Sedalia Parks and Recreation has been planning this Saturday's Easter Egg Hunt at Liberty Park for some time and last week a team of 50 volunteers stuffed more than 18,000 eggs for the event. Special Events and Marketing Manager Savannah Lynde has overseen the preparations for Saturday as well as working on many other projects at Parks and Recreation as the seasons change. "We're prepping for spring and we're prepping for all of our summer stuff too," Lynde said. "Everything's kind of getting into motion as the weather's getting nicer." Though the Heckart Community Center is finished, there are still classes and events to plan inside the sprawling center. "We're always adding things since we have a facility," Lynde said. "We have all these birthday parties, which is awesome, and graduation's coming up, so we're prepping for all the grad parties that will be in here, we're busy everywhere."

Moose Lodge awards student scholarships

By Faith Bemiss
fbemiss@sedaliademocrat.com

For the second year, the Sedalia Moose Lodge awarded scholarships to area seniors in a special dinner ceremony this past week. Steve Ratliff, chair of the 2022 scholarship programs, said last year they presented three $500 scholarships. This year that number increased. Receiving the scholarships were Devyn Keller, Van-Far High School in Vandalia; Keegan Brewer, from Sweet Springs High School; and Courtney Balke, Madison Canon, and Addison Guffin, all of Smith-Cotton High School. Ratliff noted that Canon, Guffin and Keller received their scholarships from the Sedalia Moose Lodge, while Balke received her scholarship from the Moose Legion and Brewer from the Moose Lodge Corn Hole League. Mike Kearney is the lodge president and Kevin Long is the administrator. Rick Masterson is the chair of the Moose Legion and Ratliff and his wife, Misty, oversee the Moose Lodge Corn Hole League. This year there were a total of 10 applicants. Ratliff said the Moose Lodge plans to continue the program. "I don't know if we'll increase the (number) of scholarships we give away, I'm pretty sure that way we promoted it this year that there'll be several applying for it," he said. The students and four guests each were invited to attend an awards dinner, paid for by the Moose Lodge, on April 2. The local band Sweetwater played and scholarships were awarded at 8 p.m. Ratliff said they will begin taking applications for 2023 at the beginning of the next school year. "I plan on having the flyers ready to put on the Moose Lodge page and getting the word out," he noted. "Because in order for the student to apply, they have to have a family member that is a Moose Lodge member in good standing." The student also has to be enrolled and accepted in a college, technical school or trade school. They also go through a short application process with the Moose Lodge. "We do ask for three letters of recommendation," he explained. "And we do ask to see their high school transcripts." See AWARDS | 6A

Jackson confirmed as first Black female high court justice

By Mary Clare Jalonick and Mark Sherman

Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate confirmed Ketanji Brown Jackson to the Supreme Court on Thursday, shattering a historic barrier by securing her place as the first Black female justice and giving President Joe Biden a bipartisan endorsement for his promised effort to diversify the high court.

Cheers rang out in the Senate chamber as Jackson, a 51-year-old appeals court judge with nine years experience on the federal bench, was confirmed 53-47, mostly along party lines but with three Republican votes. Presiding over the vote was Vice President Kamala Harris, also the first Black woman to reach her high office.

Biden tweeted afterward that "we've taken another step toward making our highest court reflect the diversity of America." Senate Majority Leader Chuck Schumer exulted that it was "a wonderful day, a joyous day, an inspiring day — for the Senate, for the Supreme Court and for the United States of America."

Harris said as she left the Capitol that she was "overjoyed, deeply moved."

Jackson will take her seat when Justice Stephen Breyer retires this summer, solidifying the liberal wing of the 6-3 conservative-dominated court. She joined Biden at the White House to watch the vote, embracing as it came in. The two were expected to speak, along with Harris, at the White House Friday.

During four days of Senate hearings last month, Jackson spoke of her parents' struggles through racial segregation and said her "path was clearer" than theirs as a Black American after the enactment of civil rights laws. She attended Harvard University, served as a public defender, worked at a private law firm and was appointed as a member of the U.S. Sentencing Commission.

She told senators she would apply the law "without fear or favor," and pushed back on Republican attempts to portray her as too lenient on criminals she had sentenced.

Jackson will be just the third Black justice, after Thurgood Marshall and Clarence Thomas, and the sixth woman. She will join three other women, Sonia Sotomayor, Elena Kagan and Amy Coney Barrett — meaning that four of the nine justices will be women for the first time in history.

Her eventual elevation to the court will be a respite for Democrats who fought three bruising battles over former President Donald Trump's nominees and watched Republicans cement a conservative majority in the final days of Trump's term with Barrett's confirmation. While Jackson won't change the balance, she will secure a legacy on the court for Biden and fulfill his 2020 campaign pledge to nominate the first Black female justice.

"This is a tremendously historic day in the White House and in the country," said White House press secretary Jen Psaki after the vote. "And this is a fulfillment of a promise the president made to the country."

The atmosphere was joyful, though the Senate was divided, as Thursday's votes were cast. Senators of both parties sat at their desks and stood to vote, a tradition reserved for the most important matters. The upper galleries were almost full for the first time since the beginning of the pandemic two years ago, and about a dozen House members, part of the Congressional Black caucus, stood at the back of the chamber.

Harris called out the tally, pausing with emotion, and Democrats erupted in loud applause and cheers, Schumer pumping his fists. A handful of Republicans stayed and clapped, but most by then had left.

Despite Republican criticism of her record, Jackson eventually won three GOP votes. The final tally was far from the overwhelming bipartisan confirmations for Breyer and other justices in decades past, but it was still a significant accomplishment for Biden in the 50-50 split Senate after GOP senators aggressively worked to paint Jackson as too liberal and soft on crime.

Statements from Republican Sens. Susan Collins of Maine, Lisa Murkowski of Alaska and Mitt Romney of Utah all said the same thing — they might not always agree with Jackson, but they found her to be enormously well qualified for the job. Collins and Murkowski both decried increasingly partisan confirmation fights, which only worsened during the battles over Trump's three picks. Collins said the process was "broken" and Murkowski called it "corrosive" and "more detached from reality by the year."

