WARSAW — A retired Kansas City fire chief and his wife have opened a wine bistro and restaurant along with a campground, 5 miles north of Warsaw. Gene Gould said when he retired as a fire chief, he came to the lake area of Warsaw to begin a construction company but his true dream was to open a winery and campground. He added his wife, Casandra, is the director of operations for several nursing homes across the state of Missouri. Together they opened Benton Ridge Winery and Campground a few days before Memorial Day. Although Benton Ridge isn't making its wine yet, Gould said there are plans to begin to do so in 2022. There are 105 camping sites on the 31-acre property plus the restaurant/bistro. He noted he has acquired an additional 40 acres to the north and plans to add an area for winemaking along with an additional 125 to 200 campsites.

Pettis County Joint Communications now operational

By Democrat Staff

The Pettis County Commission announced that as of Wednesday, Pettis County Joint Communications (PCJC) is now the primary operational emergency Public Safety Answering Point for Pettis County, consolidating the efforts between the Sedalia Police Department and Pettis County Sheriff's Office communications units.

A news release states that while the primary function of PCJC is to process emergency or 911 calls for service, it also processes and handles non-emergency requests for police, fire, and medical service under nationally accepted protocols. If you are experiencing an emergency, dial 911. The non-emergency number for PCJC is 660-826-8100. Pettis County Sheriff Brad Anders posted on his official Facebook page this week to let citizens know that the sheriff's office phone number, 660-827-0052, is still active but his office can no longer dispatch police services from that phone number. After 5 p.m., people calling the sheriff's office will hear a message advising them to call 660-826-8100 for dispatch or 911 for an emergency.

New school year underway at Northwest

By Ryan Sheehan
ryans@sedaliademocrat.com

Tuesday marked the first day of school for the Pettis County R-V (Northwest) School District. "It's fabulous," Northwest Superintendent Amy Fagg said on Tuesday. "The first day of school is the best day of the year. It's amazing. I love it when the kids are back in (the) building. And they're here, excited, nervous, wonderful." She explained it's the "anticipation" that makes the first day of school the best. "It's a clean slate," Fagg noted. "... Anything is possible on the first day... It is the absolute best."

According to Fagg, the first day of school is her favorite day of the year. "This year is a little bit different (from last year) because even though COVID still leaves everyone a little unsure," she said. "I think we've dealt with it and handled it long enough that we're starting to know that this is something that as long as we work together we can figure it out. If you have to be gone because you're in quarantine or something, we'll get it taken care of... we've done this before, we can handle it..." Fagg explained Northwest has a mask optional policy for this school year, though masks are required for school buses.

State opens infusion clinic for COVID at Bothwell

By Chris Howell
chrish@sedaliademocrat.com

Bothwell Regional Health Center now has a clinic to provide monoclonal antibody infusions thanks to the Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services. Pettis County was chosen with Jackson, Scott, Butler and Jefferson counties for the infusion treatment centers. The centers will be open for 30 days following Gov. Mike Parson's Aug. 11 announcement that $15 million would be committed for the establishment of the monoclonal antibody infusion stations across Missouri. "As the Delta variant continues to spread across the state and pose serious health risks to unvaccinated Missourians, our state teams are continuing to do everything possible to provide support and save lives," Parson said in a news release. "It is our hope that these infusion centers will help relieve hospital strain and health care worker fatigue as we move forward with our efforts to get more Missourians vaccinated. Just as we have done from the beginning, we will continue to work with our partners to identify resource needs and respond to this virus." The state contract with SLSCO of Galveston, Texas, is estimated to treat around 4,000 patients over the 30-day period across the state. Monoclonal antibodies are proteins that help patients fight COVID-19 and reduce the risk of severe disease and hospitalization in high-risk patients if administered soon after diagnosis. SFCC Board of Trustees accepts Anderson's resignation

ryans@sedaliademocrat.com

The State Fair Community College Board of Trustees accepted the resignation of SFCC President Dr. Joanna Anderson during Thursday afternoon's meeting. Anderson will continue to serve as president through June 2022. According to the agenda, this is Anderson's ninth year as SFCC's president and her 36th year in community college leadership. As she motioned to accept Anderson's resignation, Board Vice President Patty Wood noted she did so with reluctance and with big thanks. "Know that the community is behind you..." Wood told Anderson, noting she met five people that day who wished Anderson well and knew the difference she made in their community and the lives of their students. "So, we thank you," she added. Anderson said she tells everyone there is still a lot of work to be done for this year. "We're not celebrating yet," she noted. Later during the meeting, Anderson said she plans to put family first, which took a backseat at times during her professional career. The meeting began with an Institutional Report presented by SFCC Foundation Executive Director Mary Treuner. According to Treuner, during fiscal year 2022, the Foundation will give more than $282,000 in endowment scholarships to the financial aid office to be dispersed to SFCC students. The Foundation gave out $266,092 last year. Of the scholarship funds, Treuner explained $188,745 was used last year. "This happens yearly," Treuner said of the $77,347 in scholarships that were not used. "It's no fault of someone in a position at the college... sometimes the scholarship has too much restrictions in it..." "So, we're moving in the right direction," she continued. "Unfortunately, it is news I have to provide every year. It's not news that I like to provide..." She added the unused funds go right back into the endowed scholarship. See SFCC | 4A

Area residents win in vaccine lottery

JEFFERSON CITY — Gov. Mike Parson announced the winners of the first drawing of the MO VIP on Wednesday, Aug. 25, which includes several area residents.

