending time outside.

Those include English composition, 18; college algebra, 22; American history, 21; biology, 23, and higher mathematics, 26. Sanders said the high school is working to improve college readiness in its graduates. Among the tools used are increasing access to the ACT for all students, evaluating the rigor of courses at the high school and ensuring students have guidance counselor support for college and career pathways. All sophomores are now taking the pre-ACT in the fall and all juniors have the opportunity to take the ACT in the fall. In addition, the high school is strengthening its partnership with Mid-America Technology Center. All freshmen and sophomores visit the MATC campus for a tour. The school is building on the strength of concurrent enrollment which allows high school students to earn college credits. Sanders said the high school had four students drop out during the 2019-20 school year. The drop outs included two freshmen, a junior and a senior. Alternative education is key to keeping those students in school, Sanders told the board, praising the in-school credit recovery program at the high school. Board members approved the district's 2020-21 audit and meeting dates for 2022. The board also approved a resolution calling for a primary election on February 8 for the office 2 seat held by Dru Smith. Filing period will be December 6-8. Superintendent Dr. Sheli McAdoo shared news that the band is state champion in Class 2A and finished runner-up in 1A/2A/3A. "This group is incredible," she said. "They have worked so hard for all of their accomplishments." McAdoo also said the district has received a waiver allowing herself and assistant superintendent Jerry Swayze to administer COVID tests to students and staff. "Jerry and I have administered over 20 tests since September 27," she said. McAdoo said the state education department has approved the district's use of child nutrition funds to purchase a new box truck. The district will begin sending weekend meals home with students on October 22. The superintendent cited a survey of 815 Oklahoma Education Association members who reported a stress level of 6.4 on a scale of 1 to 10. "While our teachers and administrators make it look easy, it has not been," she said. "We must continue to support teachers and administrators for the tough challenges that they are facing each day." Other board action included: approval of the district's general fund/building fund expenditure/revenue plan for the current school year; approval of board policy changes required by updates to state law; approval of McAdoo, Jerry Swayze, Cindy Stone, Tina Swayze, Carol Testa, Sanders and Carolyn Anyong as personnel evaluators; employing Hilary Venegas as a paraprofessional at the junior high school and Kassi Buchanan as secretary/registrar at the high school, and accepting the resignation of Jamie Rivera as assistant at Education Station.

areas - limited queuing availability and drop-off/pick-up procedure. Writing of signage, Hawkins noted the existing signage could be cleaned up by removing unnecessary, old and broken signs. "We could explore the use of solar LED signs if we really want to get the drivers' attention," Hawkins reported, adding based on the road's layout he sees little opportunity to modify the current circulation patterns. "There were complaints about vehicles queuing beyond the library exit and vehicles exiting the library drive," the report continued. Hawkins also noted that one of the most glaring issues was some parents using the loop in front of the school, while others parked on Harrison Street or the gravel parking area east of the school. "This inconsistent ... procedure leads to delays and more hazardous conditions with students and parents outside their vehicles around moving traffic. ... Ideally, the elementary school would implement a policy where each vehicle utilizes the loop and possibly top parking area and waits in their vehicle while staff helps to load and unload students," he concluded. The planned meeting, Bunn said, will be a study session and will be closed to the public. The council also heard a resident's concerns about traffic safety concerns in school zones and neighborhoods.

Kyla Wilson, 415 N. 4th Ave., told the council she wanted to see speed bumps installed on city streets to slow motorists. In other business, the council: awarded a $247,994.02 contract for furnishings for the new Purcell hospital to John A. Marshall Co.; approved a $41,586.79 change order on the new hospital to add an additional layer of gyp to the ceiling; accepted bids totaling $434,984.92 for stretchers, x-ray equipment, an EKG machine and other equipment for the new hospital; and approved a $34,202.76 purchase of a new tractor and implements for the Parks and Recreation Department.

murder and death sentence. It is the third time the court has upheld the conviction and sentence. Bosse brutally murdered a Dibble woman and her two young children in 2010 and set their mobile home ablaze to cover up a theft. A McClain County jury returned guilty verdicts on three counts of first-degree murder and arson in 2012. Jurors recommended death for each of the three murders and 35 years plus a $25,000 fine for the arson. The Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed the convictions and sentences on direct appeal and also denied Bosse's first application for post-conviction relief in 2015. The convictions and sentences became final in March 2018. In February 2019, Bosse filed his second application for post-conviction relief. In that application, Bosse argued the state had no jurisdiction because the victims were Indian and the crime occurred in Indian country. Bosse also alleged his attorneys at trial were ineffective, saying they failed to adequately investigate his life history, failed to adequately prepare witnesses, and deprived him of a "fair and reliable" sentencing. He also charged that these errors deprived him of his constitutional rights to due process. "We have said many times that the post-conviction process is not intended to provide a second appeal," the decision states. "The statutes governing our review of second or successive capital post-conviction applications provide even fewer grounds to collateral attack a judgment and sentence than the narrow grounds permitted in an original post-conviction proceeding." Bosse claimed the state lacked jurisdiction due to the U.S. Supreme Court's ruling in McGirt v. Oklahoma in 2020.