Biden, a veteran of a more bipartisan Senate, said from the day of Breyer's retirement announcement in January that he wanted support from both parties for his history-making nominee, and he invited Republicans to the White House as he made his decision. It was an attempted reset from Trump's presidency, when Democrats vociferously opposed the three nominees, and from the end of President Barack Obama's, when Republicans blocked nominee Merrick Garland from getting a vote.

Once sworn in, Jackson will be the second youngest member of the court after Barrett, 50. She will join a court on which no one is yet 75, the first time that has happened in nearly 30 years.

Jackson's first term will be marked by cases involving race, both in college admissions and voting rights. She has pledged to sit out the court's consideration of Harvard's admissions program since she is a member of its board of overseers. But the court could split off a second case involving a challenge to the University of North Carolina's admissions process, which might allow her to weigh in on the issue.

Judith Browne Dianis, executive director the Advancement Project, a civil rights organization, said Jackson will make the court more reflective of communities that are most impacted by the judiciary.

"The highest court in the land now will have a firsthand perspective of how the law impacts communities of color — via voting rights, police misconduct, abortion access, housing discrimination or the criminal legal system, among other issues," she said. "This will ultimately benefit all Americans."

Jackson could wait as long as three months to be sworn in, as the court's session generally ends in late June or early July. She remains a judge on the federal appeals court in Washington, but she stepped away from cases there when she was nominated in February.

Republicans spent the confirmation hearings strongly questioning her sentencing record, including the sentences she handed down in child pornography cases, which they argued were too light. Jackson declared that "nothing could be further from the truth" and explained her reasoning in detail. Democrats said she was in line with other judges in her decisions.

The GOP questioning in the Judiciary Committee showed the views of many Republicans, though, including Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell, who said in a floor speech Wednesday that Jackson "never got tough once in this area."

Democrats criticized the Republicans' questioning.

"You could try and create a straw man here, but it does not hold," said New Jersey Sen. Cory Booker at the committee's vote earlier this week. The panel deadlocked on the nomination 11-11, but the Senate voted to discharge it from committee and moved ahead with her confirmation.

In an impassioned moment during the hearings last month, Booker, who is Black, told Jackson that he felt emotional watching her testify. He said he saw "my ancestors and yours" in her image.

"Don't worry, my sister," Booker said. "Don't worry. God has got you. And how do I know that? Because you're here, and I know what it's taken for you to sit in that seat."

Associated Press writers Lisa Mascaro, Jessica Gresko, Zeke Miller and Farnoush Amiri in Washington and Aaron Morrison in New York contributed to this report.

PASTOR'S PULPIT

Celebrating Palm Sunday and Jesus

By Bob Wauchope,
Lead Pastor at Maplewood Church

There was a little boy who stayed home sick one Palm Sunday with his mom. When his dad got home, he had a palm branch. The little boy asked, "Why do you have a palm branch?" The dad answered, "When Jesus came into town the people waved palm branches to welcome and honor him, so we got palm branches today." The boy looked disappointed and said, "The only Sunday I miss, and it is the Sunday Jesus shows up."

This Sunday is Palm Sunday. That may mean a lot to you, including fond memories from over the years celebrating Jesus' triumphal entry into Jerusalem. It may not mean anything to you other than it is another Sunday in April. People come and go all the time into Sedalia, into our lives, and into our homes. Why are Jesus and his entry into Jerusalem significant? Why should we remember and celebrate it?

Jesus is God. There are some who would claim that Jesus never claims to be God. Others say he was a good teacher or even a prophet but not God. Jesus claimed to be "I am," which the Jewish people knew as an Old Testament name for God. The religious leaders pick up stones to kill Jesus because they think he is blaspheming God. They knew Jesus was saying he was God. On Palm Sunday, we celebrate that Jesus is God. He was fully human and fully God in order to provide salvation for all of us if we will put our faith alone in Jesus. We celebrate that he was not just a man or just God, he was the perfect combination of both.

Jesus is our Savior. Jesus says in John 14:6, "I am the way, the truth, and the life; no one comes to the Father but through me." I sometimes ask people how they know they are going to heaven. The answers vary from they are good enough, there are many ways to God, they do not believe in God, or Jesus is my Savior. I believe Jesus is the only way to be saved. With common sense and understanding, we can look around our world and know that it did not just happen, and mankind did not create it. There is someone greater than us and the Bible tells us who that is: Jesus.

If we choose not to believe in Jesus, if we reject him and the Bible, we have made a choice. We will spend an eternity separated from God in hell. God gives us a choice and does not force it on us. You and I have to make a choice and it will impact our life now and for all of eternity. My prayer is that you put your faith in Jesus Christ, the one who lived a perfect life, willingly went to the cross and died for you, was raised to life three days later conquering sin and death so that we might be forgiven if we repent and put our faith in Jesus alone.

Jesus is compassionate. Many times, in the gospels, we see Jesus moved to compassion for those who are hurting. Hebrews 4:15 reminds us that Jesus has been tempted as we have and is without sin. He is compassionate and can understand the hardships of suffering and death in our lives. Jesus while he is on the cross desires forgiveness for those who put him on the cross and mocked him. If that is not compassion, I do not know what is. Jesus loves you and wants you to put your faith in him alone. If you have put your faith in Jesus, then he desires a relationship with you in which you experience his compassion.

Jesus is coming again. Jesus tells the disciples in John 14:3 that he will leave to prepare a place for them but will return. Jesus will return one day that no one knows. We look forward to that day with imperishable hope and joy. Knowing that we will spend eternity with our Savior because he is coming again. Paul reminds us in Galatians 1:21, "to live is Christ and to die is gain." We do not seek death or fear it because Jesus has overcome death. When we leave this life, we will be with Jesus and that brings us comfort and peace.

As someone who has put his faith in Jesus, I know what my future is with Jesus. Do you know what yours is?

Missouri House advances state budget

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Missouri's Republican-led House on Thursday passed a roughly $46 billion state spending plan bulked up with federal pandemic aid.