Nevaeh Riddell, of Knob Noster, Adam Howe, of Warsaw, and Judith Perkins, of Clinton, won a cash prize and Logan Mumby, of Warrensburg, won a scholarship.

At the time of the Aug. 13 drawing, a total of 495,296 MO VIP entries were received.

The MO VIP incentivizes vaccination for those who have not yet been vaccinated, as well as provides an opportunity for rewards for the more than 3 million Missourians who have already made the decision to be protected through vaccination.

Of the 180 winners randomly selected in the first of the program’s five drawings, 170 have been fully verified.

The remaining 10 have until 5 p.m. Friday to complete the necessary documentation to verify their identity and vaccination status, or the prizes will be preliminarily awarded to an alternate.

Confirmed MO VIP winners can now be found at MOSTopsCovid.com/win.

“We congratulate these 180 Missourians, not only for winning this drawing but more importantly for stepping up to do the right thing and choosing to get vaccinated,” Parson said. “The vaccines are proven to be safe, effective and the best resource available to prevent serious illness from COVID-19. Vaccination is how we protect ourselves and those we care for from this virus. We have seen vaccine uptake increase since this program began.”

More than 400,000 doses have been administered by state-enrolled providers since the launch of MO VIP.

With state and federal vaccination data combined, 61% of Missouri’s eligible population (12 and up) has now initiated vaccination.

Anyone who has received at least one dose of a COVID-19 vaccine by the deadline can enter at any time for the drawings at MOSTopsCovid.com.

Each of the five drawings will generate 180 winners, for a total of 900 winners overall.

A cash prize of $10,000 will be awarded to a total of 800 adults and 100 adolescents, aged 12 to 17, will win an education savings account through the Missouri State Treasurer’s MOST 529 program in the amount of $10,000.

Once a Missourian enters, their entry will be carried over through all the drawings. There is no need to enter more than once. The entry list will be reviewed and duplicate entries will be removed prior to each drawing.

All winners will all have their vaccination status verified.

Official rules, frequently asked questions and a program timeline are available at MOSTopsCovid.com/win.

Those without the ability to enter the sweepstakes online can get assistance by calling the COVID-19 hotline from 7:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. Monday-Friday at 877-435-8411.

Get the facts about COVID-19 vaccines, and find a vaccine near you at MOSTopsCovid.com.

PASTOR’S PULPIT

Harvesting our vast mission field

By Associate Pastor Jonathan Wallenbeck

Calvary Baptist Church, Sedalia

Once again it is time for school to begin. As our children go back to school, all kinds of thoughts are going through our minds about how to keep our children safe. With COVID-19 and its variants still out there, there are many difficult decisions to be made.

This column is not about whether you should send your children to school or not, nor how you should deal with COVID-19. Each person must weigh all the facts very carefully and then make a well-informed decision. However, I want to spend my time talking about how you can be the best example on your mission field; the field where God has placed you and your children.

This past week and a half, I had the opportunity to attend the Missouri State Fair, working the Missouri Baptist Tent. While working the tent, one of our AWANA kids, a 10-year-old, had the opportunity to share her testimony with a family. She was scared but wanted to let others know how much her Savior, Jesus Christ, had affected her life. As she shared, this family’s daughter was moved to ask Jesus Christ into her life.

Jesus told us to go and make disciples. He said, “Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you. And behold, I am with you always, to the end of the age” (Matt. 28:19-20, ESV). By sharing her faith, this is what this young lady did. Saturday the Calvary youth served in the Missouri Baptist Tent, also sharing how Christ has changed their lives, seeing God change 18 people’s lives.

This school year each person who is born again has a mission field, they have the opportunity to share how Christ has made a difference in their life. Before the Lord Jesus ascended into heaven He said, “you will receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you shall be My witnesses both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and even to the remotest part of the earth” (Acts 1:8, NASB 1995). You might not be able to go far away, or even to another state, but everyone can share their faith, the Gospel of Jesus Christ with someone they meet every day.

For each young person, those in school, their mission field is vast, the opportunities are immense, and there are many avenues for them to share their faith with others. They can share through conversations with others, they can share by how they respond to different situations and their interactions in class and with other students. They can also share within the organizations they decided to join or the sports they play. The Fellowship of Christian Students will begin meeting Fridays at 7:50 a.m. in the commons at the high school. This group meets for prayer, Bible Study and support of Christian values. It is an outstanding group to be part of and a great way to start your day. If you want to share your faith, invite a friend to join you.

Parents, encourage your young people to be faithful every day, to share their faith everywhere they go. The best way you can do this is by being an example. Have daily devotions, spend time in prayer with the family and then model sharing your faith with others so your children will have an example to follow. Seeing this, they too will want to share their faith with others, knowing they have your support.

A.W. Tozer wrote in his book “The Crucified Life,” “When you walk out your faith each day at work in a godly fashion, you’ll find that God will arrive before you do and show you the next step to take.” Paul echoed, “For we walk by faith and not by sight” (2 Corinthians 4:7), therefore, it is through our faith we share the gospel with others, not to please men but to please God, always in His power (1 Corinthians 2:5).

Thus, let us remember this school season, we are on the mission field, it is vast, and ready to be harvested. Jesus said, “The harvest is plentiful, but the laborers are few; therefore, pray earnestly to the Lord of the harvest to send out laborers into his harvest” (Matthew 9:37-38, ESV). Share the Gospel with someone today.

Treuner listed several Foundation events scheduled, including a blood drive on Sept. 10 at Our Savior Lutheran Church, describing it as an employee and student-focused event.