However, the OCCA disagreed, stating "...no post-conviction relief should be granted. ... Mr. Bosse's sentences were final in 2018, long before the Supreme Court decided McGirt in July 2020." Bosse's allegation that his attorneys were "dysfunctional" also failed the court's test of time. The claim "could have been raised in earlier proceedings," the OCCA decision reads. "This challenge to trial counsel's effectiveness on the factual basis now asserted is procedurally barred." In addressing his third grounds for relief based on cumulative error, the judges again denied it. The ruling states "we do not review or consider errors raised or decided in previous proceedings in a successive post-conviction application."

Gala:

Hope Center, a Christ-centered recovery program for women. The Center is located south of Goldsby. Tickets are $55 and may be purchased online at www.hopcem.com. Doors will open at 5:30 p.m. and dinner will be served at 6 p.m. In addition to food and fellowship, the event will include testimonies and an auction. According to the website, the Hope Center's residential recovery program consists of three phases over a minimum of eight months. Phase 1 consists of intense classroom time, which provides an opportunity for Bible study and regular counseling, as well as a wide Bible-based curriculum. In Phase 2, residents learn the responsibility of working a full day as part of their recovery. There are morning and afternoon meetings and Bible study during which the women learn life and job skills and a "strong work ethic as instructed in the Bible." Residents moved into an extended living setting in Phase 3. They earn money for full time work and keep the wages earned to help get a new start in life. They are introduced back into society while maintaining recovery. They are required to attend Celebrate Recovery meetings, family support groups and two church services weekly. For information on the gala, call Monica at 405-255-1288 or Amanda at 405-434-8861.

Warrior defenders save the day in 13-10 win over CCS

John D. Montgomery
The Purcell Register

Over the course of the 2021 football season Washington's offense has churned out points game after game.

But last Friday night it was the Washington defense that won the game in a tight 13-10 victory over Community Christian School at Reed Field.

The Royals picked off an errant Washington pass in the first quarter, securing a short field. But the defense did its job and held CCS to a field goal, which proved to be the difference in the contest.

Quarterback Major Cantrell found Luke Hendrix open for a 56 yard touchdown pass in the opening quarter. Cole Scott scored from

'Dawgs to host Warriors tonight

Lexington's Bulldogs have a tall order tonight (Thursday) when they play host to powerful Washington.

The Warriors come into the game undefeated at 6-0 and are ranked No. 2 in Class 2A. Washington is coming off its closest game of the season, a 13-10 victory over CCS last Friday night.

Coach Brad Beller's Warriors will operate out of a spread on offense and base out of a 3-4 on defense, Lexington Head Coach Keith Bolles reported.

Lexington will bring a 3-3 record into the district contest.

The Bulldogs are coming off a 28-0 setback at the hands of Christian Heritage Academy last Friday night.

Heath Winterton was 8-22 passing for 109 yards but was picked off four times.

Seth Pyle led the defense with 10 tackles including two for losses and blocked a pass.

Josh Scott also had 10 stops while Dalton Brewer had seven tackles.

Kickoff for the Thursday night game is set for 7 p.m. due to Fall Break.

Trip to Holdenville nets 41-7 District victory for Purcell

John D. Montgomery
The Purcell Register

Creed Smith was the leader on both sides of the ball for Purcell when they turned the Holdenville Wolverines into house cats last Friday night 41-7.

Purcell got out of Hughes County a little faster due to a hot clock in the second half due to the lopsided score.

Smith, who rushed for 109 yards and a touchdown also threw for two scores, a 10-yard strike to Titus Mason and a 65 yard bomb to Jose Ochoa.

Junior Payson Purcell scored on romps of six and 22 yards while Smith's touchdown run was a 20-yarder.

With Wayne's offense not firing on all cylinders Friday night, they turned to their defense as a steady hand to defeat Healdton 25-0.

It was Wayne's first shutout of the season, although their starting defense has only given up one touchdown so far this season.

"The defense played a tremendous game," said Wayne head coach Brandon Sharp. "We limited what Healdton was able to do. The defense played the full four quarters. We got to see how the defense would respond and they responded."

The Bulldog defense held Healdton to two yards of total offense; 22 yards passing and -20 yards rushing.

"Healdton only had 28 snaps" Sharp said. "We forced a lot of three and outs."

Junior defensive back Kaleb Madden is developing into a lock down defender in the Wayne back end.

After he picked off two Healdton passes Friday night they decided not to throw his way again.

Churning out yards

Lexington sophomore Ean Caywood carries the ball for the 'Dawgs. Lexington hosts Washington Thursday night.

State:

over Comanche (10-0), Coalgate (12-0) and North Rock Creek (10-0) to win the tournament in unprecedented fashion.