While some GOP lawmakers warned that the current budget proposal spends too much too quickly, primarily Democratic critics decried Republicans for not spending enough and leaving $1.8 billion unspent.

"It is fiscal immaturity, it is fiscal irresponsibility, it is fiscal danger to operate with the idea that because we have money, we ought to spend that money," said Republican Rep. Doug Richey, chair of the House Subcommittee on Federal Stimulus Spending.

House Democrats said leaving so much money unallocated would give senators more leverage to appropriate it for pet projects without any feedback from the House, which Senate leaders said likely will happen to some extent.

Senate Republican Majority Leader Caleb Rowden said he expects the Senate to find ways to spend some — but not all — of that $1.8 billion that the House has not appropriated. He said the Senate is likely to strike a middle ground in spending between what the governor proposed and the House approved.

"Leaving money in a rainy day fund, doing things to find value for those dollars is really, really important," Rowden said.

The House's proposed budget plan includes close to $2 billion in federal funding to help K-12 schools recover from the COVID-19 pandemic, including $75 million set aside for a newly proposed grant program to repay families for tutoring and other expenses aimed at helping students catch up.

Another roughly $464 million is budgeted to prop up childcare services in the state, including $10 million for on-site childcare at state agencies and another $10 million for childcare co-ops at private businesses.

The additional childcare funding was lauded by the influential Missouri Chamber of Commerce and Industries as a way to boost the strained workforce.

"There are parents all across Missouri who are locked out of the workforce because of childcare issues," Missouri Chamber President and CEO Daniel Mehan said in a statement. "This problem is creating a serious impediment to our economic recovery — and we need urgent action."

Public colleges and universities would get a 5.4% budget increase, not including extra money for building improvements and other projects. Despite the increase, a bipartisan group of lawmakers failed to secure enough money to pay for Lincoln University's land-grant match.

The current budget plan also would bar schools, colleges and other organizations that accept public funding from requiring proof of COVID-19 vaccination or a recent coronavirus test for access to ticketed events.

Cinta

"One who can lead, who has high standards, one to whom the cadets can look up to and respect and follow," Cunningham said. "It's hard for cadets to follow someone that isn't living standards we all know that we should and it's hard for them to follow someone who is mean, or demeaning or not a kind person. You can be a good leader and be very stern but yet very loving and kind and she is all of that."

Cunningham is referring to new Battalion Commander Luisa Cinta, a senior at Smith-Cotton. Cinta found out during the ceremony that she would be the next Battalion Commander.

"There was a lot of mixed emotions, some fear, there's always that fear that you have to go out in front of people and you have a big responsibility on your shoulders but also a lot of happiness," Cinta said. "I never thought I would be Battalion Commander but it's just something incredible and something you don't expect."

According to Cinta, as Battalion Commander she will mostly be in the office, helping plan and tasking the staff as well as making sure they know what is going on. Cinta wants to be more involved with the cadets, checking in on the companies and making sure the company commanders are doing their job.

"As Battalion Commander, you don't do most of that work, you just tell them what you want and then have them do it so they learn as well but I also want to be able to help them complete their goals and missions as well," Cinta added.

Cinta joined JROTC when she was a freshman, joining the drill team in 2019-20 where she learned a lot about leadership.

"My sophomore year, when we came back from quarantine, I was honored to join staff," Cinta said. "I was the S2 (Staff Officer) assistant and I learned a lot from the other primaries."

There were some obstacles for Cinta being a younger student on staff but the leaders were always willing to help.

Staff officers are capable cadets who are able to think well, plan ahead, and perform missions of great trust with little or no supervision.

During her junior year, Cinta was honored to be the Battalion Deputy Commanding officer (DCO).

"That was great being able to help the kids' staff and being able to run a battalion was a lot of pressure and hard work, there was a lot of milestones for sure," Cinta said.

A DCO will hold the rank of Cadet Lieutenant Colonel and is responsible for assisting the commander of the Smith-Cotton JROTC Tiger Battalion. He or she is responsible for ensuring the commander's intent is understood and executed in a timely manner.

Cunningham said Cinta is the type of cadet who knows what she wants and strives to get others to buy into what she is asking them to do.

"She'll ask once or twice and if she doesn't get a response or a report back then she will remind them," Cunningham said. "When she says she wants to raise standards, she really does mean that. She expects everyone to rise up and do what's right and if they aren't, she lets them know that they should be doing that."

On Sunday, the Smith-Cotton JROTC Drill team will head to the National High School Drill Team National Championships in Daytona Beach, Florida.

Kyah runs to Detective Neva Overstreet after being released from her sit command. Overstreet showed the students some of Kyah’s tricks and commands during their presentation. Kyah was provided with many treats from Overstreet after she completed every command.

At the end of the presentation, the children swarm around Kyah to give her some much-needed pets for the good job she did during the presentation. Kyah seemed happy to receive all the love the students and staff were willing to give.

Brewer will attend the University of Central Missouri at Warrensburg and Guffin will attend State Fair Community College. Canon, Keller and Balke will attend the University of Missouri-Columbia. Ratliff said the lodge is pleased with how well the program is being received. “It was really pretty impressive,” he noted. “We had quite the turnout Saturday night for the event. “Honestly the lodge raises money by doing a 50/50 drawing every Saturday night,” he continued. “And that’s where the money comes from to pay for three of the scholarships.” The Moose Legion does its own fundraising and the Corn Hole League plays each Wednesday night. Members are charged $1 to play and half of the pot goes into the scholarship fund. For more information on the Sedalia Moose Lodge, 119 Winchester Dr., call 660-826-6631. # Eggs