The Board set the Ad Valorem property tax rate for 2021 at the permissible amount of $0.3972 per $100 of assessed valuation; last year’s rate was $0.4044.

The Board approved changing the legal name of the district from The Junior College District of Sedalia, Missouri to The Community College District of Mid-Missouri. As the agenda noted, this action will not change the college’s name for doing business, State Fair Community College.

The trustees approved a new faculty position for program design and instruction of Heating, Ventilation and Air Conditioning. They also approved the sole source purchase of two Coordinate Measuring Machine (CMM) hardware/software/training packages for $80,000 from Hexagon Manufacturing Intelligence of Chicago, Illinois.

According to Anderson, the Lamm House on campus is planned to be demolished before the winter.

Keith Acuff, Vice President of Finance and Administration, told the Board that SFCC’s enrollment is a bit behind last year and is a little behind where the school was budgeting.

“This all occurred literally within the last few days prior to the semester...” he said.

According to Acuff, the COVID-19 pandemic may have caused people not to enroll, as occurred last year.

“So, we’re monitoring that,” he noted. “We’re monitoring what our case will be for (the spring semester)...”

He said the Board should not get too concerned about expenses right now, adding the school’s tuition, fees and enrollment are being monitored.

During the Board’s discussion, Trustee Richard Parker recommended that the college continue to monitor President Joe Biden’s proposal for free community college tuition.

“That proposal has some positives and negatives,” he said.

Parked noted the Board should have some contact with their federal legislators to point out the positives and negatives of the proposal.

Anderson agreed and explained the proposal would be a topic of discussion when she and Board President Randy Eaton go to the 2021 Association of Community College Trustees (ACCT) Leadership Congress in October.

The next regular meeting will be at 4 p.m. Sept. 23 at Thompson Conference Center. The Fall 2021 Board of Trustees Retreat will be Sept. 16 at the Lake of the Ozarks Campus.

According to Fagg, the school still has many of the same things that were in place last year due to COVID-19, such as additional cleaning and sending a checklist to parents to see if their child has any COVID symptoms. The attendance policy has changed, with students no longer being penalized for being quarantined or staying home when feeling sick.

“Part of our effort to work with people, with parents... so our attendance policies have changed to reflect that,” she added.

Because the school district is small and only has one building, Fagg said keeping kids 3 feet apart isn’t an issue. She explained students need to be 3 feet apart for social distancing, with it being 6 feet apart for adults.

“So, keeping our students 3 feet apart isn’t that difficult for us because we’re so small... where it’s like for Sedalia, that’s difficult, maybe they just cannot,” she said. “We have the ability to do that, so we do.”

The Sedalia School District 200, which is set to start classes next Wednesday, has a mask mandate for its students and staff.

“Well, at this point in time, we feel like we can have our students in school and have masks optional, and still put all those other protocols into place and have students be able to come to school, mask optional, and it not be a problem,” Fagg said. “We didn’t feel that we had to have the mask requirement in place in order for students to be able to come to school.”

Fagg noted this is also the district’s second year with a four-day week schedule. In addition, like other school districts, she explained Northwest has received additional federal funds. According to Fagg, the vast majority of the funds are being used to make upgrades for curriculum materials, which include online materials.

She noted the district’s curriculum material is usually updated one piece at a time in order to afford it, but due to these funds, all of the material is being renewed. With these monies, she added the district has also hired additional staff.

Fagg explained all of their positions at the school are filled, which she thinks is rare.

“We’re actually in really good shape now, who knows how that’ll continue...” she added. “We’re short on substitute teachers, that’s really where we’re the shortest. We just have a very short list of substitute teachers.”

According to Fagg, while everyone has experienced the first day of school as a child, it’s just different for a teacher or an adult working at the school.

“It’s amazing to see the children come in, their excitement,” she said. “They want to be cool, so maybe sometimes they don’t act excited.”

Fagg described the excitement and energy as being palpable.

“You can almost feel it on that first day of school, it’s an amazing experience,” she added.

Fagg explained she is looking forward to having her students back all year long again and is hoping the school can avoid students being quarantined in groups like last year.

“Having the students here learning, teaching and learning, that’s what I look forward to every year,” she said.

STATE BRIEF

First-degree murder charge filed in death of 4-year-old boy

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — A woman has been indicted on a first-degree murder charge in the death of a 4-year-old boy she was babysitting in Jefferson City.

Quatavia Givens was previously charged with second-degree murder and other counts after Darnell Gray died in her care in October 2018.

A grand jury returned the new charges on Wednesday, Jefferson City police said in a news release. Besides first-degree murder, Givens is charged with child abuse or neglect, endangering the welfare of a child and abandonment of a corpse.

Givens reported the boy missing while she was babysitting him in Jefferson City. She told police he might have been abducted, prompting a week of searches before his body was found. An autopsy found he died of blunt force trauma.

Givens was free on bond. After the new charges were filed, she was arrested in St. Charles and returned to Jefferson City, where she is being held without bond at the Cole County jail.

He said since grapes take five to seven years to mature, he plans to purchase grapes for manufacturing Benton Ridge wine.

“Right now, we serve about 125 different foreign and domestic wines,” Gould said. “And then soon to be our own.”

He added the food served at the bistro/restaurant is not commercially fried.

“We have baked goods and all-baked meals,” he explained. “All homemade.”

All the food served is baked in the oven.

“It’s more convenient,” he said of baking the food. “And you know there is a healthy element in there.”

They also serve an assortment of salads, fruits, appetizers, and entrees such as Philly cheesesteak sandwiches, hamburgers, burritos and thin-crust pizza. Homemade pies are also available.