"It was a pretty special three days," said Washington head coach Tylor Lampkin. "I'm sure there have been good enough pitchers to shut teams out at State, but I've never heard of the run rules."

The Washington bats came alive at State like they hadn't at any point of the season.

Six of the nine Warrior starters batted over .500 for the tournament, according to Lampkin.

"The offense did such a good job of giving Maggie a comfortable lead," he said. "She was able to attack the strike zone."

Washington pounded the ball against North Rock Creek, accounting for 15 hits.

Place homered in the game and led the team with three RBIs.

"When you combine the pitching, hitting and defense you're definitely going to be hard to stop," Lampkin said. "It was collective of everything we were doing."

The championship is Washington's first since 2015 when Jace Brewer coached them to a Class 3A crown.

It's Lampkin's first title as a coach.

"I'm proud of these girls," he said. "In the last two weeks they've taken ownership of the team and they really grew as a team."

It was a sweet ending to the season after finishing as runners-up the previous three years.

Three up three down

In the Comanche game the only time the Indians scared Washington was in the first inning when they managed to get a couple base runners on.

But the Warriors dispatched them and got out of the inning.

Washington put up three runs in the first inning and cruised until a four-run fifth inning and a three-run sixth.

Ballgame.

Tinley Lucas had a three RBI game.

Place had nine strikeouts. Against Coalgate, Washing-

13 hits.

In the championship game against North Rock Creek, Abby Wood went 3-4 and scored three runs.

When you combine the pitching, hitting and defense you're definitely going to be hard to stop.

— Tylor Lampkin, head coach ton blew the doors off the game and hung a 10 spot in the first inning. They put up two more runs in the second inning.

Ellie Loveless went 2-3 with two runs scored and two ribbies.

Place, Isa Portillo and Skylar Wells all doubled and Portillo tripled.

As a team Washington had Mikinzy Bost was 3-4 with three doubles.

The Warriors knocked the cover off the ball with 15 hits.

"The girls just made it fun," Lampkin said. "They found a way to have fun and once we did that I wouldn't have minded playing anyone in the state."

The Warriors finished the season with a 35-5 record.

As the weather turns cold in the next few months, some of our homeless veterans and working poor will need assistance with food and shelter. We have established a list of the organizations that may be able to help them to find the assistance that is available in our area. This information is on our website or can be obtained at our location at 1268 North Interstate Drive in Norman from 9 a.m. to noon Monday thru Friday.

Our drivers are available to transport veterans to our location or to their VA medical appointments.

During the past year or so we have seen many veterans who have reached a financial breaking point because of the loss of income and the increased cost of basic necessities. We are assisting veterans and surviving spouses electronically to apply for the VA benefits that they may be eligible to receive. The dates we will be accepting on-line applications next is on our website. The last two times we held these there was an average of 250 veterans who registered.

In the next few months, we will be moving to a larger facility in Norman to be better able to serve the people who served in the military. We hope that we will be able to increase the number of veterans and surviving spouses who will be able to make appointments for

Senior Spotlight

Senior Spotlight: Layne Spaulding #33, Layne is the backbone of our defense. He is in on virtually every tackle that is made. He has a great football IQ and has a natural feel for the game that can't be coached. He plays as hard as he possibly can every single second he's out there. He's one of those guys that you can't tell is having a blast when he plays. After high school, Layne plans to go to college to get a degree in mechanical engineering. Layne is always one of the most impactful players on the field! Go Warriors!

When we relocate there will be a need to increase the number of volunteers who are working in our facility. As it is designed now, there will be over 50 individual workstations where veterans can meet with clients. For those of you who would like to join our team please consider becoming a volunteer to help us help those who served our nation's military.

Our new and larger facility will need a lot of extra furniture and office equipment. If you'd like to donate to help our transition to the new facility, please do so online at dalekgrahamveteransfoundation.org or mail a check to Dale K. Graham Veterans Foundation, 1268 N. Interstate Drive, Norman, OK 73072.

We want this organization to make a difference in the lives of all veterans and their families. During the past 20 plus years we have been assisting veterans, there have been tens of thousands of people whose lives have been improved by what our volunteers have done for them.

I know many of them would not be here today without the VA benefits that they received from the Department of Veterans Affairs. When a veteran couple goes from trying to live on $1,000 a month to $3,000, they are going to be able to afford medical care, better food, and certainly stay warmer in the winter.

Yesterday, a veteran we recently assisted called me to say that the $1,000 monthly disability payment he started receiving last month was going to change their lives for the better. We see this type of change every day for the people who we serve. Please remember we are volunteers who care about the veterans and their families.

To donate to our Foundation, you can do so online at dalekgrahamveteransfoundation.org or mail a check to Dale K. Graham Veterans Foundation, 1268 N. Interstate Drive, Norman, OK, 73072.