Across Sedalia parks, ball-fields are being maintained, gardens planted, and of course, it wouldn’t be spring without an Easter egg hunt. “For Easter, we actually have our big, huge annual egg hunt this Saturday, April 9,” Lynde said. “It’s free for the public to come out, it’s at Liberty Park. It’s open for kids from ages 0 to 10-years-old. They’ll just find their age division, it’s broken up into four different ones. When they arrive, they’ll see their sign and that’s where they will have their hunt.” The horn sounds at 10 a.m. sharp, and you do not want to be late as hordes of children will scoop up every available egg in a matter of minutes. “Those volunteers were a great help and if we didn’t have them, we wouldn’t get all of them done,” Lynde said. “There’s candy of all different kinds, there are coupons donated from Steak ‘n Shake, Dairy Queen and Freddy’s Steakburgers, so there are tons of coupons in those eggs as well.” Attendees are encouraged to bring their own baskets for collecting eggs, and the Easter bunny will make an appearance to have photos taken with kids, so make sure to bring a camera. A petting zoo by Thorni Ridge Exotics will also be there to entertain children and adults with wildlife encounters. One child in each age division has a chance to find a special egg, planted amongst the 18,000 other eggs. “There will be prize eggs in each one of the age divisions,” Lynde said. “So those prize eggs will get a goodie basket that we have put together.” Saturday’s forecast calls for brisk but sunny weather, so bundle up. “It’s supposed to be freezing cold,” Lynde said. “So not a spring day, but we’re having it rain or shine and everyone always shows up anyway and they have a great time.” This year Parks and Rec will have bright green recycling barrels stationed around the park to recycle egg halves, and litter barrels to keep the park clean and tidy. Tiger Time: Woods thrills patrons with Masters comeback

By Paul Newberry
AP Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — He walked among the azaleas with just the slightest hint of a limp. He couldn't quite bend over to read the putts on Augusta National's tricky greens. Otherwise, there was nothing to indicate that Tiger Woods nearly lost his right leg 14 months ago in a devastating car wreck. Woods' greatest comeback yet got off to an electrifying start Thursday when he shot a 1-under 71 in the opening round of the Masters. "To end up in the red," he said confidently, "I'm right where I need to be." As Woods walked briskly toward the clubhouse after a grueling day that stretched to nearly 5 1/2 hours, he heard shouts of "Way to go, Tiger!" from the spectators. He was just three strokes off the lead - with roughly half the field still on the course - after making three birdies, a pair of bogeys and a whole lot of solid pars — many of them salvaged by his deft touch around the greens. Woods pulled off one last Houdini act at No. 18. After yanking his tee shot into the towering pine trees on the right, he had to lay up short of the green. But he pitched to 6 feet and rolled in the putt to keep his score under par. "I felt good," Woods said. "Once the adrenaline kicks in and I get into my own little world, I knew I should be able to handle business." Yep, there's still a long way to go. Woods still must prove his body can bounce back day after day — four of them, should he make it to Sunday. But it felt as if he was already a winner. "You just can't not watch him," said Australia's Cameron Smith, among those tied for the lead after shooting a 68. "It's an inspiration with him coming back and playing golf." See THRILL | 12A

Guardians announce 5-year contract with Clase on opening day

By Dave Skretta
AP Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The Cleveland Guardians began opening day Thursday by making official a $20 million, five-year contract with Emmanuel Clase, ensuring one of the breakout stars of the rechristened club will be closing games for the foreseeable future. The deal, which was agreed to over the weekend, includes club options for 2027 and 2028 worth $10 million each. "I just want to thank God for this opportunity, but also to the Guardians for this opportunity, to become what I always wanted to be — that was a closer," Clase said through a translator, shortly before Cleveland opened the season against the Royals. "This is a great way to secure my family and guarantee I will compete with this team for a long time." Clase missed the entirety of the COVID-19-shortened 2020 season after being suspended for the use of performance-enhancing drugs. But the 24-year-old closer was dominant in 71 ap-

Unable to add to their roster via free agency, the Cleveland Guardians locked up one of their own, agreeing to terms with closer Emmanuel Clase on a five-year, $20 million contract extension, a person familiar with the negotiations told The Associated Press on Saturday, April 2, 2022.

pearances as a rookie last season, striking out 74 in just 69 2/3 innings while recording 24 saves with a paltry 1.29 ERA. "We were really excited that we were able to reach an agreement with Emmanuel," said Chris Antonetti, the Guardians' president of baseball operations. "We felt he established himself as one of the best relievers in baseball last year, and you know, he'll be a core part of our bullpen moving forward." The Guardians approached Clase about a deal last season, and talks were moving briskly forward when baseball's lockout hit. They resumed with a new collective-bargaining agreement, and Clase decided take the financial security of a long-term deal in exchange for his arbitration years and potentially his first two years of free agency. See MLB | 12A

Royals agree with All-Star Merrifield on restructured deal

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — All-Star outfielder Whit Merrifield and the Kansas City Royals agreed to a restructured contract late Wednesday in which the club exercised its option for next season and the two sides added a mutual option for 2024. Merrifield, who made his second All-Star team last season, will earn $7 million this season and $2.75 million in 2023, a figure that would escalate by $4 million if he spends 109 days or fewer on the injured list this season. The mutual option is for $18 million with a $500,000 buyout. The 33-year-old Merrifield hit .277 with an American League-leading 40 stolen bases and 42 doubles last season, becoming the first player since Charlie Gehringer in 1929 to lead the AL in both categories. Merrifield also had 40-plus doubles and 40-plus steals in 2018, making him one of seven players in big league history with at least two such seasons. Merrifield's value to the Royals is more than just his bat and base-running ability. One of baseball's most versatile players, Merrifield is also capable of playing first base, second base and third base along with all three outfield positions. The growth of second baseman Nicky Lopez last season, and the arrival of top prospect Bobby Witt Jr. at third base this season, means Merrifield will play mostly in the outfield again. That is where he'll start Thursday's opener against Cleveland, extending his club record — and the longest active streak in the majors — to 470 consecutive games played.