“Besides the wine, we also offer a full-service bar,” he noted. “With beer and cocktails of all sorts.”

Gould said wine favorites lean toward the sweet side.

“Probably our best sellers are Italian Moscato,” he noted. “Peach and berry-flavored Italian Moscato are probably the preference, especially among the ladies, and especially in summer.”

“Food favorites are probably the pizza and mushrooms,” he continued. “(The mushrooms) are filled with cheese, and bacon, and onion and all the good stuff people like on their taste buds.”

He added he made a menu change recently and added a couple of additional Italian and Mexican dishes.

Benton Ridge features indoor as well as outdoor dining. Indoors there’s room for about 100 people and room for an additional 20 to 30 on the patio. It also offers free live music from 7 to 10 p.m. Friday and Saturday. On Friday, a local duet, Colt ‘n Rachel, will perform and the Whiskey Blend Band of Kansas City will play Saturday.

Benton Ridge Winery and Campground, 25518 Fitzpatrick Ave. (5 miles north of Warsaw) is open from noon to 8 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday, from noon to midnight Friday, from 8 a.m. to midnight Saturday and from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Sunday.

Monoclonal antibodies are proteins that can help your body fight off COVID-19 and reduce the risk of severe disease and hospitalization – if administered to high-risk patients soon after diagnosis. These antibodies mimic the immune system’s ability to fight off harmful viruses like SARS-CoV-2, and they attack the virus and reduce its ability to spread through your body.

The SLS-run infusion clinics will take some of the strain off hospitals during the current rise of COVID patients.

“They bring their own supplies in,” said Bothwell Chief Nursing Officer Rose McMullin. “All their equipment, all their staff, all the documentation, everything is them. All we are doing is supplying the space.”

Parson’s funding will not only provide for the infusion centers but will give money for additional staff through the 30-day period.

“In order to determine how much funding each hospital got they went off how many beds they had,” said Lisa Irwin, Bothwell’s Human Resources Director. “Bothwell is eligible for $100,000 worth of contract staff through this funding assistance.”

The $100,000 in contract staff funding will cover one critical care unit registered nurse and one medical-surgical registered nurse for just under one month.

“The governor was hopeful that whenever we received this contract staff we would extend them with this agency,” Irwin said, “but we will not be doing that because of the cost.”

Starting Wednesday, the infusion centers will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. seven days a week for the next month.

“They are very organized, and they’ve been wonderful to deal with,” said Bothwell CEO Lori Wightman. “They started arriving Sunday and their supplies arrived Monday. They are such a godsend to us because we were trying to cobble together staffing to do 10 or 15 infusions a day. So, I’m in the process of making sure all my colleagues in Warrensburg, Marshall, Clinton, are aware of this infusion center so they can refer their patients.”

Chris Howell can be reached at 660-530-0146.

In his post, Anders said that in a few weeks once the office’s VOIP phone system is complete, the 660-827-0052 number will automatically transfer to dispatch after 5 p.m.

In-person reporting at the sheriff’s office is still available 24 hours a day.

“There will be bumps in the road, without a doubt. Bear with us as we complete this transition,” Anders wrote in his post. “The dispatchers at joint communications have already proven to be wonderful and extremely professional. I am confident this is going to be a benefit for all.”

STATE BRIEF

Man suspected in machete attack previously fired crossbow

HILLSBORO, Mo. (AP) — An eastern Missouri man being sought for an attack with a machete had a previous conviction for firing a crossbow and assault rifle at an acquaintance.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch reports that 31-year-old Ted Treece of High Ridge was charged in at-large warrants Wednesday with first-degree assault and armed criminal action. He has no listed attorney.

Police say Treece on Tuesday hit a man with a machete inside a convenience store in House Springs. The victim was not badly injured.

Court records show that Treece was convicted and placed on probation for firing a crossbow and an AR-15 rifle at an acquaintance he accused of damaging his car in 2018. The man suffered a hand injury.

Treece was accused last month of a probation violation. He also was charged in May with a domestic assault.

An arrest warrant says Treece is a persistent offender with four felony convictions.

Standing pat: Pac-12 decides it will not explore expansion

By Ralph D. Russo

AP College Football Writer

The Pac-12 said Thursday it will stand pat with its membership and not look to expand the 12-team conference, making it highly unlikely that the Big 12 schools being left behind by Texas and Oklahoma will find new Power Five homes.

The announcement comes two days after the Pac-12, Atlantic Coast Conference and Big Ten pledged to work together on governance issues and scheduling agreements in football and basketball.

The formation of a three-conference alliance came a little less than a month after the Southeastern Conference invited Texas and Oklahoma to join the league in 2025. The move would coincide with the end of the Big 12's current television contract.

With Pac-12 expansion off the board, and both the ACC and Big Ten stating publicly that they are content with their current membership, the eight remaining Big 12 schools appear to have limited options beyond sticking together.

"The decision by Texas and Oklahoma led to significant instability in college athletics and I don't think instability is good for college athletics, particularly given all the other issues that are facing us right now," Pac-12

Commissioner George Kliavkoff told The Associated Press. "I think you heard my colleagues in the ACC and Big Ten agree with that position that we need to bring a stability back to college athletics."

The past few months have brought a wave of significant events in college sports, from a stinging Supreme Court ruling in an antitrust case to the advent of college athletes as paid sponsors.

Meanwhile, the NCAA is in the process of sweeping reform as it tries to redefine its mission and there is a proposal in the pipeline to expand the College Football Playoff from four to 12 teams.

