EXECUTIVE INSIGHT

DENNY WAYNE ROBINSON
WHITE COUNTY EXECUTIVE

BACK TO SCHOOL, OFF TO A GREAT START

It's that time again: dust off the backpacks, pack the lunchboxes, and fire up the buses. As White County Executive, it's my privilege to welcome our students, families, and educators back for another exciting school year. The first day of school is always a special time - full of energy, optimism, and opportunity. And this year, we have even more reasons to celebrate.

Our school system continues to make impressive strides. According to the latest data from the Tennessee Department of Education, White County Schools have not only met but in several areas exceeded state expectations for academic performance. In the 2024-25 Tennessee Comprehensive Assessment Program (TCAP) results: English Language Arts scores rose across nearly every grade level, with White County students outperforming the state average in English I and II. Mathematics saw a notable increase, particularly in middle grades, where proficiency jumped by more than 5 percentage points. Science scores improved steadily, reflecting our district's commitment to hands-on, inquiry-based learning. Social Studies proficiency in grades 6-8 increased by nearly 4 percentage points.

These gains are a testament to the leadership of the School Board, Director of Schools, the dedication of our teachers and staff, and the support of our families and community. Together, we are building a school system that not only educates but empowers.

Education is the foundation of any strong community, and it's clear that White County is investing in its future by engaging in the whole student. From early literacy initiatives and STEM enrichment to career and technical education pathways, we are preparing our young people for success in college, careers, and life. Our schools are safer and better equipped than ever before.

The 2025-26 school year officially begins on Monday, August 5 for students in grades 1-12. Kindergarteners will follow a staggered start beginning August 6, with all students in attendance by

City holds groundbreaking for Sparta Splash Pad

Community anxiously awaits completion of the project

JOSH AUSTIN
Staff Writer

On July 17, Sparta had a big groundbreaking celebration for a highly anticipated project. The Sparta Splash Pad, located just behind the YMCA, has finally set off with the groundbreaking. Mayor Jerry Lowery and members of the board of aldermen, as well as other individuals, were in attendance.

While the project has been highly anticipated for months since the announcement, Mayor Lowery said the project has been three years in the making. In October 2024, Mayor Lowery announced the concept for the design was being finalized. Then, in early 2025, rough drafts of the design were unveiled. The team working on the designs cleaned it up and, over time, have found a design with which they are happy.

The installation of the splash pad will take some time, starting with the underground work first. While Mayor Lowery is hoping and anticipating an opening date in spring 2026, the lengthy installation process and unpredictable weather make the exact opening time uncertain.

Operation Safe Streets: Bockman Way

SPARTA POLICE, WHITE COUNTY SHERIFF, AND THP WORKING TOGETHER

JOSH AUSTIN
Staff Writer

As traffic complaints continue to ramp up in Sparta, a new collaborative project has started with Sparta Police, White County Sheriff's Office, and Tennessee Highway Patrol. The new project is called "Operation Safe Streets: Bockman Way."

The new initiative is targeting roadway safety on Bockman Way, which is one of the highest areas of traffic in the county. From the Sheriff's post on Facebook, it "will involve increased patrols, visible enforcement presence, and targeted traffic stops aimed at deterring dangerous driving behaviors."

All three law enforcement groups will be acting together to monitor any violations on the busy street to catch those violating the law. They urge motorists to "remain alert, obey posted speed limits, and avoid any distractions while driving."

Operation Safe Streets: Bockman Way is expected to begin underway soon, and the departments involved will release updates about the progress of the initiative as time goes along. Anyone who has questions about the operation is asked to contact either the Sheriff's Office, Sparta Police Department, or Tennessee Highway Patrol for more information.

August 12. Pre-K students will begin their full schedule on August 14. Families are encouraged to attend Open House events the week prior to meet teachers and get acquainted with classroom routines. Updated calendars, supply lists, and school-specific information are available on the district's website.

As the first day of school approaches, let's remember to offer a wave to the bus driver, a word of encouragement to a teacher, or a high five to a student ready to tackle the new year. These small acts of support matter more than we know.

FARMER'S MARKET IS OPEN. Sparta/White County Farmer's Market is now open for business at Metcalf Park, in Sparta. The market will be open each Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday throughout the growing season. Most vendors are in place early in the morning and stay until their produce is sold out, so buyers need to get there early for best selections. The market is typically open 6 a.m.-noon. Metcalf Park is located downtown off South Church Street, just behind the U.T. Extension office. It's been an extremely wet spring, but most fruit and vegetable producers are ready to bring their produce to market. All local gardeners are encouraged to participate in the market. There is no fee for sellers. This market is a joint effort of The City of Sparta, White County, UT Extension and local producers. Anyone interested in becoming a vendor at the market should contact Sparta City Hall at (931) 836-3248. For further information, you may also contact the U.T. Extension Office at (931) 836-3348.

The county will use the funding to establish a parks and recreation department and hire its first director. The Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation's (TDEC) Office of Outdoor Recreation awarded the grant.

"This funding is a major step forward for White County," Sherrell said. "It will allow us to create a dedicated parks and recreation department that can plan, manage and expand outdoor opportunities for our residents. I'm thankful to TDEC for investing in our community's future."

So far this year, the Office of Outdoor Recreation has awarded more than $22 million in parks and recreation grants to 31 communities across Tennessee.

The Tennessee Recreation Initiative Program provides state funding to help cities and counties that lack a professional parks and recreation director or a comprehensive recreation system. The program supports the creation of new departments to improve access to outdoor spaces and organized recreation.

Did you know? Outdoor living spaces are a good investment for homeowners seeking to enjoy their home exteriors to the fullest, and that investment continues to pay dividends when homes are put on the market. According to Remodeling magazine's Cost vs. Value report, a number of outdoor living upgrades provide a sizable return on investment (ROI) when homeowners put their properties up for sale. According to the report, a wood deck could recoup up to 82 percent of the original cost at resale, meaning a job that comes in around the national average price of $17,000 could net $14,000 at resale. An outdoor kitchen could prove an even better investment in terms of ROI, as Remodeling magazine indicates such a feature nets a return between 55 percent and 200 percent at resale depending on the location of the home and the materials used for the project.