Benton County high schools will share hosting duties for this weekend's Kaysinger Conference Softball Tournament, beginning with Friday's opening round and quarterfinal games. Cole Camp and Lincoln, the co-hosts, are on opposite sides of the bracket of the tourney, which saw Lincoln defeat Sacred Heart with La Monte last season, 10-3, in the title game. The Lady Cardinals defeated Green Ridge, La Monte and Windsor in the three years prior to that to win. La Monte was the last team other than Lincoln to wear the tournament crown, defeating the Lady Bluebirds 8-7 in extra innings in 2016. Northwest and Stover meet in one of two play-in games at Cole Camp's athletic complex beginning at 4 p.m. Simultaneously, Sacred Heart and Otterville will compete in another game for a spot in the quarterfinals. The winner of Northwest-Stover will face off against the Lady Bluebirds for a contest scheduled to start at 5:30 p.m. In the other quarterfinal in that half of the bracket, Smithton and Tipton will face-off in Lincoln, also at 5:30. On the other side of the bracket, the Lady Cardinals will host Green Ridge at 4 p.m. In the other quarterfinal in that bracket's half, the winner of Sacred Heart-Otterville faces Windsor in Cole Camp at 5:30 p.m. Following the result of Friday night's games, the location will be determined for games Saturday. The action on the second day begins with the two teams defeated in the play-in games, as well as the semifinal between the Lincoln-Green Ridge and Windsor game-winners at 10:30 a.m. As consolation semifinal action begins, so does the other winner's bracket semifinal at noon with the victors of the Cole Camp game and the Smithton-Tipton matchup facing off. The third-place game is scheduled to start at 1:30 p.m., with the consolation final and the title game slated for a 3 p.m. start. Smithton track picks up several firsts The Tigers track team battled the weather Tuesday night at the Higginsville Track Meet, where Riley Bryan took first and second in the two-mile and mile, respectively, while Gabe Aitken took first in both on the boys' side. # Benzema defying time to reach his best

By Joseph Wilson
Associated Press

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — At an age when most top athletes are hoping to maintain their form, Karim Benzema is reaching the pinnacle of his career.

The 34-year-old France striker is enjoying the best season of the 13 he has spent at Real Madrid and making a strong argument for being considered the top player in the world.

Benzema has put in remarkable back-to-back performances in soccer's elite club competition, scoring consecutive hat tricks in Champions League matches against Chelsea and Paris Saint-Germain.

Benzema's three goals at Stamford Bridge on Wednesday gave Madrid a commanding 3-1 advantage in their Champions League quarterfinal with Chelsea. Last month he singlehandedly brought Madrid back against PSG with a stunning second-half treble to advance his team on a 3-2 aggregate score.

Madrid hosts Getafe in the Spanish league on Saturday before Chelsea visits the Santiago Bernabéu needing a big win to keep alive its European title defense.

But with Benzema playing like he is, Madrid has a great chance to add to its 34 Spanish league titles and 13 European Cups, both competition records.

Fueled by Benzema's league-high 24 goals, 10 more than his nearest chasers, Madrid leads Barcelona, Atlético Madrid and Sevilla by 12 points with eight games remaining in Spain.

Beside his two exquisite headers to put Madrid up 2-0 at Chelsea, Benzema has also shown that hustle pays off. Against both PSG and Chelsea he produced goals by pressuring goalkeepers into gifting him the ball. Add to that his superb sense of timing, knowing just when he should drop into midfield to help unlock the opposing defense and cue an attack, and you have what Carlo Ancelotti calls "a complete player."

"He's just like a fine wine," the Madrid coach said about Benzema. "He gets better every day and feels as if he's gaining in importance within the team every day and is becoming more of a leader. That's making all the difference in him."

stepped to fill the void. Even so, he appeared to only be a temporary fix until president Florentino Pérez brought in a true superstar, such as PSG forward Kylian Mbappé, to restore Madrid to greatness.

Benzema, however, has blossomed into that stellar player well over a decade since joining Madrid from his hometown club of Lyon.

He has scored 10 of Madrid's last 11 goals and has 37 goals in 36 games in all competitions this season.

That already surpasses his previous best of 32 goals for Madrid in the 2011-12 season.

And if Mbappé does come, Benzema has shown throughout his career that he can play alongside stars that may even outshine him. He was content to play second fiddle, and sometimes even third fiddle, to Ronaldo and Gareth Bale.

That ability to put the team first even earned him the scorn of some Madrid fans— and voices in Spain's sports media— who demanded more hunger and ambition of a player of his talents. Former coach Zinedine Zidane more than once had to defend Benzema when pressed to give then youngster Álvaro Morata a chance to fight for his starting job.

Zidane knew what has since become clear to everyone: that Benzema had the potential to become the best striker in the game.

Sharks GM Doug Wilson stepping down after 19 seasons

By The Associated Press
SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — San Jose Sharks general manager Doug Wilson is stepping down after 19 seasons on the job. The team announced Thursday that Joe Will remains interim GM until a full-time replacement can be found. Will has been running the team's hockey operations since Wilson went on medical leave in late November.

"While I have made great progress over the last several months, I feel it is in the best interest of the organization and myself to step down from my current duties and focus on my health and full recovery," Wilson said in a statement. "I look forward to continuing my career in the NHL in the future." Owner Hasso Plattner says there will be an extensive search for the next GM. Plattner, Will and team president Jonathan Becher will oversee that search, which could extend into the offseason. San Jose made the playoffs 14 times with Wilson in charge and reached the Stanley Cup Final in 2016. Only Pittsburgh and Boston won more regular-season games than the Sharks during Wilson's tenure. "Doug and his staff produced remarkable results over a span that very few NHL teams can match," Plattner said.

Moon Alert: There are no restrictions to shopping or important decisions today. The Moon is in Cancer.