James Kyzer sang "I Rely on Him" for the special at our Sunday morning service. Brother David used Malachi 2:1-9 for his sermon which related that one more time God warned His people to listen to His word and give Him genuine worship. These verses were a verbal reprimand from God, through Malachi, to the priests. We need to listen to God's word and stand in awe of Him. He wants us to hear His plea for our hearts and repent. Following worship, we enjoyed our annual Ladies

Casserole Cookoff lunch. A variety of food was available and very much enjoyed by those present. Winning cooks were Melisa Dubbs, first; Gina Solomon, second; and Bonnie Ray, third. Brother David used Ecclesiastes 5:18 for his after lunch devotion and said we should eat, drink and be content. We are to accept who we are and enjoy life. There was no evening service. Our senior adults will be traveling to KTs in Blanchard at 4 p.m. October 18 to enjoy fellowship and a meal. We will have a special offering for LifeWord ministries at our morning service on October 24. We were blessed to have several visitors at our morning worship. You are invited to join us for Sunday school, worship and all activities at Sunray Baptist Church. We are a small traditional church and are members of the Baptist Missionary Association. David Pickard serves as our pastor. Please join us at 2223 North 9th Street in Purcell. For additional information call 527-6808.

Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church

The twenty-ninth Sunday in Ordinary Time is October 17, 2021. The Gospel reading is from Mark 10. James and John, the sons of Zebedee, ask Jesus to "grant that in your glory we may sit one at your right and the other at your left." The 10 other disciples were appalled at their request. Jesus tells James and John that "whoever wishes to be first among you will be the slave of all." The phrase "greatest of all time" is a relatively new term but in effect James and John seemed to think they deserved the title "greatest of all disciples." Before we jump into the criticizing mode, think about how we feel. We may not say "let us sit at your right and left" like James and John did. However, in our hearts, sometimes we want to be the greatest. We want to be recognized not only for the big things we accomplish but for every little thing we do. Someone most could agree was among the greatest was

St. Teresa of Calcutta. Her greatness came from her willingness to give every bit of herself to helping others. Remember she wasn't recognized for her own proclamations of greatness. If sainthood was granted prior to death and included a $1,000,000 prize, she would have taken all the money to help others. Her mindset was always helping others. Many believed Jesus would be the king and ruler. He certainly could have been. He could have had riches and kingdoms and the adoration of all. However, he was not like that. More often than not, he told those he healed to not tell anyone. When adoring crowds sought him, he routinely left by a different route. He washed the feet of his disciples. We might tend to think of this like a pedicure where our feet are soaked in conditioned water for 20 minutes or so and they are clean and soft. Not so...the disciples' feet were filthy and most assuredly smelly. Yet, Jesus humbled himself to serve them. Each of us have our own gifts and abilities. You might be a master mechanic, a healer, a scientist, an orator. I am not. Do not ask me to do what you do for I will fail miserably. Our Lord does not ask us to do things we cannot do. He knows our hearts and honoring him requires us to humble ourselves to serve others. Whatever your gifts, use them to glorify God. And whatever seat you are given in Heaven, it will be absolutely perfect. Our Lady of Victory parish is located at the 307 West Jefferson. The office is open weekday mornings (405-527-3077). Weekend mass services are Saturday, 5 p.m.; Sunday, 11 a.m.; and Sunday, 1 p.m. (Spanish). Daily masses are Tuesday, 9 a.m.; Wednesday, 12 noon; Thursday, 7 p.m. (Spanish), and Friday, 9 a.m. Peace be with you.

Green Avenue Church of Christ

The Wednesday evening worship was spent singing hymns and spiritual songs as is the usual practice on the fifth Wednesday evening of each month with five Wednesdays. The Sunday morning adult Bible class, continuing to study the subject of racism, compared and contrasted legitimate discernment with the favoritism or respecting of persons which the Bible condemns (Acts 10:34, James 2:9). During the Sunday morning assembly Keith Shackelford presented a lesson on prophets in the New Testament. It was noted that God set prophets in the church (1 Corinthians 12:28, Ephesians 4:11). The purpose of prophets in the early church was to teach and strengthen early Christians (Ephesians 4). The coming of false prophets was also predicted (Matthew 24:24; 1 John 4:1). The final point was that prophets are no longer needed in the church because we have the complete revealed word in written form (Jude 3; 1 Corinthians 13:8-10). The Sunday evening sermon began with the reading of Proverbs 11:30 which states that "...he who wins souls is wise. (NKJV)." The remainder of the sermon focused on the obligation of Christians to be engaged in winning souls for Christ and the preparation that is necessary to be successful in that endeavor. This requires maturity (Hebrews 5:12-14; Ephesians 4:11-16) and diligent preparation (2 Timothy 2:15). The church is located at the intersection of Jackson Street and Green Avenue in Purcell. Worship services are at 10:45 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. each Sunday with Bible classes at 9:45 Sunday morning and 7 p.m. each Wednesday evening. You can call the office at 527-4052 or email cofc_purcell@hotmail.com for correspondence courses or other information.