The SEC's move to add OU and Texas led to widespread speculation that it could trigger a wave of conference realignment across the rest of the Power Five.

Titans' outbreak now at 9; QB Ryan Tannehill on COVID list

By Teresa M. Walker

AP Pro Football Writer

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Tennessee general manager Jon Robinson made a plea Thursday for people to get the "life-saving" COVID-19 vaccination as the Titans' virus outbreak grew to nine including quarterback Ryan Tannehill.

"We've had two people that I know personally that have lost loved ones over the last couple of days to COVID from symptoms and complications," Robinson said. "And it's a lifesaving vaccine."

Robinson said Tannehill, tight end Geoff Swaim and linebacker Justin March-Lillard joined four other players on the reserve/COVID-19 list. Tannehill practiced Tuesday and talked to reporters afterward.

That makes three Titans starters out. Coach Mike Vrabel revealed Thursday afternoon on a Zoom session with reporters that special teams coordinator Craig Aukerman also has been affected, missing the past two days of work, and likely missing Saturday night's preseason finale against Chicago (1-1).

The Titans GM said the team is close to being either 97% or 98% vaccinated or with antibodies present, indicating a person recently or previously had COVID-19. Tannehill said at the start of training camp that he was in the process of being vaccinated.

Vrabel announced Sunday that he had tested positive for COVID-19 a day after the Titans beat Tampa Bay 34-3 in Florida following two days of joint practices with the Bucs. He later received monoclonal antibodies treatment.

He said Thursday he is proud of the team's vaccination rate and that being vaccinated appears to have helped ease symptoms both for himself and Tennessee players.

"It is important because there is no fail safe," Vrabel said. "We've proven that. All we can try to do is maximize our ability to stay safe, to function as a team, to keep our families safe, to do our jobs and do them well."

New England leads MLS going into final 2 months

By Anne M. Peterson

AP Sports Writer

The New England Revolution are the surprising, or maybe not so surprising, leaders in Major League Soccer heading into the post-All-Star Game stretch run.

The once-struggling Revs have won 15 games, more than any other team, and lead the Supporters' Shield race by seven points. They're currently riding a nine-game unbeaten streak.

New England also leads the league in goals with 44 — including 11 in the last four games — and assists with 46.

It's quite an improvement after years of finishing in the bottom half of the standings. The Revs haven't finished better than fifth in the Eastern Conference since 2014, when they were the runners-up.

New England (15-3-4) has turned around in the past two-plus seasons under coach Bruce Arena, who was hired as head coach in May 2019 after Brad Friedel was dismissed.

Arena, a Hall of Famer who has coached teams to five MLS titles, took the Revs to the playoffs in his first season, ending a three-year postseason drought.

In the coronavirus-shortened season last year, New England earned a play-in spot and advanced to the semifinals before losing to the eventual MLS CUP champion Columbus Crew.

So maybe the recent success isn't all that much of a surprise — rather a progression. One of the league's original teams, New England has never won the MLS Cup title.

If they want that trophy, the Revs just have to keep it up.

"It's the second half of the season, teams kind of know obviously where they are in the standings, you've either got to make up points or you got to hold on to the points and the positions where you're at," Revolution defender Andrew Farrell said. "Largely, I think we've done a good job this season where we've gotten a lot of points. But we obviously need to keep going and keep improving."

Arena said the fact the Revolution have some "points in the bank" during this part of the season is positive. New England has

Polanco hears cheers amid 8-run rally, Bucs beat Cards 11-7

Pittsburgh Pirates' Colin Moran runs the bases after hitting a two-run home run off St. Louis Cardinals starting pitcher Miles Mikolas during the third inning of a baseball game, Thursday, Aug. 26, 2021, in Pittsburgh.

By John Perrotto

Associated Press

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Gregory Polanco turned boos into cheers with the decisive two-run double during an eight-run seventh inning and the Pittsburgh Pirates rallied for an 11-7 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals on Thursday night.

Polanco's double put the Pirates ahead for good at 9-7 and was one of six straight hits off reliever Genesis Cabrera.

Down 7-3 going into the seventh, the Pirates tied it with two-run singles by Bryan Reynolds and Wilmer Difo. Polanco then one-hopped the left-center field wall with his double before pinch-hitter Yoshi Tsutsugo capped the outburst with a two-run home run.

The Cardinals led 7-1 midway through the third inning.

Polanco has been booed regularly at PNC Park recently. He entered Thursday hitting .205 and made a pivotal error in a loss to Arizona on Wednesday night.

The highest-paid player on the team with an $11.6 million salary, Polanco was placed on waivers last weekend but went unclaimed. The 29-year-old said prior to Thursday's game that he was saddened by the treatment he was getting from fans.

"It's tough. It's not nice," Polanco said. "They have to understand that I'm a human being, too. This is my work. This is my job. I don't want to do bad. I eat because of baseball. That's how I get paid, so I want to do great every time. That's not nice to hear that, the fans like, 'Oh, release him. DFA him. Send him back.'"

Polanco had three of the Pirates' 17 hits in helping last-place Pittsburgh win for the fifth time in seven games. Polanco doubled twice.

Michael Chavis had the second four-hit game of his career, the other coming with Boston in 2019 as a rookie. Colin Moran also had four hits, including a two-run homer in the fourth off Cardinals starter Miles Mikolas. Difo added three hits.