Happy Birthday for Friday, April 8, 2022:

You have a pioneering spirit. You're quick-minded, thorough and independent. You are also well organized, which makes you an excellent manager. This year is the final year of a nine-year cycle for you, which means you are letting go of things to create space for new beginnings next year.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

★★★ Lively discussions might bring about changes at home. Alternatively, changes at home might bring about lively discussions! Whatever happens, you want to rouse the troops and encourage friends or members of a group or organization to follow your lead. Tonight: Keep the peace.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)

★★★ Today is full of interruptions, as well as opportunities to meet new faces and see new places. Nevertheless, there is a mildly accident-prone quality present, so pay attention to everything you say and do. (It's best to make your plans behind the scenes.) Tonight: Be agreeable.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

★★★ Keep an eye on your money and your possessions today. For example, you might find money; you might lose money. Protect what you own. Meanwhile, when talking to friends and groups, you'll be convincing! Use this power wisely. "Let's streak the ballfield!" Tonight: Check your finances.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

★★★★ Today you want to have a little excitement, which is why you might provoke others just to see their reaction. Possibly you will meet a new and exciting friend. You will certainly be capable of powerful, decisive conversations with authority figures -- bosses, parents and the police. Oh yeah. Tonight: Be a role model.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

★★★★ This is a great day to study and learn something. It's also a wonderful day to make travel plans. Your interest in philosophy, other cultures, religion and metaphysics is strong today. You want to read and discover new ideas to expand your experience of the world. Tonight: Enjoy solitude.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

★★★ You might meet someone new and interesting today or, alternatively, a friend might surprise you. This could be related to the fact that you are proactive and decisive about settling issues related to taxes, debt or shared property. You want results! Tonight: Talk to a friend.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

★★★ People might be surprised to learn something unusual about you today or something that was previously private or unknown. Perhaps this is why you will have a vigorous conversation with a partner or close friend. You also might attract someone to you today who is very chatty. Tonight: Respect others.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

★★★★ Travel plans might change today. Or perhaps you will nurture ideas for an exciting trip. Meanwhile, you will accomplish a lot at work because you feel mentally vigorous. However, you are also very independent today! Ideally, you will work on your own. Tonight: Learn something new.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

★★★ Because you have such high energy today, you might be too aggressive with your kids. Be aware that some part of you is secretly spoiling for a fight. Because of this, be patient. Take the high road. After all, Sagittarians like to be positive and happy! Do what you can to maintain this. Tonight: Check paperwork.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

★★ Be patient with family members today, especially during discussions or doing repairs at home. You might be inclined to want things your way. Frankly, you also want to be in control. Nevertheless, someone might throw you a curveball that catches you off guard. Tonight: Be cooperative.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

★★★ You'll be assertive and direct in all your discussions with others today. Be careful that you don't arouse opposition by coming on too strong. This might relate to a surprise when dealing with a pet, your health or your work. Don't let anything trigger you. Tonight: Get organized.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)

★★★★ You will be effective in discussions about finances, cash flow and money negotiations. In fact, when it comes to your possessions, you might be a tad aggressive! Meanwhile, parents should be aware that this is a mildly accident-prone day for their kids. Social plans might change. A surprise invitation might delight you. Tonight: Playful times!

2 more Black coaches sue NFL alleging racial discrimination

By Larry Neumeister

Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Black coaches joined Brian Flores on Thursday in his lawsuit alleging racist hiring practices by the NFL toward coaches and general managers.

The updated lawsuit in Manhattan federal court added coaches Steve Wilks and Ray Horton.

Wilks alleges he was discriminated against by the Arizona Cardinals in 2018 and Horton claims he was subjected to discriminatory treatment when he interviewed for the Tennessee Titans head coach position in January 2016.

The rewritten lawsuit from Flores also criticized the NFL for its response to the lawsuit he brought against it and its teams several weeks ago.

In a release from the lawsuit's attorneys, Wilks said he hoped the lawsuit would help bring racial equality to the league.

"When Coach Flores filed this action, I knew I owed it to myself, and to all Black NFL coaches and aspiring coaches, to stand with him," he said. "This lawsuit has shed further important light on a problem that we all know exists, but that too few are willing to confront. Black coaches and candidates should have exactly the same ability to become employed, and remain employed, as white coaches and candidates."

Horton said he was "devastated and humiliated" when he learned that his interview with the Titans was a sham.

"By joining this case, I am hoping to turn that experience into a positive and make lasting change and create true equal opportunity in the future," he said.

The NFL declined to comment Thursday.

Messages sent to the Arizona Cardinals and the Tennessee Titans for comment were not immediately returned.

Flores sued the NFL and three teams on Feb. 1 after he was fired as the Miami Dolphins coach in January after leading the Dolphins to a 24-25 record over three years. They went 9-8 in their second straight winning season, but failed to make the playoffs during his tenure.

He has since been hired as an assistant coach by the Pittsburgh Steelers.

By Will Graves

AP Sports Writer

The Pittsburgh Pirates are building around third baseman Ke'Bryan Hayes.

A person with knowledge of the agreement tells The Associated Press the Pirates and Hayes have come to terms on a new eight-year, $70 million deal pending the 25-year-old Hayes passing a physical. The person spoke to the AP on condition of anonymity because a formal announcement isn't expected until the team's home opener on April 12.

Hayes was scheduled to hit third in Pittsburgh's season opener in St. Louis on Thursday.

The deal gives the team some stability as they continue a methodical build-up under general manager Ben Cherington. Hayes, the son of former major leaguer Charlie Hayes and a first-round pick in the 2015 amateur draft, reached the big leagues in 2020.

Hayes entered the 2022 season hitting .280 in 120 career games. Known for his strong defensive play, Hayes made a splash upon his arrival in September 2020, winning Rookie of the Month during an electric debut but struggled with a left wrist injury that limited him in 96 games in 2021.

The contact also gives a fan base growing antsy after three straight last-place finishes a player to attach itself to. The Pirates are still in a transition period, with most of the prospects they've accumulated since Cherington took over in the fall of 2019 still at least a year or two from arriving in Pittsburgh.

The Pirates are expected to finish at or near the bottom of the NL Central again with a largely unheralded and inexpensive roster. Cherington has said repeatedly that the team will start making investments when it believes it is close to winning, and the agreement with Hayes provides the first tangible evidence of a long-term plan at the big-league level.

The contract, which goes into effect this season, carries through at least 2029 and includes an option for 2030.

"You know, to have a successful bullpen, we need a lot of arms out there that are capable of generating outs," Antonetti said, "but to be able to have someone out there like Emmanuel and hopefully stabilize the back end is a really good starting point."