Lexington United Methodist Church

Our next Food Give Away will be this Saturday, October 16, from 12 to 4 p.m. We are still asking people to be cautious, since many have not been vaccinated and are in extra danger of contracting the Delta variant of COVID-19. As we continue in this time of pandemic guidance, we find that even being vaccinated doesn't stop us from passing the virus on to the unvaccinated, especially our children under the age of 12. Masks can be provided if you do not have one and wish to wear one. Hand sanitizer is also available. Remember that these steps will also help us to fight the "regular" flu. Flu season was estimated to begin October 1 and end March 1, 2022. So please get your regular flu shot in addition to a COVID-19 vaccination. Thank God that we were missed by the mesocyclonic storms earlier this week. Our neighbors in Norman as well as those in Anadarko and Chickasha were not so blessed. Similarly the northeastern part of our state and the other states to our northeast suffered storms. Please keep all of them in our prayers as they recover from these storms. Showing kindness to others seems to stay in my heart quite often. In particular, the turmoil over whether or not to wear a mask in crowds or whether we should get vaccinated by our own choice or by mandate has connection with kindness to our neighbors. When the pandemic first started last year, I had an appointment with my doctor around April or May. Everyone was required to wear a mask and to call before coming in the building. When I was in the examination room, my doctor and his nurse were also masked up. The doctor asked if I understood why I was wearing a mask. I'm sure I must have looked puzzled. I knew there were two parts to the answer: I was protecting myself, but also others. His surprising answer was that I was wearing a mask in order to protect him and the other health professionals, not necessarily just myself.

I chose to get the vaccine earlier this year because I didn't want to risk contracting COVID-19, a purely selfish reason. However, I also realized that by my being vaccinated, I was protecting other people. The longer this "plague" has gone on, we've been learning more about it. It has been pointed out that those who haven't been vaccinated have allowed the virus to continue to evolve and grow into new variants.

I understand not liking to be told what to do. But what if by choosing to follow these entreaties to get the shots for COVID-19 and even the "regular" flu we are showing kindness to the rest of our brothers and sisters?

Kindness is something that Jesus demonstrates to all of us.

How often did he accept those humans who were outcasts, the lepers, the demon-possessed, the Samaritans, the prostitutes, the tax collectors? God loves all of us, including those people, and God's son Jesus was the earthly example of God's mercy and kindness.

If we are to be true Christians, shouldn't we follow our leader in behaving as he did (and does)? And a simple way to do this is to show kindness and love to others.

We invite all of you to worship with us at 9:30 a.m. to see how we're different from other churches. Sunday school starts at 11 a.m. Our address is 631 East Ash, just west of Lexington High School. For more information, please call the church at (405) 527-3506 to leave a message, or contact Pastor David Cook directly at (405) 406-6174.

Lexington Westside Church of Christ

Good day to all: Welcome to the "front porch."

We need to finish this week with our talk about my grandfather's showing of a rare courage. As far as I know, Preacher Miller only faced death once in his preaching career, and that was during a gospel meeting up in the hills of Kentucky in the 1950s.

One night toward the end, he announced that he would preach a controversial sermon the next night. That next day, some of those rough Kentuckian farmers met him at his motel and warned him against preaching that sermon.

One big, strong fella sent him a warning by reaching out and bending his tie tack. Most everyone knew he always wore a tie, regardless of the time of day. Another bully pushed him down and threw a few snarling insults at him, and the preacher then sat in the dust watching as the men got into their car and sped off.

You couldn't keep Preacher Miller down long. He got up, dusted off his dark suit, then set himself for what he had to do. That night, the ol' country church was packed. Regular church members were not the only ones there, either. Many of the non-church townspeople were affiliated with the controversial organization the preacher had to speak about, so folks came from all around.

On the one side of that church that night were folks contrary to Preacher Miller's position. On the other side were those who were in favor. A sword divided.

"But both sides had one thing in common," Preacher Miller would later say, "They all were carryin' guns inside their jackets. And I knew they would not be afraid to use them."

Guns or no guns, the preacher had taken his stand, and it was too late to turn back. When the singing was done, Preacher Miller made his way to the pulpit just as he had done all that week – and the way he had done several thousand times in his fifty-plus years of preaching. He got to the pulpit, scanned that ravenous crowd, and bellowed out his sermon topic in that loud, raspy voice just as before, whether in peace or in war.

"Brothers, sisters, and friends," he began in his vintage style, "I may not walk out of this pulpit the same way I walked up here, but tonight, like I announced last evenin', I'm goin' to preach on somethin' many of you don't want me to preach."

Then he began the sermon he knew he might never finish. He preached – quoting scriptures as he went – and sweated for the better part of an hour. He always sweated when he preached and kept a white handkerchief handy, but I cannot help but think he sweated a bit more that night than usual.

He was a bit surprised that, through all of that dissertation, both sides of the building sat and listened without disturbance. No one pulled a gun, and the only commotion to speak of in the whole place was the preacher's shaking the rafters with the quoting of scriptures.