That’s the ticket: Move from paper to digital divides fans

By Eric Olson
AP College Football Writer

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — John Fey was rummaging through a box of old scrapbooks this summer when he came upon a couple lost treasures.
At the bottom of the box, detached from the page they were once glued to, were ticket stubs from Nebraska’s 1971 “Game of the Century” win against Oklahoma and the Cornhuskers’ 1984 Orange Bowl loss to Miami.
Those games are still regarded among the greatest in college football history and those stubs were proof Fey was at both.
“I had flashbacks. Big-time flashbacks,” the 68-year-old from Plattsmouth, Nebraska, said.

For people who keep them, ticket stubs can spark memories of being at a big game in person, cheering on a favorite team or, for a guy like Fey, nearly total recall of time spent with friends and family at a stadium. They are treasured mementos — and they are not going away even as schools transition to cashless transactions for everything from game tickets to food and drink.
Nearly every Football Bowl Sub-division school has gone to mobile ticketing this season, but in a spot check of 30 schools, only Notre Dame said it would refuse to print tickets for fans requesting them.
The other 29? They are willing to print, though most do not publicly offer that option. Illinois was among schools that did give fans a choice, and 74% picked paper. That figure was 64% at Nebraska and 50% at Texas A&M.

Customer service is critical during the transition, said Maureen Andersen of Palm Springs, California, president and CEO of the International Ticketing Association industry group.
“I have to presume a college-aged kid doesn’t want anything printed ever, so a push on digital is going to be a completely different conversation than it is with an alumnus who graduated college in 1942,” Andersen said. “It takes constant communication and working through a process and talking to the fans. You get pushback when you do an all-or-nothing proposition.”

Traditional tickets on cardstock began fading away in the last decade with the advent of print-at-home tickets and digital, or mobile, ticketing systems where fans have a barcode on their smartphones scanned at the gate.
Digital tickets are eco-friendly, a safeguard against stolen or counterfeit tickets, and they can be transferred online from one person to another. They also allow schools to save hundreds of thousands of dollars in mailing costs. In the pandemic, cashless transactions are more popular than ever for safety reasons.
Nebraska fan Tom Reischlein of Omaha said he has used mobile ticketing at venues with no problem but chose paper football tickets at the suggestion of his wife, who said they might want them as a souvenir if they see a memorable game.

John Fey shows off his ticket stubs from Nebraska’s 1971 “Game of the Century” against Oklahoma and the Cornhuskers’ 1984 Orange Bowl against Miami on Aug. 6, 2021, in Papillion, Neb. Traditional tickets on cardstock began fading away in the last decade with the advent of print-at-home tickets and digital, or mobile, ticketing systems requiring fans to have a barcode on their smartphones scanned at the gate.

“I think it’s a good idea that they’re kind of easing into it and giving people the choice,” said Reischlein, 58. “I’ve seen a lot of the older folks, either they don’t have a cell phone or they have trouble navigating through it when there’s a bunch of people lined up behind them.”
Another Nebraska fan, Katherine Crawford of Lincoln, said her family has owned season tickets for three generations and will go digital this year.
“We had a huge discussion,” said Crawford, 27. “My grandma was very much against it, but she’s not a huge technology person so it would have been quite difficult for her. My mom and I agreed it would be a nice option to have, a convenience.”

Mark Townsend of Columbia, Maryland, a collector who runs the website TicketsFromThePast.com, said paper tickets bring about a sense of nostalgia.
Stubbs from historic NFL, NBA and Major League Baseball games have the most monetary value, Townsend said, noting that a less-than-mint condition stub from Jackie Robinson’s first game with the Brooklyn Dodgers recently was sold for $40,000.
College football ticket stubs tend to hold greater sentimental value, Townsend said, because of the strong emotional connection of alumni and fans.
Without paper tickets, he said, “You lose that piece of history and memory of where you’ve been, where grandpa’s been, or ‘Me and my dad went to the ballgame and we’ve got our ticket stub still,’” he said. “It’s more your moment in time and the pleasure that the game gave you. It ignites things in your head that makes you remember things.”

In Fey’s case, his ‘71 Game of the Century stub leads him to reminisce about his surprise when his dad told him he was able to get hold of the tickets, the flight to Norman, Oklahoma, in a small private plane that needed its tires pumped before takeoff, and Johnny Rodgers’ 72-yard punt return for a touchdown that was the signature play of the Cornhuskers’ 35-31 win.
“He was 10 yards in front of me when he crossed the 5-yard line,” Fey said. “I swear to God if I would have had a cell phone I would have taken a picture.”
Fey said he had stuffed the ticket stub in his pocket after he went through the turnstile, put it in his scrapbook when he got home and forgot he had it until he was going through some boxes last month.
Same with the stub from the ‘84 Orange Bowl. The husband of a woman Fey worked with had an extra ticket and asked if Fey wanted to join him and three others on a guys’ trip to Miami.
Fey remembered the long van ride from Omaha to Miami, with a stop in Jacksonville to watch Iowa play Florida in the Gator Bowl, and unexpectedly bumping into his parents in a concession line at the Orange Bowl stadium.
“What are you doing here?” Fey remembered his dad asking.
Most memorable, of course, was one of the defining plays of Nebraska coach Tom Osborne’s career — the late failed two-point conversion pass that left the Huskers with a 31-30 loss when an extra-point kick probably would have secured his first national championship. Fey watched the play unfold from the opposite end of the field.
In the moment, Fey said, he was inclined to throw away that ticket stub.
“But I must have thought, ‘Well, someday I might want to look back on this,’” he said. “Now if they get blown out 48-0, that’s one thing. They were behind and it was a hell of a comeback and had that pass not been tipped, maybe he would have got it.”
“I’m glad I didn’t throw it away.”