The deal for Clase wasn't the only big swing the Guardians took in the run-up to opening day. On Wednesday, the club agreed with All-Star third baseman Jose Ramirez on a $124 million, five-year contract, a person familiar with the deal told The Associated Press. The person spoke on condition of anonymity because it was not complete until Ramirez passed a physical and numerous other details were finalized. The deal with Ramirez includes a full no-trade clause, the person told AP, and represents the biggest in team history, more than doubling the $60 million committed to slugger Edwin Encarnacion five years ago. "We love Jose," Antonetti said with a wry smile. "At this point in time, I can tell you that." The 29-year-old Ramirez, who was signed by Cleveland as a teenager from the Dominican Republic, has expressed his desire to finish his career with the club. Ramirez hit .266 with 36 homers and 103 RBIs last year, when he was chosen for his third All-Star team, and he's played at least 152 games in four of the past five 162-game big league seasons.

"We love Jose being the leader of our ballclub and love him representing us in any way – whether it's at third, on the bases, in the batter's box, as a teammate," Guardians manager Terry Franco-na said. "He fills all the checks in the box. So needless to say, we're pretty big fans of Jose." In other news Thursday, the Guardians placed outfielder Josh Naylor on the injured list as he works his way back from a fractured right leg. He was joined by catcher Luke Maile (right hamstring) and right-hander James Karinchak (back). In some roster house-keeping for Cleveland, catcher Mike Rivera, right-handers Enyel De Los Santos and Justin Garza, and left-hander Alex Young were re-assigned to Triple-A Columbus.

With storm clouds giving way to brilliant spring sunshine, Woods defied everyone's expectations. Except his own. When Woods delivered an emphatic clutch of the right fist after rolling in a 30-footer for birdie at the 16th hole, it seemed like old times at one of golf's most hallowed courses. From the collapse of his marriage to multiple surgeries, Woods has always found a way to bounce back. He's doing it again, looking every bit like the guy who's won five green jackets and defied the odds time and time again.

A tap-in birdie at No. 6 sent the patrons into a frenzy. A sloppy bogey at the par-5 eighth brought some groans, but Woods' brilliant short game kept him from posting one of those big numbers that can spell doom at Augusta. He made it clear he had every intention of winning when he decided to make the Masters his first competitive tournament since that horrific car wreck in February 2021 led him to say doctors said his right leg might need to be amputated. Woods started the round with five straight pars — he just missed a birdie at the tough No. 5 hole when a 15-foot putt lipped out — before delivering a vintage tee shot at the par-3 sixth. The ball climbed up a ridge on the green and stopped 2 feet short of the flag, leaving Woods with a gimme that put him in red numbers for the first time. A wedge shot and errant chip led to a bogey at No. 8, a hole that should be a prime birdie opportunity. "A loss of concentration there," he moaned. But Woods bounced back with a tricky downhill from 8 feet to save par at No. 9. Woods insisted his hands still held the amazing touch that has helped him win 15 major titles — the first of them 25 years ago at this very place — and capture a record-tying 82 victories on the PGA Tour. Beginning at No. 7, he missed the green on five straight holes, but kept recovering with his short irons and putter. Wearing a pink shirt and black pants, Woods was greeted by thunderous applause when his name was announced to a huge gallery surrounding the first tee. Woods failed to make solid contact with his first shot: a 264-yard drive that faded behind a bunker on the right side of the fairway. His approach rolled off the front of the green, but he sank a 10-foot putt to save par, bringing another huge roar from the patrons. Woods walked slowly, knowing that he faced four tough days on an extremely hilly course if he manages to make the cut.

He couldn't fully bend over to read putts, forcing him to rely more on caddie Joe LaCava to help him judge the treacherous greens at Augusta National. But those felt like minor inconveniences after all he's been through. Woods' career was in jeopardy after the car wreck left him confined to a hospital bed for three months. Woods was out of the public eye until last November, when he posted a video of him swinging a club with a simple message, "Making progress." His lone tournament in the 508 days since he last competed was a just-for-fun event in December in which he rode in a cart and was paired with his 13-year-old son, Charlie.

Despite the long layoff and the obvious physical limitations with screws and rods still holding the bones in place in his right leg, Woods clearly thinks he can win his sixth green jacket. At 46, he would be the oldest Masters champion by three weeks over Jack Nicklaus. The biggest question is how Woods holds up over 18 holes over four straight days, presuming he makes the cut as he always does at Augusta. He walked 18 holes last week — his first big test — during a scouting trip with his son. Playing an entire tournament will be much more challenging. What now? "Lots of ice," he said, breaking into a big grin. Just like old times.

Smithton hosts its own invitational next Monday. Soccer teams get in first games, win Sacred Heart girls soccer began its season Wednesday at Clover Dell Park with a 7-0 defeat against St. Paul's Lutheran. Goalkeeper Samt Altena was able to provide a bright spot by coming up with a diving save on one of two penalty kicks in the second half. Meanwhile, Smithton (1-3) picked up its first win in program history on April 1, a 3-1 home victory. In Stover, the Lady Bulldogs suffered their first loss of the season against Marshall on Monday despite a hat trick by Ashlyn DeGraffenreid and the first career varsity goal by Brooklyn Black. Stover came into the game with four victories to start the year, including an overtime winner over Lone Jack, and a 6-0 win against Smithton where Hannah Bauer and DeGraffenreid each notched a brace. Roadrunners get single victory State Fair Community College baseball won its one-off at Liberty Park Stadium on Tuesday, defeating North Central Missouri College, 13-3. A six-run third inning included a double by Caleb Casto that drove in both Brayden McGinnis and Benit Thacker, as well as a two-run double by Austin Warkins. Zach Dillman drove in both Warkins and Drake Miller in the following at-bat. Hunter Tennison pitched 3 2/3 innings in the start, while Carson Fewell threw 1 1/3 frames of scoreless relief for the Roadrunners.