Perhaps his adversaries felt that if he had the courage to preach what he believed and if he could back it up with his Bible, they would let this one sermon slide.

When it was all said and done that night, he got in his car and began his drive back home to Grandma in Georgia.

"But that wasn't all there was to it," he would tell me many times through the years, "As I drove home down that dark Kentucky road, I kept my eye in my rear view mirror on half a dozen set of car lights behind me, makin' sure I got out of town. When I got to the Tennessee line," he said, with a slight sigh, "they all turned around and went on back home."

I am glad that, after his stand in Kentucky, the Lord saw fit to give that great Georgia preacher another four decades to preach. In the late 1980s he would finally take his last journey up to the pulpit to proclaim the gospel with that rare vigor, conviction, and courage. He had lived long, he had preached hard; and when he left town in December of 1989, it was one of the great giants of that generation who left us.

In over 100 years of her existence, LaGrange, Ga., undoubtedly, has had many great men pass her way, and great preachers. But, I am sure, none other ever preached to a church-house full of guns the way the old preacher had to do.

three yards out in the second period and the PAT was good.

Anchored by defensive linemen Rope Scott, Hayden Milner and Caleb Bruce, the Warriors kept CCS in check all night. The Royals could only muster 124 total offensive yards.

"And 82 of those yards came on their touchdown play," head coach Brad Beller said. "Outside of that one play, our defense played really, really well."

Washington registered 17 tackles for loss in the game.

"We proved we can win with defense in a big game," Beller said.

Linebacker Layne Spaulding once again led the tackling chart with 15 stops. Ben Vaughn had 10 tackles, Case Taylor eight stops and a pair of quarterback sacks while Milner made seven tackles including three for losses. Four of Bruce's five tackles were behind the line of scrimmage.

Beller said his linebacking corps did a good job on their blitzes and stunts making eight sacks on the night.

"We just made too many mistakes offensively that kept the game close," Beller continued.

Washington had holding penalties, blocks in the back, bad snaps, fumbles and an interception.

"We had just about everything," Beller said. "It was a group effort of playing bad. It was our worst offensive outing in the last five years."

Beller said his offensive line was bigger than CCS's defensive line but they were fast.

"Give CCS credit. They played fast and we didn't play as fast as we usually do."

Despite the offensive woes,

Scott rushed the ball 27 times for 124 yards and the six point run.

"He got a lot of those yards after contact sometimes in our backfield. I was pleased with his execution," the coach said.

The No. 2 ranked and undefeated Warriors travel to Lexington tonight (Thursday) for a 7 p.m. date with the 3-3 Bulldogs.

Beller said Lexington will operate out of a spread formation on offense and show multiple formations on the defensive side of the ball.

"They use some 4-3 and some 3-4," Beller said. "They are very multiple with their fronts on defense. We have to get back on track and control the game in the offensive line whether it is in pass protection or rushing the football."

"We've got to continue to eliminate the big plays. Last week we cut it to one. We need to cut it to zero," the coach said. "We can't have missed tackles or miscues to allow big plays."

Warrior notes:

Washington Head Coach Brad Beller nominated Ben Vaughn as the Defensive Player of the Week. Vaughn made 10 tackles against CCS, two for losses and registered one quarterback sack.

Nominated as the Defensive Lineman of the Week was Hayden Milner. He made seven tackles, including three for losses and had one sack.

Beller nominated Cole Scott as the Offensive Player of the Week for his 134 yards rushing including a touchdown, on 27 carries.

There was no nomination for Offensive Lineman of the Week.

Dragons:

Scott had the luxury of playing a bunch of younger players getting them valuable playing experience.

Freshman Boston Knowles broke a 91 yard scoring scamper to close out the scoring in the third quarter.

Purcell gained 57 yards on the ground while the Dragons amassed 373 total yards. Smith threw for 106 yards with Ochoa on the receiving end of 84 yards in the air while Mason gained 22 receiving yards.

Creed Smith led the tackling chart with eight stops including a sack for minus three yards and a hurry.

Angel Gaytan finished with seven tackles while Brodrick Smith had six tackles. Ochoa was in on five stops while Austin Burton, Kash Guthmueller, Purcell, Brody Holder, Tavian Engert and Adam Edelman all had four tackles.

Burton also had an interception against the Wolverines.

"Offensively I thought Payson and Creed both played well and the offensive line did a good job," head coach Tracy Scott said.

Those linemen include Brendan Bacon, Jace Clary, Carter Goldston, Mateo Ramirez and Jake Scott.

Tracy Scott pointed out the defensive play of Creed, Brodrick Smith, Ochoa, Zicorrie Davis and Edelman.

Brody Holder, Kevin Lawson, Tavian Engert and Bacon all drew rave reviews from the coach.

"As a whole pretty much everyone played okay. It was good to come out and get after the right from the start," Scott said. "We didn't let them hang on. It's nice to put people away."

That will be Purcell's goal Thursday night when they host Crooked Oak at 7 p.m.