NFL’s vaccine rate at 93%, mandatory shots were discussed

By Rob Maaddi
AP Pro Football Writer

The NFL says 93% of players are vaccinated for COVID-19 and the league wanted mandatory vaccination but the NFLPA wouldn’t agreed to it.
The league also has asked the players’ union to adjust protocols so vaccinated players would be tested weekly instead of every 14 days. Unvaccinated players are tested daily.
NFLPA president JC

Tretter, a center for the Cleveland Browns, said earlier this week the decision not to make vaccination mandatory was done by the league. But league officials disputed that assertion.
“We’ve been discussing mandatory vaccination from the start,” NFL deputy general counsel Larry Ferazani said Thursday. “In fact, we took the lead and required staff and coaches to be vaccinated in order to have access to a player. Beginning at that point, we began banging the drum for what (the NFLPA’s) experts also concede is the single greatest way that we can protect the players and the staff, which is to get to a 100 percent vaccination level. That was our request from that, and we would still love to see that mandate go into effect tomorrow.”

NFL officials also do not have a vaccine mandate.
The league reported 68 positives cases out of 7,190 tested individuals between Aug. 1-21. The 0.95% incidence rate is lower than in most communities.
Dr. Allen Sills, the league’s chief medical officer, said almost all cases across have been the Delta variant. He said vaccinated individuals have had very mild upper respiratory illness, shorter duration. Sills also said none of the players who’ve tested positive required hospitalization.

Regarding daily testing, Sills said “testing isn’t prevention.”
“It’s one part of our mitigation strategy but it’s not the key part,” he said. “It’s not testing alone that will get us through this surge.”
The NFL said that 120 players have received warning letters with 25 players fined for mask or tracking device violations.
Under league rules, the first offense for violating the protocols will result in a fine of $14,650. Repeat violations could result in a player being suspended or fined a week’s salary.

Alcorn State hires Reginald Williams as head baseball coach

LORMAN, Miss. (AP) — Alcorn State's new head baseball coach spent time in the Major Leagues as an outfielder for the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Cleveland Indians.

Reginald D. Williams replaces Brett Richardson, who was fired in June after compiling a 67-166 overall record over six seasons. Williams brings decades of experience to the Braves, both as a coach and an administrator, university officials said.

"Coach Williams is a winner and has elevated programs everywhere he has coached," said Director of Intercollegiate Athletics Derek Horne. "He understands what it takes to compete for conference titles, and he's done it as a coach and a player. We are excited that he will successfully lead us into a new chapter of Alcorn State baseball."

Williams described being chosen to coach at Alcorn as an "incredible honor."

"My goal is to keep the program moving forward, developing young men to strive for excellence on and off the field of play while pursuing a quality college education/degree and becoming leaders in their prospective communities. At the same time, my goal is to build a championship program, that will prepare the players for competition at the next level, ultimately being a competitive program on an annual basis," he said.

Williams was drafted by the Dodgers in 1985 and spent four seasons with the organization before signing with the Indians in 1988. His playing career continued in the minor leagues with the Pirates and Rangers. He joins Alcorn after spending four years in the Cincinnati Reds organization. He most recently served as development coach for the team's Class A club, the Daytona Tortugas.

Cardinals

Chad Kuhl (4-6) pitched a scoreless seventh for the win. Cabrera (2-5) was charged with six runs while not retiring a batter.

Nolan Arenado and Edmundo Sosa hit two-run home runs off Pirates starter Mitch Keller.

Arenado connected in the first with a drive high off the left-field foul pole. Sosa hit a blast deep into the right-center field seats in the third.

Tommy Edman had a two-run double in the second inning for St. Louis, which dropped 4 ½ games behind Cincinnati in the race for the second NL wild card.

Keller was tagged for seven runs in 5 1/3 innings. Mikolas gave up three runs in 4 2/3 innings in his second start since missing nearly three months with a strained forearm.

KIM RETURNS TO ROTATION

Left-hander Kwang Hyun Kim will start Sunday for the Cardinals. He takes the place of ace Jack Flaherty, who was placed on the injured list Wednesday with a right shoulder strain.

Kim has made 19 starts this season. However, he was used in relief Tuesday against Detroit after spending two weeks on the injured list because of left elbow inflammation.

TRAINER'S ROOM

Cardinals: LF Tyler O'Neill (lower back tightness) missed his second straight game but is likely to play Friday. ... LHP Wade LeBlanc (strained left elbow) did not respond well to his bullpen session Tuesday and has been shut down indefinitely. ... RHP Justin Miller (right elbow nerve irritation) has started playing catch.

Pirates: RHP Blake Cederlind (Tommy John elbow surgery), who made his MLB last season, is playing catch at 75 feet.

UP NEXT

Cardinals LHP J.A. Happ (7-6, 5.88 ERA) will face LHP Dillon Peters (0-1, 1.86) on Friday night. Happ is 2-0 with a 1.99 ERA in four starts since being acquired from Minnesota in a trade. Peters will be making his third start since being called up from Triple-A Indianapolis.

Pac-12

Just days after the planned move of Texas and Oklahoma became official, Kliavkoff and Big 12 Commissioner Bob Bowlsby met and discussed whether the Pac-12 and Big 12 could possibly work together to benefit each conference.

Nothing ever came of that, and the Big 12 was left out of the alliance.

Between the alliance and the Pac-12's standing pat, the threat of widespread school poaching seems to have subsided — at least until the Big 12 decides its next move.