Lawsuit: Boy's brain damaged by errant Angel Stadium throw

By Amy Taxin

Associated Press

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — A 6-year-old boy suffered a fractured skull and brain damage when he was accidentally hit by a baseball thrown by a Los Angeles Angels player who was warming up before a 2019 game, according to a lawsuit announced Thursday that blames the injury on the team's negligence. The lawsuit by the boy's mother Beatrice Galaz said the team should have more netting along the side of the field and players shouldn't throw balls during warm-ups in areas where spectators could be struck, especially when the team is encouraging fans to arrive early to try to meet players. On Sept. 15, 2019, her son Bryson was walking with his father in the first row of stadium seating toward the dugout, where players were meeting fans and signing autographs more than an hour and a half before the game, the lawsuit said. He was struck on the side of the head when pitcher Keynan Middleton, who was warming up on the field, threw a ball toward another Angels player who missed the catch. Bryson was rushed to the emergency room in critical condition and sent to a children's hospital for monitoring for 2 1/2 days, said Kyle Scott, the family's lawyer. Since then, Bryson — now in third grade — has done fine academically but has difficulties paying attention and with social interaction, and medical exams show abnormal brain activity, which raises concerns about his longer-term development, especially as school subjects become more complex, Scott said. "We're grateful that he pulled through, but since that day he has struggled in school," Galaz, of Anaheim, said in a statement released Thursday. "He's simply not the same." The Angels declined to comment on the litigation. "No parties have reached out to us regarding this lawsuit," said Angels spokesperson Marie Garvey. "We have only been made aware of this by the media, so we are unable to comment at this time." The lawsuit filed April 1 was announced on opening day for Major League Baseball at a news conference near Angel Stadium, where the Angels were due to host the Houston Astros later in the day. Getting a baseball at an MLB game is a signature event for any fan but it can come with a cost. While very rare, fans sometimes suffer serious injuries from balls or even bats that fly into the stands. Angel Stadium and other major league parks have expanded protective netting in recent years to increase safety. In 2015, MLB encouraged teams to have netting or screens that extend in a semi-circle between the ends of the dugouts closest to home plate. That push increased in 2017, and by opening day 2018, all 30 ballparks had netting that reached at least that far. At the end of 2019, the league said some teams would extend the netting. That's the same year a 79-year-old woman died four days after being hit in the head by a foul ball that sailed over protective netting at Dodger Stadium. It was believed to be the first foul ball death at an MLB stadium since 1970, when another Dodger Stadium fan was killed. Scott, the family's attorney, said since Bryson's injury, Angel Stadium has extended netting a section beyond the dugout but that would not have prevented the accident. Extending it farther down the foul line and not having players warm up by throwing the ball in the direction of stadium seating could have made a difference, he said. Keith Bruno, another attorney for the family, said it was not immediately known how fast the ball was traveling when Bryson was struck. While event tickets often include a liability disclaimer, Bruno said he did not believe that would apply to an availability before the game that the team encouraged fans to attend. "This is not about putting kids in a bubble or ensuring the safety of everybody that comes to the ballpark," Bruno said. "This is about taking common sense measures and protecting the most vulnerable that we have from known dangers."

Witt a debut! Royals rookie stars in 3-1 win over Guardians

By Dave Skretta

AP Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Bobby Witt Jr. capped his highly anticipated big league debut with his first hit, a go-ahead double with two outs in the eighth inning, sending the Kansas City Royals to a 3-1 victory over the rechristened Cleveland Guardians on Thursday. Andrew Benintendi drove in Witt after his clutch hit, giving Royals reliever Scott Barlow (1-0) a cushion. And after a perfect eighth, Barlow struck out Myles Straw with runners on the corners in the ninth to end it. In a matchup of former Cy Young Award winners, Cleveland ace Shane Bieber and erstwhile Royals star Zach Greinke dueling to a 1-all stalemate before turning the game over to the bullpens on a cold day at Kauffman Stadium. It remained tied until the eighth, when the Royals' Michael Taylor worked a walk off Triston McKenzie (0-1) and then took second on Nicky Lopez's sacrifice bunt. McKenzie struck out Whit Merrifield before Witt, regarded by many as the No. 1 prospect in the game, roped a double down the left-field line to give Kansas City its first lead. Lopez also drove in a run for Kansas City.

Jose Ramirez had an RBI double for the Guardians a day after agreeing to a $124 million, five-year deal to stay with Cleveland. Plenty of famous fans braved wintry weather to enjoy opening day. Several members of the Kansas City Chiefs, including coach Andy Reid, dressed up in Royals gear. So did members of the Kansas basketball team, which beat North Carolina in the national title game Monday night in New Orleans. It was 47 degrees at first pitch, and a gale blowing out to right field made it seem even colder. Then there was the off-and-on drizzle that turned to shooting pellets of ice during the national anthem, which probably made everybody stuck wearing a jersey long for the sun and warmth of Arizona spring training. Except maybe Greinke, who wore short sleeves for his first start in a Kansas City uniform since Sept. 30, 2010. He didn't have the same dominant fastball that he had in 2009, when he won the Cy Young, but he made up for it with the wisdom of 18 years in the big leagues — and a beguiling 69 mph curveball. Greinke made it through 5 2/3 innings, allowing one run on five hits and a walk while striking out one, then got a standing ovation from the crowd. Bieber, whose Cy Young came 11 years after Greinke won his, allowed one run on three hits in 4 2/3 innings for Cleveland, which played its first game with a new nickname for the first time since 1915. HONORING ART The Royals honored longtime scout Art Stewart, who spent 69 years in professional baseball, with members of his family throwing out first pitches to George Brett and Mike Sweeney. Stewart died in November at the age of 94. MONEY BALLERS The Guardians announced their $20 million, five-year contract with closer Emmanuel Clase, which was agreed to over the weekend. They have yet to announce their deal with Ramirez because several details are still being finalized. TRAINER'S ROOM The Guardians placed OF Josh Naylor on the injured list as he works his way back from a fractured leg. C Luke Maile (right hamstring strain) and right-hander James Karinchak (back strained) joined him there. UP NEXT After taking Friday off, the series resumes Saturday with Cleveland RHP Zach Plesac against Royals RHP Brad Keller.