The Ruf-Nex run the gambit from a Pro I formation to double tight ends and a one back set.

They will line up in a 4-3 on defense and play man coverage in the back end, Scott said.

Dragon notes:

Purcell Head Coach Tracy Scott nominated Tavian Engert as the Defensive Lineman of the Week for his four tackle effort against Holdenville.

Scott nominated Creed Smith as the Defensive Player of the Week. He registered eight tackles, had one quarterback sack and had one hurry on the Wolverine signal caller.

Crooked Oak vs. Purcell

Payson Purcell was nominated as the Offensive Player of the Week. He gained 57 yards on the ground and scored two rushing touchdowns against Holdenville.

Offensive line coach Kurt Gray nominated Jake Scott as the Offensive Lineman of the Week. Scott graded out at 90 percent against Holdenville.

Wayne:

"Kaleb is getting better and better at corner," Sharp said. "He locks on the team's best receiver every week and he's stuck on an island out there. Healdton tested him and he got two picks. He needs to keep improving because in these next few weeks he'll be playing some big-time players."

Brannon Lewelling again led the team with eight tackles. Maddox Mantooth continued his strong play along the interior defensive line and registered six tackles, plus forced a fumble.

"Maddox keeps playing really well from his shade position," Sharp said.

Kevin Bynum had four tackles and two sacks at defensive end.

Issac Hill had four tackles and forced a fumble.

"He's a sophomore and is really coming on," Sharp said. "He has a chance to be really good."

Ethan Mullins tallied three tackles and recovered a fumble.

"We feel like if our offense sputters our defense can help us out," Sharp said. "It will keep me from trying to force something with my play calling."

Off night

The Wayne offense was uncharacteristically flat Friday night.

"We weren't as motivated as we've been the rest of the season," Sharp said. "It was our worst blocking night across the board. We didn't finish drives and put the ball into the end zone like we're used to."

Mullins scored Wayne's first touchdown in the opening quarter on a run of seven yards and the point-after attempt by Adolfo Vasquez was good.

Lewelling added another touchdown in the first on a 25-yard run.

"Brannon was a beast on offense and was breaking tackles all over the place," Sharp said.

Lewelling finished the night with 139 yards on 12 carries.

Mullins scored two more touchdowns – a seven-yard run in the third and a one-yard plunge in the fourth.

He had 202 yards on 26 carries and three touchdowns. Mullins also had 36 yards passing on four attempts, including a crucial pass to Madden for a critical first down.

"Healdton had a good game plan and they played really well against us," Sharp said. "We had to earn what we got. We've gotten spoiled."

Dibble

Up next is Dibble (3-3) on Thursday night at D.S. Zack Powell Stadium for a 7 p.m. kickoff against the Demons.

"They are really good and very athletic," Sharp said. Dibble runs a 4-3 defensive scheme and gives offenses problems with slants and changing what their linebackers do.

"The slanting will make us work hard," Sharp said.

Offensively Dibble will try to outflank defenses by running the same plays out of a lot of different formations.

"This is the part of the season we've been waiting for," Sharp said. "It should be fun. Our energy will be better Thursday."

Notes

Wayne head coach Brandon Sharp nominated Brannon Lewelling for Heart of Oklahoma Offensive Player of the Week. The senior rushed for 139 yards and scored one touchdown.

Sharp's nominee for Heart of Oklahoma Defensive Player of the Week was Kaleb Madden. He had two interceptions.

The nomination for Heart of Oklahoma Defensive Lineman of the Week was Maddox Mantooth and Kevin Bynum. Mantooth registered six tackles and forced a fumble. Bynum had four tackles and two sacks.

Wayne senior night is this Thursday at 6:30 p.m. Kickoff will follow at 7 p.m.

Wayne is 6-0 this season.

Case No. PB-2021-113
SECOND AMENDED COMBINED NOTICE
TO CREDITORS AND NOTICE OF HEARING

TO: All persons interested in the Estate of Roy D. Rowlett, also known as Roy Dean Rowlett, also known as Roy Rowlett, deceased:

You are hereby notified that on the 29th day of September, 2021 the Petitioner, Becky Lyn LaMascus, filed in the District Court McClain County, State of Oklahoma, a Petition for Summary Administration, Appointment of Special Administrator, Determination of Heirs, Waiver of Final Account and Distribution of Estate. The Petitioner has alleged that Roy D. Rowlett, age 77, died on August 2, 2014, domiciled in and residing at Maysville, Oklahoma, leaving an estate consisting of real property in the State of Oklahoma. The Petitioner has asked this Court to appoint her Special Administrator, determine the heirs of the decedent and order summary proceedings pursuant to 58 O.S. § 245, et seq.

In an Order for Combined Notice entered herein, the Court found that it should dispense with the regular estate proceedings prescribed by law and order notice to creditors and issue an order for hearing upon the Petition for Summary Administration, Appointment of Special Administrator, Determination of Heirs, Waiver of Final Account and Distribution of Estate.