The Pac-12 appears positioned to reap some of the benefits of expansion, such as games in the Central and Eastern time zones and exposure to new recruiting territory, through the alliance with the Big Ten and ACC.

Kliavkoff had openly talked recently about how the conference had a group of athletic directors and university presidents analyzing the possibility of expansion, and that their work would be finished soon.

Kilavkoff declined to say which schools had reached out to the Pac-12 about membership, or even how many. He said part of creating the stability the alliance is aiming for included coming to a quick and transparent decision on expansion.

"We did the work necessary to determine that we were happy with our current makeup and that we think we can thrive with 12," Kilavkoff said. "It was a unanimous vote of our presidents and chancellors to stay at 12."

Titans

Vrabel will miss Saturday's game because he has yet to test negative even once. Matt Barkley, who signed with the team Aug. 5, will start against the Bears and rotate with Logan Woodside every two series as they compete to back up Tannehill.

Tennessee stepped up precautions and required masks inside the team's headquarters starting Tuesday. Robinson said the Titans are going "above and beyond" what they did last season when they had the NFL's first virus outbreak.

The number of positive COVID-19 cases have been rising in both Florida and Tennessee. Robinson's oldest daughter, Taylor, has several auto-immune issues, including Type 1 diabetes and rheumatoid arthritis.

Robinson said they see the spread outside their team in Tennessee.

"My sister's a school teacher back in Union City, and she said it's rampant in their school and they're doing everything they can ...," Robinson said. "I think everybody's doing everything they can to try to help it. And the biggest thing is the vaccination, because it does save lives."

Being vaccinated made him feel safe going out to dinner while in Florida last week.

"If you do contract it and you're vaccinated, it looks like the science has shown that you're sick for a day or two and then you're going to get through that," Robinson said. "So there's comfort in going out to dinner and trying to get back to some degree of normalcy, which we all want to do. And I know that the vaccine helps."

NFL and NFL Players Association protocols require two negative tests over 48 hours for someone who tested positive can return or face a 10-day minimum quarantine.

Reserve offensive lineman Kendall Lamm has asthma and said he has been vaccinated because he wants to live a long life and have a family and children.

"The protocols and stuff they do here, they're on it," Lamm said of the Titans. "They're on it top notch and I truly appreciate that because for someone who has asthma, it lets me sleep better at night."

Linebacker Harold Landry was the first starter affected by this latest virus outbreak, going on the reserve/COVID-19 list Wednesday.

The others on the list include defensive lineman Anthony Rush, linebacker Nick Dzubnar and running back Jeremy McNichols. The reserve/COVID-19 list is for players who either test positive for the virus or are in quarantine after close contact with an infected person.

12 games left in the regular season, starting with Saturday's match at Yankee Stadium against NYCFC.

"We're in a position where we have some margin for error as we finish off the regular season and that's because we've had a good start," Arena said Thursday.

One of the breakout stars for New England has been 22-year-old Tajon Buchanan, who has six goals and four assists in 17 appearances.

Buchanan's transfer to Club Brugge in Belgium was announced earlier this week, but he will stay with the Revs for the rest of this season. He was also named to Canada's World Cup qualifying squad Thursday.

"I think our goals are still the same today as they were before we started the season: we want to qualify for the playoffs. And then secondly, we'd like to have home field advantage in the playoffs all year. So that's the goal of our team for 2021," Arena said. "We're headed in that direction. However, we realize the next 12 games can certainly change that."

OUT WEST

It's a much tighter race in the Western Conference. The Seattle Sounders (12-3-6) are atop the table, in front of Sporting Kansas City (11-4-6).

The teams in fifth to 11th place are only separated by six points.

The Sounders, who won their second MLS Cup in 2019 and were runners-up last season, had six players start in Wednesday night's All-Star Game, so there's plenty of talent there to compete for another title.

GOLDEN BOOT

Seattle's Raul Ruidiaz leads the Golden Boot race with 14 goals in 21 games.

"It's not just how many goals he scores, it's when he scores them," Sounders coach Brian Schmetzer said. "He's a showman and he pulls out the highlight-reel goals on a week-to-week basis."

New England's Gustavo Bou and Kansas City's Daniel Salloi each have 12

goals this season.

ASSISTS LEADER

Revolution midfielder Charles Gil leads MLS with 15 assists this season but he is currently nursing a soft tissue injury. He has missed five games and traveled to his native Spain to rehab.

Gil was named the league's player of the month for June after collecting five assists in three starts. If he can get back to 100% soon, he's also a strong MVP candidate.

GOALKEEPERS

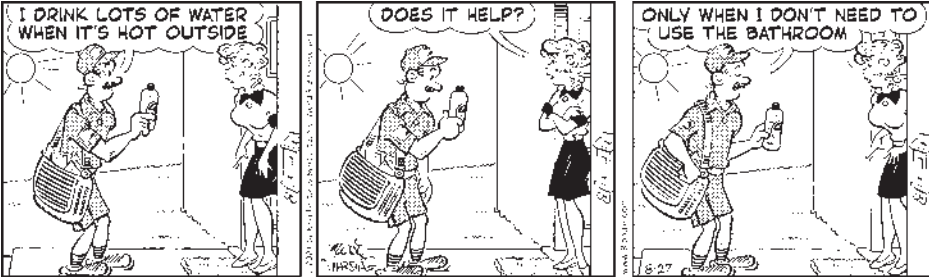

Nashville's Joe Willis and Colorado's William Yarbrough are the league's shutout leaders with eight apiece. Austin's Brad Stuver has stood out with 87 saves and a 78.4 saves percentage.