The names, ages and last known addresses of the heirs of the decedent, so far as known to the Petitioner, are as follows:

| Name | Age | Last-known Address | Relationship to decedent |

| Lori Denise Rowlett Smith | Adult | 508 S. Robberson Ave. Wynnewood, OK 73098 | Daughter |

and that there are no pretermitted heirs of Roy D. Rowlett as far as is known to the Petitioner.

Pursuant to the Order for Combined Notice, all creditors having claims against Roy D. Rowlett, deceased, are required to present same, with a description of all security interest and other collateral, if any, held by each creditor with respect to such claim, to the Petitioner, Becky Lyn LaMascus, c/o Robertson & Williams, 9658 N. May Avenue, Suite 200, Oklahoma City, OK 73120, on or before the 30th day of October, 2021, or the same will be forever barred.

Notice is hereby given that a hearing will be held on the 18th day of November, 2021, at 9:30 a.m. at the McClain County Courthouse, Purcell, Oklahoma before Judge Charles N. Gray. At the hearing the Court will decide whether to approve the Petition for Summary Administration, Appointment of Special Administrator, Determination of Heirs, Waiver of Final Account and Distribution of Estate of the Petitioner.

You are hereby advised that you must file objections to the Petition for Summary Administration, Appointment of Special Administrator, Determination of Heirs, Waiver of Final Account and Distribution of Estate before the hearing and send a copy to the Petitioner's attorney, Robertson & Williams, 9658 N. May Ave., Suite 200, Oklahoma City, OK 73120, or you will be deemed to have waived any objections. If you have no objections, you need not appear at the hearing or make any filings with the Court.

If an objection is filed before the hearing, the Court will determine at the hearing whether summary proceedings are appropriate and, if so, whether the estate will be distributed and to whom the estate will be distributed.

Pauls Valley Opry performers brilliant

Last Saturday, the heavens seemed to drop the most brilliant of stars into the Pauls Valley High School Auditorium and onto the stage of the Pauls Valley Opry. Truly, it was one of the most memorable nights at the Opry!

It's been too long since we have seen the "Country Gentleman" Rodney Jones. Rodney is a multi-award-winning vocalist from Edmond and it was great having him back home in Pauls Valley.

Rodney crooned his way back into everyone's heart with the George Strait classic, "I Cross My Heart" and rocked the house with the Garth Brooks megahit, "The Thunder Rolls."

When Cathy Lake crosses that ole Red River to visit us here at the Pauls Valley Opry, we know we are in for a treat. Cathy is an exceptional singer, songwriter, musician and that was evident when she sang the Kim Richie hit, "Those Words We Said."

Cathy also thrilled us with the Rosanne Cash version of "Tennessee Flattop Box" and other numbers throughout the night.

When it comes to singing Country Music from the lady's point of view, nobody can sing like Annie Reed. Annie melted everyone's heart with the Trisha Yearwood hit, "Make You Feel My Love."

There wasn't a dry eye in the house. Annie got us ready to two-step with the Dawn Sears classic, "Someone Had to Teach You."

We affectionately refer to Wiley Winters as the "Gentle Giant" of the Pauls Valley Opry. While it's true that he is blessed with an amazing voice and gift of song, he also has a tender heart.

Wiley was on his game when he sang the "Ricky Van Shelton hit, "Statue of a Fool" and then he pulled at our heart strings with his version of "My Woman, My Wife."

It is no wonder why he has won almost every award in Oklahoma Country Music including being the Pauls Valley Opry's Male Vocalist of the Year as well as Entertainer of the Year!

Missy Rude is all of that and a bag of chips! Not only did Missy fill in on background vocals, she was a featured guest. Whether Missy is singing a gospel song, crooning a country song or belting out a Motown hit, Missy can cross the "T's and dot the 'I's'!

Missy lit up the crowd with the Kathy Mattea hit, "Eighteen Wheels and a Dozen Roses" and then she kicked into overdrive with the Linda Ronstadt smash hit, "Heat Wave."

When you thought that this night could not have been any better, Missy and Wiley teamed up on the David Crowder worship song, "All My Hope." It was a welcoming and refreshing moment at the Pauls Valley Opry, giving glory to our Savior, Jesus Christ.

We are so pleased to have John Williams, Pauls Valley Opry Hall of Fame Member, as emcee. John always does a great job at keeping the show moving and taking care of the business side of the show, but he is also a very gifted entertainer, vocalist and musician.

So, John being the typical entertainer that he is - stepped out to the mic and busted into the Alan Jackson hit, "Pop a Top Again" knocking it through the uprights.

As always, the Memory Makers band added to the mix, performing selections from such artists as Tanya Tucker, America, Brooks & Dunn, the Blues Brothers and Shenandoah.

Please join us next month on Saturday, November 6, when our guests will be Tanner Young, Dea Newsom, Paul Lopez, Donna Kilmurray, Terry Wilson, Haylie Bagwell and introducing Maddox Ross. We'll see you at the Opry!
